

Hugh Rhea Returns to Form With 50 Foot Heave at Drake Relays

HUSKRES PLACE IN THREE BATON PASSING EVENTS

Finish Third in 880 Relay; Fourth in Two Mile, Shuttle Hurdles.

FIVE MARKS SHATTERED Saling Runs High Barriers in 14.4; Brocksmith Sets Record.

DES MOINES.—Paced by Hugh Rhea, record holder in the shot-put, the University of Nebraska stars mustered one first place in the individual events plus two fourths and a third in the relays as their share of track honors in the finals of the twenty-third running of the Drake relays Saturday afternoon.

Rhea, using a strange shot, pushed the ball 50 feet, 1.2 inch in Friday's preliminaries, and it stood up for first place after the finals had been completed Saturday. The Arlington star could not locate his own pet shot, and was forced to experiment with half a dozen pellets before he found one that he liked. Rhea set the Drake relay record last year of 50 feet, 7.2 inches.

880 Team is Third. The Husker 880 yard relay quartet of Rodgers, Roby, Lee and Lambertus placed third in the event won by Marquette university in 1:27.3. Michigan took second. A fourth in the two mile relay that saw Notre Dame establish a new meet record of 7:48.8 and another fourth in the 480 yard shuttle hurdles completed the Nebraska scoring. Iowa State finished second in the Irish in the record-breaking two mile event with Michigan third. A new meet record was hung up in the shuttle hurdles by the University of Iowa, the Hawkeye quartet skimming the barriers in 1:01.6.

Five meet records were smashed and three trackmen of potential Olympic calibre were uncovered during the meet. The trio composed of Henry Brocksmith, great Indiana distance star, George Saling, Iowa hurdlers ace and Ralph Metcalfe, sophomore sprinter from Marquette had a direct hand in the breaking of three of the five marks and the equaling of a fourth.

Hoosier Sets Mark. In winning the two mile run in 9:13.7 Brocksmith shattered an American intercollegiate record of twenty years' standing. Berna of Cornell held the old mark of 9:17.8 made in 1912. The Hoosier finished 100 yards ahead of Piltrow of Grinnell, while Cunningham of Kansas was third. Brocksmith later came back to the track as anchor man of the winning Indiana four mile relay team.

Metcalfe, negro cinder ace from Marquette, won by two yards from Red Oliver of Texas Christian in the 100 yard dash, tying the meet record of 9.5 set by Roland Locke of Nebraska in 1926. His time equals the accepted world's record for the distance.

George Saling of Iowa flashed over the high hurdles to tie another accepted world mark of 14.4 seconds. Percy Beard of Alabama ran the highs in 14.2 at Lincoln last summer, but his mark has not yet been recognized. Saling also ran anchor on the Iowa shuttle hurdle team that established a record of 1:01.6 in this event. Brooks of Chicago jumped 24

OHIO PSYCHOLOGISTS WILL VISIT LINCOLN

Drs. L. C. and S. L. Pressey To Tour Schools in Nebraska.

Drs. S. L. and L. C. Pressey, psychologists from Ohio State university, will be in and about Lincoln this week making tests at several Indian and white schools in eastern Nebraska. Dr. S. L. Pressey will also address the Nebraska Academy of Science meeting in Omaha Friday afternoon, May 6.

Dr. L. C. Pressey, under a grant from the national research council in Washington, has been directing investigations of Indian children at their various schools. On her investigations of the Nebraska schools she will be accompanied by Dr. D. A. Worcester of the teachers college who has arranged her Nebraska tour. Dr. Charles Fordyce, Dr. Corey and other faculty members.

Both of the Ohio psychologists have done extensive writing and have been frequent contributors to psychological journals. Dr. S. L. Pressey has been one of the leaders in educational testing for years and has devised many tests among which is the machine to mechanically record multiple responses. Dr. L. C. Pressey has studied at length the difficulties of probation students in college.

STUDENT VOICE IN ATHLETICS IS STILL IN DOUBT

(Continued from Page 1.) athletic board and report. The matter was turned over to the council committee on athletic relations, of which Arthur Wolf is chairman.

The committee sent out questionnaires to fifty-three representative schools in all parts of the country requesting information on the methods of control and regulation of athletic matters at the various institutions and the percentage of student control if any.

The majority of schools replying to the questionnaire reported they possessed some form of student representation or voice in control of athletics. Several reported almost complete control by students. Others stated that at the present time they had no student representation but were seeking such representation.

Failed Last Year. Similar movements have taken place on the Nebraska campus in the past few years, but none of them have been successful. The most recent one, carried on last year by Robert Kelly, president of the Student council, and Walter Huber, chairman of the athletics relations committee, ended when the matter was presented to the athletic board for consideration. The board promised to investigate the problem but has made no answer.

Early this spring, shortly after the student council had started work on the idea, a student referendum on the question was held. The vote was overwhelmingly in favor of student representation. The petition prepared by the council committee on athletic relations and presented to the board of regents for consideration read as follows:

1. The students of the University of Nebraska, through their elective representatives, the Student Council, request two student members on the athletic board of control.
2. These two shall be: (1) a junior man, and (2) a senior man, the junior member to be selected each year by the Student Council and to hold over for two years, becoming the senior member during the second year of his term.
3. Both members shall not be members of the same political faction.
4. Student members of the athletic board of control shall not be members of the Student Council but shall be directly responsible to that body.
5. The student members shall have full membership on the athletic board of control with a full vote.
6. They shall be subject to the usual eligibility rules of the Student Council constitution.
7. The junior member shall be elected at the last meeting of the Student Council each year.

WEATHER PUTS KAYO ON HORSESHOE TILTS

Postponed Matches Hold Up Progress of Barnyard Competition.

Unseasonable weather that prevailed last week served to act as a damper for intramural and all university horseshoe activity. In fact, the intramural office finds that the majority of matches in the interfraternity class are still on the unplayed list, while in the all university competition, six first round tilts, as yet undecided, are holding up progress.

Rudolph Vogeler, intramural sports head, desires to complete all horseshoe matches by the end of the week. With seven matches yet to be played in League I, nine in League II, nine in League III and four in League IV, fraternity tilts must step to finish by Saturday.

IVY DAY PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

(Continued from Page 1.) The identity of the May Queen and her maid of honor, elected some time ago, has been kept secret until this time. Headed by the masked members of Mortar Board, the processional will begin to be followed by the two pages, and two attendants from each of the four classes within the university.

Following their arrival at the throne, two flower girls will scatter rose petals on the maid of honor, and two more will follow her to mark the path for the May Queen. Immediately following the flower girls, the crown bearer, a small boy, and the 1932 May Queen will appear.

After the May Queen has been crowned with a wreath of Ivy by the maid of honor, the Ivy Day poet will be presented to the queen awarded a lei of Ivy and a $5 gold piece, and she will then read her winning poem. In accordance with the usual custom, Marvin Schmid, junior class president, and Harold Metz, senior class president, will plant the Ivy. A recessional of the entire assemblage, an innovation this year, will close the morning ceremonies.

Afternoon program will open with the intersorority sing at 1:30. Between the conclusion of the sing and the announcement of the winner, Walter Huber, Ivy Day orator chosen at the spring election, will give his address. After the announcement of the sorority winner and their presentation of one of their songs, Mrs. F. D. Coleman of Lincoln, national president of Mortar Board, will give the introductory speech for Mortar Boards prior to the making of 1932 members.

80 Average Required. Membership in Mortar Board is based primarily on scholarship, and no girl who has not an 80 average and a record free of conditions and incompletes in the office of the registrar was even considered a possible candidate. For this reason, according to Jean Rathburn, several names otherwise eligible were not considered receiving the highest number of votes at the campus-wide election held early in the spring were considered. The order in which girls not officers will be masked was determined by lot, according to Miss Rathburn, and not, as is generally thought, according to contribution to the campus. Dr. G. E. Condra will present the introductory speech for the Innocents society, senior mens' honorary, who will then go about tapping thirteen members for the 1932 body. Contrary to the policy of Mortar Board, membership in Innocents is limited to not more nor less than thirteen members. Distinctly an innovation on the campus this year is the collaboration of the two senior honoraries in presenting an Ivy Day party Thursday night following the ceremonies at the Coliseum. This party, honoring the alumni who return for Round-up week, will present Eddie Jungbluth's orchestra, and the Lefholtz sisters, singing trio as well as Kosmet Klub entertainers during its program which will close at 12:00.

THREE SCHOOLS REPRESENTED AT STUDENT MEET

(Continued from Page 1.) representation in its councils, while the other is a coalition of a fraternity faction with a barf faction. Members of professional fraternities are regarded as non-fraternity in politics. Campaigns on the Lawrence campus, according to Denton, are hard fought affairs producing a flood of political pamphlets and propaganda at the expense of the factions or the candidates. About $200 is spent by each faction in the annual spring election campaign.

Kansas State Reports. Sullivan from Kansas State reported that non-fraternity students have almost no part in student activities there and that political alignments are based rather on divisions of the school, as agriculture and engineering, than on classes or factions. Political factions are entirely sub-ras at Iowa State and there is little interest in elections, according to Cochran, one of the delegates from Ames.

Sullivan of Kansas State presided at the second part of the morning discussion in which the problem of class organization, since curricula and honorary positions was discussed. Iowa State and Kansas university finds sufficient duties for their class presidents to justify their existence, the first making them members of the Student council and the other thru the existence of a fairly active class organization. Nebraska and Kansas State reported probability of the abolition of minor class officers because of lack of duties.

At noon the conference adjourned until 2 o'clock. In the afternoon the student activities tax plan and the interrelation and control of student activities was taken up. Hedge of Iowa State presided during the first discussion at which the blanket tax for student activities was discussed. Such a tax, he said, has been approved at Iowa State but has not yet been put in force. Kansas State reported the plan in operation very successfully there. Neither K. U. nor Nebraska have the plan. Prof. E. W. Lantz, faculty adviser to the Student council, discussed the operation of the tax plan in other schools in detail and cited arguments favoring its adoption.

Howard Alloway, co-representative of the Nebraska council with Eleanor Dixon, presided at the final afternoon session at which the position of the Student council with regard to other organizations was discussed and methods of enforcing its authority taken up. Both Nebraska and Iowa State reported that the student council takes little part in student disciplinary measures, altho at the former the Student council is definitely at the apex of the hierarchy of student organizations. At the two Kansas schools a large measure of disciplinary power over students is exercised by the Student council. The afternoon session closed at 4:30. The final meeting of the conference was a banquet at the University club at 6:30 where several of the representatives and Dean T. J. Thompson spoke briefly. Measures for perpetuating and definitely organizing the conference of student governing bodies of the Big Six schools were considered at the evening session.

Paul Whiteman has reduced so much, we hear that eight of his musicians are suffering from stage fright. It's the first time that they've had to face an audience.

VOGELER ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR MERMEN

Three Weeks Spring Tank Practice Will Keep Team in Trim.

That Rudy Vogeler is determined to let nothing stand between him and a Big Six swimming championship next year is revealed in the announcement that he is issuing a call for a three weeks spring practice to start Monday, the first in the history of Nebraska swimming.

Thirty mermen, including ten lettermen from this year's second place conference team, are expected to report to Vogeler, the remainder being promising reserve squad members and freshmen. With the brightest outlook facing him since he took over the aquatic team four years ago, Vogeler wishes to lose no time in lining up his material. "Anyone who desires to come out will be welcome," Vogeler declared. "We will lay chief stress on form in these spring drills, which will enable us to get under way next season with a bang," he added.

Practices have been scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 5 to 6. Lettermen expected out include Bernie Masterson, Dan Easterday, Dave Whitworth, Jack Minor, Don Carle, Lowell Thomas, Howard Church, Gregg Waldo, Fred Krause and Bob Lackey.

Reserves and freshmen who will report are Elliott, Watkins, Dahms, Oddo, Rood, John Turner, Wolcott, Ferguson, Rathburn, Gavin, McKee, Wood, Clark, Booth, Oeltjen, Schwager, Kelley, Stall, Hood, Anderson and Bennett.

REGENTS NAME HALL AFTER MRS. RAYMOND

(Continued from Page 1.) her death, says: "Mrs. Raymond was largely responsible for the growth of the university chorus both in numbers and as a part of student life."

Active in Music. Mrs. Raymond was a charter member of the Matinee Musicale, a well known club in music circles of Lincoln; a patroness of Delta Omicron and Phi Mu Epsilon; an honorary member of the International Musician's association; a member of Altrusa club and Kappa Delta sorority. In 1923 the Kiwanis club presented her with its medal for distinguished service to city and state. Following the merging of the First and Plymouth Congregational church organizations into the present First Plymouth church she served as organist for that church.

The building to house 170 women is progressing rapidly and will be ready for occupancy by September, according to those in charge of construction. In keeping with the colonial style of architecture followed in building the structure, furnishings thruout the lounges, recreation rooms, and student rooms will be decorated in the colonial style.

The main floor of the building includes a lobby, a room for the director, and four parlors in the front wing with a social room in the rear of the building. Second and third floors will each have accommodations for seventy-six girls; eighteen girls will have rooms on the main floor.

REGENTS APPROVE BUDGET REDUCTION

(Continued from Page 1.) plained by the chancellor. The total set up for this college is $470,453, of which $50,000 will come from federal sources and $189,322 from cash sales. The College of Arts and Sciences has the second largest budget with $429,551.68 and the College of Medicine third with $417,661.

of educational activities," explained Chancellor Burnett. "We have carefully considered all factors of teaching load of our faculty, value of the different branches of university work, and needs of the different colleges and activities in determining these savings. Further reduction at this time would work toward the detriment of the educational and research work carried on by the state of Nebraska."

The chancellor explained that following reduced taxation appropriations for the biennium, numerous savings were effected during the present year, including cuts in maintenance funds, failure to replace faculty members who had resigned, and consolidation of work. This reduction amounted to $108,000. All of these savings will be carried forward next year, making a total savings for the two years of slightly more than $300,000. He explained that a few members of the faculty would not be rehired for the coming year.

GOED RIDERS TO COMPETE IN AG FAIR FESTIVITY

(Continued from Page 1.) froaks collected from over the state. Otto Dillon is to have charge of the pony ride for the kiddies at the fair. Thirty ponies from a prominent Nebraska horse fancier will be imported to the campus for the event.

The champion horseshoe pitcher will also be named at the fair for there is to be a pitching contest. Reed Carsten is in general charge. The event will probably be held while the ball game between the Ag college and the Law college is being played. Prizes will be awarded the winner.

With no classes Thursday, Friday or Saturday on the agriculture campus, students are beginning in earnest to prepare for the 1932 fair. Pageant practices are being held every day this week in preparation for the feature of the fair. The pageant will be presented twice, once early in the afternoon and the other in the evening.

Though the senior fair board has not yet indicated what days will be designated as "overall and apron" days, it is expected the students will be told to don old clothes Wednesday. The horse tank will be available for those who do not comply with the request, members of the fair board warn.

Girls in the college of agriculture are electing their Goddess of Agriculture early this week from members of the senior class. Names of girls eligible for the honor are to be posted Monday. Seven girls will be elected and the one receiving the highest number of votes will be the goddess. The other six will act as attendants Friday night when she is presented to the student body in the annual pre-fair dance for Ag students only.

PERSIAN FETE GIVEN BY AMANDA HEPPNER

(Continued from Page 1.) during the affair. All Guli K. Heshmatt was a guest, and assisted in explaining the symbolism of the articles displayed in the den. There were rugs, hangings, bric-a-brac and pottery.

The drawing room was most attractive with rare silk Kashan rugs hanging from each of the windows. Tall baskets of white and lavender lilies decorated the room as well as Persian hangings on the tables and beautiful Persian rugs on the floor.

Presiding at the tea table following the program were Mrs. E. A. Burnett and Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson. A color scheme of blue, green, orchid and rose was used in the appointments. Snapdragons, lilies and tulips in a low silver bowl formed the centerpiece with tall orchid jars in silver holders on either side. A Venetian point lace cloth which Miss Heppner brought back with her from Italy last year covered the table.

Assisting with the serving were the new and old members of the Panhellenic advisory board, Julia Samanek, Gretchen Pae, Waitie Thurlow, Willa Norris, Elizabeth Barber and Martha Hershey. More than seventy-five guests attended the affair which Miss Heppner gives annually to honor the sorority chaperones and presidents.

CHAPERONS, PATRONS NAMED FOR IVY PARTY

(Continued from Page 1.) Mrs. C. W. M. Poynter, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Gramlich. Another list of patrons and patronesses will include Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ferguson, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Reed of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Clark of Denver. Acting as chaperones at the Ivy Day student-alumni party will be Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Condra, Prof. E. F. Schramm, Prof. and Mrs. C. J. Frankforter, Miss Pauline Gellatly, Miss Mable Lee, and Miss Florence McGehee. The party scheduled for Thursday evening is the first of such affairs to be held on Ivy Day night. Eddie Jungbluth's orchestra will play at the coliseum during the evening, and entertainment will be furnished by selected acts from Kosmet Klub performances of the year and the Lefholtz sisters singing trio.
