

M'COY GETS POSITION AS SPORTS CARTOONIST

Former University Student Employed on New York World Staff.

Tom McCoy, former University of Nebraska student was Wednesday named sports cartoonist of the New York World.

McCoy, who attended Nebraska for two years was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. Before he left for New York two months ago to enroll in an art school, McCoy had been on the art staff of the Lincoln Journal.

University students know him for his work on the staff of the Aycwan and other campus publications, and especially for his sketches in "Tales of the Cornhuskers" for the Nebraska-Iowa State game Thanksgiving, 1929. McCoy was highly commended for his ability displayed in this issue. A cover sketch of George Farley, Husker captain, was syndicated in the sports section of 250 newspapers. The issue also contained drawing of Nebraska's athletic officials.

With a natural aptitude for drawing since his early youth, McCoy left Lincoln for New York two months ago to enroll in an art school. Soon afterwards came the offer from the New York World.

RHODESMEN WILL BATTLE CYCLONES ON LANDIS FIELD

Huskies Are To Make Final Attempt For Third Big 6 Place.

CANCEL TODAY'S GAME

State Law Prohibits Base Ball Engagements On Memorial Day.

In an attempt to clinch third place in final Big Six conference standings by winning two games, Nebraska's baseball team meets Iowa State on Landis field in a double header starting at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. One of the games, previously scheduled for Friday afternoon, was moved to Saturday because of a state law which prohibits the playing of baseball on Memorial day.

Fairchild is slated to get the call for mound duty in the first game. Coach Choppy Rhodes has not yet decided who will start at second. Ulstrom or Frankfurt will be on first and Grace or Kotab will occupy centerfield. The rest of the lineup will probably be the same as has been starting regularly throughout the season, according to Coach Rhodes.

Coach Menze of the Cyclones is shifting his lineup a bit in the hope of putting a more efficient machine on the field against the Huskers. Gustafson and Heitman are likely candidates for the pitching assignments in the games.

Several Cornhusker regulars will be doing their last turn for Nebraska. Clair Sloan, Dutch Wittie, Spike Williams and Harve Grace are rounding out their third year in intercollegiate competition. And there may be others who are also finishing, but the reporter was unable to reach any member of the squad by phone last night, and the Cornhusker did not list men who were playing their third year so the list is incomplete.

In a two game series played earlier in the season, the two teams split even, with Nebraska losing the first game 5 to 3 and winning the second, 12 to 8.

YOUNG MUSICIANS ARE GATHERING IN LINCOLN

surely wouldn't have left my school at the busiest time of the year if I weren't so convinced. Not only will generations of school children grow up to be familiar with this and that instrument, but they will provide future audiences with well developed appreciation."

The contest is being promoted by the Lincoln chamber of commerce in conjunction with the Lincoln public school. Members of the general committee in charge are: P. H. Bimson, assistant superintendent of the Lincoln schools; general chairman; general chairman from the Lincoln junior chamber of commerce, Ted Sick; publicity, Allen McIntosh; tickets, Lloyd Bean; hotels and transportation, Frank Watson; checking, Walter Ernst; and Dwight Bidell.

A M E S. Ia.—Richard Hawk, Kansas City, Mo., and Albert Heitman, Keystone, were elected co-captains of the 1931 Iowa State college basketball team at a meeting of lettermen of the 1930 squad Tuesday night.

The new leaders both will be juniors next year and each has played only one year on the Cyclone varsity. Heitman is a center and Hawk a guard. Eight of the nine men who won awards during the past year will be available for next year's quintet, Capt. Glen Woods, Irwin, being the only member lost.

BASEBALL men, in discussing the suggestion of Big Six officials that the diamond sport be discontinued, point enthusiastically to the drawing power of baseball as compared to that of track, which is of course, safely in the fold for years to come.

At Manhattan, where the Huskers played a two game series with the Kansas Aggies while the Big Six track and field championships were in progress in Lincoln, a crowd of 2,200 attended the first game while 2,800 turned out for the second. These figures are compared to the 2,000 which saw the track meet in Lincoln, and inferences are made therefrom. They seem to like their Big Six baseball in Kansas.

RUMORS have reached the office to the effect that Coach Schulte got a bit steamed up over our remarks about handshaking. He even took sufficient notice of them to go to the trouble of calling their author thickheaded, or fatheaded, or something to that effect. The team which he probably used was "fatheaded." It seems to be Mr. Schulte's favorite recently. However, we are fortunate and thankful if he didn't call us anything worse than just a plain fat-headed something or other. Usually, at the stadium, he is more emphatic.

MORE rumors, these to the effect that six men are to go to the national intercollegiate meet at Chicago, are also afloat. Although there is no official recognition of the hearsay, stadium gossip says that Cobe Tomson, Willis Lampson, Elmer Faytinger, Hugh Rhea, Steve Hookuf, and C. O. Thompson are to make the trip.
