Pitchers and Catchers Begin Getting in Shape at the Coliseum Today

PLAY STARTS IN APRIL

Aspirants for Nebraska's 1929 baseball team met with "Choppy" Rhodes, head baseball coach, in the N. club rooms at the Coliseum yesterday afternoon.

The pitchers and catchers will begin indoor practice at the coliseum this afternoon. The infielders and outfielders will start to get in shape, pepper games and dragging and bunting practice making up the main part of their program.

Fields Practice Later It is thought that outfield practices will begin about the first of April. If there is no interference with the state league schedule, and if arrangements can be made, the games will probably be played at Landis Field, otherwise the grounds at the Agricultural College will be utilized.

The tentative schedule: April 17, Oklahoma at Norman. April 18, Oklahoma at Norman. April 19, Missouri at Columbia. April 20, Missouri at Columbia. May 2, Kansas Aggies at Lincoln. May 3, Kansas Aggies at Lincoln. May 10, Haskell Indians at Lincoln. May 11, Haskell Indians at Lincoln. May 13, Oklahoma at Lincoln. May 14, Oklahoma at Lincoln. May 17, Kansas Aggies at Manhattan. May 18, Kansas Aggies at Manhattan. May 24, Iowa State at Lincoln. May 25, Iowa State at Lincoln. May 31, Kansas at Lincoln. June 1, Kansas at Lincoln.

A game has been scheduled with a Japanese university, making a date in May. It is highly probable that two games will be scheduled with Oklahoma A. & M. during the spring vacation while the Nebraska team is on the Oklahoma trip.

WHICKER DISCUSSES COACHING SITUATION

Magazine Writer Believes Grid Mentors Earn Salaries

Boston, Mass.—(IP)—The athletic coach may draw a higher salary than the college professor, but in most cases he is worth the difference, according to H. W. Whicker, a former professor, who writes for the February Scribner's Magazine.

"There is at present not a more overpaid profession on earth than the academic or educational," he declares. "The number of people who drift into college year after year, without one quality of manhood or womanhood is amazing. In some mysterious fashion they drag through, finding the stuff suitable for their wits not in history, not in the sciences, not in the arts, but in the department of education, where in association with their kind they are moulded like putty into herd-ers, not teachers. And after four years they know that life is no place for them; it is a swift and terrible stream which they view with abject terror."

"Such an array frowns down upon the healthy American school-boy, or schoolgirl, from kindergarten to college commencement. And a sorry lot they are; men unsexed by lack of physical exercise and the moron-making processes of study through which they have been pushed for normal certifi-cates; women without the physical or intellectual charm to attract mates. The whole system, as a consequence, is but a lunch counter and sleeping accommodation for incompetence."

"Indeed, one may find teachers here and there, a true man or woman, but they are under the handicap of the association. They must work with instructors of English composition who never write, who could not write if they tried, and are not interested in writing, depending upon educational method instead of honest practice in their subject, and forcing a bright, creative mind into such a hopeless maze of theory that his natural thinking gives way to distrust or prodding him so unmercifully with authority not founded on fact that he instinctively revolts at the punishment by sleeping through class, cutting, bluffing, and resorting to any expedient which will enable him to slip by the requirement and have done with the wretched business."

NURSES START SPECIAL STUDY

Sixteen nurses, who are the juniors and seniors at Bryan Memorial hospital began their university training in dietetics Wednesday, February 6. These students are registered in Wesleyan university, but have made specific arrangements and have registered in the College of Agriculture, University of Nebraska, for a special course in foods and nutrition. This two-hour course has been especially prepared for the nurses and is open only to them. It is the first time such a course has been given at the college. The nurses will learn how to prepare the diet in both abnormal and normal cases, in either hospital or home nursing. Mrs. William Hiller goes to the hospital each Wednesday from 4-5 p. m. to instruct the class. Miss Rebecca Gibson will have charge of the instruction the latter part of the semester. The nurses come to the foods laboratories in the Home Economics building for their laboratory work every Friday afternoon from 1-4. A special bus from the hospital furnishes the transportation between the colleges.

ON THE VALLEY JACK EVITT

Tommy Churchill, the forward on the Oklahoma Sooner basketball five that met the Nebraska Huskers on the coliseum floor last night is one of the best, if not the best athlete in college circles today. Churchill is an all-around athlete. He does not specialize in just one sport or in two sports or in three. He goes in for everything and when he goes he does a good job of it. At present he is leading the Big Six individual scorers and is the star forward on Coach Hugh McDermott's Sooner quintet. At the close of the basketball season he will change his basketball shoes for a pair of spiked track shoes and start working out on the Sooner track team. At track he performs as brilliantly as he does in basketball. Last summer he was a member of the United States Olympic team and took part in the decathlon events. This spring in Big Six circles he will probably take part in a number of events including pole vault, dashes and weight events. Last fall he was a member of the Sooner football team and will be back at the Sooner institution next fall to compete in these three sports again. Bob Matherne of the SEA service credits Churchill of being the outstanding collegiate athlete of the entire country. Tommy hangs from the Jayhawk state, coming from Wichita, Kansas.

The coming week finds the Creighton Bluejays meeting, the Syracuse Orange from New York in an inter-sectional basketball game on the Syracuse court. The Creighton quintet is one of the outstanding basketball fives in this section of the country and battle Washington at St. Louis this week for the championship of the Missouri Valley conference. And inter-sectional basketball game on the Creighton schedule had given the Omaha five a great amount of nationwide reputation. Nebraska's basketball team this season is going through a fairly successful season although nothing to write home about, but no games of the Syracuse-Creighton calibre are on the Husker schedule for this year. A game or two during the season with some eastern five would lend a great amount of prestige to the Nebraska basketball schedule and incidentally add to the crowd. Football games are scheduled with inter-sectional teams and so why not basketball?

The Sooners from Oklahoma are still leading the way in Big Six basketball circles. The win over Ames and Nebraska completed the northern invasion and still the Sooners are undefeated in Big Six basketball. The question now arises—will the Sooners be defeated in the conference this year? Last year they were undefeated and the way it looks now—well it's just a matter of another conference title. And the second question arises—what has become of the great Kansas basketball teams that were much feared and unbroken in past conference races? Kansas seemingly is reposing contentedly at the bottom of the pack in the 1929 race for Big Six honors. The much reputed "Phog" Allen has only turned in one victory all season and that over the Kansas Aggies who like their sister school are keeping her company in the cellar championship. Kansas teams that have started out the season with a poor start have always wound up in good shape, but this year the Jayhawkers are still chugging along at the small pace of the early season defeats by Washburn, Missouri, Notre Dame, and California.

Nebraska's Cornhusker track team fared well at the Kansas City Athletic Club indoor meet Saturday and managed to drag down a few places. The competition was keen and Coach Henry Schulte reported that Big Six teams looked plenty powerful. The indoor meet date for the Big Six has been set and will be held in Kansas City on March 1 and 2. This meet will show just how Big Six teams will compare for the big open air carnival late in May. May, Ossian, Lamson, Ossian, Witte and Janulewicz were the Nebraska men who placed in the K. C. A. C. meet. Mays took third in the six hundred yard race, Lamson second in the 50-yard dash. The other three places were a tie for second and two thirds.

The wrestling match in the Coliseum Saturday afternoon showed up a semi-powerful Husker grappling team. Powerful in some classes and weak in others. In the Aggie meet the Huskers had little difficulty in taking the long end of the score and got along without the services of Simic, Iron man of the Nebraska team. From all indications, the Huskers should place high in the Big Six conference meet.

Big Six athletic directors met in Kansas City Saturday and repealed the old ruling of only fifteen days of spring football practice to insert a new ruling of advancing the practice session to six weeks. This is just about the best thing the directors have done for some time and an old ruling that accomplished little and hindered much has been done away with. The new ruling will give football squads in the conference time enough to get organized for the fall schedule while the fifteen days used heretofore did not enable a football coach to get acquainted with his new men. The Big Six is finding out by experience what it needs and what it doesn't need. Within the next few years it will be the model athletic conference of the entire country. It is small enough and centralized enough to cause other athletic conferences of the country to look up to it. Another item taken up by the directors was the idea of freshman football games between conference members. The directors are much in favor of this plan but will take it up in March at the faculty meeting.

New Course Offered College Algebra is a new extension course offered by the extension division now. It was organized by Dr. T. A. Pierce.

TRI-COLOR TRACK MEN COMPETE FOR HONORS

First of Series of Meets Will Be Staged This Afternoon On Indoor Oval

Competition for honors on the several tri-color track teams will open this afternoon on the Nebraska indoor track, when the first of a series of twelve tri-color meets opens the inter-squad competition for the 1929 season. All freshmen and other members of the Nebraska squad working out at present are scheduled to show their wares in an attempt to qualify for awards given at the close of each season.

The introduction of a track numeral sweater, similar to those awarded for football and basketball, was announced last week by Coach Schulte and will be awarded to those making required marks this year. The usual winged foot will be given again this season to those making the best marks in competition during the meets.

Senior Division Opens Those having earned numeral points to date will compete in the senior divisions of the tri-color events while the others will compete in the junior division. Coach Schulte and his assistants are very desirous of having as many men as possible compete in the tri-color events in an attempt to build varsity material for coming years. Every man is required to compete in all the meets to be eligible for the numeral and winged foot awards.

PLAYERS SCORE IN PRODUCTION Continued from Page 1. was simply a "normal" woman with old fashioned ideas. Opal Wright portrayed the part of Daisy Herford. Millicent, Tom and Ann's daughter, proved to be the solution of their difficulties when Ann won the prize competition over Tom. Betty Gilbertson played the part of Millicent. Elwood Ramay as Dr. Remington, Ann's father, added much to the play by his splendid characterization of the part. Gertrude Spatz took the part of Ellen, the maid. Presents Interesting Plot. The general idea of the plot is that Ann, in following her woman's right theory, becomes so interested in her sculpturing that she neglected the mothering of her sixteen year old daughter, Millicent, away at boarding school. When Millicent came home with her own youthful ideas about life and a desperate plan to boot, Ann was awakened and realized the truthfulness of her father, Dr. Remington's statement, that love and babies are the only things in the world whole.

A very forceful and rather complicated climax to the whole is accomplished with Dr. Remington's theory of life playing a big hand. Although the play has, as all plays should have, a very serious moral, yet many clever and funny scenes are distributed throughout.

MISS AYERS HAS BEEN PROMINENT IN UNIVERSITY PLAYERS FOR SOME TIME, PLAYING LEADING PART IN "THE OUTSIDER." MR. YENNE, BESIDE BEING ASSOCIATED WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF DRAMATICS, HAS PLAYED THE LEAD IN "ARMS AND THE MAZE" AND "TWO GIRLS WANTED."

The entire action of the story took place in one set, an attic studio, constructed under the direction of Prof. Dwight Klirsch. It very interestingly presents the futuristic mode of artistic decoration to further mark the play as a modern drama. Miss H. Alice Howell, head of the University dramatic school directed the play with the assistance of Zolly Lerner, who has played in a number of University Players productions. The play will continue through Saturday with a matinee Saturday afternoon.

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND BEGINS WEDNESDAY

Kappa Sigma and Phi Sigma Kappa Clash in Opener As Play Starts

Fraternity basketball teams will get back into the race for the title tomorrow night, with three games scheduled in class A. Two of the A games are in the final round, while the third, between Phi Gamma Delta and Delta Sigma Phi, carries over to the high hurdle event. Nebraska's entrants in the high jump remained until the final six while Witte and Ossian both placed in the pole vault.

Try-outs for places on the team to meet K. S. A. C. squad will be held today. The Kansas Aggies came in for their share of honors at the K. C. A. C. meet and will provide plenty of competition this week end. The meet is scheduled to be held on the Nebraska indoor track underneath the stadium and will open at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

NEBRASKA TEAM LOSES TO OKLAHOMA

Continued from Page 1. the Nebraska game and increased his scoring 17 points from eight baskets and one free throw against the Scarlet quintet. Harvey Grace, forward, was the outstanding basketeer on the Husker five and rolled up four baskets and a free throw during his stay in the game. Fisher, his running mate was close behind in the scoring column for Nebraska and hit the rim for 8 points.

FORMER HUSKER ACCEPTS PLACE

Francis A. Schmidt, coach at the University of Arkansas, has been appointed as head athletic coach at Texas Christian university, Fort Worth, Texas. Mr. Schmidt is an ex-Husker, playing football and basketball at the University of Nebraska twenty years ago. He succeeds Madison Bell, who resigned to become football coach at Texas A. & M. college.

Non-Conference Teams Are on Kansas Schedule

Lawrence, Kas., Feb. 12.—A tour which will include a number of the northern universities, and another to eastern schools, is being planned for the University of Kansas debate team for some time this spring. It will be the first time that Kansas debaters have competed with schools outside of the valley conference. During the last week of February the team is scheduled to debate with teams of the University of South Dakota, the University of North Dakota, and the University of Nebraska.

KANSAS AGGIES COME NEXT ON TRACK BOOK

Cinder Squad Returns After Successful Invasion of Kansas City

Nebraska's varsity track team returned from their successful invasion of the annual Kansas City Athletic club indoor meet Sunday morning and resumed training Monday for the coming of the Kansas Aggies Saturday afternoon. The dual meet with the Kaggies, scheduled for February 16, will mark the initial appearance for the Schulte-coached athletes on the home cinders this season.

Coach Schulte stated that he was very well pleased with Nebraska's showing at the Kansas City meet and was of the opinion that Big Six competition would be keen for the 1929 honors. Eiler and Easter Place Two Cornhusker sprinters, Easter and Eller, were numbered among the final six of an entrance list that numbered twenty-five in the fifty yard dash while Lamson and Fleming were two of the finalists out of seventeen that competed in the high hurdle event. Nebraska's entrants in the high jump remained until the final six while Witte and Ossian both placed in the pole vault.

Try-outs for places on the team to meet K. S. A. C. squad will be held today. The Kansas Aggies came in for their share of honors at the K. C. A. C. meet and will provide plenty of competition this week end. The meet is scheduled to be held on the Nebraska indoor track underneath the stadium and will open at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Coach Charley Black tried several combinations against the McDermott crew from Norman, using "Dutch" Witte back at his old forward post, Fisher and Grace opened the battle, teaming together at the forward positions. They were assisted in floor work by Lewandowski and Elmer Holm at guard and Maclay at center. In the tense moments of the last few minutes of play, Referee Quigley called a foul on a Husker player and was received with a grand "boo" by the crowd. He called another to remind the crowd that he was hired to work the game in the best way he knew possible. With three free throws at the Husker basket, Captain Bruce Drake took advantage of it and put the Sooners in a tie and then in the lead which was never lost by the southern quintet. This display of sportsmanship may and may not have helped the Oklahoma men to win but it was a black eye for the Husker school.

Huskies Outplay Oklahoma

During the opening half the Huskers were nitting a fast pace and much too fast for the league leading Sooners but the second half seemed to show that the Huskers could not keep up that fast pace and soon lost the lead after the game reopened. Shearer, elongated center from the southland put the Sooners into the lead with a free throw and a basket after a few minutes of play had elapsed. The Sooners continued to stay out in front for several minutes and Munn came to the rescue this time to tie up the score at 25-25. Lewandowski came through with a long arch shot to put the Huskers in the lead and "Bob" Krall who had been inserted for Holm added two more from the center of the court. "Lou" added another which practically ended the Nebraska scoring for the game. With a lead of 32 to 26, it looked as if the Huskers were going to get the honor of being the first conference five to turn back the fast stepping Sooners, but Churchill to tie up the score at 32-32. The game ended with the score book reading: Churchill, Drake, Churchill and then a toss

PLAY COMMENCES IN TOURNAMENT

The girls' golf tournament is being played today, February 12, at the Lincoln indoor golf course, Fourteenth and P streets.

The girls should play as a team, although they can come individually, at any time today from 8 o'clock to 12 o'clock, and from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock. Eighteen holes of indoor golf will be played in the tournament, and the total score for each team will be used to determine the place in the match play.
