HUSKER JUDGES TAKE FIRST AT LIVESTOCK SHOW

Junior Team Carries Away Top Honors at Denver, Saturday.

FRANKLIN IS HIGH MAN

Leads Nebraskans and Also Is Second in Individual Scoring.

Nebraska junior livestock judges carried off top honors at the Denver livestock show last Saturday, according to reports received at the college of agriculture. Ben Franklin, of Julesburg, Colo., high man on the Nebraska team, was second in the running for individual honors at the show.

Other members of the Nebraska squad are Jesse Bilyeu, Albin, Gerald Schick, Curtis, John McClean, Fremont; Henry Sexton, Eagle, and Lorenz Kay, Wayne. Ray Thalman, instructor in the department of animal husbandry, is coach.

Six teams competed in the Denver contests. Besides Nebraska, they were Colorado, Kansas, Utah, Missouri, and Wyoming.

Fifteenth Competition. This is the fifteenth consecutive time that Nebraska has competed in the annual Denver show. During that period, she came through with eight firsts, three second placings, three third positions and one fourth ranking.

Last year, the Nebraska team placed second in the western livestock show while the year previous to that netted a third position in the standing. For three consecutive years before that, in the years 1926-28, the Cornhusker judges returned with first winnings.

The team will probably return to Lincoln Wednesday, it was announced by the department. They will not stop for visits as they did on the trip to Denver when they did practice judging at Fort Collins.

TICKET SALE OPENS FOR CHARITY PARTY

Paul Whiteman Will Play For Mid-Winter Ball Friday, Jan. 30.

Tickets for the Mid-Winter ball, Friday, Jan. 30, which is being sponsored by the junior league will go on sale Tuesday morning at Long's College bookstore and Ben Simon and Sons, according to the members of the committee in charge. The price has been set at three dollars per couple. A limited number of tickets have been put on reserve for university students who are desirous of attending the coliseum affair.

Paul Whiteman, self styled "king of jazz" and his twenty-five piece recording orchestra, including the seven entertainers, will play the frolic, their first appearance in Nebraska since the concert played at the Burlington depot between trains two years ago, at which time they were members of the "Old Gold" special.

Spectator tickets will be sold for one dollar for those who do not care to attend the dance. Plans for a midnight supper to be served at the coliseum by the Lincoln hotel have been made by the junior league.

Sociology Graduate Makes Campus Visit

Margaret Diers, who graduated from the university in sociology in 1923, visited in Lincoln last week on her way to the drought stricken area of Arkansas where she will work under the direction of the national Red Cross. Miss Diers is serving in the disaster relief division of the Red Cross but for the past month has been working for the United Charities in Chicago where she received professional training for three years after graduating from the University of Nebraska.

Dr. L. B. Walker Heads National Fraternity

Dr. Leva B. Walker, associate professor of botany, was elected national president of Sigma Delta Epsilon, graduate women's scientific fraternity, at its annual meeting held in Cleveland, O., during the holidays in connection with the other scientific gatherings there. Membership in Sigma Delta Epsilon is based on research work and new contributions to science by women.

VISIT AG COLLEGE. Twenty-two high school students and instructors from Hallam, Neb., visited the home economics department at the agricultural college last Tuesday. Gladys Winegar, of the clothing and textile department, acted as escort for the visitors.

University Publishes Bulletin About 632 Home Economics Grads

"Who's Who and Where, Graduates in Home Economics," a bulletin which has just been published by the university, contains the names, addresses and occupations of the 632 graduates of the home economics department, as well as all those who have been on the staff of the department since its organization. In the case of married graduates the occupation of the husband, and if children, their name and ages are also given.

Already a number of letters expressing appreciation of the bulletin have been received by Prof. Margaret Fedde, chairman of the department. One graduate wrote that she was impressed with the large number who have stayed with home economics, either as homemakers or in professional home economics work. Another writes, "I certainly do enjoy finding out where all my classmates are and what they are doing; to see how many are homemakers and their youngsters listed." According to this bulletin, the first class to graduate in home economics, University of Washington, only two persons, Grace Denny, now assistant professor of home economics, university of Washington, Seattle; and Mabel Hedger (Mrs. A. G. McMaster) deceased. At that time the department offered few of the courses now given. Rosa Bouton, now an extension worker at Flagstaff, Ariz., was first head of the department, from 1898 to 1912. She was followed by Alice Loomis, who now holds a chair in the school of human relations at Yale university, and upon whose resignation in 1919 Prof. Margaret Fedde, present chairman, was appointed. On the faculty committee responsible for compiling the bulletin are Miss Mary Mason, chairman, Miss Matilda Peters, and Miss G. Carolyn Ruby. Miss Evelyn Metger designed the cover.

STATE TAXES FURNISH 54 PERCENT OF FUNDS

L. E. Gunderson Report to Legislature Shows Uni Income Source.

The financial report of the university which was presented to the state legislature last week by L. E. Gunderson, university finance secretary, shows the sources of income which the university derived for the biennium 1928-1929.

State funds obtained from taxation account for 54 percent of the university tax dollar. Cash funds derived from student fees and departmental receipts furnish 39 percent. The other 7 percent is secured from federal funds.

The total of state funds amounts to $2,045,033.11. Of this total $1,750,000 went into the university fund, $165,243.68 was devoted to the construction of buildings and purchase of land. Agricultural extension claimed $49,999.98, while $12,500 went to conservation and survey. The legislative reference bureau maintained by the university received $13,059.20. $3,000 was appropriated for the printing of the Blue book, register of state officials. The Curtis agricultural school received $50,000 which was expended for a new dormitory and equipment. $1,230.25 was spent for the construction of a sewer.

Cash Funds. Cash funds received by the university total $1,491,350.13. Department receipts contributed the largest of cash funds with $832,089.29. Income derived from student fees made up $607,987.24. $336.50 was obtained from the Jesse memorial fund, while the endowment income fund furnished $50,957.10.

Federal funds contributed $258,389.25. The six acts of congress and the amounts of each from which the federal funds are received follow: Morrill-Nelson (land grant) $50,000; Hatch, $15,000; Adams, $15,000; Purnell, $50,000; Smith-Lever, $108,389.25; Capper-Ketchum, $20,000.

The finance secretary's report also gave a chart showing how the university tax dollar is spent. Instructional expense claims 59.5 percent or $2,281,781.43. Agricultural experiment stations and extension received 15 percent which was $665,409.87. Special activities got 6 percent or $230,031.51. Capital additions got 19 percent which amounted to $391,238.37, while 9.5 percent went to commercial activities.

Salaries and Wages. According to another classification made by accountants, the report shows that $1,843,947.15 was spent for salaries and wages. Supplies cost $454,824.37. An item labeled expense received $540,801.96. Materials, parts and repairs for upkeep cost $119,037.80. $234,452.02 was spent for equipment.

Council President Moves Deadline Up For Applications

Due to the fact that there were few applicants for the Junior-Senior Prom committee, deadline for applications has been extended one day, Bob Kelly, president of the Student council announced Monday evening. The deadline originally was 5 p. m. Monday. Additional applications will be received at the student activities office in the coliseum until 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The Junior-Senior Prom committee will be selected by the Student council at its meeting Wednesday.

Lands and buildings derived $358,077.80. Fixed charges claimed $55,895.87. The revolving fund received $226,916.45 making a total of $3,833,752.47.

The report also shows the cost of maintaining the different buildings on the campus, and the expenditures for heat, light, and power. Included in the bulletin is a report by the registrar showing the number of students registered in the university, and in the different colleges and schools.

CHINESE UNIVERSITY SEEKS INSTRUCTORS

Lingnan College Sends Here Asking Moritz to Name Candidates.

In seeking new instructors for the next academic year, the Lingnan university at Canton, China, has asked the bureau of educational service at the University of Nebraska to nominate available candidates from applications it has on file, according to a letter received by R. D. Moritz, director.

Lingnan university was formerly the Canton Christian college and is recognized as one of the leading institutions of the Orient. It is un-denominational and is controlled by a Chinese and American board of directors.

It is seeking four instructors in English, one teacher in educational psychology, one in organic chemistry, two in biology, one physical director, and one thoroughly qualified stenographer office secretary.

To be eligible for appointment, candidates must hold a degree higher than bachelor arts or must have had successful teaching experience. A number of applicants will be interviewed shortly by Director Moritz. Others interested in a foreign position but not yet enrolled at the bureau may still do so, Mr. Moritz says.

Over $4,000 worth of glassware was received direct from Berlin for the chemistry department, in 1929.

BENNY MOTEN'S SIGNED TO PLAY FOR GREEK BALL

Victor Records Secured For Interfraternity Party.

TICKETS SELL FOR $2.50

Will Be Offered Last of Week; Affair to Be Held February 7.

Benny Moten's fourteen piece colored orchestra will play for the fifth annual interfraternity ball to be held at the Cornhusker hotel Feb. 7. Negotiations with Moten's band were completed late Sunday afternoon. The band is a well known Victor recording orchestra and Moten is known throughout the country as a composer of blues songs.

Tickets for the affair will go on sale the last of the week and will sell for $2.50 each. A limited number of tickets is being placed on sale and Marvin Von Seggern, chairman of the committee in charge of the ball, advises students to obtain tickets early.

New Decoration Idea. A new idea in decoration for the ball is being worked out by the committee and will be announced later. The orchestra is bringing a group of talented entertainers and plans for something new in the line of entertainment are being completed.

The interfraternity ball is not limited to fraternity men but all students at the University of Nebraska are invited to attend this midseason event.

Plans for increased facilities of checking are being made with the Cornhusker hotel in hopes that the customary fight for wraps after the party will be done away with.

GAMBLE STORES MAN WILL VISIT CAMPUS

Clarence T. Gibson of Minneapolis, Minn., representing the Gamble stores, is to be on the University campus Wednesday and Thursday for the purpose of interviewing seniors, Prof. W. T. Bullock announced yesterday.

Seniors are invited to meet Mr. Gibson. Interviews may be scheduled in Social Sciences 306.

Girls' Meet Cup Team Cup Arrives

Engraved cup presented by the National Livestock and Meat board to the home economics team winning the intercollegiate meat identification and judging contest at the American Royal Livestock show arrived at the home economics department last Thursday, Jan. 15. The cup was won by the Nebraska women's team at the American Royal in November.

One-Half of Students Register From Afar

More than half of the students registered in the University of Iowa during the year of 1929-30 transferred from other colleges and universities, it has been shown by a survey in the office of H. C. Dorcas, registrar.

The number exceeded 4,800 and the institutions from which the students came varied from Iowa colleges to great universities in all sections of the United States.

VISIT ENGINEERS.

Visitors at the college of engineering last week were J. W. Anderson, '25, of Grand Island, and L. H. Means of Schenectady, N. Y. Both were representing the General Electric company and interviewed electrical and mechanical engineering students relative to their employment after graduation.

Today Is Deadline On Yearbook Proofs

Today is the last opportunity for students to turn in proofs of photos for the junior and senior section of the Cornhusker. Photographers will be instructed to use their judgment in picking out pictures to be used by these sections in case student proofs are not returned by Jan. 21, it was announced Monday.

Mrs. E. L. Hinman will speak at Vespers, Tuesday, Jan. 20, at Ellen Smith hall at 5 o'clock. The subject of Mrs. Hinman's talk will be, "The Cause and Cure of War Conflicts." In this talk, Mrs. Hinman will tell what the women have done to bring about peace and what they should be doing. Marjorie Peterson, the chairman of the international staff of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet will lead the services.

MISS WALLACE TALKS TO RACIAL MEETING

Declares West Virginia Only Southern State Which Is Fair to Negro.

"Have we ever given our attitude toward the negro serious consideration?" "Do we ever reflect upon his feelings toward us?"

These were the questions put before an inter-racial group, recently by Miss Louise Wallace, negro conditions in West Virginia. "Perhaps," continued Miss Wallace. "The negro is as prejudiced toward us as we are toward him, and we should attempt to meet him on an equal basis."

"West Virginia," she said, "is the only state south of the Mason and Dixon line which plays fair with the negro. A national association for the advancement of this race was established in 1909 which helps to alleviate the intolerance that has been directed ever since the adoption of our national constitution."

Given Opportunity.

Through this agency, the negro has been given a fair opportunity in education, politics and labor. There has been no discrimination shown at the polls, and negroes have served on the jury and sat in the legislature. If racial prejudice is manifested toward the negro at the state university, a fund provides for his tuition at another school or special negro institution.

"When one considers," averred Miss Wallace, "the difficulties which members of this race must overcome, it is amazing how far they have already mounted the social ladder."

Miss Wallace gave a summary of Tess Slinger's story, "White on Black," which deals with racial prejudice, and a poem, "The Shadow of the Bridge," which attempts to show that there was no fundamental difference between the white and black races in their ambitions and emotions.

P. E. O. COEDS ARE GIVEN INVITATION TO FOUNDER'S DAY

University girls who are members of P. E. O. are invited to attend the Founder's day reception Saturday afternoon at the Lincoln hotel. The honor guest and speaker will be Mrs. Winona Evans Reeves, editor of the P. E. O. Record.

Tickets may be secured any time from Miss Berna Miskell at the desk in Ellen Smith hall or on Wednesday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock in Miller and Paine's rest room.

State officers, members of out state chapters, and all unaffiliated P. E. O. members are invited to be guests. More than 400 guests attended the luncheon last year.

NEBRASKA TAKES LEAD IN BIG SIX

Seldon Davey Scores Free Throw in Extra Period to Win Game; Victory Is Third Consecutive Conference One for Blackmen.

KANSAS LEADS AT HALF WITH 18-14 TALLY

Teams Tie Count, 28 All, at End of Second Half; Fisher Comes Through First in Overtime Session; Heads District Point Race.

LAWRENCE, Kas.—(Special to The Daily Nebraskan.)—Nebraska won its third consecutive conference victory here tonight and first place in Big Six standings when it defeated Kansas university, 31 to 30. A free toss by Seldon Davey; Husker forward, in an extra period won the game for the Cornhuskers.

At the end of the first half the game seemed to be all Kansas with the Jayhawkers in the lead 18-14. Coming back strong at the beginning of the second half, Coach Charley Black's team battled the Kansas team until the score was tied at 24-all with twelve minutes of play remaining. After the score had been tied the game progressed slowly for eight minutes with both teams barely missing set-up shots and long tosses rimming the hoop, but no one of the attempts dropping through the net.

Score Tied. After Kansas had taken a 28 to 26 lead, two fouls within a minute by O'Leary, Kansas forward, enabled Steve Hokuf and Don MacLay to toss free throws to tie the score just as the game ended. In the overtime period Fisher of Nebraska scored first, giving the Nebraskans a two point lead. Page then tied the score with a field goal but Bill Johnson's foul on Seldon Davey gave the Husker forward a chance to win the game by sinking his gift toss, which he did. After Davey had converted his attempt, Don MacLay got loose for another basket but Hale fouled him as he shot. The Nebraska center missed his free toss.

Nebraska was hitting in all departments while the Jayhawkers were passing well but could not seem to connect with the basket. The thirteen personal fouls assessed against the Jayhawk crew were quite expensive to them.

Morris Fisher and O'Leary of Kansas were tied for high scoring honors with twelve apiece. This places Fisher at the head of the Big Six scoring race with 36 points. Bishop of Kansas is his nearest rival with 29.

The match will be between twelve teams of five men each captained by a veteran Husker marksman. The teams were picked by lot and were planned to be as near equal as possible. Each man will fire ten shots in the following positions: prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing.

Will Go to Kemper. Awards will be made immediately after the match to the winning teams and the high individual shots. From the high men the university teams will be picked to take part in the various postal matches and shoulder-to-shoulder matches. The team will take several trips. The first planned trip is to Kemper military academy at Booneville, Mo., where both the advanced and basic course R. O. T. C. teams of four men will take part in the Missouri state rifle matches. Captain Lyon will accompany the squad as coach.

The range will be open this week for team practice. Sergeant McGimsey urges each team to get as much practice as possible this week in preparation for Saturday's match. Five new rifles are available for practice and have been outfitted with new sights. Team captains should arrange to practice with their teams this week. Any man who will be unable to fire in the match Saturday should notify Sergeant McGimsey.

CHICAGO MAN WOULD ELIMINATE GRADES

Elimination of grades, credits and other superficialities of the present system in effect at American colleges and universities was suggested by Prof. Frederick J. Kelly of the University of Chicago, at the National Student-Faculty conference held in Detroit recently.

NAMED NATIONAL OFFICIAL. At the meeting of the American Microscopical society at Cleveland during the holidays Dr. Elda R. Walker, associate professor of botany, was elected second vice president for the coming year. The American Microscopical society is a national organization of all scientists who make use of the microscope.

TALKS AT OMAHA. Prof. Paul F. Grummann, director of the school of fine arts, went to Omaha Friday to speak over radio station WOW concerning the two Wagnerian operas which the German Grand Opera company is presenting in Omaha next week.

Forty men were out for football practice daily in 1929.
