POSSIBILITIES OF SWIMMING POOL MAY HANG FIRE

Burnett Feels Legislative Consent Necessary to Sell Bonds.

CONSIDER LEGAL MEANS
Dean Foster Attempts to Devise Plan to Avoid Special Act.

Possibilities that Nebraska's proposed swimming pool was definitely out of the picture for some time were expressed yesterday by Chancellor E. A. Burnett, in charge of investigation of the plan. The chancellor feels that it will probably take a special act of the legislature before the bonds for the pool can be sold.

No recommendation will be made to the board of regents Saturday by the committee composed of Burnett, Dean T. J. Thompson, and Secretary of Finance L. E. Gunderson, according to Burnett. The plan will simply be presented in a very informal manner and the disposition will rest mainly with the regents.

"We are looking for a legal means of putting the project across," Burnett explained, "but it appears to me that the only way it can be done is by a special act of the legislature allowing the regents to proceed with the project. The regents have no power to go through with a project of this kind entirely by themselves. In the case of the proposed girls' dormitories a plan was worked out to pay for them by revenue derived by use but it also required a special act of the legislature before we could go ahead with the sale of the bonds."

Bonds Must Be Planned.
The chancellor also said that the plan of selling bonds would have to be worked out satisfactorily before any progress could be made. It would have to be decided whether the bonds would be sold to trust companies or to individuals.

'Bird in Hand' Second Act Shows Evolution of Evening Wear From Good Old Nightshirt to Pajama

Evolution is a fact, and it applies to a lot more than monkeys, notwithstanding the honorable William Jennings Bryan. If you don't believe that evolution applies to everything, witness the second act of "Bird in Hand," University Players current offering.

We don't promise that you will see man develop into his present state of perfection from the lowly ape right on the stage, although some various stages in human mental development are depicted, but we do promise an excellent review of the evolution of night wearing apparel, and we don't mean the soup and fish variety, either. ## Students Needing Work Urged to See Employment Bureau

Students who wish to work for their board have been urged to get in touch with the Student Employment Bureau which is maintained by the university in the office of the Dean of Student Affairs. Several positions of this type are now available, and students wishing to take advantage of them should communicate with Mr. Hennthorne, director of the bureau, at once, according to Dean T. J. Thompson.

The employment service for students which the bureau offers is available for use by all students at any time. The university has been unusually fortunate this year in being able to supply many positions to students in a period of general depression, Dean Thompson stated, and there are now four or five jobs for board waiting for applicants.

DIRECTOR CASTS JACK THOMPSON, MOUSEL IN SHOW

Miller Picks Novelist and Mutiny Leader for 'High and Dry.'

Jack Thompson, Lincoln, Phi Kappa Psi, will take the part of Jim, the mutiny leader, and Russell Mousel, Hastings, Beta Theta Pi, will play Albert, the English novelist, in the Kosmet Klub show "High and Dry," it was announced yesterday by Lowell "Jiggs" Miller, director of the production.

Thompson is a sophomore in the arts and science college, and Mousel is a junior in the same college. Jim is the "hard egg" of the show and leads the sailors in mutiny which results in the overthrow of the captain and the casting of the passengers and officers of the yacht on a desert isle, while Albert, the "sissy" novelist, portrayed by Mousel, adds spice to the production with his "Oh dear me's."

Albert is Novelist.
Albert is the novelist whom Jane Paige, heroine of the musical comedy, is engaged to marry, and who is the apple of Mrs. Paige's eye. Mrs. Paige is a strong advocate of the social lion's suit, but Jane fails to see it that way when she has met the captain of the yacht on which the most of the show is played.

The show is rapidly nearing completion of preparation for its first appearance in Hastings April 20, according to the director of the production, finishing touches being put on both the cast and the scenery. Further announcements of members of the cast will be made in a short time, he stated.

Previously announced players and their parts have been: Stanley Kiger in the role of Mrs. Paige, the mother of Jane, the heroine, to be played by "Bud" Bailey. Pat McDonald will have the part of Sheela, native queen of the desert island on which the party is marooned, while Nate Levy and Bob Hall are the sailors who are entranced by Sheela's charms.

The musical comedy, which is the third Kosmet show from William McCleery's pen, will be shown in Lincoln on return from the road trip, at the Liberty theater, May 1 and 2.

LAWLOR NAMES TENTATIVE LIST OLD CAR EVENTS

Students Show Enthusiasm For Initial College Auto Derby.

Seven events will be offered in Nebraska's first annual college car race, it was announced yesterday by Charles O. Lawlor, business manager of The Daily Nebraskan, sponsor of the race.

College students have been rapid in acclaiming the idea of an old car race, Lawlor declared yesterday. He said that great interest had been shown by the student body.

The race program will be staged sometime after spring vacation. It will be held on the state fair grounds track, and will be preceded in the morning by a parade of every old automobile in the possession of Nebraska's students.

Prizes Offered.
Judges for the races will be announced following spring vacation. Prizes will be offered in all of the races, in addition to awards which will be made for the oldest car, best decorated car, and the "wisest cracks" painted on automobiles.

Possibilities that interfraternity and inter-sorority races might be added to the program also were mentioned by Lawlor, who declared that the line-up was far from complete. He requested suggestions from students. An obstacle race or a backward race is being considered as another possible event.

Program Listed.

The race program at present:
1. Race for model T Ford—two miles—limited to cars made in or before 1920.

Pat McDonald Finds It Difficult To Do a Gilda Gray Despite Aid Of Many Teachers and Practice

By SHICK CALE.

Can you shimmy or contort your body in any other similar manner?
Pat McDonald, who has been selected by Kosmet Klub to play the part of Sheelah, island queen, in the spring musical comedy "High and Dry," is looking for a first class hula dancer to teach him a movement or so.

Members of Kosmet Klub are all working on different angles of the dance but they are unable to get together on it. Each one has a good wiggle in his way, but the wiggles don't seem to fit into any logical sequence. This, of course, is extremely necessary or Mr. McDonald may find himself badly out of joint.

Double Life. Double Chin.
Sheelah, as the story goes, leads a double life down to the minutest detail. She even has a double chin. When a crew of sailors lands in the island she leaves her native lover and becomes the dream girl of Henry, a spooky-faced sailor who practices American methods of courtship on her. Meanwhile her native fiance goes into seclusion in the hills of the island where he lives in remorse.

Sheelah is perfectly contented to let Henry practice his love-making

STUDENT COUNCIL NAMES KENNEDY TO FILL VACANCY

Student Body Appoints Man To Publication Board As Advised.

ACTS ON CONSTITUTION
Proposals of Four Groups Meet Approval; One Is Amended.

George L. Kennedy, journalist senior of Omaha, was named to fill the publication board vacancy; the date for the spring elections set as May 12, and constitutions of four campus organizations accepted at a meeting of the Student council Wednesday.

Vacancy in the senior student membership of the publications board was caused by the resignation of Cyril Winkler of Lexington who left school at the end of the first semester. The council's action came at the recommendation of Gayle C. Walker, chairman of the board, that it appoint a man to fill the vacancy because of the large amount of work coming before the board this spring in selection next year's staffs for the student publications.

At the suggestion of President Robert Kelly, the council set the student elections for the third Tuesday following spring recess, subject to change if the subcommittee of the faculty committee on student affairs does not act on the new Student council constitution by that time.

Faulkner Reports.
Eddie Faulkner, chairman of the council's constitution committee, reported that the faculty subcommittee, headed by Prof. E. S. Fullbrook, is now working on the document. The subcommittee met yesterday.

Constitutions submitted by Phi Mu Epsilon, professional musical group, Big Sister Advisory board, McClean hall and Tri K, an agronomy society of the college of agriculture, were accepted by the council with but one dissenting vote on each.

The first three of the constitutions were accepted following a favorable report of the council constitution committee headed by Dale Parker. The Tri K constitution was accepted on recommendation of Fred Graue without reading. A constitution submitted by that group with certain recommendations (Continued on Page 2.)

ALPHA ZETA TAKES IN NINE MEN WEDNESDAY

Fred Meredith Presides at Banquet Which 40 Attend.

Nearly forty members of Alpha Zeta, men's honorary agricultural fraternity, attended the annual banquet honoring new initiates held at the cafeteria campus Wednesday evening. Previous to the banquet, nine men were initiated into the organization.

New initiates include Richard Bell, Ralph Bush, Clifford Campbell, Mervin Hankins, Howard Keck, Kenneth Reed, Hollis Van Kleek, Bern Wischmeier and Herbert Yost.

Fred Meredith served as toastmaster for the evening's banquet. He called on four Alpha Zeta members for short toasts. Floyd Ingersoll spoke on scholarship and flunking college while Prof. H. E. Bradford talked upon fellowship and hermitship. Howard Keck, a new member, appeared on the program, talking about leadership and trailblazing. Prof. H. M. Swenk closed the program by contrasting the Alpha Zeta man with the average man.

Losses Skirts.
The hardest feature of McDonald's part is his costume. He is attired in a grass skirt and thus far he has had trouble in securing a permanent costume. He is now on his third skirt, the first having been gnawed by mice in vital places, and the second having been stolen, possibly as sod for the Tri Delta lawn.

The show is practically en route as scenery has been shipped to Hastings preparatory to the first showing next Monday. The gala cast makes its Lincoln appearance on May 1 and 2 in the Liberty theater.
