SPOERRY SPEAKS ON EAST CRISIS AT CONVOCATION

China-Japanese Tangle Will Be Analyzed Completely By Captain.

Excuse Drill Classes Military Department Man Is Familiar With Various Sides of Conflict.

Capt. G. W. Spoerry, instructor in the military science department, will address the all university convocation Thursday morning at 11 o'clock on the present situation in the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

Advance students in military science will be excused from classes to attend the convocation. No other classes are excused, but everyone who is able is invited to attend.

Captain Spoerry formerly spent two years in the area in which the Sino-Japanese war is now being waged. He is familiar with the geographic, economic and political situation in the far east from his personal contact with the country and from his close study of the happenings of the last few months.

Captain Spoerry will discuss the present conflict in the light of economic and political factors, the standpoint of the Japanese and their reasons for their actions toward the Chinese. Internal disorders in China will also be noted, and the relations between their divided nationality and their inability to protect themselves from invasion shown. The part of the League of Nations in an effort to bring about peace will be considered.

The discussion will be supplemented with large colored maps of the various regions which are being contested by the two countries. The maps have been made by Captain Spoerry, and they graphically trace the history of the Sino-Japanese region from the time it was opened to the world until the present day.

Captain Spoerry will present both sides of the situation, outlining Chinese and Japanese history since the beginning of encroachment upon their territory by foreign nations. He has watched the development of the war from the angle of the militarist and is able to interpret the progress of the struggle from that point of view as well as from the political and economical side.

WELL DRILLERS MEET IN CONVENTION TODAY

Fourth Annual Conclave Set Open at 9 With Talk By Burnett.

Opening a two day session on the campus, the fourth annual short course and convention of the Nebraska Well Drillers association convenes Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in Nebraska hall. More than a hundred well drillers from all over the state are expected. The two day session is being sponsored by the conservation and survey division and the United States geological survey.

Chancellor E. A. Burnett will give the address of welcome and L. A. McLean, president of the association, will make the response. Still and motion pictures of the convention will be taken, followed by luncheon at the chamber of commerce.

Various exhibits by manufacturers and jobbers of well drilling supplies will be viewed from 1 until 2 o'clock and for an hour short talks will be given by the representatives of the firms.

Reporting on the American Association of Water Well Drillers national convention at Urbana, Ill., Andrew Olson, Oakland, will address the association at 2 o'clock.

A business meeting will be held at 2:15, and at 5 o'clock those in attendance will be given an opportunity to ask questions on problems of the members. The concluding number on the program is the banquet at the Lincoln hotel at 6:30.

Hartley Burr Alexander, Famous Educator, Speaks Before Class In Philosophy Thursday Morning

Dr. Hartley Burr Alexander, whose "job" in connection with New York's monumental "radio city" is so novel as to be without a name, will speak before Dr. C. H. Patterson's philosophy class Thursday at 11 o'clock in room 321, Social Sciences. Anyone is welcome to attend.

Talking to Lincoln newspapermen, Dr. Alexander, now professor in Scripps college at Claremont, Calif., prophesied the breaking up of universities into smaller and more significant groups. Refusing to admit an attitude of criticism, he said that between rules and regulations and the "ornery" student the rules and regulations are the worst.

"The rules governing many oversized universities today," he declared, "are not only senseless but actually brutal in application. The new plan, whereby colleges are segregated and operate under their own budgets, is being tried in some of the states of the east and proving successful."

Dr. Alexander declared himself as favoring a corporation system of management so far as the financial side of the school is concerned. He said that Harvard has gradually drifted away from the compulsory attendance rule and is experiencing marked success in the attempt.

Explains Radio City.

Enroute to California after three months in New York, Dr. Alexander and his wife were the guests of Mrs. Aaron S. Raymond, 2900 Georgian Court. For the benefit of house guests and interviewers, he explained in brief progress in the upbuilding of "radio city."

While in conference with architects, Dr. Alexander "rubbed elbows" with them.

MISS HINKLEY FAVORS CHINA IN MANCHURIA

Says That Treaties of 1915 Are Responsible for Present Plight.

CHINESE PEACE LOVING

Evidence to prove that Manchuria is very definitely a part of China and that Japan's claims to the territory are based on extortionist treaties made in 1915 when other countries were too preoccupied to notice, was brought out by Miss Lella Hinkley, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Peiping, at the weekly World Forum luncheon Wednesday noon.

"There has been a question for some time," said Miss Hinkley, "about whether or not Manchuria is really a part of China. The fact that there are approximately 36,000 square miles of territory in Manchuria and only 14,000 square miles belongs to Japan, while the rest is owned by China would seem ample proof for China's claim to this territory," she declared. "Besides this," she added, "there are 30,000,000 Chinese living in Manchuria who speak their own language. Manchuria has truly been absorbed by the Chinese."

Explains Misconceptions. Miss Hinkley explained the misconceptions concerning Japan's rights in Manchuria. We must go back to 1915 to find the source of the trouble, she said. There were certain treaties made between Japan and China at that time when the rest of the world was too busy to pay any attention. Those treaties, she said, are the root of the trouble.

"Most of these treaties were forced from China, who did not realize the harm which they would cause her," according to Miss Hinkley. "The most important of these treaties was the one in which Japan made twenty-one demands. These included a ninety-nine year lease of Manchurian territory to Japan. This was to be renewed on its expiration. Both of these agreements gave Japan unfair advantages in Manchuria. It is only now that China realizes the seriousness of the treaty agreement."

"The Chinese are a peace-loving people," explained Miss Hinkley, "and that is why their military force is so poorly prepared."

EC CLUB MEETS TONIGHT State Bank Failures Will Be Subject for Talk and Discussions.

The Economics club will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening in Social Science hall, room 113, at 7:15. The subject for discussion is "Some of the Causes of Bank Failures in Nebraska During the Last Ten Years." Earl Hald will be the main speaker of the evening. Mr. Hald is working on his master's degree, and is writing his thesis on that subject.

COUNCIL WARNS ALL OFFENDING GROUPS

Greek Administrative Body Hears Report on 20 Violators.

Complying with the recommendation of the scholarship committee, the Interfraternity council last night issued a warning to fraternities to observe the rules of the council regarding initiation.

Since all of the fifty-seven men who had been unlawfully initiated had made the required average, the council decided not to punish the offending fraternities. Any failure in the future to observe the rules will result in the offending fraternities being penalized, the committee warned.

Career vs. Marriage Sets Women At Variance With Each Other in Campus Poll on Ancient Question

By GRETCHEN SCHRAG.

Do coeds favor career or marriage? The general consensus is that if they cannot get married they will have a career. Six girls of the eighteen interviewed favor career, the other twelve favor marriage or a combination of the two.

"If I could make a man into what I would like to be myself, all right. But if marriage means settling down in Podunk Center to a life of domestic bliss—then I want a career." Such is the opinion of Jane Elizabeth Robertson, Delta Gamma.

Dorothy Weaver, Pi Beta Phi, says: "I think having a career gives a woman a feeling of financial independence and something upon which she can rely."

Evelyn West, president of Alpha Phi, is more complimentary to the masculine sex. "Marriage is a career; the greatest career that any woman can enter. When a woman enters marriage she may, besides that, hold a job, but she cannot have another career and do justice to both."

"Every woman should prove to herself that she can have a career, and a successful one, before she marries," believes Rosalie Lamme, Delta Delta Delta. "I do not," she continued, "think of a career as a mere money making proposition."

"Varies With Person." Harriet Nesladek, Alpha Omicron Pi and candidate for prom girl, is of the opinion that the question is one for each individual to decide. She believes, however, (Continued on Page 3.)

ANNUAL SALES NEAR END Mousel Warns Absolutely No Yearbooks Available After Saturday.

Russel Mousel, business manager of the Cornhusker, Wednesday warned all students wishing to get a copy of the 1932 yearbook must order before the close of this week's sale Saturday.

Absolutely no books will be available in the spring when the book is published, according to Mousel. The publications board, he said, has forbidden ordering more books than are sold in the advance sales drives, and none will be available after this week.

An intensive final sales campaign for the Cornhusker is being conducted this week by members of Tassels, coed pep organization, and members of the yearbook staff.

DONATE DIMES DRIVE GETS COMMENDATION Gramlich Favors Plan for Student Drouth Aid Campaign.

The plan of having each student donate a dime to drouth relief is very commendable and worth while," according to Prof. H. C. Gramlich, chairman of the department of dairy husbandry, who was in charge of the collection of faculty donations at the ag college.

"Although the relief work has been going on continually in the drouth stricken areas, the condition of these places is still exceedingly bad. They still need a good deal of help."

Professor Gramlich emphasized that the distribution work has been carried on very efficiently. He stated that since the grass in the affected area will not be ready for stock within sixty days, there is a great need for food for animals.

Total contributions to the faculty fund at the university amount to $792.40, according to Prof. O. C. Martin, chairman of the department of business organization and management, who has been in charge of the fund.

"The plan for each student to donate a dime toward drouth relief is a very good one as the need is very urgent," declared Professor Martin. "I think that many students who have read reports from the stricken areas will even contribute larger amounts."

MARCUS POTEET FILES FOR OFFICE OF REPRESENTATIVE

Miss L. Poteet, graduate of the University of Nebraska, who received his A. B. in 1916 and L. B. degree in 1922, filed Wednesday for the office of congressman from the First district on the republican ticket.

CONVOCATION TO DECIDE LID CASE FINALLY TONIGHT

Law Vs. Engineer Dispute Over Brown Derby to Be Terminated.

AMUSEMENT IS PROMISED Joint Committee in Charge Of Meeting Selects Neutral Judge.

A disarmament conference and peace parley will be staged by members of the Law and Engineering colleges at the Cornhusker hotel ballroom at 8 o'clock tonight. The ownership of the "Brown derby" will be settled at that time by an impartial judge.

"Details for the convocation are ready and plans have been worked out by the joint committee that are satisfactory to both groups. A judge has willingly accepted our invitation to officiate over the dispute. The speeches promise to be amusing and constructive," Glenn McKinney, president of the senior class of the Law college, stated Wednesday.

Enthusiasm over the affair to be staged Thursday has gained momentum in the two colleges and a tug of war is expected due to the interest that has been shown.

The meeting is to be in the form of an amiable get-together and only laws and engineers will be permitted to attend upon the presentation of identification cards. Decision as to the ownership of the derby will be made upon the merit of the respective claims and not upon technical theories known only to the legal profession.

Costs of the affair have already been taken care of by the committee and no charge will be assessed on those attending. The joint committee is composed of three men from each college. The committee: Willard J. Dann, Gerald F. Briggs, Lyle W. Mabbot, engineers; Glenn McKinney, Thomas Dowd, Robert Young, laws.

Dean O. J. Ferguson and Dean H. H. Foster expressed their approval of the plans and stated the proposed method of settling the dispute was a good way out of the dilemma created by the "snitching" of the derby.

Students of the engineering college issued a challenge to the law school Monday night and formulated a resolution that the matter (Continued on Page 2.)

STUDENTS GIVE MUSIC PROGRAM WEDNESDAY

Seventeenth Weekly Event Includes Numbers by Advanced Players.

Advanced students of the School of Music presented the seventeenth musical convocation of the year Wednesday afternoon at the Temple. The program as a whole was difficult to render, most numbers requiring advanced interpretative skill.

The concluding trio deserves special commendation on its presentation.

The recital on Wednesday of next week will be given by Professor and Mrs. Carl Steckelberg, violinist and pianist, and Mrs. Maude Gutzmer, vocalist. This will be the concluding faculty convocation of the year.

Wednesday's program: Brahms, sonata, 1 sharp minor; Eugene Elsworth; Beethoven, Adelaide; Howard Stark; Franconer-Kreiser; Williams and Sigaudon; De Falla, Jota; Valtelle Hill; Debussy, Sunken Cathedral; Violet Vaucho; Massenet, Pleurez; pleurez, mes Yeux; Marguerite Mueckelbach; Goyter, Chanson du Cisne; Berceuse de la Poupée; Les Anes; Fern McDougal; Brahms, Vergeblüthe; Sandstrom; Schumann, Widmung; Sibelius, Winesap; Moszkowski-Sarante; Guitarre; Paul Hill; Hamelin, Beside Still Waters; Kreiser, The Old Reel; Viola Curry; Marjorie McAllister; Roberta Wehrman.

SIGMA ETA CHI INITIATES FOUR AT SUDAY MEET

Four girls were initiated into Sigma Eta Chi, Congregational sorority at a service Sunday. They are, Viola Kriz, Howells; Edith Noyes, Lincoln; Bernice Rundin, Wahoo; and Henrietta Sanderson, Lincoln.

The group has pledged two girls this second semester, Olynda Weber and Florence Buxman, both of Lincoln.

DO YOU FAVOR INTRAMURAL DEBATE?

Recent expressions of student and faculty sentiment have favored addition of debate to the Nebraska intramural sports program. Rudy Vogeler, intramural athletic director, says such a program could be easily adopted if students should express an interest in it. The Daily Nebraskan, in order to get student reaction to the proposal, is here publishing a ballot which it requests each organized house president, fraternity and sorority, to fill out and return to the Daily Nebraskan office in the basement of U hall Friday o' Saturday.
