

SOCIETY

Sweetheart day dinners, which are traditional at the majority of the fraternity houses, are now in order. Delta Upsilon will be host Sunday to fifteen guests.

Beta Theta Pi is making plans for a dinner soon at which they will fetter their sweethearts. Various other fraternities will entertain for sisters and sweethearts.

Social Calendar

Betas To Honor Mothers At Dinner
Beta Theta Pi will be host to 30 mothers Sunday at a 1 o'clock dinner at the chapter house. The guests will be taken to church preceding the dinner.
D. S. La to Give House Party
Friday night, Delta Sigma Lambda will entertain a party at a house party in honor of the graduating seniors. Music will be furnished by Herb Smith's orchestra, and the party will be sponsored by Professor and Mrs. Roy Cochran, Professor and Mrs. William E. Thompson and Mrs. H. C. M. Burgess.

every one of them, and thank you honey. But will you listen to this! Jane G. you know who I mean, the one who married John C. last Sunday—did you go to the wedding? Well, I'll have to tell you about it. The affair was really very dull but what could you expect of a girl from that group. She wore the funniest dress, and imagine, she carried a bride wreath. Oh, of course, the altar was banked with a good deal of it—I'm sure they got it back of Grant Memorial hall, but even so. The groom wore the conventional black, but he is such a silly looking thing. Personally I could never care for a man with blue eyes. They are too wishy-washy—haven't any spunk if you know what I mean.

Tri Delts to Give Collegiate Party
Penants of the different schools all over the country will be the main decorations for the "Collegiate" party to be given by Delta Delta Delta May 16 at their house. Chaperones for the party will be Captain and Mrs. G. W. Sperry, Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Lyon, Miss Winona Perry, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Busby.

Nice Misch.
"Of course, he can't help it if he has to wear glasses, and I suppose his occupation does prevent his having manicured nails, but—well, dear, we all have our own ideas, of course. Her father did have his trousers pressed and I suppose that is something. But, he looked so pathetically dull escorting her down the aisle."
"I don't remember what he was in school, but I think it was probably some fraternity which doesn't rate at all. At least, that's the only type of man I've ever seen leaving their house. You know, we lay down a law as to which fraternities our girls can date. Do you—but of course you do, you're one of the Big Four!"

Alpha Delta Pi Party To Be Given Saturday
Bill Lorimer and his orchestra will play for the forty couples who are expected to attend the Alpha Delta Pi house party to be held on Saturday evening. Chaperones for the party will be Mrs. I. M. Bumstead, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wade, and Miss Frances Ash.

Can You Beat It?
"But there come some of the sisters. You won't mind if I leave you, dear? You know how it is—they might think I wasn't loyal if I stayed here with you. Don't tell anything I've told you—bye dear."
And she left the girl and walked away.
"To-whit-to-who—hay you kids, don't you recognize the call? And upon catching up with them, she turned her head, and saw her erstwhile companion going in the opposite direction with a group of girls."

Theta Phi Alpha's Entertain Mothers
Theta Phi Alpha mothers were entertained at the annual Mother's day banquet, Sunday at the chapter house. Red rose buds were used as favors. Gertrude Goering was toastmistress; sorority songs were sung and Betty Gilberstein entertained with two dance numbers.

Honestly, that girl I was talking to is the dumbest thing. She thinks her sorority is one of the Big Four, and anyone knows it never was even Big Twenty. Let's go and cake, girls," and Miss Grey Figeon, member of Just Another sorority, gathered her fellow gossipers of the air about her and flew away.

Herma Springer, Delia, Kans., is visiting at the Alpha Phi house.
Tau Kappa Epsilon will entertain sixty-five couples at a party at the chapter house Saturday. The affair will be a sports party and elaborate decorations have been planned by Social Chairman Kenneth Uehling. Favors will be given to the guests, who will include about twenty members of the fraternity's chapter at Manhattan, Kas. The Goldenrod Serenaders will play for the party. W. E. Walton and K. M. Arndt will be chaperones.

An editorial vociferously panned sororities and fraternities for teaching their own songs instead of university songs. It was declared that the average Cornhusker knew only the "Chant" and the "Cornhusker" song, while there was a whole volume of Nebraska songs which never found expression. It was further affirmed that the burden of teaching Nebraska melodies rested with the organized societies.
The Kansas Aggies won the first annual swimming meet from the Nebraska men in home waters by a score of 30 to 28.

MILESTONES

The victorious debating team, accompanied back from Missouri by the debate instructor, Professor Fogg, was met at the station by a large crowd of university students. About four hundred men participated in the celebration on the city streets. When the train arrived, the debaters were greeted with the college yells, and placed in a carriage along with Chancellor Andrews, Professor Fogg, and the other victorious teams of the year.
Amid the flourish of banners and the din of trumpets and horns the seniors secretly departed yesterday for Woodlawn to celebrate Sneak day. About 9 o'clock the seniors assembled at the Burlington station, where they had chartered a train to take them to the picnic grounds. At noon the seniors sat down to an "elegant" dinner, which had been prepared by the young ladies of the class. The class also elected a May queen, the young lady selected for the honor being the coed who had had charge of the food. (Which proves that the way to a man's heart is his stomach.)

Thomas Purchases 50,000 Pounds Ice For Friday Party

A total of 50,000 pounds of ice have been purchased for the all-university party at the coliseum Friday night, it was announced by George Thomas, who has charge of arrangements. Surprises will be frozen into the cakes which will be displayed in four colors, it was said.
Red Krause and his orchestra will furnish music for the party. Election of members to the bar council will be an event of the evening.

No Man's Land

INTERESTED in constitutions today? Probably not, but you really ought to be, because, after all, equal representation of women with men in a body that really has some coercive power is something. What coercive power does the Student council have? That's the joke or rather that has been the joke. The Student council hasn't had any power, coercive or otherwise, unless it is the making and unmaking of Innocents and Mortar Boards via the prom committee method.
But we've all pitied the council for its weakness or laughed at it for the same reason. And most of us have thought that something ought to be done about the situation. Now we can help do something about it by voting for it at the polls today. Strongly favorable student opinion expressed in a student referendum gave us fifteen extra minutes on date nights. Another proof of strong sentiment will doubtless put the constitution on its feet.

The seniors departed for Millford on the 7:30 train on their annual picnic. Each member of the class was excused for the day in order that he might enjoy the boat riding and games which were planned as a part of the day's outing. Tickets sold for the price of 35 cents, with railroad fare extra.
Nebraska defeated Minnesota in a dual meet. The mile relay was the most exciting event, as it decided the outcome of the contest. The final score stood 64 to 53. A new record, 1:59 2-5, was set for the half mile.

PI KAPS WILL HOLD CONVENTION IN OMAHA

Meetings Start Saturday At Elks' Club; Local Chapter to Attend.
Pi Kappa Phi fraternity will hold its district convention in Omaha on Saturday and Sunday May 16 and 17. Representatives of all the various chapters in the Big Six Schools will be present at the convention. The entire chapter from the university will attend in a body. The Lincoln Alumni chapter will also attend the convention. All of the delegates will be guests of the Omaha Alumni chapter.
The convention is to be held at the Elks club, and will begin with a banquet Saturday evening. Some of the outstanding speakers for the occasion will be Howard D. Leake, national executive secretary; Geo. D. Driver, past supreme archon; and the various chapter advisors. At the conclusion of the banquet a model initiation will be put on by Nebraska and Iowa chapters. Round table discussion will begin with a breakfast Sunday morning and will be continued until concluded later in the day.
A large number of delegates is expected to be present at the convention. There will be round table discussions for alumni, members of the active chapters, and pledges. All of the various alumni and active chapters in the Big Six schools will be represented. The delegates will be in Omaha in time to attend the national air races which are being held this week end.

THE fellows were pretty decent about voting for our fifteen minutes, weren't they? (After all, they were the ones who fought the cloak room battles and paid a lot of the late fines at houses.) Seems as though we might be decent enough to vote for their constitution. It oughtn't to be theirs any more than ours. It isn't going to be their council any more than ours if we help vote that document through. (After all, we ought to be ready to give ourselves a break, just as the fellows were.) So let's get interested in a constitution today—long enough to waddle over to the Temple and vote for it.

discussion of plans for the coming meetings when applications for various positions on the Cornhusker, Daily Nebraskan, and Awgwan will be considered.
Applications for the publications posts will probably be considered in two divisions, it was announced. Daily Nebraskan positions will come up on one day, and the year-book and humor magazine will be disposed of on the following day, according to plans.

AG POLITICIANS TAKE UP WEAPONS OF FRAY

Members of the past fairs have become members of the senior group. This plan works very satisfactorily, older students on the campus declare, for conscientious and exacting service on the junior board can be recognized by placement on the senior organization. Upsets, however, have been known to occur, entirely new men being substituted for various reasons.
Members of the 1931 junior Farmers Fair board who will probably bid for senior offices are Fred Meredith, Gerald Schick, Delphin Nash, Ruthalee Holloway, Dorothy Luschniger, and Hazel Benson.

Coll-Agri-Fun Election.
Three men and three women will also be elected to the Coll-Agri-Fun committee which plans and arranges the annual college of agriculture vodvil performance composed entirely of student talent. The presidents and secretaries of Ag club and Home Economics club, together with faculty members, also serves on the committee. Members of Ag club will ballot for their four officers, president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, during next Tuesday's political race. Alto there have usually been only two factions competing for these positions in the past, the barb vote being split, or scattered, it is believed that a third party will take active part this spring. The Barb party is reported to have set up a complete slate during a recent political caucus on the Ag campus.
One man and one woman will be chosen to fill the positions of senior representative at large on the Ag executive board. Candidates for these positions must be juniors at the time of filing. The fact that the president and secretary of Ag club automatically become new members of the executive board will probably add to the zest of the coming vote getting contest.
A senior man and a senior woman will be elected to serve on the publication board which chooses the staff of the Cornhusker Countryman, the college of agriculture magazine. These candidates must also be juniors at the time of the filing.

The student must present the following articles: waist belt, cap, breeches, coat with sleeve insignia, cravat, collar ornaments, shirt, books, whistles, chevrons and other extras. The foregoing instructions will be read to the various companies by their instructors.
