ORGANIZATION AND HISTORY OF PERSHING RIFLES IS TOLD.

order drill which at that time was a new phase of military tactics was introduced.
By this time the dance given by members of Pershing Rifles every year had become one of the leading social functions on the campus. It later developed into the Military Ball, which remains today one of the leading social events of the campus.

Pershing Rifles under the command of Captain Oury made a very impressive showing in an exhibition before the National Guard of Nebraska. The exhibition was given to create interest in enlistment in the Spanish-American war which had been declared a short time before. Captain Oury and thirty members of Pershing Rifles enlisted for service, and that group went to the war intact. Every one of these men received some honor before the war was over.

In 1907, the captain of the organization caused one semester of drill to be required for membership in Pershing Rifles and that membership from that time on be brought about by election of the Pershing Rifle chapter. Pershing evidenced his interest in his old organization by presenting it with a Spanish cannon, three swords and a silk flag. In 1910, Pershing started the annual presentation of the Pershing Medal, awarded to the best soldier student in the advanced course who was a member of Pershing Rifles.

Reorganized After War.
In 1920, after the disbanding of the organization during the war. Pershing Rifles was revived as an organization for advanced course students in military science. However, it soon reverted to its original form since Scabbard and Blade was organized for advanced students.

In 1925 Pershing Rifles' plan of nationalization was started by admitting a company at Ohio State university. In May of 1927, a petition for a chapter of Pershing Rifles at the University of Tennessee was granted. From that time on expansion went on, and now the organization has chapters at Nebraska, Ohio State, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Iowa, Washington, Missouri, Minnesota, Tennessee, Syracuse, California, and U. C. L. A.

Last year for the first time, the national headquarters sponsored and headed a small bore rifle match between companies of the organization. The University of Iowa won the first tournament and was awarded a silver loving cup. Any company winning the cup three successive times is awarded the cup permanently.
In addition to the history of the organization, the bulletin contains the constitution of Pershing Rifles, a short biography of General Pershing, rules for the rifle matches, and a retiring message from Carl J. Hahn. The national organization plans to publish the Pershing Rifleman annually.

DETRICK URGES ALL PHOTOS TAKEN NOW

Yearbook Editor Declares Deadline Will Be Set Soon.

The deadline for Cornhusker pictures has not yet been set, but will be announced in the near future, Editor Otis Detrick said yesterday. Students are urged to have their pictures taken immediately in order to avoid the confusion that there will be when it is announced.
"We have been asked repeatedly when the deadline is going to be. As yet we are announcing no deadline, but when we do it is going to be entirely different than the usual dead line," Detrick said.
"The fact that they have been asking about the dead line shows that the students intend to have their pictures taken but want to postpone their sittings as long as possible," he continued. "The deadline is going to put a burden on the individual who is procrastinating," Detrick declared.

CHURCH GROUP WILL HAVE PICNIC TODAY

Leading the First Christian church weekly discussion group, T. F. A. Williams, prominent Lincoln lawyer, will speak at that church, on 16th and K streets, Sunday evening, November 1, at 6:30 o'clock.
A picnic will be held by this same group, today at 5:30 o'clock. The group will meet at the church and from there go to the picnic grounds. If the weather is bad, the picnic will be held at the church.

EPISODES

By Oliver DeWolf

It may be old news now, but it is still good news to Ramsey McDonald. The Prime Minister of England was swept into power by a mammoth majority of more than five hundred of the six-hundred and fifteen seats in the House of Commons. The labor representation was practically wiped out of the House with a loss of 235 seats. Arthur Henderson, former friend, and later opponent of McDonald, was among the members of the labor party to lose his seat.

Four women members of the labor party were not returned to the House of Commons which makes it rather tough on the ladies. Lady Astor, a conservative, and a recent member of George Bernard Shaw's tour of Russia, however, will be seen and heard as usual. Among the other party leaders that were returned to the House by their constituencies are: Stanley Baldwin, conservative, David Lloyd George, liberal, Sir John Simon, national labor, and Winston Churchill, conservative.

Now that someone has reminded us of the fact, we do wonder what became of former President Coolidge's little column, that used to inform Mr. and Mrs. American, what was what and why in a few hundred good American dailies.

Loans, Loans, and still more loans. And here's another one. A lending group that will be known as the National Corn Credit corporation has been secretly organized to lend approximately ten million dollars to farmers wishing to hold their corn crop for higher prices. The leaders in this new movement are: Earl Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, Charles R. Hersh, head of the Iowa farm bureau; Mark Woods, Lincoln, Neb. and William H. Settle of Indianapolis. The corporation plans to lend money only on corn that is being held for the market, which will eliminate the holding of corn to feed livestock. Loans are to be made for nine months or less at the discretion of the farmer.

Speaking of puzzles, President Hoover is, at the present time, confronted with a nice, great, big, important one. Who is going to control the next congress? The present lineup in the house is: 214 democrats, 213 republicans, one farmer laborite, and seven vacancies. It is over these seven vacancies that Mr. Hoover is puzzling. As usual, both the democrats and the republicans are claiming victory, but that, as usual, means nothing. The outcome, however, is going to mean a great deal to the president, and it is possible that his influence is going to mean plenty.

President Hoover is in deep water again, and this time it is about a certain speech he recently made. It seems as tho Mr. Hoover made a few remarks about the navy appropriations with the result that the Navy league is now publicly charging Mr Hoover with "abysmal ignorance of why navies are maintained and how they used to accomplish their major mission. By the way, does anyone know what this word 'abysmal' means? If a recent article in the Outlook is correct, one should spell the Governor of Louisiana's name in this manner: Governor 'Hooyey' P. Long, instead of Governor Huey P. Long.
