plunges, long passes and hard fall that he has at present. tackling and blocking were all massed into one hour's play as the Reds concluded the spring practice season with a thrilling 14-6 victory over the Blues in the stadium Saturday afternoon.

A strong south wind caused both teams considerable trouble during the first three quarters, forcing them to stick close to line plunges. In the fourth quarter, however, the

In the fourth quarter, however, the wind died down, allowing the teams to change to a more open style of play.

The Reds were the first to score, Herman Witt, guard, intercepting Norwood's short pass and running 60 yards for the touchdown. Kreizinger (placekick), Miller (Plunge).

Substitutes: Freshmen—Wolcott for Rill-hourne, Uptegrove, Clark for O'Brien, Schultz for DeBus, Armstrong for Schmitt, Norwood for Bauer, LaBounty for Boswell, Cole for Wolcott. Varsity-for Boswell, Cole a yard at center, and then punted out of bounds on the 12 yard line. After two tries at the line, Kreizinger slid off tackle and carried the ball to the Blue three yard line. He took it over to the next Kreizinger faked a place and Miller slid off right guard for the extra point, conclud-ing the scoring of the Reds for the afternoon.

Blues Threaten.

The last half of the quarter be-ionged to the Blues. Their first scoring threat came when Masterson took a pass from Bauer and carried the ball 49 yards through most of the 1930 Red team, finally being tackled from behind on the 22 yard line. The Blue threat was stopped here by the work of the Red line. Shortly afterwards, Sauer intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards to the Red 25 yard line. A pass to Schmitt was declared complete on the Red one yard line when the re-ceiver was interfered with. Masterson drove over the pile for the touchdown, but his kick for the extra point was wide. This ended the afternoon's scoring, the score standing 14-6 in favor of the Reds.

Penney, Kreizinger were the stars for the Reds. Penney was all over the field of scrimmage. He was mainly responsible for the Blues being forced to take to the air in their attempts to score. Kreizinger got off several long punts, and carried the ball for several long gains. Miller showed up well on line plunges, getting off to a fast start and hitting his holes well.

Red Line Powerful.

The Red line showed real power n the game, stopping most of the I lues offense before it had chance to get under way. Koster and Justice were the main reasons for this strength.

Masterson, Bauer and the three freshmen from Lincoln high and stars of this year's freshmen team, were the bright freshmen team, were the spots in the Blue offense. Sauer gave the Blues a decided advantage with his long punts, getting off several against the strong wind for long distances, Bauer hits the line hard on his plunges, and if given openings is always good for several yards, Masterson is a sure pass receiver, seldom missing anything that comes within his reach. His pass defense is also good.

Coach Browne Gives Every Man Chance; Seven Pitchers Used.

Husker baseball candidates got their first taste of actual compe-tition Saturday afternoon at tition Landis field when Coach Harold ingston, Beckner, Meredith, Browne sent his men thru a full nine inning game which saw the A team administer a 14-8 trounc-ing to the B aggregation. The Husker mentor gave all his men a chance to exhibit their wares with thirty-three players taking part. Seven of this number were pitchers.

The B nine jumped into a temp-orary lead in the first inning when Wuelser got on after being hit by a pitched ball. On a fielder's choice he advanced to second, with Reinmiller safe on first. Both men scored when Smith misjudged Sabata's fly. Smith redeemed himself in the second half of the frame by crashing out a single whereupon "Mutt" Davison, veteran shortstop came thru with a home run inside the park tying up the score

A Team Gets Busy. The As got busy in the second

The second canto saw the As chalk up four more runs, while limiting their opponents to one. The B team came to life and trailed 7-6 at the end of the fifth. The A hitters then proceeded to put the game on ice by garnering four markers in the sixth and three in the seventh.
