CLASS A BASKETBALL FILES CLOSE TODAY

Athletic Office Must Have All Entries So Pairings May Be Made

All entries for the class "A" division of the interfraternity basketball tournament must reach the athletic office some time today. Herb Gish, director of athletics, has made this requirement so that teams may be assigned to leagues, and first game pairings arranged, in time for an announcement in the Daily Nebraskan Sunday morning.

The tournament is to be conducted according to the round-robin plan, with teams playing a game with each member of their own league in the preliminary round. It is expected that this round will be completed before Christmas vacation begins. The second round will be played among the winners of each of the leagues.

Students Officiate

It is planned that these games will be officiated by university students. Officials will receive fifty cents each for preliminary games, and seventy-five cents each for final round games. Students wishing to work these games are requested to leave their names at the athletic office any time before Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

At this time, a meeting of all interfraternity athletic managers will be held in the Coliseum, to draw up a list of approved officials. This list will be used by the athletic office in assigning officials to the tournament games.

Honorary degree of doctor of laws has been conferred upon President Coolidge by the Catholic University of America. The ceremonies took place at Washington at the time of the inauguration of the new rector.

ON THE DALLEY

Although the Pitt Panthers will be outweighed a trifle by the Husker team and have been beaten twice this season, they think that the Husker game will turn to a Panther victory. The Pitt eleven comes to the stronghold of Nebraska as the strongest crew played this year. Coach Jock Sutherland will not bring his team into Lincoln Friday night because he doesn't want the men to get that welcoming spirit that always goes out from the Nebraska student body. That spirit that Coach "Chick" Meahan evaded with his New York Violets and Coach Andrews with his Syracuse Orange eleven. The Nebraska spirit that welcomes the visiting football eleven has grown to such a proportion that invading coaches from now on will not let that spirit get to the team.

Today, on the Creighton field, Coach Jock Sutherland will give his Panther crew its second workout of the trip to the West. The Pitt squad worked out at Chicago yesterday and will not pull into Lincoln until tomorrow morning. Sports writers, scouts, critics and the great football following in general has been pouring into Lincoln for the past two days and Saturday will find the greatest assemblage of football followers in Lincoln this season.

All roads will lead into Lincoln Saturday. The stadium will be sold out as for the Missouri game if the weather man smiles on Cornhusker football and gives us a nice day. The greatest intersectional football game of the week is booked for Lincoln and Nebraska followers throughout the state are rushing in their orders for the pastebords. The game Saturday is Nebraska's last East-West game at home this season and closes the greatest home season of intersectional games ever played on the Memorial Stadium field.

Lawrence Perry, noted sports critic and football writer states that should Nebraska take Pitt Saturday and then trek to West Point and succeed in lowering the Army colors, then the Cornhusker football team will be rated as the greatest in America. "It will be impossible to rate any eleven higher and but two or three as high," is the way Perry states the sentiment regarding the great Cornhusker "powerhouse." Perry does not give the Nebraskans the Pitt game as do many of the sport writers. He thinks that the Huskers will have the toughest battle of the home season when they line up against the Panther eleven from the "smoky city."

Starring in the Cornhusker backfield along with Captain Howell and Clair Sloan is Coach Bearg's new backfield man, "Red" Young, the fast sophomore who displayed his wares to good advantage against Kansas. Young is a track man and does the century under the 10 second mark. He has lacked experience in Varsity roles but he is looked for great things on the gridiron yet this season.

"It will be a tough game and a tough team to beat," is the way Coach "Bunny" Oakes expressed his feeling for the coming battle with the Golden Panther eleven from Pittsburgh. "Last year in the Pitt Oval," stated Oakes, "the Nebraska forward wall lined up against the greatest line it had met that year and now the eastern eleven only lacks the services of one regular from that line." From all indications, the Pitt line will be every bit as good as Nebraska's and the backfield is fast," comes the report from the Nebraska scouts who watched the Pitt team perform this season.

But Blue Howell and his cohorts that make up the Husker "powerhouse" will be ready for this Golden Panther eleven and will probably show the team from the "smoky city" that they can't get away with two wins in a row. Last year on the Pitt field, Nebraska gave the Panther crew a battle and this year we have 'em at home and Howell, Sloan, Russell & Co. are out to avenge that 21 to 13 defeat that Nebraska returned to Lincoln with last year. Fans who listened in on the radio last fall as the Huskers fell before "Gibby" Welsh, are going to be in the stadium Saturday to see a Scarlet and Cream eleven return the compliments to the Pitt team.

In Grantland Rice's "Spotlight" the noted writer says that the day when Captain Blue Howell, Nebraska's big-strong-legged, thick chested, crashing, crusher, meets Chris Cagle of the Army, it will be a glorious day for the two outstanding backs in the country today. Blue and Cagle will meet each other next Saturday in the West Point stadium in the Army-Nebraska game.

feat goes unavenged by a Cornhusker football team.

Nebraska is expecting the greatest battle of the home season with the Pitt eleven and they also want to trek East to West Point next week to meet Coach "Biff" Jones' Army eleven—undefeated. To defeat Pittsburgh Saturday, would acclaim Nebraska as the greatest football eleven throughout the mid-west. Coach Bearg stated last night that Nebraska was up against a tough foe and that the scarlet-clad Nebraskans would be fighting their hardest to keep up their victorious march to national fame.

No Heavy Scrimmage

The first eleven did not participate in any heavy scrimmage last night as the zero hour of the great intersectional battle draws near, but wound up active practice in a fast workout. Two elevens, including the "B" team went through a short mix and like the "powerhouse" everything is set for the works Saturday. Coach Bearg is not taking any chances with the injury jinx and has his team rounded up into peak shape for Pitt.

There will be no great changes in the Husker lineup Saturday although Harold Frahm, the Beatrice terror, is finding that he fits in very nicely with Howell, Sloan and Co. in the Husker "powerhouse." He may get the call early in the game against Pittsburgh.

Although Pitt is expected to open a bag of new tricks on the Cornhuskers Saturday, Coach Bearg, the Cornhusker mentor, may send his "B" team into the fray against the Panthers. If he doesn't it will be the first time this season that the Husker coach has not used his second string.

Starting Lineup

The starting lineups for the Pitt-Husker game will be as follows:

Nebraska	Pittsburgh
Ashburn	Guarino
Munn	Getto
McMullen	DeWeolo
James	Montgomery
Helm	Fox
Richards	Tully
Morgan	Donchess
Russell	Edwards
Sloan	Williams
Farley	Uansa
Howell	Parkinson

that the Husker's hardest intersectional battle at home was now at hand and that the Scarlet was in good condition for the game.

Many bruises and bumps from the Oklahoma game were listed in the Husker camp earlier in the week but as the zero hour of the East-West clash draws near, the Husker team rounds into peak condition. Captain Blue Howell and the Cornhusker "powerhouse" will be set to show the Golden Panther eleven that the 21 to 13 defeat of 1927 will not go unavenged by this year's Nebraska football eleven.

Juniors and seniors who had not had their pictures taken, and repeated warnings have been given through the columns of The Daily Nebraskan.

However, the deadline Saturday will be final, and no junior or senior pictures can be taken for the yearbook next week. Two more days are left for students who have not been able to go to the studio earlier.

ALUMNI WILL MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. McGrade is coming to the meeting at the invitation of the alumni association to discuss the matter of dormitories, which have been drawing considerable attention and thought at Nebraska recently.

According to Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, Ames is situated nearly like Nebraska in the matter of fraternities and general environment. The Iowa school has progressed farther in the matter of dormitories than has Nebraska.

Alumni and Athletics

Coach Henry F. Schulte will talk on "Alumni Influence in Athletics," and Professor F. E. Henzlik will give "An Analysis of the Junior College Movement." A general discussion will occupy the remainder of the afternoon.

The alumni will gather at the University Club at 6:15 o'clock Friday evening for dinner, where Professor R. P. Crawford will speak on the matter of alumni scholarships. Professor Crawford is assistant to the chancellor and professor of a agricultural journalism. Mr. Crawford will discuss alumni scholarships from the point of view of one who believes in them, since he, himself, recently made a contribution to the University for use as a loan fund.

Mr. Crawford's talk will close the meeting.

Kansas Chances Look Bright After Husker Victory Over Oklahoma

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 15.—Since the overwhelming defeat of the Oklahoma Sooners Saturday at the hands of Nebraska, chances look much brighter for Coach Bill Haggiss' University of Kansas men to chalk up a decisive victory.

Although Roland Logan and Captain "Dutch" Hauser were hurt in the Marquette game, they will both be in condition for the coming Sooner tilt.

Oklahoma is dangerous in the aerial game, and at times has flashed a powerful offensive. If they display the early season form they showed against Indiana and Creighton, Kansas sport followers
