KOSMET KLUB PLANS CAMPAIGN FOR SALE OF REVUE TICKETS

Rathburn, Kosman, Gepson And Easterday Captains In Competition.

Organization of an extensive and comprehensive ticket sales campaign for the Kosmet Klub Thanksgiving Morning Revue was announced yesterday by Bill Devereaux, business manager of the Klub, who distributed tickets for the show to salesmen.

Four sales teams, composed of workers for the production, were appointed for the drive. Teams are managed on a competitive basis, each team being allotted certain districts to cover in the drive. Complete coverage of both the campus and the downtown district is planned.

List Team Captains.

Team captains for the campaign are: Hugh Rathburn, Henry Kosman, John Gepson, and Dan Easterday. Each group, consisting of five or six men, has been given tickets and houses to canvass. Regular reports will be made by team members to their captains and by the captains to the Klub.

Members of Rathburn's team are Joe Shramek, Robert Pilling, Otto Kotouc, and Dale Taylor. Art Bailey, Frank Crabbill, Tom Davies, Pat Minier, and Earl Carstensen compose the personnel of Kosman's squad. Gepson leads a group composed of Lee Young, Charles Steadman, Owen Johnson, Jack Vaughn, and Fred Nicklas; and Easterday's team has Roger Scholl, George Shadbolt, Mario Smith, Lynn Leonard, and George Murphy.

Expect Capacity House.

Tickets for the show are selling for fifty cents. All tickets are for general admission, no reservations being made.

"With an unusually talented and entertaining show promised, we expect a record crowd to attend the revue Thanksgiving morning," Bill Devereaux declared. "The Stuart theater will accommodate a large crowd, and we anticipate a packed house."

FOUR BILLFOLDS FOUND

Discovery of four billfolds in one of the restrooms of the university stadium was announced by Activities Director John K. Selleck Tuesday. All four carried identification cards and were empty with the exception of one which contained a check for over ninety dollars. Selleck refused to give the names found in the billfolds but stated that he would return them to the owners upon request. Officer L. C. Regier found the billfolds.

Lincoln Unemployed Are Subject of Personnel Management Class Survey

Three hundred and thirty-eight persons of every thousand in Lincoln, able and willing to work, are either unemployed or underemployed, according to the survey made recently by the class in personnel management, the results of which were released Tuesday. The survey, under the supervision of Prof. C. O. Swayzee of the economics department, included 4026 persons, both men and women, approximately 13 percent of Lincoln's working population, who are typically at work, and shows conditions as of Nov. 1.

Complete results were compiled by Mr. Swayzee, some of which follow:

Sixty-one percent of the 4026 are working full time; 12.2 percent are working part time; 26.5 percent are employed for various reasons. Of the 1069 idle persons,

LaMonte M. Lundstrom, former University of Nebraska student, will be the state legislature's "baby solon" this coming term. Lundstrom, Holdrege, twenty-two years of age, defeated his republican opponent by more than a 2 to 1 majority. He is a democrat.

Lundstrom has attended the university four years, three in preparatory work and one in law college. Since leaving the campus he has been working on his law degree by extension. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

DEAN SAYS FILINGS FOR SCHOLARSHIPS MUST BE IN DEC. 10

Thompson Sets Deadline Tuition Applications; Will Award 100.

All applications for tuition in the departments of the university must be filed by Dec. 10, Dean Thompson announced today. One hundred scholarships are awarded each semester in the various departments of the university on the basis of scholarship and financial need. All applicants must be of at least sophomore standing and must have earned twenty-four credit hours in the University of Nebraska with an average of eighty percent.

The applications will be judged by committees from the various colleges and schools of the university and the results will be announced in the latter part of December. Prof. L. W. Lancaster, chairman of the College of Arts and Sciences committee, said that there are fewer applications this semester than in previous years.

DEADLINE FOR 1933 CORNHUSKER PHOTOS DEC. 21 SAYS EDITOR

Students Given Thirty-One More Days to Have Pictures Taken.

Hauck's and Townsend's studios will not take Cornhusker pictures after Dec. 21, the editor of the 1933 year book yesterday announced. The deadline for junior, senior, fraternity and sorority pictures has been definitely set for Wednesday, Dec. 21, the last day of school before Christmas vacation begins.

"Altho the deadline is more than a month off it leaves only thirty-one more days in which pictures for these sections can be taken, which should remind those who have not yet visited the studios to do so soon" Spencer declared.

"Do your Cornhusker shopping early," he advised, "in order to assure yourself that you will not be left out of the 1933 Cornhusker."

Pictures for these sections of the book have been coming in very satisfactorily, he said. Sorority (girls') section pictures are nearly all taken. While pictures for the

SIXTY ENGINEERS GO TO OMAHA MEETING

Nebraska Group Reports Good Attendance at Monday Meeting.

Over sixty students of the engineering college, members of the engineering societies, attended the convention of the Nebraska section of A. S. M. E. and A. I. E. E. in Omaha Monday evening.

A trip thru the Bell Telephone building and Nebraska Power company filled out the afternoon schedule. Following this, the members ate dinner at the chamber of commerce rooms. The evening program which followed included the reading of papers by Don Alquist and Jack Steele, and the conducting of demonstrations by Phil Ehrenhard and L. W. Cook, members of the electrical engineering college.

Members of the University of Nebraska delegation report that the convention was one of the best attended in recent years, over 100 members being present from the state engineering societies.

Transition From Night Life of Paris to Day-by-Day Dubuque Shown in Play

Is the difference between the American and the continental really so marked? Can Paris actually "do something" to an average, complacent American woman to the extent that it brings out in her a heretofore undiscovered nature and opens to her new and bewitching worlds?

Rachel Crothers, in her comedy drama, given by the University Players, "As Husbands Go," raises these questions, and finally, after keeping the audience in suspense for four scenes, answers in the negative. She takes the four characters involved from the frivolous night life of gay Paris to the normal existence of the conventional married set in uneventful Dubuque, Ia., and artfully portrays the painful transition.

Miss Alice Howell, director of the University Players, was most skillful in her interpretation of

BIG SISTER DINNER TUESDAY EVENING ATTENDED BY 350

Program Following Banquet Is Presided Over by Delores Deadman.

Three hundred and fifty campus "sisters" attended the annual dinner sponsored by the Big Sister board given in the Armory Tuesday evening. Intending this year to promote friendship and co-operation between women barbs and sororities girls, sorority sponsors and their daughters as well as big and little sisters were present.

The program, including a dramatic skit by Edith Long and Betsy Benedict and a reading by Florence Sneering, was announced by Delores Deadman, president of the Big Sister board. Dorothy Charleston and Marion Stamp furnished dance music thruout the evening. The Misses Elsie Ford Piper and Letta May Clark, sponsors of the Big Sister board, were present.

In charge of arrangements for the dinner were Calista Cooper, publicity; Muriel Moffett, menu; Alice Quigle, program; Lucille Reilly, ticket sales; and Margaret Reedy, general arrangements.

NEBRASKA BLUEPRINT PUBLISHES NEW ISSUE

Petroleum Is Subject of Articles in Current Copy Of Magazine.

Distribution of the Nebraska Blueprint, monthly publication of the engineering college, begins this morning in A. M. Building, according to John Hutchings, jr., editor.

Having as its general theme the subject of petroleum, this issue contains several interesting articles by present and past students. John T. Coffee, '32, is the author of "Rigs, Tools, and Castings," a story of present day drilling methods. A feature story, "Research in Bituminous Materials for Road Surfacing," is written by J. L. Mullen and Hugh Gray of the highway testing department. John Hutchings, jr., editor, also has a short article "The Economics of the Oil Industry," a story of "Alfalfa Bill" Murray's use of military force to curtail oil production, which raised the price of oil 1000 percent.
