

FACULTY GROUP FAILS TO MOVE ON ABOLITION

Students Affairs Committee Tables Recommendation On Minor Offices.

APPROVES BARB CHANGE Accepts Constitutions of Concordia, Dental and Coed Societies.

Minor class officers of the four classes in the university will still be elected as usual, it was disclosed following a meeting of the faculty committee on student affairs Wednesday afternoon. This became evident when the committee tabled the recommendation offered by the Student council asking that these offices be eliminated.

The committee could see no reason why the offices should be eliminated, according to the report. The argument presented by the council was that neither the vice president nor the secretary and treasurer of any of the classes was serving any useful purpose.

Committee members intimated that they could find no great useful work that even the presidents or class should have the privilege also stated that each organization or class should have the privilege of electing a treasurer or any other offices that it deemed necessary or desirable.

Approves Barb Changes.

Approval of the changes in the constitution of the Barb council was submitted to the Student council was made by the faculty committee in another action Wednesday. The name of the Barb council was changed to Barb Executive board. Student council to conform the names of all such boards to a particular form. In this way the Barb Executive board will be issued with others as the Engineering Executive board and the Agricultural Executive board.

Two other changes were made in the constitution. Article II, Section V was made to read "This election shall be an open general election by Australian ballot." Section VI of the same article was appended with "All vacancies occurring in the Barb Executive board shall be filled by a majority vote of the membership two weeks following the date the membership has been declared vacant unless within one month of a regular election."

Constitutions of several organizations were accepted and the groups recognized in a final action of the faculty committee on student affairs. These were Concordia, a Lutheran group, of which Paul Gruber is president; Omicron Kappa Upsilon, honorary dental fraternity, of which Dean Grubb is president; and the Junior League of Women Voters.

COUNTRYMAN WILL COME OUT FRIDAY

First Edition by New Staff Is Being Printed; New Changes Made.

Printing of the first edition of the "Countryman" magazine, agricultural college publication, under its new staff will be completed Friday, according to Harold Marcott, '31, editor. Several changes in makeup have been made in the magazine, Marcott said.

ANNOUNCES AG CONTEST

As assistants to the editor the new staff has Donald Facka, '31, and Boyd Von Seggern, '32, managing editors. Emory Farley, '31, is business manager of the publication and Cyril Winkler, '31, is circulation manager.

Of interest to students is the announcement of a feature story writing contest in the February issue of the magazine. Three prizes of ten, three, and two dollars will be awarded to students submitting the most interesting, the best written, and the most timely stories. The story winning first prize will be published in the March issue of the Countryman. Only agriculturally college undergraduates may submit stories.

Perin Featured.

A story of the career of the late Senator W. Perin, who was superintendent of the university farm for forty years, heads the list of feature articles in the February number. The article is written by Harlan Bollman and is entitled "He Reared Ag College." A complete account is given of the development of the college during Perin's contact with it which lasted four decades.

"Judges Know Their Livestock" is the second feature represented in the magazine. It is written by Claude Roe, '30, and is a general discussion of judging teams.

An interview with Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the department of home economics, is given by Boyd Van Seggern, '32. Home Economics for Men" is the title and the story concerns a discussion in an unusual manner of the need of a course in homemaking for men. Miss Fedde has urged the institution of such a course for several years.

FILINGS ARE SLOW FOR STUDENT OFFICES

Tab Shows Little Progress In Registering for Positions.

Filings for offices to be filled at the second semester Tuesday, Feb. 18, are coming in slow at the student activities office, according to Ralph Raikes. Yesterday at five o'clock there were no filings for the class officers, six for Prom girl, and one for woman representative on the Student council from the college of agriculture.

Raikes would not divulge the names of the Prom girl applicants. The names must first be checked for eligibility at the dean of student affairs' office, he said. Rumors about the campus yesterday were that there would be several more filings late in the week.

Only senior women are eligible and the list of candidates will be narrowed down to six at the student election. Junior and senior students will vote for their four favorite candidates.

The candidates for the class presidencies will probably not file until Friday it was indicated yesterday. The factions have not completed nominations yet but it is probable that they will have full lists of candidates.

Freshman Commission To Be Y.W.C.A. Guests

All the groups of the freshman commission will be guests of the social staff of the Y. W. C. A. at a tea at Ellen Smith hall Thursday between 4 and 6 o'clock. A. Burnett. It was also announced that Bishop Frederick D. Leele, Methodist bishop of Omaha, has accepted an invitation to deliver the baccalaureate sermon on June 1.

Dr. Shorey holds sixteen degrees from European and American schools. He has received degrees from Harvard, Leipzig, Bonn, American School of Classical Studies, Munich, Iowa College, Missouri, John Hopkins, Michigan, Colorado, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Brown and Leige. He was admitted to the bar in Chicago in 1880 and has been professor of Greek since 1892. He is a member of a number of educational societies and a noted writer.

Authority on Plato. As a writer, Dr. Shorey has become prominent because of his numerous translations of Greek and he is accepted as authority on Plato. He has written a number of critical essays and was the editor of "Classical Philology" from 1908 to 1927.

Besides being a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, Phi Beta Kappa, and president of the American Philological society in 1910, Dr. Shorey has held professorships in Bryn Mawr from 1885 to 1892, John Hopkins in 1912, University of Berlin in 1913 and 1914, and his present position at Chicago since then.

Commencement exercises will be held in the University coliseum on Saturday morning, June 7, starting at 10:30 o'clock. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered in St. Paul church at 4 o'clock, June 1.

JUNIOR PALLADIANS WILL PRESENT PLAY

One Act Drama to Feature Friday Night Program Of Organization.

A one act play will be the special feature number of the Palladian program which will be given at Palladian hall, Temple building, on Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock by the junior members of the organization. Julia Harrison, Homer Deadman and Ralph Gemmel will have the leading parts of the play.

Other numbers on the evening's program are a group of skits and pantomimes which promise to be clever and original. Included in these acts will be a skit, "The Zoo Romance," a pantomime entitled "Sweethearts on Parade" and a skit by Eula Bee Martin and Annie Brackett.

Included in the musical program will be "The Guitar Chorus," composed of Bernice Nelson, Annie Brackett, Virginia Black and Julia Harrison. The "Song and Dance Chorus" will also present several selections.

As an invitation to all who may be interested in the work of the Palladian society, Miss Virginia Black, in charge of the program, issued the following statement: "The Palladian society is one of the oldest organizations on the campus. It wishes to prove its usefulness to the university. It is doing this by offering these Friday night programs which are open to the public. Everyone is invited—especially Palladian alumni members."

Directs Follies HELEN McCHESNEY.

Who is general chairman of the Coed Follies committee. The affair will take place Saturday Feb. 15.

UNUSUAL PROGRAM FOR COED FOLLIES

Sororities Plan Variety Of Skits for Friday Entertainment.

A.W.S. BOARD IN CHARGE

Grace Cathan will be featured in the song and dance skit by Alpha Phi, one of the acts to be presented at the Coed Follies, Saturday, February 15, at the Temple theater. The program, under the auspices of A. W. S., will consist of five acts, each of several minutes length, and two curtain skits.

The Women's Athletic association offers an act entitled "Jo's Triumph," featuring unusual types of choruses, according to Helen McChesney, general chairman of the Coed Follies committee.

The act presented by Gamma Phi Beta takes the form of a toy shop revue with tin soldiers, a hobby horse chorus, a parade of the blocks, and a jack-in-the-box announcer. Delta Delta Delta will give a curtain skit consisting of a reading and dancing.

As its offering for the program Phi Beta Phi will stage a pantomime of popular magazines, "College Melancholy," featuring original songs and dances, will be presented by members of Sigma Kappa.

"Her Final Sacrifice," a women's burlesque on the minute men of Lexington, will be the contribution of Phi Mu.

Members of the A. W. S. board have tickets for sale, or they may be purchased at the door the evening of the presentation for twenty-five cents.

CHORUS CANDIDATES MAY TRY OUT TODAY

More Than Eighty Students Make Application for Parts in Unit.

Try outs for male and female choruses of Kosmet Klub's "Soo Sister," to be produced as the club's annual spring show, will be held again Thursday night from 7:00 to 8:00 o'clock. They will be given in Wally Marrow's studio in the Eagle apartment house.

Try outs for the choruses were held Tuesday night and about eighty men and women took advantage of them. A large number was unable to be present then, however, and so the additional chance will be given tonight.

A big turn out was present for tryouts for principal parts of the show in the Temple building last night. Eleven main characters are to be filled. Nothing definite as to the personnel of the show will be announced for some time yet.

Male applicants for the chorus should be able to sing. This will be insisted on more strongly than dancing ability. Coed candidates however, should have considerable ability as dancers and will not be so strongly judged on vocalizing.

FACULTY SUBMITS RECOMMENDS FOR QUEEN'S ELECTION

Proposes May Honorary Be Decided by Vote of Upperclass Coeds.

NO SUFFRAGE FOR MEN

Two of Faculty Committee To Count Tallies of Candidates.

Deciding that the Student council shall have no representatives on the board which will count the votes for May Queen, the faculty committee on student affairs submitted its recommendation Wednesday.

The recommendation included the suggestion that at least two members of the faculty advisory committee of Mortar Board shall count the votes, and that both junior and senior women be allowed to vote for the queen. No men votes would be cast.

Members of the committee who signed the recommendation are Dean Amanda H. Heppner, Miss Bernice Elwell, and Miss Florence L. McGehee.

The report is as follows: "We recommend that the May Queen be chosen from the Senior class by the junior and senior women at an election conducted by Mortar Board not later than the first week in March. Each junior and senior girl shall vote for one girl only. The senior who receives the greatest number of votes shall be elected May Queen, and the candidate polling the second highest number of votes shall serve as her maid of honor."

These votes shall be counted by at least two members of the Faculty Advisory committee of Mortar Board, who shall convey the results of the election to Mortar Board."

UNIVERSITY GROUPS SPONSOR INSTITUTE

Christian World Educational Meetings to Be Held by Y. M., Y. W.

VISITORS WILL SPEAK

Christian World Educational institute, sponsored by the University Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., will be held Feb. 20 to 22, inclusive. Three visiting speakers will give talks both at the meeting and in some of the classes as yet undetermined. The three speakers are: Frank Wilson, Clark Eichelber and Miss Margaret Read.

Mr. Wilson is the National Student secretary among negro students. He was one of the six at the meeting of the World Student Christian association in India last year. Mr. Wilson is from New York. Mr. Eichelberger is the mid-western representative of the League of Nations. He is from Chicago.

Miss Read is a student of labor problems of England and India. She is visiting this country for a short time. Her home is in England. The speakers will visit Wesleyan and Cotner. A joint discussion led by these three will be held Saturday. The problem for discussion will be interracial problems.

Mr. Wilson will give a talk at the World Forum Friday noon. Vera Reser and Ray Hummel have charge of these meetings.

TIME LIMIT IS SET FOR MAJOR PARTIES

Coeds May Stay Out Until 12:30 if Functions Held on Campus.

The request made by the Student council last fall that the time limit on the three major formal parties be again extended to 12 o'clock had been passed as a permanent record on Jan. 16, 1929, it was revealed by Dean Amanda H. Heppner yesterday.

The council had requested such action the previous year and it was soon afterwards that the faculty committee on student organizations made it a permanent record. A provision is that these three parties be held on the Nebraska campus if subject to such alteration of rules.

Those parties referred to are the Military ball, Interfraternity ball, and Junior-Senior prom. If these parties are held on the campus they may be continued until 12 o'clock and coeds will have their time limit extended until 12:30 o'clock.

Y. M. AND Y. W. WILL HOLD JOINT MEETINGS SUNDAY

University Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will hold a joint devotional meeting Sunday at the Emanuel church at Fifteenth and U street. Claude Gordon, negro student from Jamaica, will speak at 8 o'clock. Sunday has been set aside as the day for discussion of international questions. Devotional meetings similar to this one will be held all over the world. The day has been universally appointed for prayer and such discussions.

FACULTY STAFF ATTENDS OMAHA SCHOOL MEETING

Six members of the Teachers college faculty and two other instructors of the university attended the meeting of the Nebraska School Masters' club at Omaha Tuesday. Besides the faculty men who attended the meeting, there was also present from Lincoln Attorney General C. A. Sorenson who addressed the meeting.

Those of the teachers college faculty who attended were Dr. O. H. Werner, Dr. E. F. Henshik, Dr. K. O. Broady, Dr. H. C. Koch, Dr. N. H. Morton, and Dr. A. R. Congdon. The other two faculty members were Prof. Roy E. Cochran, of the department of history, and Prof. G. O. Fuchs, of the department of ancient and modern languages.

BEAUX ARTS BALL INTRODUCES EXHIBIT

Fortieth Annual Art Display Opens in Morrill Hall Wednesday Night.

Amid colorful pageantry the fortieth annual art exhibit formally opened Wednesday evening at Morrill hall with the Beaux Arts ball. Approximately five hundred people thronged to the opening exhibition. Herbert Yenne, assistant professor of education and dramatic art at the university, was master of ceremonies.

The largest, and by far the best collection of pictures, were viewed for the first time by the public. Special features and lectures will be held throughout the exhibition. Students will be permitted to view the exhibit free of charge by special arrangement. An invitation has been issued from the office of the school of fine arts to all the university organizations to hold their meetings in Morrill hall. Speakers will be furnished by the school for the meetings.

Depict Art Periods. Living pictures depicting the underlying spirits of the four art periods formed the central interest of the ball. The episodes were given twice during the evening in the auditorium, while the dance was held in Elephant hall.

Orchestra, women's honorary dancing society of the university, presented the first number of the episodes representing the classic art period. A group of white figures against a blue background told the story of the judgment of Paris, in selecting the most beautiful of three goddesses, Juno, Minerva and Venus. The presentation was all the more effective for its simplicity of motion and costume.

Beatrice Richardson, dancing instructor was in charge of this number.

Baroque is Second Episode. The formal tone of the Baroque furnished the theme of the second episode against an elaborate rose background. The central figure was portrayed by Mrs. Fred Caldwell in an elaborate costume of gold and rose, assisted by Mrs. Fred Stiles and Mrs. J. E. Lawrence dressed as pages in white satin.

BLUEPRINT RATES HIGH IN MAGAZINE CLASS PLACEMENT

The December issue of the Nebraska Blueprint, according to the report received by John Clema, editor-in-chief, was placed in class "A," the highest rating that maybe obtained in the Engineering College Magazine association. To receive this rating an engineering magazine must fulfill all the rulings of the E. C. M. A. and must have a good cover, well-handled editorial material, and proper placing of advertisements.

Carnival Entries Must Be in by Tuesday Noon

Entries in the interfraternity events for the Cornhusker carnival must be made by Tuesday noon, according to Rudolph Vogler, director of interfraternity athletics.

Gwen Thirza Fay Appears Tonight For Last Time in 'Enter Madame'

BY MOSELLE KLEEMAN. The last performance of "Enter Madame" by the University Players will be given tonight at the Temple theater.

This delightful comedy by Gilda Varese and Dolly Byrne has occasioned much pleasure to those who have witnessed it during the past week. The action of the play involves the life of a famous prima donna, Madame Lisa Della Robbia, as played by Gwen Thirza Fay. She is a very temperamental individual who specializes in dramatic effects and emotional raptures to the disgust of her American husband, Gerald Fitzgerald, played by G. Walter Vogt. The latter is finally moved to the point of divorcing her, and marrying another woman, but at this crucial time the Madame returns home from some concert tour and re-vamps him all over again.

Both Miss Fay and Mrs. Vogt are excellent in their parts and they are particularly enjoyable in their little scenes together. Jere Mickle as the son, John, also adds much to the general merits of the play. He is the typical college boy as seen by his attitude of superiority.

Madame Lisa Della Robbia's entourage of servants is a source of great amusement to the audience. It is composed of Valerie Worrell as Bice, Madame's personal maid; Edwin Quinn as Archimede, Madame's Italian chef; Paul Thompson as the doctor; and Eleanor Foley as Miss Smith, the secretary. Bice and Archimede are typical Europeans with their general exuberance and spirit. Miss Smith proves to be the conventional old maid.

Other members of the cast are: Prudence Brown as Mrs. Flora Preston, the widow who tries to lure away the prima donna's husband; Gertrude Sullivan as Alice Chalmers, the girl the son, John, wishes to marry; and Paul Miller as Tomamoto, Mr. Fitzgerald's Japanese valet.

Single admission tickets may be had at Ross P. Curtice for seventy-five cents.

FELLMAN'S PLAN REPRESENTATION PASSES FACULTY

Committee Approves Idea of Proportional Seating In Council.

DECISION IS PROVISIONAL

New Form Will Be Tried at Spring Elections to Test Feasibility.

Approval of the proportional representation plan of seating members on the Student council was made by the faculty committee on student affairs Wednesday. The approval was made provisionally, however, the plan being placed on trial for the rest of this year.

The proportional representation plan was fathered by David Fellman, graduate member of the student council. Its purpose is to secure greater representation of all students in the university on the Student council. The plan provides for an additional representation to be placed by the council by each voting faction for every 123 votes that faction polls.

Plan Approved Provisionally. Not knowing whether the plan would be feasible or not, the committee to which the Student council submitted its proposal as drafted by Fellman approved the plan provisionally. By this is meant that the council shall try the plan at the spring elections, Annamidia H. Heppner said, in giving the report of the committee.

The proportional representation plan will go before students of the entire university at Tuesday's election for referendum vote.

Appears Good.

Nothing wrong or harmful could be seen in the plan, according to other committee members, and it appears to be for the good of the university as a whole, some intimated. The faculty committee will determine future procedure after the plan has been put to a test in April at the spring elections.

Conference was had with members of the political science department of the university to ascertain the legality of this new representation plan and to examine it for any possible loopholes. This was done by a subcommittee which gave a favorable report, the plan standing as originally presented by the Student council to the faculty committee.

The Student council first accepted the plan of proportional representation as drawn by Fellman on Jan. 22, 1930.

BARBS' PARTY WILL FEATURE VALENTINE

Red and White Predominate In Decorations for Friday Party.

Elaborate decorations of red and white in harmony with the spirit of the occasion will be used at the barb party Friday night at the coliseum, according to Alan Williams, chairman of the Barb committee. The walls, as well as the ceiling will be covered with decorations.

A master of ceremonies will be introduced as a new feature of the party. A stage show will climax the evening's entertainment. Because of the additional expense of the affair the price has been raised to thirty-five cents per person.

Signs advertising the party were distributed over the campus Wednesday and the large sign has been placed in front of the Administration building.

The cheerleaders who have been secured for the party are as follows: Dr. and Mrs. Steiger, Prof. and Mrs. H. O. Warner, Prof. L. B. Orfield, J. M. Yowell and Mrs. Van der Slice, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Powell.
