Oklahoma, with the indoor crown aiready reposing at Norman, does not seem to be as strong on the outdoor cinders and following their decisive defeat by Nebraska, do not stand head and shoulders above the other teams as they did in the indoor meet. Kansas, last year's winner of the old Missouri Valley which they edged out from Nebraska by a small margin, will be back in the running again with a strong team and will no doubt finish well towards the top. Nebraska track fans are pulling hard for the Scarlet and Cream and are of the belief that they have a strong chance of copping the hon-The poor showing made by the Huskers in the indoor meet has been offset by the splendid outdoor performances of the past month and plus the javelin and broad jump events not listed in the Kansas City affair in which Nebraska Gamma vs Alpha Delta Theta; and is strong, have assembled a great deal of strength.

Missouri is strong in the middle distances with Hursley, last year's quarter-mile champion, Kosky, Epstein, Dills and Brown moving strong. Iowa State will pull down their share of points in the disdope. The annual championships will be a two day affair with the preliminaries scheduled for Friday and the finals on tap for Saturday.
