COEDS VICTIMS OF FAKE SALES FOR MAGAZINES

Campus Cop Regler Catches 'Gyp' Salesman Making Rounds Tuesday.

DEAN GETS COMPLAINT One Girl's Kick Leads to Apprehension; Deans Make Statements.

Apprehension of a "phony" magazine salesman who had been offering "alick-deal" block subscriptions to university coeds here this week was reported by Campus "Cop" Regler Wednesday. The salesman was caught in Social Sciences hall Tuesday after one of the intended victims reported to Miss Heppner, dean of women, and informed her of his operations. The salesman, whose name was not revealed, was offering block subscriptions of three popular women's magazines for the price of the postage, according to Regler. When the purchaser had signed, she was informed the postage would be four dollars. Then when the "victim" complained, the salesman would compromise. He agreed to pay one dollar, if she would pay the other three. If the purchaser still refused he threatened to report her to the dean of women, under whose authorization he claimed to be working. He would point out that she had signed the agreement and would be held to it. One coed who still refused to pay for the subscription went to (Continued on Page 3.)

BURNETT SAYS DORM WON'T HURT PLEDGING

Second Year System Not to Be Feared Declares Chancellor.

The Nebraska campus does not need to fear deferred pledging for a good many years, according to Chancellor E. A. Burnett. The erection of the new dormitory will not necessitate girls living in it. "We will not have enough capacity in the building to require girls to live there," said the chancellor to an interviewer Wednesday.

"Deferred pledging will not come about until the campus has adequate facilities to house the new members, and that will not be for years," he said. "Moreover, ample warning will be given the Greek world before such action would become effective. Notice of a year or two would be given if such a rule would go into effect." When asked if the Nebraska (Continued on Page 3.)

TEACHERS GET PLACES

Announcement Reports Six Employed by Bureau Recently.

Several teaching placements have been made this week, according to reports from the teachers college offices.

Mr. Clifford has been elected to the position of superintendent of schools at Elkhorn, while Mr. Donald Owens will be principal at Palmyra. Mrs. Mary L. Roberts has received an appointment as an instructor in English at Yankton college, Yankton, S. Dak. Miss Eva Weise and Miss Myrtle McKay go to Ulysses where the former will teach the seventh and eighth grades and the latter the third and fourth. Miss Corinne Quimby has received a placement at Alvo where she will have charge of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Boys Will Be Girls, With Longish Hair and Shaved Legs, Is Decree Of Klub 'Jingle Belles' Director

Boys will be boys. But for three nights boys will be girls. And being girls, they will have to suffer. This is the sentence handed down by Playwright-Actor-Director Yenne for ten members of the pony chorus and all female characters in his "Jingle Belles," spring musical comedy to be produced by Kosmet Klub in Lincoln, Omaha and Hastings in April.

Players must let their hair grow and must shave their legs. Only Mr. Yenne may wear a wig. The idea back of it seems to be this: Samson grew plenty virile when his tresses brushed his knees. The Kosmet Klub wants its chorus tough, but not too tough. Altho rounded curves are the mode this year, swollen biceps are out. Considering the Samsonian theory correct they must let their hair grow to get the proper effect. But when the effect becomes too proper it is necessary that the legs be shaved. An equalizing factor. One man, a senior in school, found it necessary to remove some transparent britches from his chest. What a man!

Dire Diets.
A diet is another of the anguishes the female impersonators must suffer. Art for art's sake. Imagine punishing the proteids in the following manner: Breakfast, hard boiled egg; lunch, scrambled eggs; dinner, onion figure! It was suggested by somebody

YENNE TELLS STORY OF SOUTHWEST PLAY

Author Gives Synopsis of Next Week's University Players' Show.

FEATURES COWBOY LAND

The play to be presented next week by the University Players, "3 Suns West," is written around a possible three weeks in the life of Billy the Kid, most famous desperado of the old Southwest. The play was written by Herb Yenne during summer school last year and rewritten in the fall.

The setting of the play is the east bank of the Pecos river in New Mexico, the territory of Billy the Kid's most daring escapades. He escaped from the Lincoln county jail, where he had been sentenced to be hanged, was missing for several weeks, three of which cannot be accounted for, and the play concerns those three weeks.

Three acts comprise the play. The first takes place in a rocky gorge on the last night of a cattle roundup of a ranch in that country. The second and third acts take place in the patio courtyard of the ranch.

The second night is one of dance and frivolity, according to the (Continued on Page 3.)

TWO DEBATES GIVEN THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Knife and Fork Club Will Hear One Team; Other Will Broadcast.

The University of Nebraska debating team will participate in two debates Thursday, the first being at the noon luncheon of the Knife and Fork club and the other over radio station KFAB at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The team appearing at the luncheon will consist of Cleo I. Lechler and Howard L. Holtzendorff. L. Bryon Cherry and Woodrow Magee will appear in the radio debate. Nebraska will uphold the affirmative in both cases.

A practice debate was held with Nebraska Wesleyan university Wednesday evening. The affirmative side was upheld by Albert S. Seck and Donald Shirley representing Nebraska, Wesleyan taking the negative side.

LAW-ENGINEERS FEUD AT MIZZOU LEADS TO SHOTS

Three in Columbia Hospital After Scrape Caused By 'Kidnaping.'

STATEMENT MADE HERE

Ferguson, Foster Say Such Occurrence Testimony Of Ill Feeling.

Animosity between the Law and Engineering colleges burst out anew at the University of Missouri Wednesday as three engineering students were shot by a law student, according to press dispatches from Columbia. The shooting came as an aftermath to the "kidnaping" of the engineers' St. Pat's day queen, when the queen, Miss Mary Butterfield, left her sorority house for the ball and was seized and held captive until almost midnight, when she was returned to the campus, but too late for her coronation.

Dean O. J. Ferguson stated that the condition of friendly rivalry at the University of Nebraska is not at all comparable to the serious affair at Columbia. "The Missouri affair clearly illustrates what lack of sportsmanship, ill feeling and lack of common sense may lead to," said the dean of the Nebraska College of Engineering.

Dean H. H. Foster of the Law college stated that it was exceedingly fortunate that the laws and engineers were on good terms at Nebraska. "It is too bad that such a thing would arise between (Continued on Page 3.)

POTTERY DISPLAYED IN MORRILL EXHIBIT

Various Types Earthenware Work Now Being Shown; Some by Students.

Pottery specimens from all over the United States are now on exhibition in the second corridor of Morrill hall. The collection also includes some pieces of earthenware done by University of Nebraska students.

The collection includes a great variety of materials. Many different kinds were used, and variation of firing makes varying products. If the pottery is baked under a low fire, a piece of earthenware will result that is very soft, and easily crumbled. If the fire is held at a high heat, the pottery will be almost as hard as steel, and more durable. The Morrill hall collection contains much original work of both kinds of hardness.

The late Charles F. Binns, former director of the New York State school of clay working and ceramics, at Alfred, N. Y., has the honor of the collection. He is the author of the glazed work that adds so much to the present groups of pottery.

There are four types of pottery being made commercially at the present time. The transparent glaze is very popular now, the opaque or "mat," giving a dull finish to the bowl or dish that is (Continued on Page 3.)

DELIAN-UNION WILL MEET

Program Being Planned by Pledges; Mr. Oberlies Will Speak.

A program of unusual interest will feature the meeting of Delian-Union Literary society, to be held Friday evening, March 25, in room 304 in the temple. The pledges of the society will be in charge of the program, the feature number being a talk by Mr. L. C. Oberlies of Lincoln. The pledges will also present an original skit and some individual numbers.

FORDYCE TO TALK AT Y NEXT WEEK

Dr. Charles Fordyce of Teachers college will address the students of the Lincoln Business college at their annual luncheon to be held Wednesday, March 30, in the red room of the Y. M. C. A. The subject of Dr. Fordyce's talk will be: "Character Differences Between Stenographers and Sales People."

SCABBARD AND BLADE WILL MEET THURSDAY

Scabbard and Blade, advance military science, will meet Thursday at 5 o'clock in Nebraska hall. Captain Flegel will conduct sabre drill at the meeting.

Student Pictures Are Ready, Says Bulletin

Students who had their pictures taken at the beginning of this semester should call for them at the Registrar's Office, Adm. 103. It will be necessary to present identification cards. Agricultural college students may obtain their pictures in Ag hall 202.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Recently we have had an influx of agents into the university community. Some of these persons claim they are students of the university or have the endorsement of the university for the articles they offer for sale.

1. The University of Nebraska does not vouch for or endorse agents selling merchandise, magazines, books, etc.
2. Agents posing as students should be asked for their identification cards for the current semester.

ENGINEERS HEAR TALK ON MODERN AIRCRAFT

Joint Meeting of Societies Wednesday Night Draws Large Crowd.

JACOBS TELLS OF AKRON

A lecture on aircraft, dwelling especially on the new U. S. S. Akron, by V. R. Jacobs of the Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation was presented as the feature of a joint meeting of the university engineering societies Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Mechanical Engineering building.

The lecture, the first of a series on aeronautics to be presented by the engineering college, drew a large crowd.

Mr. Jacobs stated that we still have the idea that aircraft are novelties. He declared, however, that this is altogether the wrong slant. The airplane and the airship is serving as a very important factor in transportation, he stated.

"Aircraft is giving us a chance to weld together as a unit this vast nation of ours," said Mr. Jacobs.

"There are three types of airships," according to Mr. Jacobs. "These are the non-rigid, the semi-rigid, and the rigid. The rigid is the type that is in general use today and the type that the Akron belongs to," he said.

SCHOOL ECONOMICS IS BULLETIN TOPIC

Extension Division Prints New Book on Costs of Maintenance.

The extension division has just announced the publication of a 212 page bulletin, "Practical Economics in School Administration." The authors of the bulletin are F. E. Hendlik, K. O. Broady, J. M. Matzen, and W. H. Morton of the staff of the department of school administration, collaborating with the committee on reductions of school costs of the Kansas State teachers association and C. J. Ireland, graduate student in school administration here.

"The purpose of this bulletin," says Mr. Broady, "is to assist the superintendents of schools in preparing an inevitably smaller budget so that a minimum of injury is done to the regular educational functions of the school."

It is generally known that teachers' salaries are the first to feel the knife, but the authors of this bulletin say that other possibilities should be thoroughly considered first. Opportunities of economizing may be found in such fields as the general administration, securing and safeguarding the school funds, the purchasing, handling and utilization of supplies, and other auxiliary agencies, the bulletin declares. Whatever cuts are made must not be sacrificed. Poor managing is the cause of a great deal of extra expense say the authors. The bulletin discusses in detail the operation of the school maintenance of the plant and debt service.

Eastern Students Visit Dixie Coal Mine Strike Area

Two hundred students of Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, College of the City of New York, New York university, Smith and Hunter colleges are studying sociological problems in the coal strike area of Eastern Kentucky.

"Don't wear leather jackets, anyone," shouted Bob F. Hall, president of the Social Problems club of Columbia university in giving instructions at a meeting Tuesday. "Because a leather jacket is the mark of a communist."

ENGINEERS NAME COMMITTEES FOR WEEK'S DISPLAY

Willard Dann, in Charge of Plans, Announces List Of Workmen.

STRUCTURE TRIAL OVER

Mechanical Engineer With Winning Plan Will Be Known Soon.

Committees for Engineers week were released Wednesday by Willard Dann, recently elected chairman in charge of arrangements for the week. Thirty-four undergraduates were selected.

Members of the committees have been selected from a long list of names submitted by the students. The chairman stated that the committee appreciated the spirit shown by all engineers in indicating their willingness to help.

"The fact that a student has not been placed on a committee is not an indication that there is no work for him to do," he declared. "The co-operation of every student is necessary to make this week the most successful the engineers have promoted, and the idea of committees is the formation of a center around which other members of the student body might work."

He added the committees would appreciate ideas or help from anyone interested. These should be referred to the committees soon, as they wish to formulate their plans for the week in time to have every possible detail arranged in advance.

WORK STARTS SOON ON APRIL AWGWANS

Editor Urges Workers Stop In Comic's Office in Next Few Days.

Contributors for the April number of the Awgwan should report to the Awgwan office within the next week, according to a statement issued by Editor Marvin Robinson Wednesday. Work on material for this issue should be started immediately as plans for the increase in size of the publication will necessitate an early start, he said.

"A theme for the April Awgwan has not been decided upon at the present time but we expect to make the decision in a few days," Robinson stated. "A number of new features are being planned and the material that proved popular in the last issue will be continued."

The Gore section which was exceedingly popular last month will again be one of the principal features of the April number. Amateur Winchells, better known as the Snappers, are at work now and will continue their reports in this issue.

"We are endeavoring to make the magazine of more general interest by commenting upon the campus happenings and this should make the magazine appeal to a larger number of students," the editor said.

STUDENTS GIVE RECITAL

KOSMET CHORUS GETS FINAL CUT WEDNESDAY

Last Selections Made by Dance Director; Band Rehearses Tonight.

SHOW MAKES PROGRESS

Final selection of a male chorus for Kosmet Klub's "Jingle Belles" was made by Ralph Ireland, director of the choruses, Wednesday afternoon. This year's show will be the first Kosmet Klub musical comedy since Bill McCleery's "Don't Be Silly" in 1929 with a male chorus.

The male chorus hasn't practiced as long as the pony chorus, as the pony chorus made a public appearance at the state penitentiary last week when they served as a unit of the program given by the inmates. At the present time the two choruses, of ten men each, are working on the opening number.

The male chorus does not appear as often as the pony chorus and does not have a solo number. The male chorus appears with the pony chorus in three numbers, the opening number, (Continued on Page 2.)

"Twins" Fossler and Candy Claim Same Birthdays Tho One Born in Germany and the Other in Indiana

By HARRY FOSTER.

They proudly call each other "Twin," although one of them was born on the other side of the Atlantic in the Black forest of Germany in a town named Tunigen, and the other was born in Grant county, Ind. Their birthday is March 12, and they were born in 1857.

Professor Laurence Fossler, chairman of the Germanic languages department, claims that he is older than his colleague, Albert Luther Candy, chairman of the mathematics department, because there is a six hour difference in time between Germany and the place where Dean Candy was born.

Every year friends of the distinguished twins celebrate the birthday by bringing presents of one kind and other. Besides toys, rattles, puzzles and marbles, Dean Candy was this year presented with a Mickey Mouse. Dr. Fossler equalled that by receiving a book that contained boners college students had made in answering examination questions.

Sunday, March 13, a birthday party was given by the wives of the professors in their honor. The twins were seventy-five years old on their last birthday.

Graduated Here in '81. The "older brother," Professor Fossler, came to the United States when he was fifteen years old. In 1873 he came to Nebraska and in 1875 started to go to the university. He was graduated in 1881.

COEDS TO ELECT A.W.S. HEADS AT POLLS THURSDAY

Fair Play in Election Is Promised by President Bereneice Hoffman.

TO SUPERVISE COUNTING

Six Faculty Members Will Double Check Votes In New Plan.

Today's A. W. S. election will be fair and above-board, Bereneice Hoffman, president of the board, declared in effect Wednesday in pointing out the precautions taken to dispell any insinuation of corruption in coed politics.

"To alleviate any fear as to the validity of the final outcome of the A. W. S. election which will take place Thursday the board has prepared a careful arrangement for the counting of ballots," she told a Nebraska reporter.

"It is my hope, in this connection, that every woman will avail herself of the privilege of voting so that the election may be general," she added, and pointed out that the A. W. S. board is supposed to represent every woman in school.

A plan of counting ballots has been devised that will eliminate the chance of any error. The six senior members of the board, assisted by six faculty members, will count the votes. They will be divided into three groups of four each.

FRIDAY SET FOR CORN COB INITIATION DATE

Committees Named at Meet Wednesday for Annual Spring Party.

Initiation of pledges into the organization of Corn Cobs will take place Friday at 4 o'clock in the Temple, according to a resolution adopted at a meeting of the organization in Social Science auditorium Wednesday afternoon. Committeemen were also appointed by Marvin Schmid, president, for the annual spring party.

The committee for the Corn Cob party: Ralph Spencer, orchestra; Bryon Goulding, favors and decorations; Marvin Schmid, host and food; John Zeilinger, general funds committee; Harry Foster, publicity.

TWENTIETH RECITAL HELD

Lorraine Lovgren and Abe Hill Give Performance On Wednesday.

The twentieth student recital of the year, featuring Miss Lorraine Lovgren and Abe Hill, was presented at the Temple theater Wednesday afternoon. Miss Lovgren and Mr. Hill, students in the school of music, are pupils of Herbert Schmidt and August Moizer respectively.

The program:
Beethoven, Sonata, A flat, op. 26; andante con variazioni; scherzo; Miss Lovgren.
Mendelssohn, Concerto, E minor; allegro molto appassionato; andante; Mr. Hill.
Mendelssohn, Scherzo, E minor; Glinka-Baldirew, The Lark; Debussy, Miroirs; Chopin, Waltz, A flat, op. 64, No. 3; Miss Lovgren.
Brahm, Concerto, G minor; allegro moderato; Wieniawski, Scherzo-Tarentella; Mr. Hill.
