Teachers College Is Largest Graduate Group Shows Greatest Gain.

With classes ending Tuesday, 2,713 students will have completed their work in the 1931 summer session, according to official reports on summer registration released Monday by the registrar. This figure, which is a gain over the total enrollment of 2,665 last year, includes those who were registered in the short courses or who completed the six weeks term the middle of July. Of the total this year, 1,763 are women and 902 men.

Teachers college surpasses all other groups with an enrollment of 1,124, of which 992 are women. This is a slight decrease as compared with the 1,243 registered last season. A greater number of instructors are taking work on the campus this year, however, as the majority of those registered in the graduate college are of this group. The greatest increase over the enrollment figures of 1930 was made by the graduate college, with 724 registered as compared with the last year's total of 567. The men have a slight majority with a total of 417 slightly above that of 307 for the women.

SOCIAL DELEGATES DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Ideal Qualifications for County Worker Are Outlined.

Discussion centering about the ideal qualifications of a county social worker have characterized the meetings of the Sixth Social Workers Institute during the past few days. The sessions are under the direction of Miss Lillian Johnson, of the Children's Aid society of Omaha and have been attended regularly by about twenty persons. "The ultimate aim of Nebraska in securing the social workers for the respective counties," explained Miss Johnson, "is to have persons who are graduates of a professional school of Social Work and have had at least two years of experience in some standard social work agency."

"Such persons," she continued, "would be best able to cooperate"

MORTON TO LECTURE AT IOWA INSTITUTES

Dr. W. H. Morton, principal of Teachers College high school and director of teachers training, has been asked to lecture to county institutes in Iowa during the latter part of August and first two weeks in September. He will begin his talks at Pocahontas, Iowa, on Aug. 27 and will continue until Sept. 12 with lectures at institutes at Mt. Ayr, Grundy Center, Clarinda and Ames.

Faculty Members Hunt for Cool Spots After Daily Work in Nine Week Term

A restful spot in a cool place seems to be the idea of a good vacation to faculty members who have been teaching in the nine weeks' summer session at the University of Nebraska. With classes ending Wednesday, many are deserting Lincoln this week in favor of mountain jaunts and brief trips into the northern states and Canada.

H. Adelbert White, professor of English, is leaving the latter part of the week for New York. He will return early in September by way of Ann Arbor, Mich., to confer with the editors of the new Modern Dictionary for which he has been working. He will also stop at Madison, Wis., to talk with officials of Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic society, for which he edits the Gavel, the quarterly journal of the society.

Prof. E. F. Schramm of the department of geology will take business trips to Pittsburgh, Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. He leaves Lincoln about Aug. 4 and will return Sept. 1.

Two weeks driving thru the Ozarks of Missouri and Arkansas will be enjoyed by H. E. Low, instructor in zoology. He plans to visit the University of Arkansas where he taught from 1926 to 1928. Returning to Lincoln the middle of August, he will devote the remainder of the vacation period in working on his thesis for his Ph.D. degree.

Estes Park Is Favorite.

Dr. W. H. Werkmeister of the department of philosophy leaves this week to drive to Estes park and through the mountains of Colorado. Keeping a watchful eye for spots where one might fish for trout, C. W. Lehman, instructor in the summer session and superintendent of schools at Friend, and family will drive to Estes park and up through Wyoming north of Buffalo to the Big Horn mountains.

After spending a few days visiting with relatives in Clinton, Mo., O. W. Reimuth, assistant professor in classics, will spend most of the time from Aug. 7 to the first of September in the province of Manitoba in Canada.

Catherine M. Dunn, instructor in social case work, will leave Aug. 5 to visit with her parents in northern Michigan. Wilhelm K. Pfeiler, instructor in Germanic languages, is another member of the faculty who has chosen Colorado as a vacation spot.

Letta M. Clark, assistant professor of instruction in English, will leave Wednesday for Grand Forks, N. D., to spend three weeks with her sister who is head of the women's physical education department at the University of

Offices to Close at Four During August

Administrative and executive offices will close at 4 o'clock each afternoon during the month of August, according to an announcement today by university officials. Students who wish to get in touch with their instructors before the opening of the fall term may secure information at the registrar's office.

POLICE WHISTLE OPENS SURPRISE ON PROF. LANTZ

Blowing a shrill police whistle in his ear as he entered his home following the party last Friday night, members of the Student Executive committee surprised their chairman, Prof. E. W. Lantz and his wife, into the spirit of a party after the party.

As a climax to this late evening gathering Mr. and Mrs. Lantz were given a twenty-three piece tea set in appreciation of advice and counsel during the summer session.

PREPARE PUBLICITY BOOK

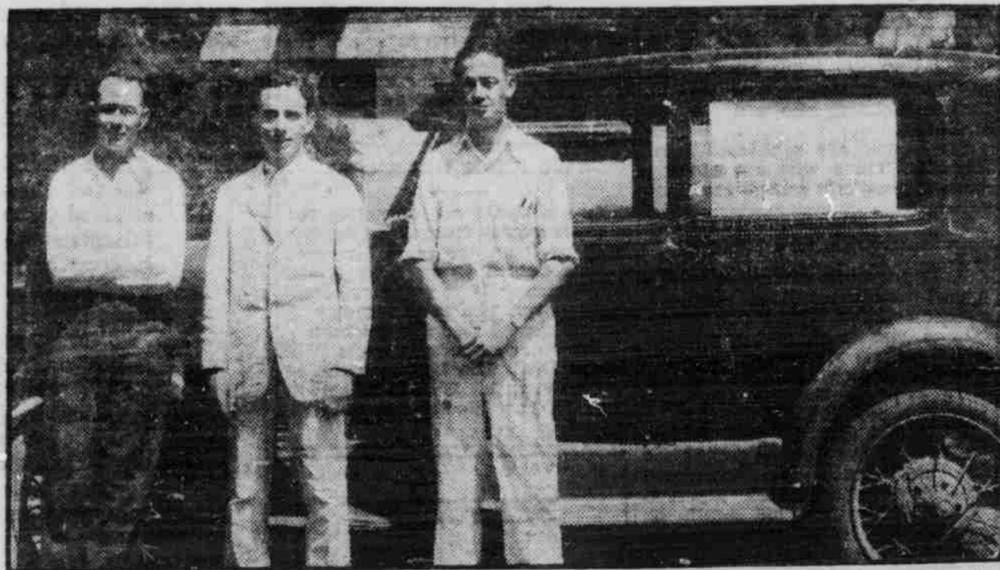

Members of Summer Class
Print Manual About
Contact Means.

A seventy-two page booklet on "Publicity Programs for the School Administrator," is being prepared and printed by thirty-five members of the summer session School Publicity class under the direction of E. M. Hosman.

The booklet takes up a discussion of such publicity methods as the school bulletin board, the school paper, the high school annual, the athletic program, newspaper publicity, and high school clubs and entertainments. It is intended as a guide for the high school educator who wishes to bring the school into closer contact with the community and parents of the pupils.

A number of radio addresses have been written by members of the class and are being delivered over KFAB thru the university studio in co-operation with the Extension Division. Mr. T. C. Diers is reading the talks.

THEY DON'T SPEAK OUR LANGUAGE

These three men, Jay I. Williams, Prof. Lloyd Teale of the University of Nebraska, instructor in Spanish, and Meredith Darlington, know their English but from the time they left Lincoln Friday until they return from Mexico about a month hence they will frown upon its use. Spanish is to be their spoken tongue. The trio left Friday by auto for Monterey, Mexico, where they will stay four weeks perfecting their pronunciation of Spanish and understanding of the language by actual contact with Spanish speaking peoples. They will live with a Spanish family while there and it will have to be a Spanish speaking family, they declare. Both Mr. Williams and Mr. Darlington are taking the work for university credit and Prof. Teale will act as instructor.

"We may have to 'revert' to the English until we get pretty well south, when we buy gas and supplies," one of them said, "but there is to be no English spoken in the car or between us."

Student Executives Thank Summer Group

The following statement has been issued to the student body by members of the Student Executive committee:

"We sincerely appreciate your cooperation with us in our parties, picnics and other activities. We have tried to arrange recreational diversions in which students would be most interested and we hope that succeeding summer session executive committees will have programs worked out that are even more complete. Such success as we have had is due largely to the enthusiastic response which you of the summer session student body have given us."

STUDENT PARTY ENDS SUMMER RECREATION

Final Social Event Draws
Attendance of 350
Persons.

Summer session students numbering 350 turned out for the final mixer held last Friday evening in the Student Activities building on the college of agriculture campus.

Feature of the evening was the singing of radio artist Harriet Cruise Kemmer who sang five popular numbers with Harold Turner as accompanist.

Members of the Student Executive committee were present to direct the affair and arrange several get-together dances. Speaking as formal representative of the committee, Wendell Dodd thanked those present for the interest which they had shown in the summer's recreational program. Student cooperation, he pointed out, was the principal reason for their success.

On the whole a very complete recreational plan was carried on by the committee with one big event for each week-end. Six all-student parties were held, each of them featuring some special entertainment such as a dancing act or a singing specialty. Two picnics, one at the college of agriculture and one at Capitol Beach, met with a high degree of success. Record attendances over previous years marked nearly every one of this summer's entertainments.

In addition to the regular week-end affairs, three tournaments were carried on thru the sponsorship of the committee. These tournaments, for men, were a golf tournament, a horseshoe tourney, and evening baseball games.

MORITZ EXPRESSES APPRECIATION FOR STUDENT ATTITUDE

Both School Work and Social Activities Rate High This Summer.

Few Changes Slated 1932
Session; May Eliminate
Short Courses.

"The administration appreciates greatly the spirit of hearty co-operation which summer students have displayed this year," declared R. D. Moritz, director of the summer session, yesterday in reviewing summer activities which come to a close tomorrow. "Not only has the schoolwork been highly satisfactory but a good social attitude has been displayed both by students and faculty members."

In spite of the extreme heat and the disturbing noises caused by the construction work on the drill field, little complaint has been voiced, according to the summer session officials. The constructive and progressive attitude of the student body has made the 1931 session one of the best in the history of the school, is the opinion of Professor Moritz.

"Especially pleasing has been the fact that so many have availed themselves of the opportunity to do graduate work," stated Mr. Moritz. "This indicates that Nebraska teachers are aware of the need for taking advanced work. For those who remain in educational work must keep alert abreast of the new educational advancements."

Altho plans for the 1932 session will not be completed until this fall, present indications are that few changes will be made. The suggestion made by a few students that 6:30 o'clock classes be substituted for afternoon periods met approval only with those who would not have to take the 6:30 classes.

Few Changes.

"The present plan seems to work satisfactorily," stated the summer school director. "The offerings on the program of the six weeks session were increased this year."
