Professor Yenne Predicts Success For 'High and Dry,' Thinks Comic 'Dumb Sailors' Will 'Steal the Show'

"Orville and Henry, the two 'dumb' sailors in Kosmet's musical comedy, if played in due respect to their lines will split the sides of every person in the audience with laughter."

That is the prediction given by Herbert Yenne, assistant professor of elocution and dramatics, after he had been given special permission to read William T. McCleery's third consecutive production.

The two sailor roles, with "Nate" Levy playing the part of Henry and Bob Hall that of Orville will probably steal the show, Prof. Yenne declared. The strikingly natural humor of this show, characteristic of McCleery's productions, is unusually clever and displays ability of an artist.

Wrote Two Shows.

Professor Yenne is himself the author of two Kosmet shows. They are "Dream Pirate" and "Love Hater." The "Dream Pirate," 1926-27 production, being shown over the holidays, played one of the longest runs known to Kosmet.

HOLD FINAL SERVICES FOR WAITE MONDAY

The vestry board of Holy Trinity, of which Dr. Waite was a member, attended the funeral in a body and acted as a guard of honor. The body lay in state at the church from 1:45 o'clock until after the service.

Special Numbers Sung.

Special numbers were sung and chanted by the full vested choir of the church. Miss Olive Seemark was in charge of the choir. "Funeral Dirge," by Chopin, was played softly on the organ as the robed choir moved in slow procession down the main aisle. The choir was followed by the rector, casket and pallbearers. During the silent procession the rector read aloud portions of the scripture. The choir sang "Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand," after the scripture read by the rector.

The creed and prayers were read just preceding the benediction offered by Rev. Mr. Marsden. The choir intoned their last hymn in Nunc Dimittis.

Here Since 1902.

Having been at the university since 1902 as a member of the faculty and chairman of the bacteriology and pathology department, Dr. Waite became one of the university's most worthy and honored professors and Lincoln's educational leaders.

WILL HONOR SORORITIES

Names of Groups Highest in Scholarship to Be Read at Honors Meeting.

Names of sororities placing highest for academic honors will be read off at the annual Honors day convocation Wednesday evening. The complete list will be published the following morning, Thursday, under the auspices of the Lincoln Pan-Hellenic council.

The departure from the usual custom of announcing the sororities ranking in scholarship is due to the fact that the banquet at which winners formerly were announced and the cup given to the highest in scholarship, will be held next fall instead of this spring. A change has also been made in the method of adjudging the winners, the awards being made this year on the basis of the preceding semester.

INTERFRATERNITY SING WILL BEGIN IVY DAY EVENTS

Sixteen Groups Enter in Annual Kosmet Klub Ivy Affair.

TO REVEAL MAY QUEEN

Procession Which Precedes Ceremony Scheduled for 10 O'Clock.

Traditional Ivy day festivities will open Thursday morning with the interfraternity sing at 9 o'clock. Sixteen fraternities have entered the contest, according to Carl Hahn, president of the Kosmet Klub, which sponsors the annual sing. Complete program for the day was announced by Mortar Board yesterday.

The procession which precedes the crowning of the May queen will follow the sing, with two representatives of each of the lower classes from all organized houses carrying the daisy chain and all senior women, dressed in white, carrying the ivy chain.

Procession Set for 10.

The senior women with the ivy chain will stand in front of the underclass bearers of the daisy chain in the circle about the lawn where the May queen's throne is placed. During the procession the Ivy chant will be sung by a picked women's chorus. The Ivy procession is set for 10 o'clock.

Immediately following the procession, two pages dressed in white satin suits will announce the approach of the May queen and her attendants. The identity of the pages, the attendants and the May queen and maid of honor will be kept secret until their presentation.

Elected by Women.

The May queen and her maid of honor were elected by popular vote of all junior and senior women about a month ago. The attendants are chosen by the active chapters.

MAY AWGWAN WILL APPEAR TOMORROW

Article Said to Be Written By Hicks Appears in Faculty Number.

BRING 'GANG' TO LIGHT

Faculty and administration members will be on the "pan" in both word and picture in the May issue of the Awgwan, which will appear on the campus tomorrow. This edition, the fourth of the year has been termed the "Faculty Number" and, as the staff says, turns the magazine's motto of "You can't beat clean fun at least you shouldn't" toward the higher-ups.

Dean John D. Hicks of American History fame, is the purported author of a true confessions article, in which he exposes his approved teaching methods. While the authorship of the article is not quite established, it is believed to be true and correct manuscript from the dean's own pen.

"Gang" Exposed.

The Chancellor's "gang" is exposed to the full light of investigation by an observer, who was able to compile his article only after spending several months in hiding in the administration building.

A distinctly different type of art work is presented in this month's cover, the style following the trend popular in many modern publications.

SPELLING REFORM CLUB ELECTS MISS POUND TO OFFICE

Dr. Louise Pound, of the department of English, was recently appointed vice president of the Spelling Reform association, which has its headquarters at the Lake Placid club, New York.

BIZAD PLANS COMPLETED

Classes End at 11 Friday; Full Day's Program Is Planned.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual frolic for all students registered in the college of business administration. Classes will be dismissed at 11 o'clock Friday, and festivities will commence shortly afterward.

As the program now stands, the schedule calls for a picnic at Pioneer park lasting all afternoon. Transportation to and from the picnic grounds will be provided by the committee. Plans have been made to provide golf and baseball for recreation, and food for the picnickers will be handed out by those in charge.

KRAUSE BAND TO PLAY FOR AG FAIR DANCE SATURDAY

Arrangements for Annual Show Near Completion Says Chairman.

Red Krause and his dance band will play for the dance at Farmer's fair on the agricultural college campus Saturday, according to an announcement made this morning by Clifford Campbell, chairman of the dance committee.

At the same time Ruthalee Holloway declared that pageant practices will be held the rest of the week in preparation for the presentation of "Now and Then."

Campbell believes he has one of the best dance bands in Lincoln to play for the Saturday night dance. There will be but one dance, that given in the student activities building. It will be a jivey dance, dancers being charged five cents.

To Have One Dance.

Preliminary plans called for two dances at the fair but arrangements completed last night indicated that the one dance plan will give dancers more opportunity to dance to a good orchestra. Lack of another suitable place caused Campbell's committee to decide against holding more than the one dance. He believes fair visitors will be pleased with the plan since it will tend to concentrate the dance crowd.

Will Give Pageant.

Boy students in the agricultural college are taking an active part in the pageant this year for the first time. It will be presented by depicting the history of costume bearing through the ages. Costumes of the earlier days will be shown first. Then costumes according to the pageant.

NATIONAL DELEGATE IS GUEST BIZAD GROUP

Miss Torgeson Visits Local Gamma Epsilon Pi; Six Newly Initiated.

Miss Olive Torgeson, Iowa City, national visiting delegate of Gamma Epsilon Pi, national honorary business administration sorority, inspected the local chapter this last week end. On Saturday noon, the alumnae held an informal luncheon in honor of Miss Torgeson at Miller & Paine's tea room. During the afternoon, Miss Torgeson visited the campus, where she had a conference with Dean LeRossignol of the college of business administration, following which she was taken on a tour of the city.

In the evening initiation for six girls was held at the Hotel Lincoln. This is the largest number ever initiated at one time by the local chapter, the membership being limited to 15 percent of the junior and senior women of the college. In addition to the 15 percent restriction, each girl must have a scholastic average of at least 85 percent for all her work up to the time of her initiation.

Take New Members.

The six girls included four juniors and two seniors.

John D. Hicks, Dean, at Last Reveals Secrets of Startling Success in May Issue Awgwan

Dean John D. (not Rockefeller) Hicks, called by last month's Awgwan one of "the more promising young squirts in the faculty," has broken his Coolidge-like silence and in the May issue of the magazine, to appear on the campus tomorrow, exposes his secrets of success.

Prompted by a desire to his departure for dear Harvard, the dean of the A & S college asked the humor magazine if he might use its columns for his tale, considering it preferable to either the Elbe Print or the Cornhusker Countryman. Inasmuch as it is generally considered that the Husker campus will no longer be allowed to absorb republican propaganda from the Dean, the staff granted his wish, making only minor corrections in the copy.

Change Title.

The original title of "How I Became Dean in Record Time" was changed to a more modest label. Although some disbelievers have perpetuate his methods, before doubted the authenticity of the article, it is generally understood that it may have been written by the Dean himself.

Chancellor E. A. Burnett and his crew are made the subject of an expose which brings to light hitherto unknown workings of the good-will-among-taxpayers campaign. The author, who prefers to be known only as "An Observer" spent several months in hidden positions about the executive offices in gleaming his information, and refused an offer of twenty-three cents given by True Story Mag-
