TEN SCHOLARSHIP GIFTS ANNOUNCED BY E. A. BURNETT

(Continued from Page 1.) at the beginning of the second semester. Should any of the recipients fail to return to school next year, an alternate will be selected, according to the scholarship committee.

Miss Pembroke, who was awarded the scholarship established by a prominent Nebraska banker, is now a junior in the teachers college. She is now holding a $50 scholarship given by the American Association of University Women.

Huber Again Wins. Mr. Huber, awarded the scholarship named in honor of the late Judge Jefferson H. Boady, formerly a member of the University faculty and prominent Nebraska lawyer, is a junior in the college of law. He was a member of the debate team from 1925 to 1930 and a member of the student council. He is now one of the student editors of the Nebraska Law Bulletin. He has held a law college tuition scholarship for the past three semesters.

Miss Holloway, one of the winners of the Bostwick scholarship, is a junior in the college of agriculture. She is active in home economics work and various campus activities. She is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics society. Miss Easton, who also was awarded a Bostwick scholarship, is a junior in the teachers college and was recently elected president of the Palladian Literary society. Mr. Graetz, the third winner of a Bostwick scholarship, is now a freshman in the college of arts and sciences.

Miss Thomas Awarded. Miss Thomas, winner of the Edward Lang True Memorial scholarship, is a junior in the arts college. Prior to coming to the University of Nebraska, she attended Cotner college. She has attained some success as a writer and artist.

Mr. Sarbach, winner of the Dr. George Borrowman scholarship for a worthy student in the departments of chemistry or geology, is a sophomore in the arts college specializing in chemistry. Upon graduation from high school he was awarded a scholarship from the University of Chicago for the highest ranking high school student, which he did not accept.

Keck Takes Prize. Howard Keck, winner of the junior prize for the junior non-fraternity man who is best tripping over heavy odds in obtaining an education at the university, is a student in the college of agriculture, majoring in rural economics. His superior characterize among undergraduate students who have been employed to summarize farm records and do other statistical work. Mr. Bollman, awarded the W. H. Sawyer scholarship for engineers, is a senior in the engineering college taking an electrical engineering course.

Mr. Moessner, winner of the prize awarded each spring to the freshman man or woman who has shown the greatest pluck and determination in fighting against the heavy odds in securing an education, is now attending the university for his second semester. He is employed as an extra call boy by the Burlington. His scholarship is unusually high with the lowest grade 90 percent.

CARILLON BELLS TO BE DEDICATED TODAY

Anton Brees Will Honor University by Playing School Song.

"There Is No Place Like Nebraska," played by Anton Brees, famous bell master of the carillon, will be rendered on the "Singing Tower" of Plymouth Congregational church at 4 o'clock, May 31 to the students and faculty of the university during the dedication of the forty-eight Carillon bells.

Since many persons in the university donated to these bells, ranking among the grand carillons of the world, it was thought appropriate to especially remember them in the dedication of the "singing tower" which begins Saturday.

Two programs will be offered by Mr. Brees May 30, two on May 31, one on June 2 and two on June 6. The carillon is said to be one of the best of its kind in the world. It is a series of bells covering four chromatic scales and is played from a keyboard similar to an organ. Since it is in a tower 21 feet high, created by the architect of the Kansas City liberty memorial, the carillon is commonly called a "giant harp of the skies." Each bell is a pure tone and when played in chords or trills it produces extraordinary music.

Anton Brees was born in Belgium and learned to play the carillon in the famous cathedrals of his native land. He is the official carillonneur of the Bok Tower in Florida.

JAYHAWKERS EKE OUT WIN IN MEET

Clyde Coffman carrying the Jayhawk colors of Kansas university avenged the absence of Jim Bausch by pulling himself over the pole vault bar with a magnificent back-kick that gave him a new Big Six record of 13 feet 5 3/4 inches.

Then there were those killing duals in the mile and two-mile between Glen Dawson of Oklahoma and Ray Putnam of Iowa State in which Dawson unloosed bullet-like finishes to set a new record in the mile of 4 minutes 22 seconds and to win first in the other distance run. Dawson dashed the last 100 yards on both occasions seemingly fresh and unwearied.

Hugh Rhea easily won first in the shot put and Rist of Nebraska surprised by turning in a second in the weight heave. Chick "Justice" placed fifth. The distance was 49 feet.

Jerry Lee did his bit for the Scarlet and Cream and it was quite a bit. It was necessary to hold a director's meeting almost to decide whether Lee or Klauer of Kansas broke the 100-yard dash thread in 9.5 seconds. The judges decided that they saw a flash of Jay blue before the scarlet crossed the finish line.

Then in the broad jump Jerry exceeded 24 feet by 1/2 of an inch. And that only gave him a fifth since Tomson and Gray were above the 25 feet mark and Mell and Morrison of Oklahoma both bettered Lee's leap.

It was in the mile relay that Jerry Lee really burned the cinders. Rodgers led off for Nebraska and lost a yard to Weasting of Iowa State. Then Siekes held his own with Henderson and England handed Lee the baton about three yards behind the head man. With a terrific spurt Lee pulled out ahead of the field and pounded gallantly along until he was headed by Lambert of Iowa to place second for the Huskers.

Bob Ostergaard, expected to finish one of two in the 440-yard dash, was hampered by the stiff breeze more than his smaller competitors and finished fourth. Jones of Kansas pounded the one lap around the track in 49.4 to be followed across the finish by Potts of Oklahoma and Beardsley of Kansas. England of Nebraska was fifth.

Hager of Iowa State clicked off the high hurdles in 14.5 seconds to equal his own Big Six record set in clearing the tall barriers here last year. Willis Lamson placed third for Nebraska. White was fourth and Linus Carroll was fifth. The 880-yard run saw Moore of Oklahoma dash out ahead of Lambert of Iowa State with a half a lap to go in a vain effort to clip the wings of the favorite. Lambert stretched out, however, and forced Moore into second at the tape in 1 minute 56.7 seconds.

The twin Jay dash men, Sickle and Klauer, sped down the 220 stretch for first and second respectively. Sickle was caught first in the last time of 21.1 seconds. Eisenhart of Nebraska sailed the discus for a 135 feet 8 1/2 inches ride to scratch out a win over Foy and Walton of Kansas who each hurled the disc 133 feet and better. Orlin Dean of Nebraska placed second in the pole vault to the high flying Coffman of Kansas tying with Redwine of Oklahoma, Jordan of Kansas State and Trueblood of Kansas at 12 feet 6 inches. Fayington of Nebraska came through for a first place in the javelin throw with a hurl of 187 feet 5 inches. He blasted the hopes of Brian of Kansas who was second and had been credited with a 191 feet toss during the season. Mills of Oklahoma was third. Schulte's men dropped far behind in the run events and hurdles so that the grim rally in the broad jump, javelin and mile relay brought them within striking distance but a few deciding points behind the white hot K. U. tracksters.

Ben Bernie, Whose Orchestra Will Play Here Tuesday, Comes From Seven Generations Of Blacksmiths

By A MERE MAN. Peeking into the lives of great people is heaps more fun when the final analysis is both surprising and attractive to a great number of readers. The private life of Ben Bernie, "the ole Maestro," is no exception.

Ben, it seems, is a son of a blacksmith, simply speaking without any hint of profanity. And he comes from five generations of blacksmiths. His real name is Benjamin Ancel. Ben seemed the smartest of a family of twelve, so his father sent him to study civil engineering, which to him was the highest branch of blacksmithing.

Studied in New York. He studied at Cooper institute in New York because the tuition was free. He fiddled in "shush" houses at night to pay other expenses. His friends then included the cabaret singer, Sophie Tucker, and the honky-tonk pianist, Irving Berlin. He learned civil engineering, was starting at a weekly wage of $22 while he, just for fiddling, was getting $30. So he went into vaudeville, in an act called Berne and Baker.

The Ben Bernie of radio and recording fame, today, is another man. He likes golf, bridge, cigars and women. Some years ago women were third in his rating. He was known to follow one many blocks just to keep her in sight. Now he says, he is more interested in police dogs. Twenty-two cigars is his daily quota. He calls them heaters, and apparently can't work without one in his hand. NBC studios in New York have a sign, "No smoking, except by Ben Bernie."

Plays Four Instruments. He has studied piano, cello, violin and cornet. Rudy Vallee played in his band when fresh from Yale. Bernie wouldn't let him sing because he thought his voice wasn't loud enough. Look at Vallee, now! The orchestra of Ben Bernie to the radio audience is not particularly unusual from other high class bands as Ellington's, Whiteman's and Bernie Cummins', but the pleasing personality of Bernie's which is ever new and ever humorous seems to put him across.

The band with Ben, himself, and his soloist Pat Kennedy will play at the Coliseum next Tuesday night, the first appearance of the orchestra in Lincoln for many years. Bernie and his gang recently completed engagements at the fashionable Roosevelt hotel in Hollywood, the new College Inn at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago and the Chicago theater.

It does seem funny after struggling along with local orchestras for ticket teasers for many years that Nebraska students should all at once be treated to Lee, Moten, Whiteman, Beezley Smith and last of all Ben Bernie.
