DEAN EXPLAINS ALTERED DATE FOR IVY AFFAIR

All Activities May Occur During Same Week, Says Thompson.

MORTAR BOARDS ASSENT

President of Innocents Last Year Approved Change Of Time.

Reasons for the change in date of Ivy day and the Alumni Round-up were given to The Nebraskan Thursday by T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs, and Ray Ramsay, alumni secretary.

Dean Thompson issued the following statement: "Ivy day and the Alumni Round-up, which have for several years been taken place on three days just previous to final examinations, have been given other places on the calendar this year. This, it is believed, makes possible a more desirable arrangement in that Honors convocation, Ivy day, Engineers and Pharmacy night, and Farmers Fair may be placed in a single week."

Dean Thompson stated further that the proposed change of Ivy day was thoroughly understood by Frederick Daly, president of the Innocents last year, and was approved by him. Although the Innocents were consulted last year, Dean Thompson considers that it is a matter for the Mortar Boards to decide, since this day was founded by and for them and all other ceremonies have been added since.

Is Improvement.

May day is the logical time for crowding a May queen with the attendant ceremonies, says Dean Thompson, who considers that the new date for this reason has a great advantage over the old. Both Dean Thompson and Mr. Ramsay think that the elimination of the three day break between classes and final examination is a great improvement from a scholastic point.

Mr. Ramsay believes that graduation is the high point in a student's life.

WOMEN VOTERS HEAR TALK BY DR. KNEIER

Professor Talks on County Problems at Ellen Smith Hall.

FAVORS LARGE COUNTIES

"County Government Problems" was the subject of a talk given by Dr. C. M. Kneier, associate professor of political science, to a group of the University League of Women Voters at 4 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall.

The county is merely a district divided by the state to carry out the activities of the state, according to him. Health administration, law enforcement, constructing and repairing highways, education administration, and charity are some of the county duties enumerated by Dr. Kneier.

"Is the county a proper size to carry out these activities?" It should be larger is the opinion of Dr. Kneier. One of the many good things about Governor Smith is that he wanted to abolish the seven-

SPOERRY DISCUSSES LEPROSY CONDITIONS

R. O. T. C. Captain Was Head of Wide Campaign To Fight Malady.

Addressing the Lincoln Knights of Pythias Wednesday evening, Capt. C. W. Sperry, R. O. T. C. department, described the conditions at Colton, leprosy colony of the Philippines. His illustrated talk stressed the inhumane and filthy condition of the Colton colony. Captain Sperry headed a program several years ago to raise several million dollars to fight the disease and improve colony conditions. The program is still under way and the goal of money needed is $400,000.

Captain Sperry emphasized the thought that all peoples of the world are likely victims of this disease. The leprosy germ varies forty years in the air, and it is very difficult to determine if one has the germ. This fact increases the peril of emigrants from countries where the disease is common.

The urge to fight leprosy was kindled in Captain Sperry's heart when his friend, during the time he was on duty in the Philippines, was pronounced a leprosy case and placed in the private time for this cause, and continuing the work. He will speak on "The Eradication of Leprosy" at the Vine Congregational church, Twenty-fifth and S, Sunday evening, March 16, and at the Mission to Leprosy, setting at Omaha, March 21 or 25. Both are open meetings.

This dance will be the second one sponsored by the fair board, proceeds of which will go to defray expenses of the annual college fair.

The Goldenrod Serenaders, a local orchestra, will furnish the music. Chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Prescott and H. P. Crawford.

Faye Williams Favors Dancing, Is Majoring in Dramatics and English, May Teach, Likes Playing Tennis

By Fred Grau.

Versatile, successful in everything that she undertakes, and as unassuming about it all as possible is Faye Williams, candidate for Prom girl of 1930. Dancing is the major interest of this blue-eyed, brown-haired miss who is in almost every activity on the campus.

Miss Williams is from Omaha and was graduated from Central high school, where her activities included a position on the staff of the high school annual, presidency of the gym club, and numerous parts in road shows, pageants and operas.

Since entering the University of Nebraska, Miss Williams has been head of Orchestra, secretary of the Student council, a member of Tassel girls' pep organization, a member of the Varsity party committee last year, a junior student attendant to the May Queen, a member of the cast for the Kosmet Klub show this year, and star in the current "University Players" production, "R. U. R." She has taken part in several of the children's theater plays.

Miss Williams was born on a farm near York, Neb., but Omaha has been her home since an early

HIGH STUDENTS ARE URGED ENROLL IN U

Teaching Soon Discourages Young Pupils, Says Normal Teacher.

Students in the teachers college high school who are taking normal training are urged to take some work in the university before they try to get positions in country schools according to Miss M. L. Heurmann, normal training instructor in the high school. The effectiveness of this consultation given by the department is shown by the fact that only one of the twelve graduates last year is teaching.

The reason, according to Miss Heurmann, that the high school students are discouraged is that they are immature mentally and physically and that they run up against severe difficulties in teaching in country schools. High school certificates are only third grade certificates.

Three in University.

Three of the graduates from the teachers college high school are now enrolled for regular work in the university. Two students received their certificates after completing additional work last summer, though at the present they are not teaching. Several are working at home and one girl is continuing on with university work. The department of the teachers college high school has grown since last year. The junior class is larger. Last year students came from out-state as far as Lexington but this year they come from the vicinity of Lincoln.

The major interest in the teachers college is a Reviews class in reading. This review reading is a view of reading for the interests of coming teachers and to help them better present the course of reading when they are teaching.

WAR GROUP ORDERS USE OF OLD RATING

Nebraska Cadets Have Won Blue Star Rank All But One Year.

Symbols of ranking of the R. O. T. C. units of universities and colleges of the 7th corps area, United States war department, have been ordered replaced by the war department after a lapse of a few years, according to Capt. R. G. Lehman, R. O. T. C. staff officer. The symbols were dropped several years ago although ranking continued. The universities and colleges are inspected and graded by standing army officers of the 7th corps area, the classifications being fair, good, very good and excellent.

A blue star, sewed just above the cuff on the right sleeve of all Nebraska R. O. T. C. cadets, signifies the Nebraska unit to be classed as "excellent." Nebraska has been classed as a blue star school every year of grading, excepting one year. This ranking signifies standing in the 7th corps area only, not the entire nation. Eight states comprise the 7th corps area: Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Nebraska's rank reflects upon the quality of the school's personnel by the fact that the rank has been kept for years with the lack of sufficient equipment as compared to some other schools.

The Nebraska unit is handicapped greatly by the lack of an armory. Drilling and marching in the winter are greatly impaired by present conditions, Capt. Lehman states.

PARTY WILL FEATURE JAPANESE LANTERNS

Favors, Decoration Carry Out Same Motif for Saturday Affair.

COLLEGIANS WILL PLAY

Japanese lanterns and favors imported from Japan will feature the All-University party at the Coliseum Saturday night. Attractive Japanese scenes have been planned with lighting effects supplied by the lanterns.

The idea for decorations, according to Alan Williams, came from a nonsorority girl who had no connection with the party committee. Her suggestion came as a result of the committee's asking for any suggestions from university students.

DeMoss, Kopeck Feature.

Special musical numbers will be presented at intervals during the evening by Lyle DeMoss and Mike Kopeck, "king of the ivories." Lincoln radio artists. Ben Gadd and his Collegians orchestra will play. Stage shows will be offered during the intermission and refreshments will be served.

Delphin Nash and Floyd Peterson are co-chairmen of the committee arranging the party. The chaperons will be Mr. D. H. Harkness, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Williams, Professor and Mrs. C. H. Oldfather, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Werkmeister, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Hinman and Dr. and Mrs. Dean R. Leland.

About 1200 are expected to attend the same number which attended the last affair.

TONIGHT'S PROM CLOSES 1929-30 FORMAL SEASON

Event Begins at 8:30 in Two Dance Rooms of Lincoln Hotel.

'PALM BEACH' IS MOTIF

Tickets May Be Bought at Door; Expect Over 300 Couples.

To close the 1929-1930 formal season of the university, the Junior-Senior prom will be given tonight at 8:30 at the Lincoln hotel. According to Katherine Williams and Don Carlson, chairmen of the prom committee, "everything is set for the biggest party of the year."

Two orchestras, the College Club of Omaha and the Collegians augmented to twelve pieces with Lyle DeMoss as entertainer, will play for the more than 500 couples who will attend. Ticket sales up to last night's check showed that approximately 250 tickets had been sold by the Corn Cobs, sponsoring the ticket campaign.

Tickets will be sold at the door until 11 p. m., according to Carlson, as plans have been made to accommodate 400 couples and he asserts that there will be plenty of room for the dancers. Decorations were hung last night in the "Palm Beach" scene under the supervision of Carl Hahn, and the finishing touches will be applied today.

A surprise for all who come to the prom is guaranteed by Carlson, who claims that the formal will become "most informal" about 11 p. m. The nature of the surprise is being withheld due to the fact that it is most unusual for university formal.

MARCH BLUE PRINT IS SENT TO PRESS

Engineers' Publication Has Articles on Science And Invention.

DESCRIBES PLANETARIUM

The March issue of the Nebraska Blue Print has now gone to the press and will be ready for distribution in the next few days, according to John M. Clema, editor-in-chief. This issue contains a number of feature articles and a large science and invention department.

"The Sawyer-Man Electric Lamp" by Willard Dann, mechanical engineering '30, is an article based on the December issue of the Scientific American 1878, in which Sawyer and Man are given the credit for making the first carbon lamp instead of Thomas Edison. The first lamp, according to the early article, was nitrogen filled.

Discuss Astronomy.

"Where the Universe Rotates About the Earth," by John M. Clema, electrical engineering '30, is an article describing the newest methods of studying astronomy. Many of the larger cities of the United States and Europe have installed planetariums.

These planetariums are large hemispherical domes in which are projected all the stars in their respective positions where they may be studied. The axis of the planetarium can be turned so it is possible to study the stars on the other side of the earth. It is possible to "adjust" the stars as they would appear at any point on the earth for any time.

In Arthur E. Cress's article on "Hydrogen the Successor to Air Cooling Electric Machines" the characteristics of a good cooling medium are pointed out. In order to be a good cooling agent for the electrical machines a gas must have a high thermal conductivity, a low density, a high specific heat, and must not be a superior of combustion. Hydrogen and helium are vastly superior to all other gases but hydrogen is much cheaper so it is preferable.

The second part of the "Geological Report on the Nigger Creek Field, Limestone county, Texas," by Leon J. Pepperberg, a Nebraska graduate who is now consulting geologist for the Columbia Engineering and Management Corporation of Columbus, O., is also given in this issue.

"The Engineers' Slip Stick" by Dean O. J. Ferguson is an interesting article on the history and development of the engineering slide rule. This article was written along the same line as the instruction taken up in the slide rule class conducted by Dean Ferguson.

Phi Beta Kappa Plans

Hear Dr. Norman Hill

Dr. Norman Hill will deliver a lecture on international sanctions, "The Problem of the Enforcement of International Obligations," before the members of Phi Beta Kappa, at a dinner to be held Tuesday, March 11, at 8 o'clock at the University club.

About ninety members and guests are expected to attend the dinner, which is the third of a yearly series. Reservations are now being received by Mr. Clifford M. Hicks, secretary.
