

PLANS FOR PROPOSED UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA SWIMMING POOL ANNOUNCED

The drawings below are plans of the University of Nebraska's swimming pool which will be constructed at a cost not to exceed $35,000 under the coliseum stage. Health fees will be increased from $1 to $2 to pay for the tank. The top drawing shows floor plans of the swimming pool and also the matron's room, women's dressing room and supply room to be under construction soon, as ordered by the board of regents at their Friday meeting. The men will use this present locker and shower room.

The lower drawing represents a cross section view of the proposed pool. Davis & Wilson are architects. The deepest point in the tank will be ten feet, the shallow level four feet. The basin, it is estimated, will contain 135,000 gallons and will change water every eight hours. A modern filtering plant will be installed. The side walls and floor are of white tile and the ceiling will be constructed of acoustic board to deaden the sound. The pool will be about twenty feet below the first floor while the women's locker room and supply room are located approximately twelve feet below the first floor. Actual work on the basin is expected to begin the last of July, the bids to be awarded next week. The pool will be 35 by 75 feet in dimension. The water line will be nine inches from the floor. Three spring boards will be provided. The black lines in the pool, shown in the upper picture, are the black tile markings showing the seven water lanes.

SOCIAL WORK GROUP MEETS THIS MONTH

New County Unit Plan to Be Studied at Institute Starting July 27.

The sixth Social Work Institute will be held at the University of Nebraska, July 27 to Aug. 8, under the direction of Miss Lillian Johnson, director of the children's aid service of Omaha, according to an announcement today by Dr. Hattie Plum Williams, professor of sociology.

Study this year will deal primarily with the new county unit plan for public welfare as authorized by the legislature this year under S. F. 46 which becomes effective July 1. The law will be explained in detail, with special emphasis on the way in which it can be made to function in the various counties in order to take care of the delinquent, defective and dependent people.

"In order that each county may avail itself of the opportunities recently made possible by the new measure, organizations interested in the new plan for social welfare work should see that they are represented by at least one member at the institute," declared Dr. Williams. "Such persons should be selected who would, if appointed, be able to act on the county welfare board when organized."

Miss Johnson, former director of the state bureau of child welfare, is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and received her case work training in the family welfare society in Minneapolis. At the time of her appointment by Governor Weaver as director of the bureau of child welfare she was doing graduate work at the University of Chicago.

In addition to the county unit plan, the various phases of social case work will be studied during the two week period. The special course, which was attended by 27 persons last summer, may be taken with or without college credit. The class will meet from 10 to 12 o'clock each morning and from 8 to 9 in the evenings. Registrations are being mailed to Dr. Hattie Plum Williams at the University of Nebraska.

COLLEGE questionnaires are getting to be not only a vogue, but also a nuisance which amounts almost to a mild menace. Pedagogues are trying to find out anything about everything and vice-versa thru the simple agency of a sheet of questions distributed thru the school. They believe that such a cross-section of opinion may be taken as representative—but they are quite wrong.

Among the latest of the results of such tabulations is the announcement of an eastern professor that thru a questionnaire he has determined that red headed girls like tow headed boys with freckles on their ankles—or something like that. Thru this medium it is possible to rig up the most inane, most idiotic and theroly disgusting reports imaginable. They are neither accurate or sensible and many of the questions are so worded as to inevitably result in a certain desired answer. As long as such things are issued they will continue to furnish newspaper readers with good copy, but when anyone commences attaching any value to the results they are doing the equivalent of hanging balloon baskets on soapbubbles.
