MAY ISSUE OF BLUE PRINT IS FINISHED

Engineers' Week Featured In Magazine; Complete Program Given.

KNIGHT WRITES ARTICLE

Engineers' Week issue of the Nebrasks Blue Print is out and will be distributed Monday morning, nessed the results of the work of according to John M. Clema, edstor-in-chief. The issue is largely devoted to Engineers' Week activities and the full program is given. "A History of Engineers' Week" and "A Fable of Engineers' Night' by John Clema and Bernard Robinson are included in the program. In the latter the author describes the spectator's feelings as he travels through the various displays and exhibitions on Engineers' Night.

Knight Writes Article.

"The Potash Industry of West-ern Nebraska," an article by Ed-ward M. Knight, electrical engineering '32, describes the industry as it was built up until it involved many millions, then disappeared overnight with the ending of the war. The huge plants that had furnished the country with potash during the war were forced to close down because they were un-able to compete with German prices. The necessity of the development of Nebraska potash so the United States will not be dependent on another country for an indispensible product is pointed out by Knight. C. R. Hanna, research engineer of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, gives a very interesting discussion of different types of sound recorded films in his article on "Recent De-velopments in Talking Movies." He also points out the value of the photo-electric cell in recent discoveries.

"Trends in Heat Transfer," by Dr. D. F. Othmer, chemical engineer, Eastman Kodak company, gives methods of transferring heat in bollers and power generation and gives some of the chemical means of eliminating boiler shale. He also describes the applications to heaters and condensers.

Wiltse Contributes.

"Dependable Communication from Ship to Shore" by H. G. Wiltse, electrical engineering '30, is an article giving the possibilities of the new telephone service between trans-Atlantic ships and the United States. This service is made possible by a series of telephone and radio relays. Dean's Corner by Dean O. J. Ferguson deals with "The Hazard Going to School." He gives statistics on the numbers that drop out of school for various reasons tells of some of the handicaps overcome by students. His figures show that less than 10 percent of the students who enter as freshmen graduate in four years.

A page will be devoted to the signatures of all the seniors in the college who are graduating. Marcott explained. A special sheet of paper has been drawn up and has been placed in the office of Dean W. W. Burr in Agricultural hall. All that is necessary for the seniors to do, Marcott continued, is that they stop at the office and sign their names some place on the paper with ink. The names are not being written in parallel lines or in any definite order. They are being written on places chosen at random. Some will be at acute angles, some will be inverted, while ome will run into or over others.

The idea, the editor added, is to present a very informal effect, as though all of the graduating students had autographed the magazine All seniors are being asked to sign their names to the sheet of paper by May 1, it was stated, in order that the copy may go to the engravers.

The lodge discussed ways of helping the man, and talked of nick benefits, emergency funds and like methods. Captain Spoerry rose and bluntly stated that "he was going down there." He or-ganized a little expedition, and secured four tickets from the Governor, Leonard Wood. At 5 o'clock in the morning, April 5, 1922, the little group left Manila on their errand. The expedition had collected many books and magazines (which they later found were uscless, since only eleven of the colony, the Americans, were able to read) a large assortment of toys, and many phonographs and records. Barbara Spoerry, the captain's daughter, now a junior at the University of Nebraska, had aided in collecting toys and equipment for the party. Resolutely refused permission to make the trip with her father, she went with the group to the docks, and slipped on board the ship without the captain's knowledge. He did not discover her until it was too late to turn back, so she accompanied him on the three day trip through the colony.

Doctors Scarce. Culion, an isolated little island of the Philippines, in the direction of Borneo, was the home of a colony of 5,600 lepers. The captain found only five doctors for the whole group, four Filipinos and one white man, Dr. H. W. Wade, who had arrived only two weeks earlier. The four native doctors, aided by six Catholic sisters, had been caring for all the cases. Later on, a Protestant missionary and his wife came to the island, and after the little expedition had reported the conditions it discovered, the staff was increased to sixteen Filipino doctors and two Ameri-
