

KOSMET STARTS TO JUDGE ACTS ON NOVEMBER 1

chairman, Joe Alter, Wallace Frankfort, and Frank Musgrave. To Set Limits.

As yet, no limit has been set on the number of skits to be used in the production or the time allotted to each act. Limits will be definitely set after the judging has been completed and the production committee makes the final decision on skits to be used.

The Klub will probably make each skit somewhat shorter than has been in the past to allow the greatest possible number of acts to enter the review and to allow the greatest possible presentation of talent, it was indicated recently by Thompson. Definite schedules will be announced later.

Receive Many Applications.

The deadline for entering skits for the show is Wednesday, Oct. 19. No applications will be received after that date, Thompson stated. Judging will begin the evening of Nov. 1 and continue through the evening of Nov. 3.

"Several applications for skits have already been received," Thompson stated yesterday. "The response so far is very encouraging. We expect to stage one of the best Thanksgiving revues ever produced by the Klub, and co-operation so far has been gratifying."

A great number of students have signified their interest of working as assistants in the production of the revue. Many have filled out application blanks, and more are expected to file before the deadline, which is Wednesday.

Oct. 19. Permanent committees for the revue will be appointed from those applying for work.

Applicants for work will be appointed to seven committees for the fall revue. The committees are: business, scenery, costumes, chorus, production, advertising, and publicity. Personnel of the groups will be announced as soon as possible after all applications are handed in.

LITERARY PUBLICATION GOES ON SALE NOV. 1

Editor of Prairie Schooner Receives Contributions From Many Sources.

Copy for the Prairie Schooner, Nebraska's literary quarterly, goes to press this week, and the magazine will appear Nov. 1. The contribution to this issue are mainly from midwestern writers, though there are a few included from out of the state.

Prof. Lowry C. Wimberly, editor of the magazine, receives stories from all parts of the country and abroad. Its primary purpose, however, is to publish the work of Nebraska writers and bring them to the attention of persons throughout the United States, he stated.

In addition to a large number of libraries within the state, considerable interest is shown by libraries in other sections of the country. These include: Iowa State college library, Ames, Ia.; Denver public library, Des Moines public library; Lafayette, Ind., public library; Lansing, Mich., public library; Laramie, Wyo., public library; the University of Minnesota library, at Minneapolis; University of Pennsylvania library, Philadelphia; Princeton university library, of Princeton, N. J.; St. Louis public library, St. Louis, Mo.; Yale university library, New Haven, Conn.; Stanford university library, Palo Alto, Calif.; University of Arizona library, Phoenix, Ariz.

The Schooner also exchanges numbers with various magazines, such as the Reader's Digest, Forum, Southwest Review, Midland, and the Frontier.

THE CLOTHES LINE

HAVING run across a little ballad of the gay nineties which is apropos of our subject, we're starting out with poetry again today.

It is an ancient spinster.

And she stoppeth one of three.

"By the flat heeled shoes and plain hat,

Now wherefore stoppeth thou me?"

She holds her with her glittering eye.

"There was a time," quoth she,

When I was young and passing fair,

Even as you can be."

"A son came up in those old days To the University,

And he was fair, I loved him much,

And sought his wife to be."

"My hair was straight, without a curl;

My dress was neat and plain;

My shoes like these, my hat a sight,

I thought of naught but brain."

At length did come a dainty maid.

In frills and furbelows;

With dimples but no maid at all,

A saucy powdered nose."

"She won the man I longed to have

And with him sped away,

While I was left behind alone

To pine and weep and pray."

"She winneth best who dresseth best.

From shoes to gown and hat;

For the dear men we all do like,

They fall most quick for that."

We don't take that final stanza for the "gospel truth," but you know how much there is in it.

Edith Haynie inspires our enthusiasm today, with a black velvet turban that has a two inch band of smooth white feathers fitting around her face.

And Mary Reimers has a good-looking turban of black crepe, encircled with white leaves. Both lovely for the dressier occasions.

Then bids! Elisabeth Whitney and Betty Anne Regan are wearing them, and so is Frances Morgan, who has a "great big" one. Ruth Skiles had a long one on a black dress, and is teased a lot for looking like a saintly Puritan. Oh, how can she!

Long List of Greek-Letter Men and Women Who Plan To Attend Saturday Game Is Announced Friday; Nine Girls File Preference.

With so many students attending the Minnesota-Nebraska game this week end promises to be a quiet one so far as social activities on this campus are concerned. Two fraternities are planning house parties for Saturday night, while the students of Ag college are sponsoring another mixer Friday evening. The nine who filled their preferences last Friday and their affiliations are announced in this column.

Greeks Will See Minnesota Game.

Many Greek students are taking advantage of the special rate offered by the Burlington to Minnesota this week end. Some students are planning to drive to Minneapolis for the Saturday conflict. These Nebraskans plan to leave some time Friday while the special train is scheduled to start at 7 p. m.

The number of fraternity men attending the game far out numbers the one set by the women. From the Pi Beta Phi chapter the following are going: Eva Mae Livermore, Anne Bunting, Edith Haynie and Ruth Preston, Jeanette Clark, Janet Jenning, Harriett Dunlap and Jean McGill are the Alpha Chi Omegas who plan to see the game. The Alpha Omicron Pi report that Mae Thacker, Eleanor Jones and Marjorie Ley are going to view the conflict.

An announcement from the Panhellenic office of the university states that the following have been pledged by sororities: Alpha Delta Theta: Marie Moss, Oakdale; Alpha Omicron Pi: Marjorie McAllister, Lincoln; Delta Delta Delta: Dora Slaughter, Valentine; Chi Omega: Leona Pollard, Nehawka; Kappa Kappa Gamma: Eleanor and Madeline Raymond, Hinsdale, Illinois; Phi Mu: Beth Schmid, Lincoln; Sigma Delta Tau: Gwendolyn Neterson, Council Bluffs, Ia., and Sigma Kappa: Alice Geddes, Lincoln. These girls filed their preference Friday afternoon, October 7.

Musical Honorary Pledges Wednesday.

Delta Omicron pledged seven girls Wednesday evening at 7:30. The pledging was held at the university school of music. The following girls were pledged: Jeanette Arensburg, Helen Jolliffe, Bonnie Bishop, Winifred Shallcross, Dorothy Kunz, Arly Jackson and Editha Long.

Howard Hall Is Scene of Dinner.

University women residing in Howard hall entertained at a dinner Tuesday evening, at the hall. Guests of honor were Miss Amanda Heppner, Miss Elsie Ford Piper, Mrs. Alice Howard, after whom the hall was named, and Miss Bernice Hoffman, sponsor of the co-operative house.

Henzlik's Receive Administration.

Dean and Mrs. F. E. Henzlik will hold a reception Friday evening at the University club honoring the faculty and the administration staff of the Teachers college. Between 90 to 100 guests are expected to call during the receiving hours. Miss Marian Stamp, pianist, will give a group of numbers during the evening.

Twenty-five Alpha Omicron Pi alumnae were entertained by Mrs. J. E. Latsch at her home Wednesday evening. Bridge followed the business meeting with supper served late in the evening.

Delta Gamma Mothers club will entertain the mothers of the new pledges at tea Friday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 o'clock at the chapter house.

A Bite at night

IT'S only natural. You crack the books through a long evening. And at bedtime you're hungry. So you eat.

It's a great institution—this midnight snack. Dietitians say it's healthful—if you eat proper food.

Kellogg's PEP Bran Flakes are more than just good to taste. That flavor of toasted whole wheat means health. For whole wheat is nature's storehouse of nourishment. A body-building food that digests easily and quickly. Aids sleep at night. Gives enough good bran to be mildly laxative.

Try Kellogg's PEP—with milk or cream. Have it the next time you feel the urge to eat at night. Get these better bran flakes at any campus lunchroom or canteen. Always fresh. Always good. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The most popular ready-to-eat cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include ALL-BRAN, Corn Flakes, Rice Krispies, Wheat Krambles, and Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee—real coffee that lets you sleep.
