

HUSKERS POINT FOR JAYHAWK TILT SATURDAY

Bearg May Send Reserves in To Battle for Victory Over Kansans

WILL EFFECT STANDINGS

Neither Team Has Dropped A Big Six Game So Far This Season

Nebraska's powerful Cornhusker football team is preparing this week for the second trip of the season when the Scarlet squad treks down to Lawrence on the Kaw for a Big Six game with Coach Bill Hargiss' Kansas Jayhawkers. This week in the camp of the Cornhuskers the coaching staff is again drilling the Husker mole-skin warriors on the passing defensive game.

Coach Bearg may send his reserves against the Jayhawkers to start the game Saturday, but he is not figuring on any easy game from the Kansas eleven. The Husker reserves are getting in for a goodly amount of practice these days, which would indicate that they will carry the brunt of the burden against Kansas. Monday and Tuesday, practice sessions were light, but today the Husker staff will renew the intensive drilling of the Scarlet and Cream team for the continuation of the heavy football schedule this season.

With the Oklahoma trip next on the Husker lineup and then a home game with the strong Pitt Panthers, Coach Bearg will take no chances for injury in the Jayhawk game. In the probable backfield lineup, will be Harold Peaker at quarter, Frahm at full, and McBride and Young at the halfback positions. McBride and Young are two backs that have plenty of power and speed and will be booked for a probable starting position against the Saturday opponents.

Kansas Points for Huskers

Coach Bill Davy, assistant line coach on the Husker coaching staff, witnessed the Kansas team battle the Cyclones to a scoreless tie last week and comes back to the Cornhusker camp with the report that the Nebraska eleven will have no easy time of downing that eleven coached by Bill Hargiss. The Kansas eleven always points for the Huskers and this year finds the Mt. Oread crew more determined than ever to keep a Husker team from again defeating them on the home sod. It has been many a year since a Kansas team has defeated Nebraska and the Jayhawkers are rallying this week with the battle cry that it is a Kansas year.

Nebraska's football party will pull away for Lawrence late Thursday night and will work out at Kansas City on Muehlback field Friday afternoon, going over to Lawrence Saturday morning for the game. The Nebraska party will include the second and third strings, and the fresh squad that has been turning out regularly.

Will Effect Standings

Saturday's game between the Jayhawkers and Nebraska will have a lot of bearing on the Big Six standing. Kansas and Nebraska are both rated in top positions in the conference battle for football honors. Kansas has an undefeated team, although the Iowa State-Kansas game was a scoreless tie. If the Huskers come through with a victory and the Oklahoma Sooners can drop their game to Iowa State up at Ames, the Cornhuskers will be all in the top hole alone. But that all relies back on the little word, "if." The Sooners, Jayhawkers and Huskers are in a three-place tie and this week will break that tie as all teams are in action with sister members of the conference.

AMES PREPARES FOR STIFF CAGE SCHEDULE

Prospects for Fair Team Are Bright According To Coach Menz

Ames, Ia., Oct. 30.—Closing his second week of practice, Coach Louis Menz, head basketball member at Iowa State College, is now grooming his squad of 31 prospective varsity cagers for what appears to be one of Iowa State's stiffest cage schedules.

"Our prospects for the coming season are just fair. We have a few men of good height and of good speed. The possibilities for developing a good team, not an exceptional team, are bright," said Coach Menz following the final practice of this week held last night in State Gymnasium.

Work so far has consisted of goal shooting, pivoting and hook and push passing. A bit of defense work was started last night for the first time.

Public Utility Executive Will Address Engineers

R. C. Huah, superintendent of the meter department, Lincoln division, Iowa and Nebraska Light and Power Co., and member of the "committee on metering" of the National Electric Light association will give an address at the regular meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers Thursday evening, November 1, at 7:30 o'clock in E. E. 104.

Mr. Huah has been active in engineering for many years and is reported to be an interesting speaker. A large attendance is expected at the meeting.

ON THE CALLEY

By Jack Elliott

Nothing but immense reports of the Army backfield are flowing into the camp of the Nebraska Cornhuskers these days. Captain Lehman, freshman football coach, scouted the Cadets in action against Yale last Saturday and his report of the Army backfield is nothing short of a perfect four-some. Walter Trumbull, New York sports authority, writes of the famous military backfield in which Cagle, All-American back is one of the leaders. This Cagle led ran two runs of 55 and 75 yards during the Eli game and reports are that once he gets away there is no way to stop him. Talk around the Husker camp has not started on the Army game yet but when it does, Nebraska football followers will have plenty of sport fodder in discussing Mr. Cagle of West Point.

In last night's Lincoln Journal, our good friend John Bentley took us to task on the report of the Missouri-Nebraska game in Sunday's Nebraskan. The item that caused us to be put on the pan was the fact that credit was given to Nebraska's scarlet clad backfield and the line for the crushing defeat handed to Missouri. After reading the little item, we began to wonder who did all the work to win the game, if it wasn't the Husker backfield and the Husker line.

Blue Howell, Nebraska's smashing Cornhusker fullback is rated as one of the outstanding scorers in the country at the present time. Blue has rolled up a total of 42 points in four games, scoring them all on touchdowns. Seven times has the "Blue Boy" crossed the white line of the opposing team. He rates fifth among the high scorers of the country. In the conference he is bested by Bus Haskins of the Oklahoma eleven, who ran wild in the game with the Kansas Aggies last week.

Reports come out of Columbia that the Nebraska defensive work on the Tiger passing combination was the best seen in many a moon. George Farley led the Husker passing defensive work and well did he show the Bengals from Mizou that passing was not to be snorted at that afternoon. This Saturday when the Husker warriors go to Kansas to meet Coach Bill Hargiss' Jayhawkers eleven, another passing combination will greet the Scarlet and Cream, this time represented by Cooper, Lawrence and Ash. Last year on stadium sod, the Jayhawk combination got under way and rather dazzled the mighty Husker eleven but Coach Bearg has developed a passing defensive machine now that will surprise the men from the Kaw.

Clair Sloan, Cornhusker halfback received a shoulder injury in Monday night's practice scrimmage and will probably be held out of the starting lineup in the Kansas game at Lawrence this week. Sloan and Witte, the flashy pair of backs are Nebraska's triple-threat men and their work against the Tigers was of the brilliant variety. The lineup to start against the Jayhawkers Saturday is in the making out on stadium sod this week. Coach Bearg is figuring on giving his reserves a shot at the Hargiss men to start off the battle this week.

Nebraska scouts who watched the Jayhawkers perform last week against the Iowa State Cyclones, report that the Huskers will have no easy battle with the men from down on the Kaw. Although old man dope says that the Huskers should win, no stock in the dope bucket is being taken this week. The Kansas eleven went to a scoreless tie with the Iowa State crew and scouts say that the Sooners were playing an entirely different brand of ball Saturday than they did against the Scarlet in the season opener. The Kansas eleven has been known for years to spring a royal surprise on some much-touted eleven. Last year the Jayhawkers took the Missouri Tiger to a 14 to 7 set back to surprise the entire football world around the valley circles. With this in the record books, the Nebraska eleven will trek down to Lawrence this week with nothing but determination to take the Jayhawkers down the line and bring home another Big Six victory.

Huskies May Make Trip To Chicago By Airplane

Seattle, Wash.—(IP)—With a football game between the University of Washington and the University of Chicago at Chicago next year a certainty, plans are being discussed here toward the advisability of sending the Huskies football squad to the windy city via airplane, in order to save time missed from classes on the part of the gridgers.

According to the most likely plans, half the trip each way would be made by air, and half by rail.

DR. F. C. ALLEN LAUDS SPORTS FOR WOMEN

Kansas Athletic Director Says Sex Differences Are Exaggerated

"Undue emphasis on differences in temperament, capable and mental activities between men and women have deprived women of training in athletics," declared Dr. F. C. Allen, director of Athletics at the University of Kansas, speaking recently before the state convention of Women's Athletics associations here.

"The chief differences are the differences in social training through the years of childhood, adolescence and maturity," said Doctor Allen, "but because we had taken for granted these psychological differences which do not exist, we have systematically neglected the mental, moral and social and aesthetic training of American women through the avenues of play for play's sake, that is competitive play."

According to Dr. Allen it is now believed that the likeness between the sexes are greater than their differences and that future citizenship will call for men and women who will share equally and frankly its responsibilities and its satisfactions.

Lauds Women's Sports

Intramural sports as now sponsored by the Universities are to be lauded according to Dr. Allen. During the course of his address he said, "Intramurals, embracing such games as baseball, cricket, hockey, shinny, tennis and basketball, are opening up a new play life for American women, and they represent an important step in the naturalized movement of the new physical education."

"Heretofore, physical training for women has been passive and formal," said Dr. Allen. "The social side of play has been neglected. The new plan of physical education with its naturalized forms which aim to bring into use the natural brain and muscle activities which seek to provide greater opportunities for individual and group expression and for the development of individual and group courage.

"The well planned program for athletics for women will stress the value of co-operation, will create a spirit of fair play, will obliterate pettiness and ungenerous judgments, spites and small vices, will develop presence of mind, will teach coolness under pressure, and in all, will create a passion for a larger life."

Quotes Sculptor.

In commenting on what athletics can do for women, Dr. Allen quoted Haig Patinkin, sculptor, of San Francisco, who is completing a bust of Helen Wills. "There is a new type of beauty abroad in the earth. Her beauty is something more than candy-box prettiness, for it rises from within. Her intellectual life, her physical ruggedness, and her artistic gift each have their share. There is something that shines out of the Helen Wills bust that is spiritual in character something not accounted for by the regular features, the shapely throat, and the level brow. I began to study, to find a name for the thing that struck me as it has struck the art world, or half a dozen nations, and the word I found for it is, 'poise.'"

Oregon Co-Eds Masquerade as Men for Party

Eugene, Ore.—(IP)—At least once a year men on the Oregon university campus are "out of it."

That is when the women stage their Halloween masquerade ball, to which none of the opposite sex may gain admittance.

This is the way they work it. One girl dresses as a boy and invites a lady friend, and they both go to the ball and find other girls attired in male costumes accompanying other ladies.

TWO HUNDRED HARES, HOUNDS RACE TODAY

Contestants Are Expected To Be at Stadium by Four O'clock

Approximately two hundred men are expected to run in the hare and hound race this afternoon. As usual, contestants are expected to meet at the stadium at 4 o'clock, so that they will be at the starting point and ready to start at 4:30.

Smutny and Jamroz, who will scatter scent for the hounds to follow, were the winners in last week's race.

Coach Schulte has announced that these races will continue to be run as long as the weather permits. "Teams dependent by virtue of their low standing should become interested anew, for it is possible for a team to collect as many as five hundred points in one afternoon. The running of several more races will undoubtedly affect the team standing materially," was the statement of Coach Schulte, yesterday afternoon.

Pledge Doubts Veracity Of Michigan Grid Coach

Columbus, O.—(IP)—This story was told on the Ohio State campus when Michigan and Ohio

State met on the football field: The incident happened upon the occasion of the Michigan-Ohio State game here six years ago. Coach Fielding H. Yost of Michigan, who is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, is in the habit of dropping around to the local chapter house when in Columbus.

Upon this occasion his knock was answered by a freshman who seemed to have a considerable amount of self-assurance for a pledge.

"I'm Fielding H. Yost, the Michigan coach," said Coach Yost by way of self-introduction.

"That so?" drawled the freshman, puffing out a cloud of cigarette smoke. "Come on in and sit down, then I'll tell one."
