

VARSITY PLANS HARD WORKOUTS FOR THIS WEEK

Biblemen Looking Toward Annual Tussle With Freshman Team.

SCOUT JAYHAWK TEAM

Kansas Squad Has Heavy Line; Nebraska May Take to Air.

Although Nebraska's game with Kansas is two weeks away, there will be no letup in the Husker camp as far as hard work is concerned. The varsity is looking forward to the annual game with the freshmen Saturday, and hard workouts are on the schedule for this week.

Monday practice was devoted mainly to correcting faults found in the Oklahoma game Saturday. The players were given a chalk talk and a light workout.

Work On Passes.

A great deal of time will be spent on the pass attack which failed to function against the Sooners. An effort will be made to instill confidence in this form of offense, Bill Day, who scouted the Kansas game last week, reports that the Jayhawkers are presenting a powerful team this year with a line that will average weight over 200 pounds from tackle to tackle. Going up against a heavy line like this, Nebraska may be forced to take to the air, and it is for this reason that the passing will be worked on for the next two weeks.

No Injuries Reported.

All Cornhuskers that saw action last Saturday emerged in good shape with no injuries reported.

Although the work of the Huskers against Oklahoma was ragged at times, the line was outstanding. Durkie and Schmitt on the ends stopped the Sooner back from skirting the wings. Rhea, Gilbert and O'Brien looked good in the tackle positions while Justice, Bishop, DeBus, in the guards stopped everything that came their way. Kretzinger, Roby and Sauer looked best in the backfield. Nebraska has enough material this year so that the positions continue to be competitive and selections for the starting lineup depend on the work of the men during practice.

The annual game with the freshman Saturday should be a good one. In sixty minutes of football last Wednesday, the yearlings stopped the varsity to one touchdown. An admission price of 25 cents will be charged, the proceeds of the game going to the R. O. T. C. band for a trip which will be announced later.

HUSKERS AT TOP IN PERCENTAGES COLUMN BIG SIX

JAYS DEFEAT MILLIKIN

Missouri Loses First Two Games As the Season Commences.

With four of the Big Six teams in a conference competition last Saturday, Nebraska and Kansas Aggies now rest at the top of the percentage column.

Both Nebraska and the K-Aggies were impressive in their victories over Oklahoma and Missouri. Nebraska, taking a 13 to 0 count over the Sooners, places itself in the list of championship contenders. Kansas Aggies won a decisive victory over Missouri by the score of 20 to 7 and established itself as one of the most powerful teams in the conference.

Kansas Jayhawkers won a warmup game with Millikin by the score of 30 to 0 which settles nothing in the minds of the average fan as to the strength of last year's champions. Iowa State journeyed back to Detroit only to lose to Detroit U. 20 to 0.

Oklahoma Plays Texas.

The Oklahoma-Texas university and the Kansas Aggie-Kansas university games hold the spotlight in the Big Six for this week. Iowa State has an open date while Nebraska will play their annual game with the Husker freshmen. Missouri goes to Boulder to meet the University of Colorado eleven.

When Oklahoma takes on the Longhorns from Texas, they will be meeting one of the strongest eleven in the south. Although both teams were defeated last week they must still be rated among the leading teams of their respective conferences. The game should be a hard one with Texas having the edge.

Kansas will meet its first conference opponent and will definitely establish the strength or weakness of the K-Aggies. The dope bucket swings strongly toward the side of the Jayhawkers. The University of Colorado is a strong favorite to take the Missouri Tigers. Missouri has lost to Texas and Kansas Aggies this year, and playing on the home field of the Silver and Gold team will probably find Colorado's strength too much for her.

STUDENT PASTOR HONORED

Rev. W. C. Fawell Elected President Methodist Association.

Rev. W. C. Fawell, director of the Wesley foundation and Methodist student pastor, was elected president of the Lincoln Methodist Ministers association at a meeting held yesterday morning. Rev. Victor West is the retiring president.

Rev. Mr. Fawell was also appointed to the publicity committee for the coming of Burt Smith and his delegation, who will hold sessions at St. Paul's church all day Nov. 5.

BARN WILL BE ERECTED

Iowa State Advertisers for Bids On Cattle Barn.

AMES, Iowa.—Iowa State college has been authorized by the state executive council to advertise for bids for the construction of a beef cattle barn to replace the one which burned down Tuesday night, according to Herman Knapp, treasurer and business manager.

President R. M. Hughes will meet with the state executive council in Des Moines Monday to discuss plans for the new building.

College cattle are now being housed in part of the horse and veterinary barns.

HOMECOMING DAY

CARNIE SMITH—QUARTERBACK

FRANK PETE BAUSCH

EMIL BORELLO—HALFBACK

OTTO ROST

These four Kansas players will lead the Jayhawkers in their attempt to avenge the 16 to 0 defeat on the Lawrence gridiron last season when they journey to Lincoln to meet the Huskers in the Homecoming Day game on October 24. Rost is a 205-pound tackle who is playing his third year of varsity competition for Kansas. Bausch, brother of the famous "Jarring Jim," was an all Big Six second team center in 1929 and, after an absence of a year, will be back to fill the pivot position. Smith, who is calling the signals is another 200-pounder and Borello, although weighing only 164, is another of the Jayhawk threats this season.

THESE MEN MAY WORRY HUSKERS ON

Nebraska seems to have found itself at last. At least the work of the Cornhuskers in their 13 to 0 victory over Oklahoma would indicate that fact. The work of the line was much better than anything shown so far this season, but the blocking is still ragged. The difficulty Nebraska had in winning was due not to poor playing on their part, but to the fact that Oklahoma has a powerful team. The Sooners are rated better this year than they were in 1930 when they gave Nebraska a good licking.

Nebraska's passing attack was a complete flop Saturday, the Huskers failing to complete a single pass. In fact, the first two tosses attempted were intercepted by an Oklahoma man. A great deal of time will probably be spent between now and Oct. 24, when Nebraska and Kansas meet, on this part of the Husker offense.

One very noticeable thing Saturday was that during time outs all members of the Nebraska team kept on their feet as though they were anxious to get going again. This was a marked contrast to the Northwestern game when the Huskers flopped to the ground as if they were all worn out the minute time was taken out. Nebraska seems to be in better shape now, and unless we miss our guess they will go a long way toward finishing the season in a big way.

Reporters in the press box Saturday began to fear that the game was going to end in a scoreless tie. Such games are extremely difficult to write about, with no sensational play for a lead. But George Sauer came along and saved the day, both for Nebraska and the sports reporters. Those two runs were certainly a beautiful piece of work, with good interference and speed that we had never given Sauer credit for. Any man that can outrun Guy Warren can really run, and that is exactly what Sauer did.

Oklahoma is represented this year by a very strong eleven. Their strength may be shown by that fact that they had an easy time defeating Rice, while Saturday Rice held a one touchdown advantage over Texas. Texas beat Missouri 31 to 0 and Nebraska defeated Oklahoma. So just what does that make Nebraska over Missouri? But comparative figures mean little in this game of football, and Nebraska will find all of these teams tough to beat, especially with all of them pointing to the Husker game.

The work of Bill Pansze, Sooner sophomore back, was disappointing to the people that expected him to furnish excitement to a slow, uninteresting game. Going in shortly before the first half ended, Pansze was unable to gain against the heavy Nebraska line and the slippery footing of the field. Besides that, a little man has a hard time of it when some husky lineman picks him up and tosses him to the ground.

A news dispatch from Harold Keith, head of the Sooner sports service, gave some interesting dope. Keith, in his story, said: "If Oklahoma defeats Nebraska Saturday she will be the third 'Big Six' or Missouri Valley team since 1894 to accomplish that feat two years in a row. In 1908 and 1909 Kansas beat the Huskers 20 to 5 and 6 to 0. In 1924 and 1925 Drake beat Nebraska, 28 to 0 and 14 to 0, and in 1925, '26 and '27 Missouri whipped the Huskers 9 to 6, 14 to 7 and 7 to 6." He finishes his article with the following comment: "But look how good the Huskers were all the rest of that time."

ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE OF SPEEDBALL GAMES

Girls Playing With Groups Must File Doctor's Certificate.

CONTEST BEGINS OCT. 13

The schedule for the speedball tournament has been posted on the east bulletin board in the girls gymnasium. All girls who are planning to play with their group are again asked by the intramural head to have their doctors certificate in before the first game is played. Although hockey players make use of the big field in back of social science every night, those wishing to practice speedball may do so on the small field beside Teachers college.

The contest for speedball championship begins Tuesday, Oct. 13, and at that time the large hockey field will be used and all games will be run off between 5 and 6 every night. In case of rain the games scheduled for that night will be postponed, and the remainder of the week's schedule will be continued when it is clear. A reschedule of the postponed games may be obtained in the intramural office.

Oct. 13—Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Delta Gamma.
Oct. 14—Alpha Delta Pi vs. Kappa Delta.
Oct. 15—Lambda Gamma vs. Phi Mu.

Oct. 27—NEeds vs. winner of Alpha Delta Pi-Kappa Delta match.
Oct. 28—Chi Omega vs. winner of Alpha Chi Omega-Gamma Phi Beta match.

FIRST MEETING IS HELD

Members of Sigma Xi Hear Prof. W. K. DeBaufre Talk on Heat.

The first meeting of the University of Nebraska Chapter of Sigma Xi was held at Morrill hall, Monday Oct. 12, 1931 at 7:30 p. m. Professor William Lane DeBaufre, chairman of department of applied mechanics, lectured on "Stresses due to heat transfer." The meeting was open to the public.

When heat is transferred thru boiler tubes, the outside of the tubes exposed to the hot products of combustion becomes warmer than the inside of the tubes in contact with water. Stresses are consequently set up in the metal of the tube wall. Professor DeBaufre discussed the magnitude and significance of such stresses.

HOLD PADDLE TENNIS PRACTICE THIS WEEK

Tournament Play to Start Oct. 19; Groups May Enter Teams.

Practices for the paddle tennis tourney will be held from 5-6, Oct. 12-16, in the girls' gymnasium. There are four courts which will accommodate sixteen girls. Paddle tennis is played and counted exactly as in tennis. If anyone is unfamiliar with the game she may have her partner help her. Doubles will be played so it will be necessary for all groups to be entered in the form of doubles teams.

The tournament is open to all girls, and those who wish to participate are asked by Miss McDonald to find a partner and hand in their names to the intramural office by Oct. 14, so that the games may be arranged to allow tourney play to be in full swing by Oct. 19. If organizations plan to send in teams there is no limit as to the number they may enter.

Victors of matches will be determined by winning two out of three sets or by winning the greatest total number of games with two more than the opponents by the end of the hour of tourney play. Each team will keep its own score and hand it in to the intramural office after the game.

SURVEY DIVISION RELEASES REPORT CLAY COUNTY SOIL

A soil survey of Clay county has been released by the U. S. department of agriculture in co-operation with the conservation and survey division of the university. R. C. Roberts, representing the government, and Ralph Gimmell, of the Nebraska soil survey, recently completed the work.
