

ALUMNI IN NEW YORK ENTERTAIN VISITORS

Headquarters Are Arranged And Football Men Are Taken to Folies

Plans for the entertainment of the Nebraska football team and alumni during their stay in New York this week end were made by the University of Nebraska Alumni Association of New York. Headquarters for the team and alumni was established at the Hotel Commodore Friday.

There was a buffet supper in the grand ball room of the Commodore Friday evening. It was a strictly informal affair with no speeches, and it afforded the Nebraska alumni an opportunity to renew acquaintances.

Attend "Show Boat."

The Nebraska alumni headquarters at West Point was at Cullen hall. The Nebraska team and coaching staff attended "Show Boat" at the Ziegfeld theater after the game. A block of seats had been reserved for alumni.

Transportation to West Point had been arranged via regular trains, special trains and buses. The Nebraska special, via the West shore line, left from the Cortlandt Street ferry at 9:45 o'clock Saturday morning, and arrived at West Point at 11:45. Buses left the Commodore at 9 o'clock and made the run to West Point in about three hours. Special busses for the team and others will be provided for a sight-seeing tour of New York, today.

ALL METHODISTS HOLD AG PARTY

Three hundred students gathered in the Student Activities building, College of Agriculture campus, Friday night for the second all-Methodist party of the year. The affair was a "Football Party" and incidents connected with the gridiron game were featured in the whole evening's program.

The rallies and pep meetings, with the singing of Nebraska songs, were almost as snappy and enthusiastic as the cheering of the crowds in the stadium at one of the games, according to Rev. W. C. Powell, Methodist student pastor. Much animation and vigor was shown by the entire group.

McBride Speaks.

Gregg McBride, sports writer for the Lincoln Star, outlined the football season and ventured a guess that if Nebraska did not lose the game with the Army Saturday that she would win it. Mr. McBride said that he did not like to forecast a game ahead of time.

Ray Magnusson then introduced his comb and horn band. This was received with a great deal of enthusiasm by the crowd. The ladies drop kicking contest also proved to be interesting. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The Inquiring Reporter

Each day until the identity of the "Sweetheart of Nebraska" is revealed the Inquiring Reporter will collect student opinions on the project. He will ask different questions each day from students picked at random.

The Question for Today "Who do you think would be the typical Nebraska Sweetheart?"

The Answers "I don't know unless it would be Ruth Baker," Neal Gomon, '32, Albin.

"I think that Lorraine Gamba would be O. K.," Opal Ayres, '31, Sabetha, Kansas.

"Ruthie Hilton," Truth McManus, '31, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

"I can't think of anyone," Ed Dickson, '29, Douglas, Wyoming.

"I suggest Betty Wahlgvist," Makine Hill, '30, Churdan, Iowa.

"Marie Herney," Ray Sabata, '30, Dwight.

Weidemann Will Hold First Class Monday

The first meeting of the course in making of musical instruments, under Dr. C. C. Weidemann, will be held from 7 to 8 o'clock Monday evening, November 26, in room 21, Teachers college. A special edition of Dr. Weidemann's work on "How to Make Musical Instruments" will be available through the extension service.

The Military Ball will have as one of its main features the announcement and presentation of the Honorary Colonel. Elaborate plans have been made for the ceremony, but will be kept secret until the night of the Military Ball.

Tickets Being Sold.

Tickets are being sold by all cadet officers. A limit has been placed upon the number of tickets to be sold. "We will recall all tickets after five hundred have been sold," stated a member of the committee in charge. "We feel that many more couples would make the Coliseum floor crowded, and it is our wish to make the party as elaborate and enjoyable as possible. Too large a crowd would interfere with these plans."

Approximately four hundred dollars will be spent on decorations for the first formal of Nebraska's season. Announcement concerning the general decorative theme will be made next week. At least an eighteen piece orchestra will play for the Military Ball, according to those in charge of the annual affair.

SUMMER TERM WILL OFFER FIELD TRIPS

Course in Coaching Will Be Given First Two Weeks Under Entire Staff

Field trips in agronomy, geology, botany and geography will be offered by the University of Nebraska in the next summer session. It was announced by Director R. D. Mortz. The summer session, which was recently changed from two six-weeks terms to one nine-weeks term, will start June 12 and close August 8, 1929.

The agronomy field course will be two weeks in length and will be spent in western and northern Nebraska. Six weeks will be spent in the Black Hills on the geology trip.

Coaching Will Be Given

The six-weeks botany course and the three-weeks geography course will both be spent in Colorado. A two-weeks coaching course, under the entire University of Nebraska coaching staff, will be given during the first two weeks of the summer session.

Several prominent visiting professors have been obtained to teach during the summer session, according to Director Mortz.

Dr. Ernest Anderson, head of the department of chemistry at the University of Arizona, will be one of the visiting professors. He is a research worker in the field of carbohydrate chemistry, and was formerly at the University of Chicago and the Pretoria university, South Africa.

Mort Will Be Visitor

Dr. Paul R. Mort, of the teachers' college of Columbia university, whose proposals for state support of education have been accepted in three states and are being considered in Pennsylvania, Kansas and Nebraska, is to be one of the visiting professors.

A series of lectures for school superintendents will be given by Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, director of rural education of the state teachers' college, Ypsilanti, Mich. Dr. Pittman is the author of three books on educational problems.

Offer Course in Spelling

Educational studies in spelling and reading will be offered by Dr. Ernest Horn, chairman of the department of elementary education and director of the elementary training school at the University of Iowa. Dr. Horn's works in spelling and reading have contributed to the changes in methods and subject matter in those elementary school subjects.

Miss Evalina Harrington, of the University of Texas, will instruct in kindergarten primary methods of teaching. She is vice president of the International Kindergarten union.

Prof. Burt Cooper, of Missouri State Teachers' college, will direct work in vitalized agriculture. Professor Cooper has contributed to stimulating of teachers' work in Nebraska rural schools.

EGYPTIAN WILL VISIT CAMPUS

Hanna Fam, an Egyptian now studying in Chicago, will be on the University of Nebraska campus on December 31 to 16, at which time he will explain at several meetings the work of the Y. M. C. A. in Egypt. He intends to return to Egypt after his schooling as a representative of the Y. M. C. A. in that country.

Fam's early training in Y. M. C. A. work was under C. Steele Holcombe, University of Nebraska graduate of 1916 who was at Cairo, Egypt, but has been transferred to Assiut, Egypt, to enlarge and extend the work there.

GUILFORD WRITES MAGAZINE ARTICLE

Prof. J. P. Guilford of the psychology department, is the author of an article in the November issue of the Psychological Review, entitled "The Method of Paired Comparisons as a Psychometric Method."

He also is credited with two book reviews in the current number of the American Journal of Psychology, and is author of the index of that magazine for the year 1928.

HUSKERS LOSE BIG EAST-WEST CLASH

the field to the Huskers 25-yard line. Here the Nebraska line held and took possession of the ball and punted down the field to the Army 20-yard line to Cagle who returned five yards. The Cadets then varied their attack and turned to the running attack, carrying the ball to the center of the field. On the Huskers 30-yard line, the Cadets were held and lost the ball on downs to Nebraska. Rowley took the ball down the field on a run from punt formation.

Battle in Center of Field

Throughout the opening stanza the Cadets and Nebraska battled in the center of the field at Michie Stadium. The Army eleven went down into Nebraska's territory as far as the 18-yard line for the only threat in the opening quarter while the mighty Huskers from Nebraska advanced the ball to the Army 25-yard line. Cagle, the Army flash proved to be everything that the "Husker" team expected and they failed to stop the redhead in his flashy passing and running attack. Only once in the opening period did the Scarlet and Cream thwart the plans of the dashing Cadet halfback. That time came late in the quarter when Cagle took the ball and on a pass formation could not find anyone to pass to and scampered around behind the line as the Nebraska forward wall crashed through to throw him for a thirty yard loss.

First Quarter is Army's

The first quarter ended with the ball near the center of the field and with the Army having an edge on the Huskers in first downs. The Army eleven had rolled up a total of four first downs while the Huskers, who seemed to be experiencing stage fright, could only account for two. Although the Army passing attack was dangerous throughout the first quarter, Nebraska broke up nine of the Cadet passes and intercepted one.

Nebraska's game came in the second quarter. Throughout the entire period, the mighty Cornhusker eleven played as the Cornhusker team of old. Driving, smashing and running, the Huskers rode through the Cadets from West Point for a total of six first downs and held the Soldiers to three first.

Threaten Three Times

Three times during the second stanza, the Huskers from Nebraska threatened to score on the Army and only once out of the three attempts did the Nebraska eleven score and that was on Clair Sloan's kick from placement which opened the scoring of the afternoon. Once during the second quarter, the Huskers had ten yards, to close the gap between the goal line and four downs to do it in. The Army line held and took the oval on downs.

The first attempt the Huskers tried at scoring was an attempted drop-kick by Clair Sloan, Husker back. The kick was tried from the 30-yard line but missed, the ball going off the side of Sloan's foot. The ball was brought out on the 20-yard line and put in play.

Cagle Loses 10 Yards.

Cagle was thrown for a ten-yard loss on the first play. Army failed and the ball was given to Nebraska on the 40-yard line. The Husker machine got under way and took the ball to the Army 4-yard line where the Cadet line held out the Huskers from what looked to be a sure touchdown. Rowley's kick from the Nebraska 40-yard line to the long punts of the afternoon and enabled the Huskers to get in the first scoring.

The second quarter ended with Nebraska accounting for a total of eight first downs and the Army seven. Throughout the second quarter, the Nebraska eleven demonstrated its power to the packed stadium of eastern football fans. Running, punting and line driving, the Huskers from Lincoln outplayed the Cadets.

Army Pulls Surprise

Coming back on the field in the second half, the section of Nebraska football fans in Michie Stadium expected the mighty Cornhusker "powerhouse" to do the same thing it had done against its opponents all season and pound the Cadets until victory was assured, but the loyal fans from Nebraska were in store for a big surprise.

Throughout the second half, the Husker eleven played a loose defensive game and let the Army passing attack almost function at will. Long passes by Cagle and Hutchinson put the game away for the eastern team. Early in the second half, the Army attack got under way and a long pass put the ball on the Nebraska 38-yard line. Then Cagle, the flash of the Army backfield, took the oval through the Nebraska team for a touchdown.

It was thought at first that the Army back had run out of bounds but the run was good for 38 yards and a touchdown, bringing the score up to 6-3. The kick from placement failed and the score stood. From then on, throughout the third quarter, the two eleven's battled with the Army having a slight edge on the Huskers.

Army Scores in Fourth

In the fourth quarter, Army scored again and this time on a long pass from Hutchinson to Allan. The game throughout the fourth quarter was Army's. Five first downs were chalked up for the Cadets while the Huskers eked out but three. Coach Bear sent his B team into the Husker backfield and McBride and Witte bombarded the Army Cadets in a last futile attempt to turn the game into a victory. The work of Claude Rowley, sophomore half back, who started the game and the work of Clair Sloan, his running mate, were the two outstanding features of the Husker offense.

Blue Howell, smashing Cornhusker fullback was covered so completely by the Cadet eleven that he failed to make the impressive showing that Husker fans had hoped to see. With Howell watched so closely, the ball totting job was shifted to Clair Sloan who showed West Point gridiron followers some classy football lugging Sloan's work in the Husker backfield was of the stellar variety and he tore off long gains throughout the afternoon. His pet run of the Army Nebraska game was a run from punt formation. Twice the Husker back skirted the Cadet wings for long gains on this play. Once he stood on the goal line for a punt and instead ran the ball out to the 30-yard line.

The day at West Point out Michie field was almost gone when the time-keeper's gun made the game history. Darkness had settled over the stadium and the Cadets put the great inter-sectional battle away in the win column.

Opinion of twenty-one thousand fans that packed Michie Stadium regarded the Cornhuskers as a fine team playing a fine game. They also claimed that the Army played its best game of the season today.

The Cornhusker Special pulled out for New York City after the game, where the New York alumni are entertaining the team, band and rooters from Lincoln. The special leaves New York at 3 o'clock Saturday for Lincoln.
