APRIL EDITION OF AWGWAN GOES ON STAND TOMORROW

Backus Announces Selling Of Magazine Begins At 8 O'clock.

S. WENKE DRAWS COVER

'Campus Beautiful' Number Is To Have Two-Page Map of Campus.

Circulation of the third issue of this year's Awgwan, the Campus Beautiful number, will begin Monday morning at 8 o'clock, Edgar Backus, business manager announced yesterday. The magazine will be sold at the book stores and booths in several buildings on the campus. Sigma Delta Chi, the organization publishing the Awgwan, is in charge of circulation.

Signed Articles Written.

Among the other artists who have contributed cartoons this month are Felix Summers and Morris Gordon. Three signed articles were written by Bill McCleery, Gene Robb and Fred Oetgen. McCleery's article is on the need for a student union building. Robb contributes a criticism of Greek Architecture as it appears on the Nebraska campus in fraternity homes and Fred Oetgen tells about the aesthetic features of the drill field.

The Awgwan photographer, William Moore, contributes several snapshots to the Campus Beautiful issue. Several new contributors break into print on the poetry page. The April issue also contains the usual number of short jokes and editorials.

Price Remains Same.

The individual sales price for the Awgwan remains the same as for previous issue, 15 cents. Additional copies of the April issue have been printed according to Edgar Backus because of the large sale of the first two issues. Approximately 2,100 copies of the March issue were sold within two days of the release, this number being more than twice the sale of any Awgwan in previous years.

Henry R. Luce, Editor of Time and Fortune, to Visit Lincoln Tuesday; Formerly Was College Journalist

Henry R. Luce, editor of Time and Fortune magazines who began his journalistic career as editor of the Yale Daily News, oldest college daily, will visit Lincoln Tuesday with Kirk Fox, editor of Successful Farming, as the guest of Frank Wilson, Lincoln attorney. Mr. Luce and Mr. Wilson were classmates at Yale and served in the army together.

While at Yale Mr. Luce was assigned editor of the famous O. C. D. at the same time Britton Hadden, later his partner in publishing Time, was business manager. After graduation Luce and Hadden went to Washington as correspondents for the Baltimore Sun. Later they served on the editorial staff of the late New York World.

Develop Idea. While in New York the two young journalists heard of a wealthy New Yorker who had a private newspaper containing a digest of current news prepared for

MISS STANLEY WILL TALK

Visitor Tours Country on Behalf of Hard of Hearing.

Brought to the University of Nebraska by the extension division to form a local unit of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing, Miss Harriet Stanley of Wichita, Kas., will speak in Social Sciences auditorium at 3:30 and at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday.

She will give demonstrations of a special audiophone arrangement which enables people hard of hearing to enjoy programs of music or speaking in auditoriums. The audiophone will be hooked up for Miss Stanley's two lectures so that persons who do not hear well can follow the program.

Miss Stanley is the daughter of the late W. E. Stanley, one time governor of Kansas and is president of the Wichita League for the hard of hearing.

ENGINEERS PLAN INSPECTION TOUR OF OMAHA FIRMS

Advanced Students' Faculty Leave Thursday for All Day Trip.

On invitation of the Nebraska section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in Omaha, sixty-two University of Nebraska engineering students and at least twelve faculty members will go to Omaha Thursday for an all day inspection trip and a banquet program in the evening.

Thirty-two advanced students in electrical engineering and thirty advanced students in mechanical engineering will make the trip. Ten engineering students from South Dakota university also will be guests of the Omaha engineers.

Thursday morning, after an early trip to Omaha by motor, the engineering students will inspect the Nebraska Power Company plant. Following lunch they will have their choice of seeing the air conditioning plant at the Orpheum theater, the oFrd assembly plant, the new union station, the Omaha Steel works, the Florence pumping station, the WOW broadcasting station, and the Northwestern Bell Telephone company building.

Short Talks Arranged.

At the complimentary dinner to be served the students in the evening at the University club by the Omaha engineers, short talks will be given by Dr. E. B. Brackley, of the University of South Dakota, Dean O. J. Ferguson of the University of Nebraska and Dean H. S. Evans.

Rensch Will Speak.

R. O. Rensch, senior mechanics engineering student, will talk on "Human Nature in Engineering." J. H. Adair, R. F. Ferguson, S. M. Gels, P. T. Jorgenson and C. W. Scholz, all Nebraska students, will furnish vocal music. A. H. Munro will give a bagpipe number. W. E. Stewart of Eagle and S. M. Gels of St. Joseph, Mo., (Continued on Page 4.)

MANHATTAN PASTOR TO TALK AT DINNER

Reverend Arnold Will Meet Students at Annual Church Affair.

The Rev. J. David Arnold, pastor of the First Christian church, Manhattan, Kas., will come to the Nebraska campus Friday to speak before the annual dinner of all Christian church students in the university. Rev. Arnold has long been connected with work among the students of K. S. A. C. and out of his experience will bring a message of general interest to all Nebraska students it was stated. The dinner is being sponsored by the Nebraska Christian foundation of which Dr. B. C. Hendricks is president. It will be held in the dining rooms of the First Christian church sixteenth and K streets, Friday evening at 6 o'clock. Tickets for the dinner are being sold for twenty-five cents and may be obtained. (Continued on Page 4.)

MISS SHRAMEK TAKES LEAD IN PLAYERS SHOW

Feminine Part of 'Bird in Hand' Portrays Role of Modern Girl.

LERNER IS INN-KEEPER

Takes Part of Tempered And Old Fashioned Englishman.

Playing the role of an ultramodern daughter of a sedate English inn keeper, Delellis Shramek assumes the leading feminine part in "Bird in Hand," final University Players production of this season. Written by the famous John Drinkwater, this new comedy will climax one of the Players' most successful seasons.

W. Zolney Lerner, one of the Players most popular actors, has been chosen to play the part of Thomas Greenleaf, the inn keeper. His wild temper and old fashioned ideas cause a serious bit of friction in the Greenleaf household.

Gerald Arnowood, the son of Sir Robert Arnowood, whose love for the inn keeper's daughter brings nothing but grief to Mr. Greenleaf, is played by Elbridge Brubaker. Mrs. Greenleaf is portrayed by Dorsel Jaekle.

Trio Is Made.

A trio of unusual and entertaining guests at the "Bird in Hand" is made up of William F. Thompson, Leland Bennett and Herbert Yenne. Mr. Thompson, as the lively sardine salesman with established social ideas, made a hit with University Players patrons in "Journey's End" and "Fashion." Leland Bennett has been cast in numerous productions, including the recent "Ladies of the Judy" and "Fashion." Herbert Yenne, a member of the dramatic (Continued on Page 4.)

BLUE PRINT GETS 'A' RATING THIRD TIME

March Issue of Engineers Magazine Receives High Honor.

GAINS IN PROMINENCE

The Nebraska Blue Print, monthly publication of the college of engineering of the University of Nebraska, received an "A" rating on its March issue, according to word received here. This is the third consecutive time the publication has been accorded this distinction.

The rating was given by the Engineering College Magazine association, which was formed to standardize such publications. The Blue Print has gained considerable prominence in its field thru its consistent high rating.

William K. Fowler jr. and G. M. Williams, both graduates of the University of Nebraska, are regular subscribers to the magazine. Mr. Fowler is located in Tokyo, Japan, and Mr. Williams at Skatcon, Saskatchewan. A copy is sent to Moscow, Russia.

Roundup Is Feature.

This issue of the Blue Print was devoted to the Engineers Roundup. In an article entitled "Pioneer Highways and City Pavements," dedicated to the pioneer engineers of Nebraska, was written by Guy P. Dorsey, deputy county engineer Douglas county, Neb. In his article Mr. Dorsey describes the engineering projects of the early west. The author vividly describes the early routes and methods used in freighting and passenger travel. Mr. Dorsey's article, which is to be continued in next month's issue, traces the development of travel to the establishment of the Union Pacific railroad.

In another feature article A. W. Andrews, office engineer in the engineering department, tells about "Federal Land Grants as a Basis for the Development of Nebraska." Mr. Andrews states that these grants are of great aid to the educational advancement of the state.

Among other stories are "Outline History of Irrigation in Nebraska," by R. H. Willis, department of public works, Bridgeport, Neb.; "Pioneer Railroad Construction in Nebraska," written by F. T. Darrow, chief engineer, C. B. and Q. railroad, Lincoln, Neb.; and "The Beet Sugar Industry of Nebraska," by A. J. Denman, manager of the American Beet Sugar company, Grand Island, Neb.

Some of the regular features included, The Deans Corner, written by Dean O. J. Ferguson and "With the Alumni" a page devoted to mention of alumni of the college who are doing special work.

Special Student Council Meeting Called by Kelly

There will be a special meeting of the Student Council Wednesday, April 8, Robert Kelly, president of the council, announced yesterday.

The purpose of the meeting is to consider plans for an all-university student-faculty party to be held Friday evening, May 1. Kelly urged that all members of the council make plans to attend this meeting.

Racketeer Act Is Costly to Former Husker Grid Man

Racketeers and gangsters common to Chicago, but seldom met or seen by most people, were the main actors in a slugging scene in which Don K. Phillips a former student in the University of Nebraska and now attending Northwestern university was the victim.

He was slugged and robbed by two unmasked bandits in Chicago late Monday night. Phillips had taken his car to a town garage and was on his way home when he was attacked by two men who struck him on the head and robbed him of $27 in cash and several articles of jewelry. He was dazed by the blow, but was not knocked unconscious.

Don Phillips is the son of Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Phillips of David City, and attended the University of Nebraska for two years where he was on the football squad. He was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

'LET'S NOT FOOL PEOPLE' BEHRENS TELLS SENATORS

Beemer Legislator Argues Against Bill for Dormitories.

"Let's not try to fool the people," begged Farmer-Senator Henry Behrens of Beemer as he alternated with Senator William H. Pitzer of Nebraska City in waging a healthy battle against the proposal to build university dormitories by investing state school funds in dormitory bonds in senate committee of the whole Friday afternoon.

"Not a banker here would recommend investment of his customer's funds in dormitory bonds such as are proposed by this bill," declared Pitzer, backing up Behrens, as H. R. 239 introduced by Representative Myrtle Musser, Rushville homekeeper, hit a determined opposition in the upper house.

When the discussion got hot Pitzer moved for indefinite postponement. Senator Charles Warner of Waverly asked for more time. His request was granted and the committee dropped the matter, taking no other action than to report progress.

Bowring Joins Warner.

Bowring of Merriman joined Warner in support of the bill, arguing that the bill would do nothing more than add another eligible security to the list in which the $14,000,000 state school may be invested. Investment in dormitory bonds would in no way reduce the support coming from the permanent school fund for support of schools as interest would be paid on the state loan, he held.

Pitzer in attacking the bill said that the bonds in which the bill proposes to invest state funds are neither normal school bonds nor university bonds, but bonds of a private corporation which has a leasehold on the public land and that payment is dependent upon rentals from rooms. He maintained that the fact that dormitories that backing up Behrens, as well as an unusually high rate of interest is sufficient indication that they are not a sound investment.

Warner, on the other hand, contended that the property of the state would be secured and the regents would pay. He said he didn't believe there was any danger of the state going bankrupt, but was willing to lay aside the bill until he could look into the matter.

Behrens Sums History.

Behrens summed up the history of attempted raids by the legislature on the state school fund and said that the supreme court had twice stopped such attempts. He compared the proposal to buy dormitory bonds with the state's purchase of the Union Pacific railroad. (Continued on Page 4.)

COL. OURY OUTLINES BATTALION PARADES

Military Head Announces Three Appearances For Week.

Three R. O. T. C. battalion parades for this week were announced yesterday by Col. W. H. Oury, regimental commandant. First battalion will parade at 4:30 Tuesday; Second battalion at 10 o'clock Thursday, and Third battalion at 4:30 Friday.

All R. O. T. C. students who drill at times other than the above should attend if not engaged in other classes. They will be given credit for attendance," read the colonel's order.

The following schedule was outlined for attendance of students not drilling at the set parade times: Members of Company D should report to the first battalion at 4:25 Tuesday, April 7. Members of Company H should report to the (Continued on Page 4.)

PHI BETA KAPPA SECRETARY WILL READ SELECTIONS

Clifford Hicks to Announce Names at Tuesday Convocation.

52 PICKED LAST YEAR

Highest Average of 93.96 Made by Moselle Kleeman.

Announcement of University of Nebraska students elected to membership of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, will be made at a university convocation Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the Temple theater. Clifford Hicks, secretary of Phi Beta Kappa, will read the names of the newly elected members at the close of Miss Nellie Fagan's junior recital.

Each year from one-tenth to one-sixth of the graduating class is honored by election into Phi Beta Kappa. Last year fifty-two students were chosen. The highest average of 93.96 percent was made by Miss Moselle Kleeman. The lowest was 88.54 percent.

All Grades Considered.

Election is based on the following qualifications: The student must be a member of the June graduating class, or of the preceding midyear or summer school graduating classes, and have fulfilled requirements of the college of arts and sciences. Election is determined on all grades made at the University of Nebraska, exclusive of typewriting and required physical or military training.

Prospective members must have had at least sixty-four credit hours, exclusive of subjects registered above, in the office of the (Continued on Page 4.)

SCHOLARSHIP FILINGS MUST BE IN MONDAY

Final Application Date Is Given From Office of Chancellor.

NINE AWARDS OFFERED

Monday afternoon will be the final date on which University of Nebraska students can make application for nine scholarships of $100 each, it was announced Saturday from the office of the chancellor.

These general university scholarships are given annually to students who show, thru the work and obstacles they have surmounted, the preceding semester, that they are worthy of consideration. The candidates for the scholarship must have also demonstrated high scholarship, industry and perseverance, as well as a reasonable promise for the future.

The winners of these scholarships, whose names will be announced this spring, is expected to have shown a desire for an education by making genuine sacrifice for it. According to the wishes of the donors, no student who is financially able to pay his way thru the University will be considered by the judges.

Banker Gives Funds.

The first of these scholarships is given each year by a prominent Nebraska banker.

The Jefferson H. Broady scholarship, given by Mr. and Mrs. John D. Clark of Guilford, Md., is offered in memory of the late Judge Jefferson H. Broady, formerly a member of the University of Nebraska faculty and prominent Nebraska lawyer.

The philosophy scholarship is given by a friend of the university in Chicago. Applicants for this award should confer with the department of philosophy.

Mr. W. H. Sawyer, class of 1894, of New York city has established the W. H. Sawyer scholarship fund for engineers. Applicants for this scholarship, which is limited to upper class engineers, preferably electrical engineers, should confer with the dean of the college of engineering.

The Henry C. Bostwick scholarship, in which three awards of $100 each are available, was named in honor of the late Henry C. Bostwick, prominent banker of Omaha.

True Found Scholarship. The Edward Lang True memorial scholarship of $100 was founded by Charles H. True, class of 1898, East Chicago, Ind., in (Continued on Page 4.)

Friday Is Deadline Of Applications to Publication Board

Applications will be received until 5 p. m. Friday, April 10, at the Student Activities office for membership on the student publication board. One senior member will be elected to fill the vacancy left by the withdrawal of Cyril Winkler.

Applicants must be eligible according to university requirements. The new member of the board will be elected by the student council at its next meeting, according to Robert Kelly, president.

STUDENTS PLAN REGITALS

Misses Ellermeier, Fagan and Winegar Prepare Programs.

Three University of Nebraska students will present musical regals at the Temple theater within the next fortnight. Miss Dorothy Ellermeier, violin student with Carl Frederic Steckelberg, will play her senior recital at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. She will be accompanied by Miss Ardeth Pierce.

Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock Miss Nellie Fagan, student with Herbert Schmidt, will give her junior recital in piano. The following Tuesday at the same hour Miss Sybil Winegar will present her junior recital in voice. She is soprano student with Alma Wagner.

KOSMET SELECTS NINE PIECE BAND FOR SPRING TOUR

Joe Alter Names Members Who Are to Accompany On Road Trip.

A nine piece orchestra to be taken with "High and Dry," Kosmet Klub spring musical comedy, on the road trip, during spring recess was announced yesterday by Joe Alter who is in charge of music for the show.

The orchestra lineup is as follows: Harold Turner, piano; Norman Hoff, drums; William McGaffin, Sol Swislowsky, and Jack Hutchings, saxophones; Lowell Heaney, trombone; Paul Hummel, violin; John Schildneck and Don McMaster, trumpets. A bass horn player will be announced later. This band is a mixed band of union and non-union men and is made possible by co-operation of the Lincoln Musicians association.

Music Is Complete.

Music for the show is practically completed. Alter said. Times have been written by Harold Turner, Eddie Baker, Frankie Sherman, Wade Abbott, Gilbert Schweser and Lyman Johnson.

Hastings is the only booking made as yet for the trip. The comedy will be shown at the city auditorium there Monday, April 20 as the first stop of the trip. Arrangements are now under way, according to Stanley Day, business manager of the club, for three additional bookings. The show will be produced in Lincoln May 1 and 2 at the Liberty theater after its return from the road trip.

The pony chorus of ten male steppers has been rehearsing for several weeks with Wally Marrow, Lincoln dancing instructor and Cornhusker football player. Among the several steps developed is the sailor's hornpipe and others appropriate for a tale of the sea.

Miller Directs.

Lowell "Jiggs" Miller, graduate of the university and alumnus member of the Kosmet Klub, is directing the show. Miller directed "The Match Makers" and "Don't be Silly," former Kosmet Klub productions, and worked on several other of the Klub's successful shows.

NEBRASKA GRADUATES ATTEND CONVENTION

42 Former Geology Students Visit San Antonio Meeting.

Forty-two former University of Nebraska students in geology attended the national convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists at San Antonio, Tex., last week, according to Prof. E. F. Schramm who was present at the meeting and who spoke before a University of Nebraska alumnal banquet.

Other Nebraskans who spoke at the alumni gathering were Leonard G. Pepperberg, Elfred Beck and F. K. Foster. In addition to the forty-two former geology students, wives of fourteen attended the meeting. The complete list of Nebraskans who were at the convention of geologists, together with (Continued on Page 4.)

Prof. C. R. Ruckmick Will Speak On the 'Psychology of Emotional Expression' at 7:30 Tuesday Night

What facial expressions indicate about emotion will be discussed and analyzed at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening in social sciences auditorium at the university when Prof. Christian A. Ruckmick, professor of psychology at the University of Iowa, addresses a public meeting under the auspices of the local chapter of Psi Chi, national psychological society.

"The Psychology of Emotional Expression" is the subject on which Professor Ruckmick will speak. His Lincoln address will be the first of a series he will give at western universities while enroute to the Pacific coast where he will engage in psychological research work.

Traces Emotional Behavior. In his lecture Professor Ruckmick will trace the emotional behavior of lower animals, children, and human adults as shown in the face. He has studied the expressions of emotions on the basis of thirty-five portraits which illustrate which portion of the face is most expressive, the gradual progression of emotions as people grow older, and the class correlation of facial expressions and emotions.

Dr. Ruckmick, who received his education at Amherst, New York, university, and Cornell and who has taught at Illinois, Wellesley and Iowa, believes that a widespread movement to release inhibitions in emotional expressions would do much to reduce complications arising from a confined emotional complex.

CHURCHES WILL OBSERVE EASTER SERVICES TODAY

Especially Planned Rites And Fitting Sermons Are Arranged.

GROUPS ASK STUDENTS

Attendance at Programs Is Urged by Pastors of Organizations.

Easter will be observed in the various Lincoln churches today with musical programs, especially planned religious rites and fitting sermons. Many churches have arranged for sunrise gatherings, Easter pageants and in most of the churches choirs and soloists have been preparing for one of the most beautiful musicale services to be heard in Lincoln this year. Pastors of the churches have especially urged university students to attend.
