State Senator Axtell Says Social Groups Need Regulation.

WOULD LIMIT SMOKING

A determined effort will be made to enact legislation against the University of Nebraska and particularly against fraternities and sororities in forthcoming sessions of the legislature unless students "change their mode of living," in the opinion of State Senator J. A. Axtell of Fairbury.

Senator Axtell, one of the staunchest supporters of a bill in the last legislature seeking to prohibit smoking on the university campus, was in Lincoln this week attending the republican state convention.

During consideration of the antismoking bill in the senate, the senator introduced a substitute which forbade "drinking and smok-ing in fraternities and sororities as well as on the campus.
