BECK'S OPEN WINTER DANCE SEASON TONITE

Popular Band Plays in New Silver Ballroom at Hotel Lindell.

ADMISSION IS REDUCED

Attempting to co-operate with the students of the university in their economy program, Leo Beck and his orchestra will open the winter dancing season in the Silver Ballroom of the Hotel Lindell tonight with the general admission tickets reduced as compared to the admission of last year.

In addition to the reduction in tickets, the management of the hotel has arranged a new and elaborate lounge for the comfort and convenience of those patronizing the week end balls.

The new lounge, which is immediately off the ballroom, and which will have large divans, card tables, etc., will give those attending the dances a comfortable place to enjoy themselves while not dancing.

The ballroom is elaborately decorated in a scheme entirely new. Dick Erneste, one of Lincoln's best interior decorators, has been in charge.

The Lindell management has contracted for many unusually good bands from out of the city to play thruout the dancing season. Leo Beck will open the ball Friday night and Simon Harold and his colored band will play Saturday night.

Beck, who will play in the Silver ballroom, from time to time, will introduce many novelties and special entertainers. This year's admission price is $1 per couple, which includes checking of wraps.

CORNHUSKER PICTURES are now being taken at Hauck's Studio, 1218 O street.

M'KINLEY TO TELL OF WORK IN RUSSIA

Graduate Spent Five Years Teaching Russians How to Farm.

Irving McKinley, ag college graduate who has been in Russia the past year trying to teach some of the Russians how to farm, will tell some of his experiences at an open meeting of the Dellian-Union Literary society, Friday night, Oct. 23. McKinley has just returned from Russia and is at home at Ponca, Neb., at the present time.

Five or six graduates of the Nebraska agricultural college went to Russia a year ago in July as special employees of the new Russian government. Most of the men were employed on extensive hog farms to direct the work of several hundred workers. The Russians were trying to copy the hog lot sanitation and the feeding methods used by Nebraska farmers in raising hogs.

McKinley will be able to give first hand information about the living conditions of the people under the much discussed "five year plan" thru which the new Russian government hopes to make over their country. A special notice regarding the meeting is being distributed to instructors and students on the agricultural college campus this week. Anyone who is interested in the Russian situation will be welcome at the meeting. Phil Ehrenhart, president of the organization, said on Wednesday morning.

Arrangements are being made for additional entertainment in the program which starts at 8:30. Following the usual custom, the group will have a social hour immediately after the program. Visitors are invited to stay for these games if they care to do so.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS WILL USE PAINTING

Kirsch Does Full-Length Portrait Yenne for Production.

MOSQUITOS BITE HERB

BY RO PIZER.

In their presentation of "Berkeley Square" University Players will use a portrait painted especially for the production. The picture is the work of Dwight Kirsch who is in charge of all scenery for University Players. Herbert Yenne who plays the stellar role in "Berkeley Square" posed for the picture in his costume for the play.

According to Mr. Yenne, this detail of properties is very important and is being carried out with the care and exactitude of David Belasco. Mr. Yenne added further that Mr. Kirsch required about nine hours of posing on his, Mr. Yenne's part, and that the posing took place in Mr. Kirsch's backyard where there are numerous mosquitoes. It is hoped that concentrated treatment will effect sufficient cure to insure Mr. Yenne's presence of mind while enacting the role of Peter Standish.

"Berkeley Square" opens for a week's run at the Temple theater on Monday evening at 7:30 p. m. This is the first of the six plays to be presented by University Players this year.

After all, it's a Townsend photograph that you want.

HUMOR MAGAZINE TO APPEAR NEXT WEEK

dent at Nebraska University, Montross said.

Improve Appearance.
"The appearance of the magazine has been greatly improved through the use of a better format. The material has been arranged in three columns instead of the old method of two, which makes the pages much easier to read," Marvin Robinson, editor, declared.

A more modern typography is being used in the headings this year. A uniform arrangement of cartoons has been devised that will appear throughout the magazine.

Work has started on the November issue which will not be a special number, and copy and art work is being received at the Awwan office. "We would like to have contributions of short poetry so the poetry page can be reinstated," Robinson said.

The rest of the block subscriptions should be in immediately. There is a possibility that there will not be enough copies of the magazine to go around if this matter is delayed until after the publication is out. A number of copies will be mailed out to ex-
