

JAYHAWKS RATED HEAVY FAVORITES TO RETAIN TITLE

Remaining Schools Given Small Chance Upset Strong K. U. Team.

PRELIMS, FINALS AT 2 Great Race Looms in 220 Lows With Lambertus Likely Winner.

BY JOE MILLER.

With the University of Kansas heavily favored to retain its outdoor championship which it has won the last two years, Big Six teams will start qualifying Friday afternoon in their annual track and field championships on Memorial stadium track. Both Saturday's finals and the preliminaries today will begin at 2 p. m.

Although Coach Brutus Hamilton is leaving Foy and Ross, weight men, and Cox, a hurdler, at home because of injuries, the Jayhawk strength will not suffer materially with such under performers on deck as Capt. Joe Klamer in the dashes, Flick and Gridley in the hurdles, Clyde Coffman, pole vault star and all around athlete, Glenn Cunningham, 880 and mile ace, Melvin Thornhill and "Pete" Bausch in the weights.

Coach Schulte's Husker trackmen are rated the best chance among the conference schools to upset the Jays, but because of the absence of Asher, sophomore distance star, and Petz, veteran hurdler, are not conceded strong enough to cut into the Kansas scoring. Asher was recently declared ineligible while Petz pulled a muscle at the Drake relays that has kept him from active competition. However, the Nelson boy will take a whirl at one of the qualifying heats in the high hurdles, and if his leg will hold up may qualify.

220 Lows a Feature.

One of the features of the meet is looked for in the 220 low hurdles race in which Heye Lambertus, Nebraska star, will match stamina and speed with Raymond Flick, K. U. hurdler and Bernard Gridley, also of Kansas, who won the event last year in 23 seconds with a wind. Flick was caught in 23.4 seconds last Saturday in the Kansas-Missouri dual at Columbia. The conference record is 23.3 seconds held by Welch of Missouri established in 1930.

Glenn Cunningham, sophomore Kansas runner, may set new records in the 880 and mile, as he has been under the carnival marks in both these events this season. Ehrlich of Kansas State is defending champion and record holder in the high jump, Thornhill of Kansas holds the discus record, while Coffman of Kansas is defending his pole vault record of 13 feet, 5 1/2 inches. It should be a classy meet all around, with three record holders and six event champions entered in addition to some sophomores who have been burning up the tracks this season.

KANSAS TRACK COACH NOT OVER CONFIDENT

Hamilton Believes His Men Have Only Even Chance To Win Meet.

LAWRENCE.—With the Big Six track meet to be held at Lincoln, Saturday, only a few days off, Coach Brutus Hamilton of the Kansas track team is not overly confident of a victory in the meet for the Jayhawks. However it is his opinion that Kansas has one of the three strongest teams, along with Oklahoma and Nebraska.

Kansas has defeated both Missouri and Kansas State in dual meets. If Missouri, Kansas State and Iowa State should damage Oklahoma and Nebraska more than they do the Jayhawks, Kansas should stand a fair chance of win-

CYCLONES PIN HOPES ON TWO TRACK STARS

Labertew and Chapman Seem Best Prospects for First Places.

AMES.—Earl Labertew of Indianola and Lyle Chapman of Chicago are the two Iowa State men who appear most likely to win individual championships in the Big Six conference track meet to be held in Lincoln, Neb., Friday and Saturday.

While the Cyclone aggregation is expected to rank higher than Missouri in the meet, there is little chance that it will place higher than fifth. Pre-meet dope indicates that Kansas and Oklahoma are favorites for first place with Nebraska and Kansas State close behind.

Labertew, half miler, is one of the seven men in the conference who will be defending a title won last year. Only once this season, that at the Drake relays, has he attained the speed which won him the title and a new loop record of 1:55 last year yet he is given a good chance to head the list of Big Six half-milers. If Cunningham of Kansas runs this race he will probably be Labertew's closest competitor.

Altho Chapman is probably the fastest two-miler in the loop, he is expected to run only in the mile race and on the mile relay team. If he develops the form that won him the K. C. A. C. mile early in the season he may lead the field. In this race also Cunningham is expected to furnish the greatest competition.

Dash Man Out. Ike Nelson of St. Joseph, Mo., who flashed winning form at the Kansas relays in the short dashes, has been weakened by a light attack of appendicitis and is not expected to have built up sufficient strength to place among the crack conference dashmen. Record times are expected in several of the short races with Klamer of Kansas, Smutney and Lambertus of Nebraska, Going of Kansas State, Foxtow of Missouri, Adkinson and Coffman of Oklahoma and Nelson of Iowa State providing the competition.

Coach Bob Simpson pins hopes for other points upon Roland Meyers of Clear Lake in the discus throw. Henderson in the 440-yard dash, and the mile relay team. The members of the mile relay team have not yet been definitely selected, but with disability of Lloyd Nagel they will probably be

Regular 'N' Club Picnic Scheduled for May 22

The regular "N" club picnic will be held Sunday, May 22. All members are asked to bring their cars to the coliseum at 10 o'clock.

Henderson, Vernon Guse, of Sanborn, Labertew and Chapman, Norman Way of Houston, Tex., is a possible member of the relay team.

Less than two-fifths of the 1931 graduating class at Oregon State were students who had entered school four years before.
