

RED TEAM PLAYS BLUE OUTFIT IN SATURDAY GAME

Tilt Between Two Husker Grid Squads Starts At 2 O'clock.

BIBLE EMPHASIZES PASS

Aerial Display Expected at Scrimmage Tomorrow Afternoon.

With a game on tap between the Red and Blue teams Saturday afternoon at 2:00, fifty Husker grid-ers went thru a stiff drill Thursday afternoon, concentrating on passing plays and a general review of all formations.

Chief Bauer, Bernie Masterson, Steve Hukuf, Jack Miller and Fred Murray have been on the throwing end of the passes during the last two workouts, with Bauer and Masterson uncoiling the most consistent heaves. Spinners, line bucks and plunges were included in the Husker repertoire in Thursday's practice.

Coach Bible plans to give each candidate a chance during Saturday's scrimmage, and a lively battle is anticipated. As in previous sessions, Friday afternoon will find the pigskin candidates brushing up on all plays handed out at the inaugural of spring practice.

DIRECTOR LAUDS PLAY BY YENNE ON 'WILD WEST'

(Continued from Page 1.) Miss Moore, a student in the university, was presented. A one act play of Mr. Yenne's, however, has also been presented by the University Players.

"We are very proud to have the opportunity to produce this play of Mr. Yenne's," declared Miss Howell, "as we feel that he has done a very fine piece of work in writing it." Mr. Yenne is directing the production.

Mr. Yenne has based the plot on a two week interval in the life of Billy the Kid during which no knowledge of his activities and whereabouts exists. This period follows the successful attempt of the famous bad man to escape from the confinement where he was awaiting the hangman.

He gained his release by resorting to strategy in fooling his two jailers and getting possession of the gun which one of them exposed to his reach shot both of them and escaped. There is some evidence to indicate that Billy went to the ranch where his sweetheart lived and there spent two weeks before he was captured and killed at the early age of twenty-two.

At any rate, Mr. Yenne's play is based on these two weeks and the scene is held at the ranch of Billy's sweetheart.

Praises Cast.
The cast for the play was also praised by Miss Howell. The cast was selected last week and has been rehearsing every day. The cast is as follows:

- Wish Wray, a cattlemen ... Robert Rade
  - Sally Wray, his daughter ... Mae Ekstrand
  - Alvarita Valdez, a Mexican ... Pauline Gaultly
  - Boss Harding, a cattlemen ... Pauline Gaultly

LAWRENCE Ely feels abused. Entering the dressing room Wednesday after a workout, Ely found his size twelve shoes filled with water. Suspicion has fastened on John Roby and Red Nesmith as the perpetrators of the deed. To make matters still worse, Ely discovered his suit tied in knots Thursday afternoon. When the happy go lucky Grand Island star reported for practice minus the lower portion of the customary grid attire, you can imagine the sensation.

Nebraska will have speed in abundance next season if Coach Bible knows anything about it. The Huskers took that wallop from Pittsburgh last year simply because the Panthers outsped them. The way things are looking now, Coach Sutherland's men are due for a surprise when they come to Lincoln next fall, for the Cornhuskers are getting tired of being termed "ponderous" and "lead-footed."

Fred Murray, Hub Boswell, Tater Fahrbruch, Ralph Eldridge and Carlyle Staab appear to have the edge in speed among the backfield candidates at this writing, although there are others close on their heels. Harold Holmbeck and Ulysses Schlueter lead the tackles, Franklin Meier, the centers, Elmer Hubka and Clair Bishop, the guards, and Lee Penney is away out in front among the ends.

Two former Lincoln high linemen are waging a swell battle for a center job on the Husker varsity. Franklin Meier and Paul Prestegard should bolster an already strong contingent at the pivot post, since Lawrence Ely, Clair Campbell and Glenn Jones will be back. Meier, a freshman, is looking particularly promising, although thus far there has not been a great deal to choose between the two. Prestegard is a sophomore but did not compete last season.

TATER Fahrbruch has been exhibiting real talent as a ball lugger. The Crete freshman, who starred on Coach "Pop" Klein's championship grid team of a year ago, counts heavily on his speed, but he is also a good blocker and possesses good football sense. Tater has developed remarkably since his high school days. He is grown heavier, weighing about 170 pounds.

Fred Murray is another fine freshman prospect. The former Omaha Tech quarterback weighs 190 pounds, has a world of speed and is anxious to improve himself. What more can one ask? He is trying out for a halfback position.

Ralph Eldridge, former Norfolk high all around athlete, is surprising some of the wise ones with his work during spring practice. This frosh halfback, like Tater and Murray, is fast, packs 180 pounds and in general looks as if he had the goods. Eldridge must do some yeoman work on the books before he can hope to play with the Cornhuskers, however.

CHAMPIONS CROWNED IN UNIVERSITY BOXING

Copple Wins 175 and Heavy Titles; Kinoshita and Sellentin Win.

Action aplenty was on display Thursday night, as champions were crowned in eight divisions of the All-University boxing tournament at the coliseum. The meet saw two champions retain their titles, when Leland Copple repeated in the heavyweight class with a victory over Glenn Jones and Les Sellentin won from Flatten in the 160 pound group.

Copple in fact, captured the lion's share of honors when he scored a technical knockout triumph over Olson in the 175 pound class. The rangy Rosalie boy started throwing leather from the start, not stopping until the referee halted the bout early in the second round.

Bobby Kinoshita, 118 pound midwestern A. A. U. champion, ran into unexpected opposition in Glenn Heady, and the Hawaiian lad was forced to rally sharply in the third round to pull out with a decision. Kinoshita featured a left hook to the stomach that put the courageous Heady in a bad way more than once.

Sellentin Wins.
Sellentin took the 160 pound crown in a fast mix with Flatten, the latter substituting for Chris Mathis who had injured a hand in winning a preliminary fight. The diminutive Ouchi won from Singer in the 112 pound division, the Japanese boxer conceding four or five inches in height and even more in reach.

The Athey vs. Wood final in the 126 pound class was a blood and iron affair, with Athey copping a close decision. Athey went down once for a nine count, but came back to drop Wood for a count of five with a smashing blow to the solar plexus.

Houston avenged a previous defeat in winning from Malcolm, 147 pounder, the latter having won in the state A. A. U. meet. The bout was close all the way, with Houston rallying in the last round to eke out a win.

Evan Moses used an effective left jab plus a long reach to win the medal in the 135 pound division from Hinds.
