Russell Mousel, business manager of the Cornhusker year book, yesterday urged that fraternities and sororities send in their checks for their pages in the new Cornhusker. Other organizations on the campus should also remit as soon as possible, Mousel said.

"We would like to have the organizations send in their contracts for space as soon as possible, as the time is approaching when we will have to send in material to the engravers. Organizations that are planning to have pictures in the annual should be making arrangements now before it becomes necessary to announce closing dates," he said.

"Many students, too, who contracted for Cornhuskers on the installment plan seem to have overlooked the fact that the third payment was due Jan. 15. The Cornhusker management would like to have those who have not already met this payment do so as early as possible."
