JUNIOR AND SENIOR SECTIONS STILL OPEN

Cornhusker Urges Groups to Turn in Contracts for Pictures.

According to the editor of the Cornhusker junior and senior pictures for the Cornhusker are still being accepted. The time limit on these pictures, however, is indefinite. When this section will close depends upon when the engravers call for the pictures, so those who are planning on having their pictures taken for this section should do so at once. It is likely that there will be no advance notice when the pictures can no longer be taken.

"The Cornhusker staff will mail the questionnaires to the sororities and fraternities and various other organizations within the next day or two. We would appreciate prompt return of the questionnaires, which will speed up work on the book and make it possible for us to get it out at an early date.

"We would also like to have the fraternities and sororities and other organizations hand in their contracts as soon as possible, as well as the amount of money contracted for. The Cornhusker needs this money to pay the engraving bills that have been accumulated on work that has been sent in to the engravers," he urged.

Presentation of 'Othello' Marks 17th Milestone University Player History

"Othello," the fourth Shakespearean play to be presented by the University Players, marks the seventeenth anniversary of this dramatic organization. Starting in 1915 as an unorganized and untrained group, the players under the excellent leadership of Miss Howell, have developed into one of the most successful dramatic organizations in the country. It has not only been one of the most successful groups, but one of the first in the field in the United States.

The first play to be presented was on Nov. 3, 1915. That first play was Ibsen's "Ghosts"; the second play was Fred Ballard's success, "Believe Me Xantippe," and was so well received that the University Players gave twenty-one performances in Lincoln and throughout the state. The first season closed with the play "The Melting Pot."

In 1916, according to a paper of that time, "Lincoln audiences eagerly awaited the opening of the Players' first production, 'Ready Money.'"

Herbert Yenne, Hero, Villain. "Alias Jimmy Valentine" was the most successful play of 1917, and the best in 1918 was "Young

Forum Speaker

CAPT. G. W. SPOERRY.

Problems of disarmament will be discussed from a military point of view by Capt. G. W. Spoerry, instructor in military science, who will speak at the World Forum meeting to be held this noon, at the Grand hotel.

SPOERRY WILL TALK AT FORUM LUNCHEON

Question of Disarmament Will Be the Subject of His Address.

TO DISCUSS MANCHURIA

Militaristic views on the question of disarmament will be presented by Capt. G. W. Spoerry, of the University military science department, in a talk at the World Forum luncheon today. The subject of Capt. Spoerry's discussion will be "The Military Aspect of World Disarmament."

While he expresses himself as favoring the principle of international disarmament, Capt. Spoerry frowns upon the idea that the United States should reduce armaments to set an example to the rest of the world. "As long as the United States ranks sixteenth among the world powers in the quantity of arms, her position is none too strong and further reduction should not be effected," he said.

Along with his explanation of the military aspect of disarmament, Capt. Spoerry will give a description of the present critical situation in Manchuria and its relation to the problems of arms reduction. A similar talk was given by Capt. Spoerry on New Year's eve at the Plymouth Congregational church.

Today's meeting, which will be held at the Grand hotel, is the second of a series of three on this current international question. At last week's session, the political aspect of disarmament was discussed by Dr. William H. Werkmeister, of the department of philosophy. Tickets will be on sale at the door for thirty-five cents.

LAW COLLEGE GIVES HONORARY AWARDS

Three Freshmen Having Highest Averages Are Honored.

Three freshmen in the college of law were yesterday awarded positions on the editorial staff of the Law Bulletin for making the highest averages in the freshman class for the first semester of the present school year. The appointment to the Bulletin is the highest honor that can be given a law freshman, according to Prof. L. B. Orfield.

J. K. Taylor, Hastings, Phi Alpha Delta, received the highest average with a mark of 89.2-3 percent. Cecil Adams, Lincoln, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Merlyn Modig, Holdrege, were close seconds, both receiving an even 88 percent.

The editorial staff of the Bulletin is composed of a group of about twelve law students and faculty members. Only the three students are chosen from the freshman class. All other appointments of students to the staff come in their junior and senior years.

America," another of Fred Ballard's plays. Herbert Yenne, hero, villain, and otherwise, of many campus productions, received his first chance as leading man in "Martin of the Lowlands." In 1920 the Players began to expand their programs and give more plays. It was in that year also that the first Shakespearean drama, "Twelfth Night," was presented.

In 1921 the Players' greatest success was "The Winter's Tale." In 1922 the group presented James Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows." "Madam X" was presented in 1923 with Miss H. Alice Howell in the title role.

In 1925 Ray Ramsay made his first appearance as the halfwit boy in Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple." The University Players in 1926 attempted one of their most difficult presentations, "Romeo and Juliet," with Mr. Yenne playing Romeo and Miss Frances McClesney Juliet.

Crawford, assistant to the chancellor, presented a discussion of Nebraska Leadership and Education over the university radio studio, Monday, Feb. 8, through the facilities of KFAB.

The work of a university in providing a cultural background for its citizens is its primary work, asserted Professor Crawford. It is these fields of study which may have no immediate commercial value which supply the real background to life.

"There must be some place in this state," stated Mr. Crawford, "where the fine traditions of culture, of education, and the better

START ACTION TO LEVY PENALTY ON 20 FRATERNITIES

Organizations Charged With Illegal Initiation Asked For Explanation.

TO FINE GUILTY GROUPS

A Maximum Fine of $50 to Be Levied According to Ralph Spencer.

Actions to penalize the 20 fraternities charged with illegal initiation of 57 men will get under way Friday when the scholarship committee of the interfraternity council meets with Dean Harper Friday according to the committee chairman, Ralph Spencer, in a statement given to the Daily Nebraskan yesterday.

At the Friday meeting, the committee working in conjunction with Assistant Dean of Student Affairs Harper will take up the offenses, evaluate the charges and send them to the judicial committee of the Greek council with recommendations for the penalties to be imposed in each case.

Will Levy Fines.

"The penalties will probably take the form of a fine," Spencer said. He indicated that the penalty would be about $50 for the severe infractions of initiation rules.

Notices that they were among the groups charged with violating the council's code were sent to the various fraternities some time ago, but several organizations have not yet replied to the questions asked in the notice. If replies are not received by Wednesday, Spencer stated, it will be assumed that the groups recognize their violation, and admit their guilt.

Questions asked in the forms

RUTH PALMER TALKS TO A.W.S. FRESHMEN

Advertising Is Recommended As Profitable Work for Graduates.

"One can even become enthused over a bath towel," said Miss Ruth Palmer, advertising manager of a downtown store, speaking to members of the A. W. S. freshman group at a general mass meeting Tuesday afternoon. Miss Palmer went on to say that the field of advertising is one of the most interesting and important for young college women. Only women are suitable for this career because they know, more than men, the thrills of buying a hat and striking a bargain for bath towels. It is also true that young women are capable of "getting on" with the men in the firms.

In regard to the interest of the work, Miss Palmer remarked that there was a great variety for the worker because of the change of merchandise purchased by the companies. One hardly ever has to write more than one advertisement about the same line of work. There also comes the thrill of seeing

Mrs. Hinman is a member of the advisory board of the University Y. W. C. A. Her address was titled, "Current Events on War and Peace."

Helen Baldwin, freshman commission leader, was the leader of devotionals.

The Vespers choir, under the direction of Dorothy Jensen, provided special music for the meeting.

Gives Warning.

DR. F. E. HENZLIK.

Warning members of the Association of Nebraska School Boards and Executives against the superintendent who is always on the lookout for a better job, Dr. F. E. Henzlik, dean of teachers college, gave the main address before that group, Tuesday.

HENZLIK ADDRESSES SCHOOL BOARD MEET

Teachers College Dean Gives Advice on Selection of Superintendents.

WARNS AGAINST POLITICS

Warning against the school superintendent who is constantly on the lookout for a better job, F. E. Henzlik, dean of the teachers college, Tuesday made the main address at the annual meeting of the Association of Nebraska School Boards and Executives being held at Fremont.

The superintendent with ambitions for a better position than the one he holds has a ruinous effect on the public school system, according to Dean Henzlik.

"A superintendent who is always thinking how to win favor or fearing discharge cannot render good judgment or give the best service," Henzlik said. "You cannot get good service by tearing up the roots of his friendships and by breaking up the social life of his wife and children by causing him annually to seek employment elsewhere."

"I am speaking of those lovely little towns where everybody is telling the school men always to be on the lookout for a bigger place—a poisonous philosophy that is eating into the very heart and soul of public education in Nebraska."

The superintendent's program of school development is hindered by such a position of instability, the dean declared, and teaching activities of the school staff can not be properly supervised.

4-H CLUB ENTERTAINS

All Ag College Students Are Invited to Novel Party.

New members and all college of agriculture students are to be entertained at a valentine party Saturday evening by the university Harlan Bollman. The party is to be held in the student activities building. Former 4-H club members are being especially invited to the party.

A committee of girls from the college who belong to the club has been put in charge of all arrangements for the party. Those on the committee include Muriel Moffitt, Mildred Tickler, Lucille Christensen, Artimese Smith and Loretta Borzyche. Ralph Copenhagen will assist them with the games and stunts.

Novel arrangements for the party are being made, Bollman said this morning. Members of the committee are working on ideas to make the party a valentine-leap year affair.

King of Campus Will Usurp Thrones of Nebraska Sweetheart, College Queens

BY RUTH SCHILL.

Another throne has been erected on the Nebraska campus! This one, however, is not to be decked in the traditional manner with a paragon of feminine beauty. Instead, it is to be graced by "the answer to a woman's prayer."

Nebraska Sweetheart, prom girl and even May queen fade into insignificance at the approach of the Leap Year party. For here, Nebraska's most popular man will be presented and will rule for the evening as King. And no one knows how long his crown will last.... But it will be another four years before a like party can be staged.

The Mortar Boards, by dint of some snappy brain work, conceived this plan to elevate Nebraska's manpower to the pedestal they have, at various intervals, concocted for ambitious coeds.

Since the announcement has been made, aspirants for the place have been making themselves conspicuous by constant caking at the Moon. A few prominent men have had the grace to make embarrassed when they see a group of coeds deep in discussion.

RELIEF CAMPAIGN MAKES PROGRESS ON AID PROGRAM

Girls' Dormitory Gives First Donation to Nebraska Drouth Goal.

STUDENTS SUPPORT PLAN

Sororities and Fraternities Promise Contributions By Thursday.

Tuesday's developments in the Daily Nebraskan campaign to gather clothing for distribution in the drouth stricken counties in northern Nebraska were:

1. First contribution of clothing was received at the Nebraska office from the girls' dormitory at 1220 R.
2. Practically every fraternity and sorority on the campus promised a contribution to be ready Thursday noon.
3. Free transportation of the collection to the suffering area was promised by State Tax Commissioner Smith, director of Governor Bryan's relief organization.

Houses to Report.

Representatives in all houses are asked to report definitely by telephone to the Nebraska office between 2 and 5 o'clock Wednesday as to whether or not they will have a contribution, unless they have already notified one of the managing editors. All contributions are to be brought to the Nebraska office or are to be ready by Thursday noon, when a Nebraska representative will be sent to collect them.

Tax Commissioner Smith advised that the clothing collected from the university students be sent to the northern part of Antelope county where there is at present great need. He added that free transportation would be arranged. Railroads have already contributed approximately $60,000 in free transportation for more than 400 cars of supplies sent to the stricken areas.

Need Food and Clothing.

Chief among the supplies sent to date has been livestock feed. There remains great need, especially for clothing and food—for more than 1,000 stricken families, according to Mr. Smith. Farmers in the effected areas will have to be taken care of, Mr. Smith reports, until another crop has been harvested. The Nebraska solicits contributions of clothing or money from students other than those which it has been able to reach thru its

LAW BULLETIN WILL APPEAR THIS MONTH

Issue Contains Articles by Professors Orfield and Maurice Merrill.

The second issue of the Law Bulletin, official publication of the law college will appear the latter part of this month. The law college annually publishes three bulletins. The first issue came out in the fall, the second is being prepared at the present time, and the third will appear this spring.

The Bulletin is divided into two parts; one part consists of material supplied by the law college, the other of material supplied by the Bar Association.

The leading article of the Nebraska section in the forthcoming issue is the fourth article of a series of five being written by Maurice H. Merrill, professor in the law college. It is entitled "Nebraska Suretyship."

The leading contribution of the Bar Association is "Reform of the Federal Amending Power" by Lester Bernhardt Orfield, assistant professor of law. The remainder of the Bulletin will consist of notes of a technical nature written by students of the law college.

hearts, of course, is that they may be popular with the whole body of coeds, but not with any particular one, and have not received an invitation to the affair. They should rest assured, however, as the philanthropic Mortar Boards will take them under their wings and tender belated invitations.

The announcement came as a surprise to most of the campus. Letters asking the sororities to suggest their candidates were sent to the houses Monday afternoon. At the meeting that night they selected their favorites. This the masculine element feel, is a bit unfair, for it did not give them the opportunity to go in for intensive campaigning and publicity. They declare this prevents them from being placed on the come stand-ards as the college queens. Indications are that the ATOs and the Betas are polling the most votes.

At any rate there was not enough time to set political pots boiling and the election should give a fair estimate of the Nebraska coed's suppressed desire. Hal the King! May his bouquet be a bunch of calla lilies!
