Smith and Hoover Clubs to Fight It Out in Heated Argument at Nebraska

The greatest political storm in the history of the University of Nebraska is fast gathering. From one side comes the fierce war-cry of "Who but Hoover" and from the other side we hear the notes of "East Side-West Side, All around the Town." "Smith" or Hoover" is the password for any thing now, and woe to the man or woman who makes a mistake! But this threatening war, famine or whatever it is, must come to a head sometime. Steps have al ready been taken to bring all these troubles to a complete and unquestionable close. After the final event is over, there will never fore be doubt in the minds of the university students as to who is the only, gifted, and logical man for president of the United States

This decisive event will be in the form of a debate to be held Thursday, November 1, by mem bers of the Hoover-Curtis club and members of the Al Smith club. Powerful combines of three students for each side will be formed. These-martyrs-for-the-cause -of-politics will have ten minutes apiece to disprove their opponents statements and, if they have time, to make a few for their own party. In order to give these warriors enough material to fight upon, the 10:30 o'clock this morning for the question has been unlimited as first meeting. The reason for this ruling, Mr. Gish explained, is to prevent a student from competing too much in any sport, and especially basket ball. It has been found that many men have been playing city league, fraternity, and possibly freshmen basket ball all at the same time, and this burts the athletes' scholastic standing materially. This has caused the ineligibility of several likely varsity candidates for basket ball

THE SPIRIT OF NEBRASKA

Began its roaring sweep toward the Missouri game yesterday. Filled with the power of the virgin prairies of Nebraska, a loyal Cornhusker student body Wednesday began its chant of fight, its cry for fight, its whole-hearted impulse to throw itself into the fray to stem the tide of the on-rushing Tiger.

The indomitable spirit that is Nebraska's has begun to gather its forces for Saturday's game. Reminiscent of the giories of Cornhusker football from the days of Benedict and Bender, Nebraska spirit began its rising tide which is expected to gather full power Saturday afternoon to furnish a fighting united student body for a fighting Cornhusker team when Nebraska takes the field to
