JANUARY SALES FOR COMIC BEAT DECEMBER MARK

Larimer Declares Today's Figure May Result in Record Total.

PLAN FEBRUARY ISSUE

Editor Robinson Calls for Material for 'Gripe' Number.

First day sales of the January number of the Avgwan which was released Monday morning, surpassed the total December sales of the humor magazine, Don Larimer, circulation manager, reported late yesterday.

Sales will continue today from booths in campus buildings and on the news stands, he said.

Contributors to the current issue—the unexpurgated fraternity and sorority number—include Roland Miller, Roger Wilkerson, Francis Cunningham, J. T. Coffey, Art Wolf, Howard Allaway, Irma Randall, Marjorie Quivey and Norman Hansen, in addition to the regular editorial staff.

Sales yesterday were conducted from booths in social sciences, teachers college, mathematics building, Andrews hall, Morrill hall and the temple, in addition to city news stands.

Many Sold. Today's sale, according to Larimer, may boost the total to the highest figure for any issue this year.

Fraternity and sorority block subscriptions were delivered to the houses.

The cover, drawn in black and white, is entitled "The Trophy." It depicts a coed examining a fraternity pin with "that glittering look." The editorial page is given over to "How to Identify a Frat Man," and one of the lead articles, by anonymous authors, suggests a new system for rushing as a substitute for the present complicated procedure.

Novel Makeup. "Tidy Greeks," a special page, is bordered with a layout of Greek party bids, and the Theta Sigma Phi page, an innovation of the last issue, contains this time caricatures of outstanding campus personalities.

A frontpiece by Editor Marvin Robinson is outstanding among the issue's art features. A "Greek Tragedy in Two Acts" reveals fraternal "father and son" relationships as a house dad instructs his protegee, with unhappy results.

The suggestion for revision of rushing rules is titled "How to Pick Your Fraternity," and the pages on which it appears are bordered by pictures of Greek club pins.

"Material for the February issue is being accepted and all contributions will be appreciated," according to Editor Robinson. "The next issue will be a 'Gripe' number, giving an opportunity for everyone to get the 'gripes' off his chest."

EXAMS FORCE DELAY IN COED INTRAMURALS

Nebraska Ball and Bowling Tournaments Postponed Until Feb. 1.

The Nebraska ball tournament is temporarily suspended during this week and that of examinations, but the games will again be resumed during the first week in February as will the bowling teams. The winners of the leagues in the bowling tournament will continue bowling beginning Feb. 1. This date will also mark the continuance of the Nebraska ball games.

The schedule for the Nebraska ball games will be:

Alpha Kappa Alpha vs. Chi Omega (1). Alpha Delta Phi vs. Alpha Chi Omega. Alpha Omicron Pi vs. Sigma. Sigma Tau Alpha vs. Kappa Delta (1). Delta Zeta vs. Kappa Alpha Theta. Theta Phi Alpha vs. Zeta Delta Tau. Delta Delta Delta vs. Hobby club. Pi Beta Phi vs. Chi Omega (2). Alpha Delta Theta vs. Phi Mu. Kappa Phi has previously won from Lambda Gamma by scores of 15 to 4, and 15 to 2.

In another game played last week Delta Gamma (1) won from the Alpha Phi team; and the Gamma Phi Beta's won from the Kappa Kappa Gamma team. Kappa Delta (2) drew a bye and the Husker-

SCABBARD AND BLADE TO GIVE BALL FEB. 19

Advanced Drill Honorary Secures Jungbluth For Party.

AT HOTEL CORNHUSKER

An officers ball on the night of Saturday, Feb. 19, is being planned by Scabbard and Blade, advanced course military science honorary. It was revealed last night following a meeting of that group.

The affair, to be known as the Scabbard and Blade Officers ball, will be held at the Cornhusker and Eddie Jungbluth's orchestra has been booked to play, the announcement states. Tickets will sell for $1.

"The purpose of the ball," according to Claude Gillespie, president of Scabbard and Blade, who is in charge of arrangements, "is to stimulate spirit among advanced course students and to get the student officers better acquainted with each other."

All students of the advanced course R. O. T. C., and members of Lincoln organized Officers Reserve corps are eligible to attend the party, Gillespie explained.

Tickets will be on sale by the end of the week by Scabbard and Blade members. They may also be purchased at the offices of the military department.

WOMEN'S RIFLE CLUB ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

Twenty Girls Selected at Trials; Meet Iowa U On Feb. 13.

Twenty girls have been chosen by tryout to represent the Girl's Rifle club of the university. Leone King, Dorothy Frankforter, Jo Darrow, Melva Shoemaker, Lucie Starr, Margaret Reedy, Louise Hossack, Margaret Oleson, Ruthalee Holloway, Lorraine Ericson, Adela Tombrink, Helen B. Wilson, Bernice Moore and Opalle Duhaček. Tryout scores ranged from 89 to 98.

The club will meet every Tuesday evening for instruction under Captain Lyons, from 7 until 9 in the basement of Andrews hall. The first meeting will be held tonight at the range.

Margaret Leonard, the manager, has scheduled the first telegraphic match on Feb. 13 with the girl's rifle team of the University of Iowa. Other matches will be shot this spring with girl's rifle teams of Cornell university, Wichita university, Washington, Louisiana State, Kansas State Agriculture college, Drexel college at Philadelphia, Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh, Kansas, Idaho, Michigan, Maine, South Dakota, Oklahoma, Michigan State, Depauw, Northwestern and Nevada.

Novelty shoots and competition shooting among the various members of the club will feature the spring program.

MOZLER RECITAL UNIVERSITY RADIO FEATURE TODAY

University of Nebraska radio program for today features a recital by August Mozler, violinist and Mary Hall Thomas, soprano, of the faculty of the school of music. They are scheduled to go on the air from 2:30 to 3 o'clock.

The university's radio program is broadcast daily over station KFAB. It is sponsored by the extension division, and daily programs include weather reports, discussion of farm problems by agricultural experts, music and lectures and unusual features of the school's activities of interest to radio listeners.

PLANS FOR BALL DECORATIONS TO BE KNOWN SOON

Chairman Galleher Expects To Let Contract for Party This Week.

REQUEST IDEA POPULAR

Students Respond to Plan By Sending Numbers For Program.

Decorations plans for the Interfraternity ball, scheduled for Feb. 6 in the Hotel Cornhusker main ballroom, will probably be announced and the contract let this week, Norman Galleher, chairman of the committee in charge, reported yesterday.

Negotiations have been begun by John Zellinger, who is in charge of decorations for the ball, and complete plans will be released soon, he said.

Requests for numbers on the all-request dance program have begun coming in and will be acknowledged in the order they are received, according to Chalmers Graham, who is in charge of music for the ball. All requests should be mailed to Graham at the Cornhusker yearbook office at once.

The request idea is a new one for Nebraska parties, but students are sending in many suggestions for the dance program. It is hoped to make the plan an annual custom.

A rapid ticket sale for the event is continuing, reports from Charles Skade, in charge of that department of the ball committee, show. Skade urged all students who plan to attend the ball to buy their tickets at once, since only a limited amount are left. The number of tickets has been limited to the capacity of the ballroom, since the annual dance will be held in a downtown hotel ballroom rather than in the coliseum.

Two fifteen piece orchestras with three special entertainers have been booked for the event. They will play alternately throughout the evening from opposite ends of the ballroom. Both Eddie Jungbluth and Leo Beck's have augmented the size of their bands for the occasion. Beck's will have two pianos, while Lyle DeMoss and the Kvam sisters will entertain with Jungbluth's band.

Engineers Must Sign For Inspection Trip

All Junior and Senior Engineering students who expect to make the annual engineering inspection trip in April, will meet at 5 o'clock in room 206, Mechanical Engineering building, Wednesday, Jan. 20.

BURNETT, HERTZLER DISCUSS CRIME WAVE

Chancellor in Press Story Favors Adoption of State Police.

NEED BETTER OFFICERS

Chancellor E. A. Burnett and Dr. J. O. Hertzler, professor of sociology, were quoted in an article which appeared in the Sunday Journal and Star on the ways of meeting the Nebraska crime problem. The article contained suggestions by several prominent men in the state on what Nebraska can do to meet crime.

Among other things, Chancellor Burnett expressed his desire for a state police force. "The first thing we must do," stated the chancellor, "is to develop that feeling of responsibility on the part of all citizens to support all police measures. And we surely must protect the police officer when he gets in trouble for enforcing the law."

University Helps. He further stated that he thought citizenship should be taught in schools and praised the character education work being done in the Lincoln schools as being of a high order. Referring to the university's contribution to this phase of crime prevention, he said, "We offer plenty of courses intended to be character building courses but we don't insist that everybody take them." To do this, he feels, would require a complete change in the university's policy.

"Our policy is to see that every student in the university conducts himself with due regard for the interests of society. During the first years we supervise those whose education standards are below par."

Dr. Hertzler thinks that better officers and the beginning of more scientific crime work are the primary factor in the betterment of crime in Nebraska. "You can't put on the police force every failed plumber and electrician that can run, jump three feet, run around the block and telephone a message correctly to the sergeant and cope with a rifle. Neither can you expect a $145 a month flatfoot to cope with a criminal of the type of Gus Winkler," he declared.

BY MURLIN SPENCER.

As the smoke of another week's play in the Big Six rolled by, two teams, Missouri and Oklahoma, conceded little chance in the conference race early in the season topped the list with no defeats. Among the early pre-season favorites, only Kansas retained its prestige, winning two games during the week to move up to third place. Nebraska, losing both scheduled games during the week, dropped from a tie for first down to fourth. Kansas State and Iowa State still have their first conference games to win.

Missouri played only one conference game last week, winning easily from Nebraska 30 to 18 despite the loss of Vic Davis and Max Collings. John Cooper, Tiger sophomore, came through for Missouri to count six field goals and place himself as high scorer in the conference. George Stuber, another sophomore, took the place of the veteran Collings out on injuries and proved to be a thorn in the side of the Husker offense.

Sooners Look Good. Oklahoma, also playing only one game during the week, took a close game from Iowa State 37 to 32 when Andy Beck and Percy Main figured brilliantly in the evenings' play. Hugh McDermott, Sooner coach, did not find it necessary to use his returned veterans from Honolulu, Captain Gordon Graalman and Grady Jackson, but will probably insert them into play in the games this week, giving the Sooners an even greater team than the one which has won both conference starts this season.

Kansas gave evidence that they must still be considered in the race by winning two close, hard fought games from Nebraska, 34

WOMEN'S CLUB SEE DRAMA

Two Performances of Play Given for Members And Guests.

Two performances of "Beggar on Horseback" which ran all last week in the Temple theater, were shown yesterday for the Lincoln Women's club. Capacity houses attended both the afternoon and evening productions.

The afternoon showing for members and guests followed the regular meeting of the club. Men were guests of their wives in the evening.

HALF SCHOOL MONEY COMES FROM STATE

Report of Finance Office Reveals University Bears Heavy Load.

14 PERCENT FROM FEES

A financial report of monetary receipts of the University of Nebraska, just released from the finance office, indicates that during the past fiscal year only 58 percent of the money received by the university came from state funds.

Of the remainder, 20 percent is realized from commercial departments and payments for services, 14 percent from student fees, 7 percent from federal grants and 1 percent from income from endowment funds.

With a percentage of 59.8, the instruction cost tops the list of expenditures while the agricultural experiment stations and extension work is second with an expenditure of 15.5 percent. The total income for the year amounted to $4,283,354 while the expenditures were $4,241,549.

Totaling $11,431,643.18, property and equipment is the main item on the grand financial statement. General and special funds amount to $4,472,351.40 while the endowments, which include the permanent university fund, the agricultural college endowment fund and the Bessey Memorial fund amount to $960,845.25.

Not including hourly assistants and part time persons of professional rank, 795 persons were employed by the university in conducting its numerous functions during the past year. In the summaries of salaries and wages which follows, the figure stated is the average paid to the specified group. The number in each group is given before the title. The summary:

No.	Title	Average
4	Executive heads	$6,375
13	Deans	6,054

SKRADSKI STARS IN 32 TO 20 WIN OVER NEBRASKA

Wildcat Center Finds Hoop For 11 Points in Tilt Monday Night.

MASON LEADS SCARLET

Sophomore Chalks Up Five Counters; Blackmen Make 4 Goals.

MANHATTAN—Nebraska could not stop Skradski, Aggie center, and the Huskers dropped the decision to Kansas State college here last night by a score of 32 to 20.

Skradski found the hoop for four field goals and three gift tosses to annex the evening's scoring honors. Brockaway, Wildcat forward, and Poyd, guard, were tied for second high position with half a dozen tallies apiece.

Mason featured the Nebraska play, defensively as well as offensively, scoring five points to lead the Scarlet attack. Three of this total came from free throws.

It was the Huskers' inability to make their shots sink that cost them the game, the ball time after time rolling around the rim to fall outside. The Cornhuskers were able to count four goals from the field, while the Manhattan crew put twelve through the basket.

Thirteen men entered the game for Kansas State, while Nebraska used eight players.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND SUNDAY MUSEUM TALK

Miss Shanafelt and Schultz Describe Ocean Fish And Fossils.

A capacity audience listened to a speech on "Ocean Life," given by Marjorie Shanafelt, director of visual education, before the children's section of the afternoon museum program in Morrill hall Sunday. C. Bertrand Schultz, preparator at the museum, discussed digging fossils in Nebraska before the adult section.

Miss Shanafelt gave an account of ocean fish such as corals, sponges and lobsters. Her program concluded with a film called "Horse and Man," which related the history of the horse and what it has meant in progress and civilization.

Mr. Schultz's speech concerned his last summer's trip with a field party in search of fossils. He told how and where the fossils were obtained and what was being done with the new, closing his lecture with a number of lantern slides of the expedition.

MRS. WILLIAMS SPEAKS BEFORE STATE GROUPS

Dr. Hattie Plum Williams of the department of sociology spent Friday and Saturday in York and Hastings where she addressed the students of the colleges and high schools there on the opportunities in professional social work.

Mrs. Williams stated that much interest was shown by the students and that all available time was taken by conferences discussing with the students the possibilities for technical training and the basic courses necessary for preparation for their professional training.
