

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

Station A, Lincoln, Nebraska
 OFFICIAL STUDENT PUBLICATION
 UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA
 Published Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and
 Sunday mornings during the academic year.
 THIRTIETH YEAR
 Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice in Lincoln, Nebraska, under act of congress, March 3, 1879, and at special rate of postage provided for in section
 1105 act of October 3, 1917, authorized January 20, 1922.
 Under direction of the Student Publication Board

SUBSCRIPTION RATE
 Single Copy 5 cents $1.25 a semester
 Single Copy 5 cents $1.75 a semester mailed

Editorial Office—University Hall 4.
 Business Office—University Hall 4A.
 Telephone—Day: 8-8011; Night: 8-8822, 8-3333 (Journal)
 Ask for Nebraska editor.

EDITORIAL STAFF
 Elmer Waite Editor-in-chief
 Robert J. Kelly Associate Editor
 Managing Editors C. Arthur Mitchell
 William McGuffin News Editors
 Arthur Wolf Eugene McKim Sports Editor
 Evelyn Simpson Women's Editor
 Leonard Conklin Women's Editor
 Frances Molyako Women's Editor

BUSINESS STAFF
 Charles O. Lawler Business Manager
 Assistant Business Managers
 Norman Galleher Jack Thompson
 Edwin Faulkner

At that, postal employees must be given time to sit once in a while even if waiting students are late to class.

Note to The Doctor.

Thank you for your letter. After all, what differences could one find between men and women, without laying oneself open to the answer "Individual characteristics" and not "Sex differences?" In any event, we will gladly apply all titles we possibly can. In any event, too, we will admit freely that the women have our staff buffaloed. Its members have nothing to say.

Women students have problems of their own, too. For instance, the A. W. S. board has circulated a questionnaire. The results indicate a need for specific action regarding present rules for sororities and dormitories.

Whether any action will be taken or not depends upon the membership of the board for the new term. Wait until the objectors are in a position where they can do no harm, and go to it, girls!

We wonder, if we had a swimming pool, would it make us a floating university?

MORNING MAIL

"Swimming Pool, Huh?"

TO THE EDITOR:
 We are as anxious as you to see a swimming pool for Nebraska, and hope to be able to finance one within the next few years. I estimate the cost of building such a pool in the coliseum at from $35,000 to $40,000. To build a pool in a separate building, accessible to both men and women students (and this is what most persons seem to want) would cost from $150,000 to $200,000, or possibly more, depending upon the size of the building and its equipment.

Our rental income on the coliseum is amounting to approximately $4,000 per year, from all sources. This is being applied to help retire the bonds outstanding against the coliseum; the balance of the money required being taken from our athletic department funds. Our bond commitment requires all that can be taken from both sources.

The cost of operating the department, the cost of maintenance on the stadium, which has been very large this year ($10,000) plus the bond payments, has been fully as large a program as we could carry.

Great as is the need for a swimming pool, I feel the need for more land for tennis courts, intramural play grounds and athletic grounds is even greater. This land north of the coliseum should be cleared for university use, and when so cleared and developed will, I think, serve an even greater number of students than any other undertaking now open to our department for development.

More detailed statistics and data on our expenses and income will be given you as you desire. Our program, we firmly believe, is one that will act for the best interests of the student body.

Yours very truly,
 JOHN K. SELECK.

About These Women, Now—

TO THE EDITOR:
 I thank you for your admittedly "frivolous" answer to my query regarding the use of the term "weaker sex." However, it may not be irrelevant to call attention to the fact that your staff are assessing women, as they and men too should be assessed, with traits that are not sex characteristics, but individual traits of the members of the genus homo sapiens. Of which, I believe, we are all members.

In this connection, may I suggest that The Daily Nebraskan in its pages cease to "Miss" and "Mrs." the women on the faculty, and give them the titles which are theirs? Regardless of the relative significance of the titles, they are as worthwhile to the women as to the men.

Yours truly,
 THE DOCTOR.

College Comment

The Klan Goes to College.

Eight students at the University of Kansas have formed an organization to enforce the recently adopted anti-liquor resolution of the Kansas fraternities. The Daily Kansan was informed of the new organization as follows:

"To Whom It May Concern:
 "In reply to the so-called 'clearance resolution' passed by the men's Pan-Hellenic association and student councils, 'clearing' the drinking problem on this campus, we, a group of eight students, with the co-operation of an outside group, are taking it upon ourselves to see that these promises are fulfilled.

"Among the student body we hope to gather sufficient information to rid the campus of its student drinkers and bootleggers and see that your diplomatic 'blanks' are not idle threats. . . .
 —The Group of Eight."

It seems fairly evident just what "outside group" lies behind this society of noble vigilante. The Kansan calls them "white-caps."

The spirit of the Klan is by no means dead. Whether or not this group is definitely connected with that organization, it is clear it is in its spirit that the new student organization has been founded. Nor is the Klannish spirit without others to carry on its medieval banner. We have no lack of witch-burners. If the Klan has for the moment retired from active part in the contemporary campaign against freedom, it has its torchbearers among organizations somewhat more respectable at the moment. Consider the D. A. R. and its blacklist, the American Legion and its attempted exclusion of Dr. Einstein from the state of California, consider the Coal and Iron Police, the San Francisco chamber of commerce and its activities in the matter of Mooney and Billings.

Certainly this is no era of great advancement. We have got rid of the ducking stool, but there are plenty of equivalents. We advise the Daily Kansan to get busy on the local substitute.—Wisconsin Daily Cardinal.

GROUP FROM HOUSE MAKES CAMPUS TOUR

Education Committee Uses Thoro Study as Aid For Report.

The campus and buildings of the University of Nebraska was inspected yesterday afternoon by members of the House of Representatives' committee on education. With a view to formulating a report on the needs of the school in buildings and other equipment the eleven members of the committee made a thoro study of the housing conditions and equipment needs of the different colleges.

The committee was composed of Dan L. Ough, chairman, representative from Hitchcock and Dundy counties; John G. Bolla, Merrick county; L. C. Nuernberger, Dixon county; Ed A. Smith, Douglas county; Edward H. Hunt, Otoe county; O. J. Jelen, Douglas county; W. H. Myers, Red Willow county; and R. Emerson, Lexington county.

At the close of the tour of inspection the committee conferred with Chancellor E. A. Burnett for some time in regards to the needs of the university.

KANSAS GLEE CLUB ARRANGES CONCERTS

LAWRENCE, Kas.—The Women's Glee club of the University of Kansas leaves Monday, March 30, for a week's trip in southern and eastern Kansas. Concerts will be given at Wellington, Yates Center, Caldwell, Garnett, and other cities. Miss Agnes Husband, dean of women, and director of the club, will accompany the party. Mary Lou Eranbaugh as pianist, and Helen Stockwell, violinist, also will be on the program.

Lindsay Will Officiate

At K. U. Relay Carnival NORMAN, Okla.—Adrian H. Lindsey, the Sooner head football coach, has been invited to help officiate at the ninth annual Kansas relay carnival at Lawrence April 18.

He has mailed Dr. Forrest C. Allen his acceptance.

THE UNITARIAN CHURCH
 Twelfth and H Streets
 "The Church Without a Creed"
 Subject, March 29—"The Paradox of Life."

Burlington Reduces Spring Recess Rates

Reduced fares to all points in Nebraska during spring vacation were announced Tuesday by the Burlington railroad. The reduction will start April 17 and 18, with April 23 the final return date. Round trip tickets will be sold for one and one-third times the regular one way fare.

TUESDAY
 Baked Beans
 Pimento Cheese
 Toastette
 Any 5c Drink
 Also 5 Other Specials
RECTOR'S
 13th and P

Swimming Pool Funds.

The athletic department, by way of its keeper of the purse, answers our plea for a swimming pool in the Morning Mail column today. And in the best of humor, too. We are in favor of good humored answers. The spirit of the thing helps a lot.

It seems, according to the right honorable Mr. Selleck, that the athletic department needs all of its $4,000 a year rental income from the coliseum, together with the athletic gate surplus, to retire coliseum bonds and maintain the stadium.

There is the barest hint of a question in our minds about the advisability of spending money on a stadium and upon football equipment and trips, if the gate receipts at the stadium do not pay the total of such expenditures. However, they evidently also help pay for the coliseum, which is an undoubted benefit to athletically inclined students, for minor as well as major sports.

Thus it seems, that if a swimming pool is to be built, some other way must be devised. Rental of the coliseum, for regular year-around purposes, cannot be used. Athletic gate receipts cannot be used. Something else must be used, else it will be 1936 before a swimming pool can be constructed.

Now if a start could be made, the pool, if open to both men and women, would undoubtedly pay its own bond issue. For instance, a 50-cent fee could be charged for admission to the pool. Students, for the most part, would gladly pay such a sum for an occasional dip in a real pool, rather than the two-by-four "for men only" now in use.

How the start? Could special events be held in the coliseum, for the express purpose of building up a swimming pool fund? Could a carnival or two be held? Can Swimming Coach Vogeler suggest any special events, the gate receipts of which might start a pool fund? Can anyone?

The price, perhaps, would be rather high for a good pool. However, we can see no reason why the thing cannot be built in the coliseum, and still be open to both men and women students. Different entrances, dressing rooms, and all that. . .

If it could, $35,000 could do the trick. Is there some method of raising $15,000 for a starter? The balance, paid at $5,000 per year, would be retired in four years time. It is a decidedly worthwhile project, if it can be done. There seems to be no outstanding reason why it can't.

What say, Mr. Vogeler? Any ideas?

An Epic Poem.

Came the twilight, settling slow,
 O'er the campus, place so low
 That the buildings, set up since,
 The days of '70, are there still.
 Came the students, seeking rest
 Following the day of strife
 Came mid papers all ascrew.
 Came they to seek their twilight rum.
 Came the cops, agog, aghast.
 That the students should so act,
 Came the coppers, raided soon,
 The flat where students backed
 Against the walls, held up their hands,
 Said "Come In, we will give up.
 Take the stuff, we grant you it."
 Went the students, soulfully,
 To the village coop, wherein
 Crawled the bedbug and the louse.
 Went they, in lieu of better house.
 Came the faculty, seeking cause
 For all such actions, without pause.
 Said they, "Do you not know better,
 Than to yourselves enfeffer?"
 Said the students, sorrowing,
 "Know you not where Bobby B—
 Holds forth within the quarter mile.
 Dispenses brew to all who come,
 Gives it to the business men?"
 "Where the lowest lowly Ford
 Stands beside the shining Cad
 Belonging to the business lord.
 The man who turns the commerce wheel,
 The one who garners all the cash."
 "Where the tired business men
 Travel when they have a yen
 For something extra hot, and then
 Nothing comes to molest them?"
 "Why is it, O reverend sires,
 That beside the church's spires
 Stands the house of Bobby B—
 Where go all the business men?"
 "Yet the tired business men
 Who enter there, the cops ne'er note,
 Yet we, who study hard by day,
 Are taken in at twilight's note!
 Is it because they have a vote?"

This, following our new policy, we hereby now label "Frivolous." Thank you!
 —The Editor.

DO YOU SEE THE MAN?

Yes, I see the man! Well, that is Androcles—a great, etc., etc., grandson of Androcles, and he is clutching—gently but firmly—a naive lambykin, who likes to gambol—and a haughty lion who like to be ferocious.

WHY IS HE DOING IT?

It's really a long story—but for brevity's sake—the lion and the lamb typifying to a degree (A. B. or B. S.) the changeable and very treacherous weather of dear old Nebraska—during the month of March (you know—"In like a lion—out like a lamp!").

WHY IS HE SO NONCHALANT?

The answer is most simple—yes, indeed—he is having a gay time—because he's wearing a very swanky new topcoat that protects him from the elements—at all times—warm when it's chilly—dry when it showers—comfortable when it's balmy!

WE'RE FEATURING A FINE ASSORTMENT OF JUST SUCH

SPRING TOPCOATS

in Tweed, Camel Hair, llama, tailored by Hart Schaffner and Marx in smart Box Coats, Belted Backs and Raglan Models.

$19.75 $25 $35

Ben Simon & Sons