FARMERS FORMAL ARRANGEMENTS ARE COMPLETED

Agriculture Freshmen Will Be Dismissed From Class Friday.

To Pick 'RURAL QUEEN'

Ticket Holders Entitled to Vote in Election of Popular Coed.

All plans are completed for the fourth annual Farmers Formal to be held Friday evening at the College of Agriculture, according to the committee. The various committees in charge of the respective features of the annual all-agriculture party have had their plans approved by the senior committee and are proceeding with the preparations that can be made previous to Friday. The majority of the preparations including decorations will be made Friday afternoon.

All freshmen agricultural students will be excused from their classes Friday afternoon to help with the final preparations under the direction of the committee chairman. "Freshmen will report to the activities building at one o'clock Friday afternoon for work on the decorations. A committee of Ag club members will have charge of the freshmen and they will take roll call every hour during the afternoon," Dwight Anderson, president of Ag club, stated.

Varied Program.

The dance program will consist of twelve dances with the crowning of the Farmer Formal queen and a group of numbers by a professional troupe completing the entertainment of the evening.

Voting for the Farmers Formal queen will continue throughout today at Agriculture hall. Programs and special novelty invitations will be distributed to those holding tickets for the affair when they vote. The advanced distribution of the programs is for the convenience in filling them out before the party begins.

Mystery Surrounds Pond Drugging; Mere Fish Story Results

Mystery surrounded the operation of two workmen around the pond of water just north of the old museum building yesterday afternoon. A small group of students had gathered to watch the men when they started to drag the bottom, and they remained waiting almost breathlessly until the pond had given up its dark secret. Several theories were advanced by members of the crowd, and it was not certain just what spectacle the group was to witness. The men began to skim the moss from the surface of the water.

"Just what are they doing?" queried one student aloud. "A Scotchman just lost a nickel and he's looking for it," volunteered another.

The truth remained undiscovered until one of the men took a large net and scooped several times into the water. When the last drop of mud and water had dripped from the seine, the crowd sighed with relief. The fish were being moved to their winter residence in the greenhouse.

Y. W. C. A. MEMBERS BEGIN FINANCE DRIVE

Campaign Gets Under Way As Captains Gather for Final Plans.

UNITED SUPPORT ASKED

Formal activity on the university Y. W. C. A. finance campaign started Monday when staff members, captains, and their helpers gathered at Ellen Smith hall at 4 o'clock to get lists of women whom each was to interview concerning the Y. W. C. A. Ruth Hatfield, chairman of the finance staff, is in charge of the drive which will continue this week.

Workers will approach all university coeds and solicit their support for the Y. W. C. A. for the current year. The funds are to be used in all departments of the program of the local organization. The amount of money to be received from the Lincoln Chest fund will be proportioned to the amount pledged by students.

Daily reports are to be made by staff members to the chairman at Ellen Smith hall. Teas are scheduled from 4 to 6 on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week at which time the captains may meet women and collect money and pledges. The campaign will close formally Friday although pledges are not due until Dec. 3.

ESTES CONFERENCE IS VESPERS SUBJECT

Program of Work and Play Is Discussed by Those Having Attended.

Five speakers gave a report on the regional Y. W. C. A. conference at the annual conference vespers service held Tuesday evening in Ellen Smith hall.

Ruth Hatfield gave a few suggestions on ways and means of transportation to Estes. The cost by train is forty dollars complete. "It is much cheaper and more exciting to travel in one of those high powered Ford's. Flat tires, rain, and a little engine trouble provide a little added color. It is also unnecessary to be on dress parade all the time. Anything from knickers to old dresses are the style," according to Miss Hatfield.

Recreation issue.

Recreation was Lucille Ledwith's topic. According to her plan every afternoon was set aside for baseball, tennis, horseshoe, and checker tournaments. "This is only a part of the recreational program, however. Cooking, evening sings, and picnicking is one of Estes' most beautiful parks as well as having weenie roasts with the Y. M. C. A. fellows is all the amusement one could wish for."

Discussion groups formed the basis for Evelyn Adler's talk. Six groups consisting of interracial, international, what is God, why we pray, industry, and the interpretation of the Bible were offered to give the students who attended the conference a chance to settle their problems.

Lindell Brumbach gave a short talk on the important speakers of the conference. They included such interesting personalities as Dr. T. Z. Koo of China, Dr. Paul Johnston of the Westminister Presbyterian church of Lincoln, Miss Winifred Nugal of the national staff, and Mademoiselle Kircova, a Bulgarian woman of striking appearance.

Former Nebraskan Plans Discussion of Foreign Allignment.

Ben Cherrington, a member of the faculty of Denver university, will give an address on "A New Day in International Relations" at the International Fellowship banquet on Friday evening at 6 o'clock in the First Christian church. Mr. Cherrington is a member of the Causey foundation for international good will and has been very prominent in international affairs.

Mr. Cherrington will trace the evolution of the League system on one hand and that of the United States system up to and including the ratification of the Kellogg pact. Several hundred persons are expected to attend the dinner. Foreign students on the campus will be the guests of the professors.

REGIMENT PLANS STREET PARADE ARMISTICE DAY

Plans made for the Armistice day street parade, to be held Monday, Nov. 11, provide for the assembly of the entire cadet R. O. T. C. regiment on the north side of the drill field facing south. They will form in battalions in close columns.

First call will be sounded at 12:40 p. m. and at 12:45 p. m. assembly will be sounded. This will be followed by the call of the battalion adjutants at 1 p. m. The regimental headquarters will lead the procession followed by the university service flag, the R. O. T. C. band, Pershing Rifles, and the companies in consecutive order.

PERSHING RIFLES WILL LEAD ANNUAL ARMISTICE PARADE

Pershing Rifles will lead the annual Armistice day parade on the down town streets of Lincoln. They will also act as escort to the colors during the entire program.

Following a series of tryouts new members have been chosen and in a short time they will be initiated to the organization. A preliminary drill has already been held and the new members are learning fast the standards of the troop.

Plans are being made for the banquet that accompanies the initiation. Plans for the spring party are also receiving much attention.

Ruth Diamond Calls W. A. A. Board Meeting

R. O. T. C. Review Set for Thursday

The first R. O. T. C. regimental review of the year will be held Thursday afternoon, Nov. 7, on the drill field. At this time the entire cadet regiment will assemble for preliminary drill in preparation for the Armistice day parade. Plans are being made to have Chancellor E. A. Burnett present the colors to an escort composed of men in the Pershing Rifles.

MONDAY AFTERNOON CLASSES DISMISSED

Students Are Excused to Attend Armistice Day Street Parade.

REGIMENT WILL LEAD

Classes will be held as usual Monday morning, but will be excused in the afternoon for the annual Armistice day celebration, according to information received from the student affairs office Tuesday afternoon. From 12 o'clock noon to 6 p. m. all campus activity will be suspended, and it is expected that the university offices will be closed. Students and faculty members are urged to take part in the scheduled events of the day, Dean T. J. Thompson stated.

The cadet regiment will parade in the Armistice day celebration Monday, and will form by companies on the north side of the drill field, facing south. First call will be sounded at 12:40 o'clock, and assembly at 12:45 p. m. The order of march will be issued from the offices of the military department. The R. O. T. C. band will lead the parade, as in previous years.

Instructors will deal with the matter of class cutting on Monday morning as they see fit, according to the dean. The student affairs office recognizes no such thing as cuts, and the instructors have always deducted whatever percent they chose from the student's grade for unexcused absences.

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT PENS COUNCIL MEET

Fellman's Plan, Barb Group Constitution Awaiting Judiciary Vote.

A discussion of the plan of proportional representation in the student council, which was submitted to the council by David Fellman, law student, will feature the meeting of the student council tonight at 7 o'clock in the Temple, according to Ralph Raikes, chairman of the council.

"It is also expected that the barb constitution, drawn up by the barb council, will be accepted in this meeting," said the chairman. A final vote upon this constitution will be taken tonight.

Other important business of the council in tonight's meeting will be the selection of a new secretary of the student council. The vacancy in this office was caused by the resignation of Ruth White, former secretary, from the council, because of a greater number of activities than were permitted by the A. W. S. point system.

Committee reports will probably be presented also tonight, according to Raikes. The meeting will be held in room 203 of the Temple.

Cadet Captains Select Company Coed Sponsors

Names of the sponsors for the companies in the R. O. T. C. regiments will be known by Nov. 11. They will be appointed by the captains of the respective companies and must be selected by Sunday, Nov. 10. There are thirteen cadet companies including the headquarters company at the agricultural college and for each company a coed sponsor will be chosen.

FRESHMEN MAY LOSE GREEN IF TEAM WINS

Neophytes Will Conduct Own Rally Friday Night to Raise Spirit.

WILL BE ANNUAL AFFAIR

For the first time on the Nebraska campus, the Freshman class will stage a rally preceding the annual frosh home football game, Nebraska's first year team will clash with the Missouri yearlings Saturday, Nov. 9, in the Memorial stadium. Details concerning the rally, to be held Friday night, will be announced in a later issue of The Daily Nebraskan.

The athletic department plans to have a home freshman football game every year, according to Herbert Gish, director. The game with Missouri this year will bring two of the strongest frosh elevens in the Big Six together. It is the plan of the innocents society sponsoring the green cap tradition, to make the freshman rally an annual event.

If Nebraska's freshmen win Saturday, all green caps may be discarded, according to an announcement made by the innocents society last week. If Nebraska loses, green caps must be worn until a later date.

All arrangements for the rally are in charge of Ellwood Thompson, freshman president. If possible the coach and the freshman squad will appear at the rally. Announcements as to speakers will be made later.

JAYHAWK GEOLOGIST WORKS WITH CONDRA

Dr. R. C. Moore at School To Aid in Publication of Fauna Study

Dr. R. C. Moore, state geologist of Kansas and chairman of the department of geology at the University of Kansas has been spending a few days in Lincoln in cooperative work with Dr. C. E. Condra of the survey department of the University of Nebraska on collections of bryozoa. Dr. Moore will also cooperate with Dr. Condra in the publication of a faunal study of this group from the Pennsylvania system of rock formation in Nebraska.

Previous to Dr. Moore's arrival in Lincoln he conducted a party of fifteen University of Kansas geology students in a field trip through northeastern Kansas and southeastern Nebraska. The party came to Lincoln last week end for the Kansas-Nebraska football game. After the game the students left for Lawrence but Dr. Moore remained to conduct the work in conjunction with Dr. Condra.

CLUB STUDENTS ARRANGE VARIED SPANISH PROGRAM

The Spanish club will meet Wednesday, Nov. 6 at 4 p. m. in room 5, University hall. A program by the students has been arranged. Mary Giangrosso, president of the club, will speak on the subject "Spanish as an International Language."

The two Spanish songs, "La Paloma" and "Cielito Lindo" will be sung by the group. Stories in Spanish will be told by Jennie Lind, Ruth Billing, Jennie Rensch, Lucile Janacek, Barbara Sperry, Mildred Shelton and Norma Anderson. The Spanish club will meet first and third Wednesday of the month in University hall.

THREE STUDENTS ARE INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

Eugene Ewing, Madison, John Milligan, Scribner, and William Cotton, Hastings, students of the University of Nebraska, were injured late Monday when the car in which they were returning to Lincoln from Omaha collided with another car.

The driver of the other machine disappeared after the accident occurred. Ewing received a four inch laceration on his face and his nose was almost entirely severed. He was rushed to the Nicholas-Senn hospital in Omaha by Dr. J. M. Packer of Ashland. The other two youths were cut and bruised quite severely. All three are pledges of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Rotarians Entertain Cornhusker Gridmen

The University of Nebraska football team and athletic officials were entertained Tuesday noon by the Lincoln Rotary club. A reel of movies of the Nebraska-Kansas game was shown for the first time at the luncheon. Herbert Gish, Coach Bible, and the players were introduced individually and responded with brief remarks. Glen Case, accompanied by Theodore Diers, sang university songs.

November Awgwan Advises When and How to Hang Pins

The outstanding feature of the next Awgwan will be a section devoted to advice of young collegians about to hang a pin or to receive one.

Recently there has been considerable of this sort of activity taking place about the campus and questions have arisen in the minds of others who are contemplating such actions as to the proper method of procedure in all the matters of detail—such as when, where, how, and most important of all of just what significance does the coed's acceptance of a pin imply.

A group of individuals with experience in this field have supplemented their knowledge by certain investigations and they will set forth the latest advice on all phases of the subject.

The Awgwan will serve to usher in the "formal" season also. The latest styles of formal dress and even of formal behavior will be stressed in this issue.

AGRICULTURAL MEN PLAN CORN DISPLAY

State Is Apportioned into Sections to Compete for Many Prizes.

FROLIK, FRENCH DIRECT

The college of agriculture will hold its annual corn show Jan. 7 to 9. The state is divided into three sections in awarding premiums. The eastern section is open to only the corn grower in the counties east of the western boundaries of Knox, Antelope, Boone, Nance, Merrick, Hamilton, Clay and Nuckolls counties. The central section is composed of counties not including the eastern section and who are east of the western boundaries of Keys Paha, Brown, Blaine, Custer, Dawson, Phelps and Harlan counties.

This show is open only to the eastern and central counties. The counties in western Nebraska will hold their show Dec. 11-13 in connection with the agricultural meetings at Scottsbluff.

The members of the Nebraska Crop Growers' association and boys and girls who are members of officially organized corn clubs in Nebraska are open to enter in this contest. Any farmer desiring to enter his corn may be eligible to compete by paying one dollar as a life membership fee to the association. The awards to the various classes will be $165 in cash, three silver trophies and a large number of ribbons.

A. L. Frolik of the college of agriculture and Bryan French of Page, are handling the details of the show.

DEPARTMENT ISSUES INVITATION TO DADS

Fathers of Husker Gridmen Will Be Guests at Sooner Game.

"Dads" of University of Nebraska football players will be guests of the university Nov. 16 when the Cornhuskers meet the Oklahoma Sooners on stadium field.

The dads will sit in a series of special boxes. Each one will wear on his back a large number, corresponding to that of his son. For example, the father of Captain George Farley will wear a large "21", the same number as is on the back of his son's jersey. Dads thus can be identified by their son's number in programs.

According to Herbert Gish, director of intercollegiate sports, other appropriate ceremonies will be arranged for the day. He said that players whose fathers will be unable to attend are to be given the privilege of inviting their closest relatives to serve as a dad.

Cartoons Arouse Interest in Political Science for Milling Corridor Students

A bulletin board typical of the times appeared in Social Sciences hall Monday. Above the board was painted "Political Science."

Just what would appear posted on such a bulletin board was for a few hours a matter of conjecture among the students. But not for long, for Prof. J. P. Senning, head of the political science department, soon appeared with posters typically of the political world.

INNOCENTS SET NOV. 16 AS DATE FOR DAD'S DAY

Gordon Larson, Heading Committee, Tells of Arrangements.

GREEKS PLAN BANQUETS

Social Groups Aid Society in Entertainment for Occasion.

"Dad's day" has been officially announced by Gordon Larson, chairman of the Innocents' committee in charge, to be Nov. 16, the date of the Oklahoma-Nebraska game.

The date of this occasion has been set on a date of a major football game for the past few years and this practice is being followed again this year. According to Larson, extensive arrangements have been made for the entertainment of visiting dads and it is hoped that every University of Nebraska student will make an effort to have his father here on this date.

Greeks Entertain.

Fraternity and sorority dinners and banquets will mark a part of the festivities for Dad's day as has been the custom in years past. One of the features of the day will be the noon luncheon at the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce for the visiting dads. Tickets for this occasion will be sold by the various fraternity stewards and at the book stores at a later date.

An improvement by Mr. Selleck, heading student activities at the university, is the fact that students holding tickets in the student section (but not the cheering section) may exchange them for tickets in the other sections, so that sons and daughters may sit with their families at the game.

Larson states that definite arrangements concerning Dad's day will be made later.

CORNHUSKER SALES DRIVE WILL CLOSE

Saturday Nov. 9 Is Deadline For Campaign With Special Price

Sales campaign for the 1930 Cornhusker will close Saturday, Nov. 9, according to George Kennedy, business manager. Favorable weather during the past week has aided greatly in the sale of the year books and the goal of 1600 sales will probably be reached before the campaign is terminated.

The deadline for junior, senior and fraternity pictures for the Cornhusker has been definitely set for Nov. 9. All those who wish to have their pictures in these sections should be sure to make appointments at the studios immediately. Failure to do so will probably cause a last minute rush that cannot be accommodated and will mean that some students will not have their pictures in their various sections.

LOUISE POUND IS MEMBER OF BIG MEMORIAL GROUP

Prof. Louise Pound of the department of English, who last spring was made a member of the advisory council of the Guggenheim Memorial foundation of New York city, recently received notice of her appointment to the committee of selection for 1930.

Her associates on the committee are Prof. L. B. Mendel of Yale university, Prof. E. B. Wilson of Harvard, and Prof. F. J. E. Woodbridge of Columbia. President Frank Aydellotte of Swarthmore is chairman of the committee.

"It's Taking That Chauffeur a Long Time to Change That Tire." It was a picture of a society lady waiting for her liquor drinking driver to change a "tariff" tire on a lonesome road during a dark night.

Numerous questions arose in the minds of students as they passed the bulletin board. Among them were: "What significance should such a picture have with the education of American youth?" "What will our posterity think when they learn that we have said things in public in such monstrous pictures?"

But a little thought on the part of the curious students made them realize the importance of speed in modern life, and that such cartoons were the most economical manner in which to portray universal news to the public. "Being a dry subject, must be to" in such a sensational manner.
