TASSELS EXCEED FORMER RECORD IN SALES DRIVE

Over Hundred More Players' Tickets Disposed Than Last Year.

TUESDAY TOTAL BEATEN

Alma Freehling, in Charge Ag Sales, Has Largest Individual Total.

The official sales campaign period for University Players season tickets ended Wednesday evening with a distinct gain over Tuesday's sales.

A comparative checkup also revealed a gain of nearly a hundred for total sales this year as compared with those of a year ago. At the end of three days Tassels have sold 1,252 tickets as compared with 1,166 last season.

Alma Freehling Leads.

Alma Freehling, captain of team two in charge of sales on the college of agriculture campus, is leading individual salesmen in the three day total while Lois Pickering is second. Miss Freehling has sold a total of 103 tickets during the campaign and Miss Pickering's record is 97. Miss Freehling also led Wednesday's sales with 44 pasteborders to her credit.

Team four, in charge of faculty sales, has the best group record at the end of the three days, having sold a mass total of 289 tickets during the campaign. Dorothy Luchsinger is captain of this team.

While the official campaign on players tickets has drawn to an end, Tassels have been granted permission to sell until Friday evening. Reason for this, according to University Players authorities, is to allow them to grant requests of many student and faculty members who have asked that they be seen later in the week.

SORORITIES EXPRESS

OPINION ON PARTIES

Survey Indicates Varying Views on Abolition of Downtown Parties.

The question of whether or not they will give up downtown parties remains the bone of contention between the various groups of feminine Greeks about the campus, as revealed by the balloting which closed Monday. Sororities were asked for an expression of their opinion by the pan-Hellenic office, which will present the question to a vote of the student council at their meeting next Monday.

Three factions seem to be expressing opinions as to whether they will give up downtown parties in order to curtail expenses this year, according to the pan-Hellenic office, from a brief survey of the ballots which have been turned in. A number of the groups have expressed themselves as being anxious to do away with the parties, others are loath to give them up, and a third group states that it is willing to side with the majority.

Marionette Shows Have Charmed For Many Years; Not Synonymous With Puppets as Popularly Called

By MARY SUTTON.

The marionette has always held a peculiar fascination for men. The smallest child and the most sophisticated "grown-up" will find amusement in watching these small replicas of human beings dance gaily through their short span of life. And well may we congratulate these little creatures, for unlike the rest of men's playthings, they have delighted him almost six thousand years, for the art of puppet making is almost as old as civilized man.

The puppet is the progenitor of the marionette—a word often, but erroneously used as synonymous with puppet. Puppets of various kinds were in vogue in ancient Egypt, China, Java and India. In early Greek and Roman history mention is made of them. Later, a special sort of puppet, the Guignol, became one of the most common forms of amusement in Europe, and its popularity was reflected in this country in the once familiar person of Mr. Punch. But the Guignol, and the shadow puppets of China and Java are not the highest forms of the art. The finest type of the puppet is the marionette which made its first real appearance in the time of the early Christian church. Marionettes were used to reenact scenes from the Bible as it was thought to be sacrilegious for human beings to take the parts of Biblical characters.

BARB FACTION ELECTS WILLIAMS PRESIDENT

Gordon Williams Chosen New Leader After Nash Resigns Post.

POLICY CHANGE SEEN

By THE OBSERVER.

That the Barb faction is not to remain inactive as a campus political power during the coming year was indicated Wednesday night when they elected Gordon Williams president. William's election followed the resignation of Delphin Nash who stepped out because he desired to give younger members of the party an opportunity to organize freshmen and sophomore non-fraternity students.

Gordon Williams, a sophomore, is the brother of Alan Williams who has been dipping a long finger into the campus political porridge for the past four years. The older Williams, who was a barb member of Innocents society last year—the only non-fraternity man to make the society in twenty years—is best remembered for the stir he created as a sophomore. During that year Williams succeeded in running four barb candidates into class presidency offices.

According to the new president the Barb political faction will meet this evening to select a slate of candidates which they plan to file for next Tuesday's election.

Nash, although he has stepped out of non-fraternity faction ranks, will continue as chairman of the Barb council. Campus politicians who are aligned in the ranks of fraternity factions are always at a loss as to what they may expect from Barb quarters. If organized this group could easily elect any candidate they chose to name for the non-fraternity potential voting power is far stronger than that of either of the fraternity factions. In the overthrow of three years ago the Barb faction forced the Blue Shirts and Yellow Jackets to combine in order to keep the Barb slate from going through during the second semester.

ENGINEERING FROSH TAKE CENSUS WORK

On Saturday, October 3, all the freshmen orientation students will serve as counters in taking a census of traffic flow in downtown Lincoln. Each counter will serve for a period of three hours. Each student must report at the office of Professor Evinger, Room 109, Nebraska Hall not later than the afternoon of Thursday, October 1, to receive assignment of counting station and the hours of service.

TODAY REVIVES OLD 'HELLO DAY' GREETING RITE

Plan Sponsored by A. W. S. Designed to Unify Student Body.

FACULTY APPROVES PLAN

Husker Organization Leaders Also Express Approval Of Greeting Idea.

Revising what many years ago was a tradition, but which died from lack of support, the faculty and upperclass students will greet all freshmen this morning with a friendly word and smile.

Starting this morning is "hello day" which if it conforms to the plans of the A. W. S. board, sponsor, will be the beginning of a closer relationship between freshmen and others of the campus.

The tradition originating many years ago, although it failed to exist for more than a year, was a "great success while it lasted," according to Amanda Hepper, dean of women. Dean Hepper said that the former custom was hailed by both freshmen and upperclassmen as an excellent plan which made for unity and spirit. There was no apparent barrier between these two groups when the plan was in session. (Continued on Page 3.)

PAN-HELLENIC BANQUET PLANS NEAR FINISH

Large Attendance Expected At Annual Affair Set For October 13.

Arrangements for the annual Pan-Hellenic banquet, scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 13, will be completed by the end of this week. Mrs. Gerald Carpenter, general chairman, announced yesterday. Tickets have been placed in the hands of the twenty-three individual sororities, and sales are being conducted locally in each group.

A large attendance is expected at the affair, since sorority houses will probably be closed to dinners on that evening, according to Julia Simanek, Pan-Hellenic chairman on the campus.

The banquet, which is an annual affair, has been changed from the spring to the fall of the year for the first time this year since lagging enthusiasm at the end of the social season has hindered it in the past, according to Mrs. Burnett. It is hoped that the change of time will prove more valuable in stirring up enthusiasm at the beginning of the year.

Festivities will begin promptly at 6:30 at the scheduled date at the Cornhusker hotel, and will be in charge of the following committees of Lincoln women:

General chairman: Mrs. Gerald Carpenter. Entertainment: Miss Alice Holwell, chairman; Miss Susan Jobst, Mrs. Sheldon Hallett, and Mrs. E. W. Lantz. Charts and prizes: Mrs. Warren Ogden. Ticket committee: Mrs. H. C. Mardis, chairman; Mrs. Gertrude Beer, Miss Ruth Bogen, Miss Clara Slade. Decoration: Mrs. W. W. Burr, chairman; Mrs. Gayle Walker, Mrs. F. A. Reed. Table arrangements: Mrs. F. D. Coleman, chairman; Mrs. H. J. Kirkpatrick. Menu: Mrs. Paul Lessenhop, chairman; Miss Gladys Beaumont. Publicity: Mrs. Knox Burnett.

FORTY TRY OUT FOR RIFLES

Best Appearing Applicants Will Take Another Test Later in Week.

More than forty applicants were present at the tryouts for membership in Pershing Rifles, honorary drill organization, held in Nebraska Hall last night. It was the last of a series of two tryouts to be held this fall.

Members of the military department checked the candidates, while the officers of Pershing Rifles gave the commands. About one hundred applicants were present during the two tryouts.

Later in the week there will be a list in The Daily Nebraskan of those men who appeared the best in the tryouts. These men are to report to Nebraska Hall next Tuesday at 5 o'clock to take a test on their general knowledge of military science.

"Ye Stag Hunt" is the theme to be carried out at a stag party to be held at the Baptist Student house, 1440 Q street, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The four Baptist churches of Lincoln join in extending a welcome to all men students to attend this party and become acquainted with faculty members and students, according to an announcement received yesterday.

SELECTION OF STAFF POSITIONS IS RUSHED

Appointments to Yearbook Posts Delayed for a Short Time.

ELIGIBILITY IS CHECKED

The complete list of the new staff members of the Cornhusker will be published in either the Friday or Sunday issue of The Daily Nebraskan. Eligibility of the applicants must be checked before selections can be made. The rapidity with which this can be done will determine the date of publication. Work of selecting the new members starts today and will be rushed thru in order to get the list out as soon as possible.

R. R. Mapleson, representative of the Burger-Baird Engraving company of Kansas City, was here Wednesday making arrangements for the engraving of the Cornhusker. The dummy of this year's Annual has been laid out and everything is in shape to start things moving in the Cornhusker office.

Students are reminded that it is time to have those pictures taken. A number of students have responded to the request but there are still many pictures lacking, so get them taken at either Hauck's or Townsend's studios as soon as possible.

MARTIN TELLS FORUM OF RUSSIAN SITUATION

Seventy-Five Hear Russian Student's Talk on Soviet's Plans.

"It is the support of the youth of Russia upon which the Soviet is basing its success," declared Melvin Martin, Russian student in the university, to the seventy-five students and faculty members who attended the first meeting of the World Forum at the Grand Hotel Wednesday noon.

"They are the ones who appreciate the intrinsic values of the five year plan," he continued, "rather than the older people. The adjustment has been very difficult for them."

Mr. Martin, in outlining the background and political history of the soviet system, spoke especially of the influence of Lenin, Trotsky, and the theories of Carl Marx.

"The Russian is a man of extremes," he explained, "willing to sacrifice himself and all of his possessions for a cause."

Idealism is one of the most striking characteristics of the Russians, the speaker continued. It is this quality which enables them to rise above the consideration of hunger, fatigue and cold, in the realization that their sacrifice is a positive contribution to the cause to which they are devoted.

Martin's speech Wednesday was the first of five discussions to be sponsored by the World Forum, on Russia's five year plan. Professor Harold W. Stokes, of the political science department will present his views of the political aspect of the five year plan at the next forum meeting, October 7.

Following Professor Stokes, Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the department of home economics, will describe her experiences in Russia this summer, with particular reference to the educational system, and the living conditions which she saw.

Martin will again lead a discussion on the topic of the economic aspect of the soviet plan. Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the department of economics will close the series on Russia, with a presentation of the views of an outsider on the economic situation created by the five year plan.

Dr. George A. Coe of the University of Chicago is to be a special guest of the University of Nebraska on Oct. 28, and will lead a Forum discussion at that time.

OBSERVER HEARKS TO DAME RUMOR'S POLITICAL TALK

Jean Rathburn and Gretchen Fee Rumored Candidates For Honorary Post.

FACTIONS MEET TONIGHT

Student Council President Names Snipes Chairman Polls Committee.

By THE OBSERVER. Political interest on the campus has taken another jump with the circulation of a well founded rumor that Jean Rathburn, Delta Gamma, and Gretchen Fee, Delta Delta Delta, both members of Mortar Board society, are planning to file as candidates for honorary colonel.

There will doubtless be other filings, for usually six or eight girls contest for this position. The rounds of campus political chatter, however, reveal only these two names, official authorization of which cannot be made until the student activities filings, to be made Friday, are announced.

Faction politics are progressing with the regular time-honored pre-election activity. Blue Shirt majority faction members met Tuesday evening at the Delta Tau Delta house and named part of their slate. They will complete their nominations tonight when (Continued on Page 2.)

ALL-ACTIVITIES TEA SCHEDULED FOR AFTERNOON

Annual Affair, Sponsored By A. W. S. Board, Set For Today at 3:30.

An opportunity to learn more about the various activities on the campus will be given all university women this afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 at the all-activities tea which the Associated Womens Students Board is sponsoring in Ellen Smith Hall. Representatives of women's organizations will be present to answer any questions the guests may care to ask, especially will queries by freshmen be attended to.

Dorothy Weaver, senior member of the A. W. S. board, is in charge of the general arrangements. Members of Tassels will be in uniform at the door to receive the girls and usher them to the different rooms where representatives of A. W. S., Womens Athletic Association, Big Sister Board, League of Women Voters and the Y. W. C. A. will explain the aims and interests of their particular group.

A miscellaneous room has been arranged by Juliette Deetkin, president of Tassels with Bernice Palmquist, Margaret Chevrant and Virginia Woolfolk assisting her.

One of the main functions of the tea, besides that of acquainting the girls with the different activities, is to find out in what organization (Continued on Page 3.)

FIRE HITS SIGMA CHI'S

Dartmouth Chapter House Is Gutted; Two Members Are Injured.

A disastrous fire, starting at about six in the morning, gutted the three story frame structure of the Sigma Chi fraternity house at Dartmouth university the first of the week.

Of the fifteen students sleeping in the building, two were injured, and the others barely escaped before the fire was discovered by one of the fraternity men.

An overnight guest of the fraternity was also injured. It is thought that an overheated furnace was the cause of the fire. The building was one of the finest fraternity houses on the Dartmouth campus.

'The Bacon Is Mine' Says Graduate Upon Receipt of Degree

"The bacon is mine." This short but significant message was sent to Dr. D. D. Whitney, professor of zoology, by William Vincent Lambert, a graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1921. Dr. Whitney had told Lambert to go out and "bring home the bacon" upon his leaving of the university.

Mr. Lambert recently received his Ph. D. degree in genetics at the University of California, at Berkeley. He is now an assistant professor of genetics at the Iowa State college at Ames.

NEW IMPROVEMENT EXPLAINED BY SEATON

Operating Superintendent Gives Review of Plans For Expansion.

RAIN MAY DELAY MALL

Work on improving the University of Nebraska campus has been progressing very well this year, according to L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent. Several new improvements have been proposed in addition to those already under way. Additions will be erected on both this campus and that of the Medical College in Omaha, Mr. Seaton says.

Work on the swimming pool has been going a bit slower than expected. The plumbing, however, is well under way and it will probably be completed not long after the expected date of November 15th.

The mall is being constructed on the site of the old drill field and will probably be completed in about three weeks. But should rain continue for very long, the completion of this work will be delayed also.

Workmen will start wrecking the old Sigma Chi building and the building next to it this fall preparatory to building a girls' dormitory on that location sometime in the near future. Architects are now preparing plans which will be submitted for bids as soon as possible. The women's dormitory will probably be one of the best of its kind in this part of the country, according to the operating superintendent.

WORK ON DIRECTORY PROGRESSES RAPIDLY

Editor Says Finished Book Ready for Sale About November First.

With the A and B lists for the student directory corrected, work is progressing rapidly toward the publication of the book. The directory will be ready for sale about Nov. 1. Lists of students whose last names begin with C, D, E, or F were posted in Social Science hall for correction this morning.

James Crabill, editor of the directory, asks that all students make corrections as soon as possible. Otherwise the information as typed on the lists will be printed in the directory.

"I wish that all of the students would check their names as soon as the lists are posted," C. D. Hayes, university Y. M. C. A. secretary, said yesterday. "Some of them are very slow about this, and without their help, we cannot make the directory absolutely correct."

All names have been alphabetized, and the typed lists will be posted at intervals of two days until every letter has been checked.

The contract for the printing has been let to the McKelvie Publishing company.

Rain and Mud Makes Feature Writer Morbid About the Campus Beautiful, But She Finds Hope in the New Mall

IDA HOZENOZZLE. Rain and mud, and then—more rain and more mud. By slipping and sliding, and tramping and stamping, and driving and pushing, and words and tongue lashings—frosted over with plenty of careful maneuvering, Nebraska's student body makes its way across the Campus Beautiful. It is like a bad dream or a nightmare. It is something to mention to one's tried and true friends in low tones. It is something parents cringe before, and send their children to college to learn for themselves. It is something that leaves its mark on every man, woman or child who has the misfortune to be drawn in by its slimy, boggy lure. It is the end of the world, the jumping off place of creation. Bright red slickers, delicate mauves, crashing blues, lovely pastels, sheer chiffon hose, webby nets—trim sport oxfords, and teetering spikes. It gets them all, makes them as horrid and sordid and morbid as itself. Like a rain-

REQUEST EARLY MEALS

Fifteen-Minute Display of Spirit at Railroad Station Planned.

Plans for the first rousing rally, which will be staged tonight at the railroad station, have been completed according to Art Mitchell, rally chairman.

The pep meeting will take place at the Chicago and Northwestern railroad station, on 9th and S Sts., at 6:45 p. m. Because the train carrying the football team to the Northwestern game leaves at 7 o'clock, only a fifteen minute program has been planned.

Nebraska's R. O. T. C. band will start down R street and fraternity row at 6:30 o'clock this evening, to arouse interest in the rally.

The band will march up R street to Sixteenth, up Sixteenth to S, back on S to Fourteenth, and from there to R street and then to the depot. Band Director William T. Quick has asked the bandsmen to gather at the Temple theater just previous to 6:30, when the march will start.

Bible To Talk.

A part of the program at the railroad station will include a short speech by Dana X. Bible, head coach of the team. Others on the coaching staff will also talk. Jim Gilbert, captain of the team for the game, and several other members of the team, will talk to the students from the train, it was announced.

The new cheerleaders, chosen at the tryouts last week, will have charge of the yelling at the station. The Corn Cobs and Tassels, pep organizations, will help in handling the crowd and working up the spirit. Members of these organizations have been asked to appear. (Continued on Page 2.)

LAWRENCE ATTENDS MEET Faculty Member Publication Board Goes to Kansas Conference.

J. E. Lawrence, faculty member of the publication board, will attend the annual Kansas Journalism Round Table meeting at Lawrence, Kas., on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 2-3.

At this meeting, to which all the editors of Kansas newspapers are invited, current problems concerning the newspaper business in general will be discussed.

Who can concentrate on good and bad—when there is no good? How many one absorb fossils, and rocks, and strata—when one has had a taste of the first strata, and hopes against hope not to sink to the second? What martyr will pay heed to a rapturous discussion of shimmering textiles, and precious color harmonies, when dripping rain coats and bedraggled countenances stretch out as far as the eye can see? And yet—there is a ray of light in all this fog and gloom. There is a silver lining to yon dingy cloud. Mail is the answer! Glorious blooming mail, with wide paved thoroughfares, and intriguing little paths! There is another year's wardrobe to be purchased—as gay and as stimulating as this year's. There is another year of classes—strata, fossils, textiles! What price glory! Rain and mud, and then—more rain and more mud...
