

ECONOMIC CONCLAVE OPENS THURSDAY ON NEBRASKA CAMPUS

Robb Will Preside at First
Discussion of Money,
Farmer Problem.

The opening session of the Economic conference on "Prices, Debts, and the Farmer" will be held this morning from 10 to 12 o'clock in the Social Science auditorium with T. Bruce Robb, chairman of the department of Business Research of the University of Nebraska presiding. The conference is to be composed of talks and discussions concerning monetary and agricultural problems of the day.

According to Professor Arndt, the primary purpose of the meeting is to discuss the farmers' problem in relation to possible adjustments and changes in the monetary system of the country, through the banking system. In addition to a discussion of the agricultural phase of the system, another primary point of interest will be the monetary system as a whole. There are a number of bankers on the program as well as a rural economist, Mr. H. C. Filley, head of the department of Rural Economics at the University of Nebraska.

The chief speaker of the day will be C. A. Phillips, dean of the college of commerce at the University of Iowa, who is scheduled to appear at both the morning and afternoon sessions. Dr. Phillips is internationally known as a teacher and writer on economic subjects, and has enunciated some of the most widely accepted principles of modern bank management. In the

ANNOUNCE PRACTICES FOR KOSMET REVUE

Thompson Sets Rehearsals
For Sunday at 2:30 and Wednesday.

Two final full rehearsals of the entire Kosmet Klub Thanksgiving Morning Revue were announced yesterday by Jack Thompson, president of the Klub. The rehearsals are scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Nov. 20, and Wednesday evening, Nov. 23.

The Sunday rehearsal will be held at 2:30 on the Stuart stage, Thompson said. At that time all light cues, spots, and all necessary effects will be worked out. The dress rehearsal will be held Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock in the coliseum.

All skits are expected to be ready by Sunday noon, members of the production committee announced. Skits which do not measure up to expectations at the Sunday rehearsal may be cut from the program, Thompson indicated yesterday.

Skits Are Ready.

"We feel confident that all skits will be in perfect shape by Sunday," Frank Musgrave, member of the production committee, stated. "Frequent rehearsals have been held by all skits during the past two weeks, and all skit masters report progress and improvement in their acts."

The present program consists of

London Observer Reviews Book Written by White

A book written by Prof. H. A. White of the English department, on Sir Walter Scott's "Novel on the Stage" was reviewed by London Observer in its issue for Oct. 30.

The book is a review of the presentation of Scott's novels on the stage and was written as a thesis for a doctor's degree from the graduate school of Yale university. It was published by the Yale University Press and the Oxford University Press.

MUSIC SPONSOR APPOINTED

Velma James, North Platte, Chosen to Fill Post in Raymond Hall.

Miss Velma James has been chosen as the music sponsor of Carrie Belle Raymond hall. She is planning to organize a quartette, octette, and orchestra, and will arrange several musical programs to be presented during the year.

Miss James comes from North Platte, Neb., and for the last two years has been attending the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. This is her first year in the University of Nebraska. She is a junior in the Teachers college.

FORUM COMMITTEE CHOOSES ALLAWAY AS FIFTH MEMBER

Negotiations Under Way to Secure Stanley High
As Speaker.

Personnel of the student forum committee was filled Wednesday when its members chose Howard Allaway the fifth representative and announced that Prof. Harold W. Stoke had promised to act as faculty advisor.

At least five tentative luncheon talks are being planned for the year, according to committee members. The new organization supplants last year's Student Forum sponsored by the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., and is working under authorization of the Student council, to which it is responsible.

Negotiations are being made with Stanley High, former Nebraskan, for his appearance at the first meeting, which will probably be held before Christmas vacation.

Mr. High, who has spent much time in the Orient since the World war, has been asked to talk on current political and economic problems of the Far East.

Selection of Allaway to the committee Wednesday was according to the arrangement made at the formation of the committee, when it was agreed that the four original committee members should choose a fifth to assist them.

In addition to Professor Stoke and Allaway, the committee includes Ruth Bernstein, representing Y. W. C. A.; Paul Harrison, Y. M. C. A.; Gertrude Clarke, A. W. S., and Reginald Porter, Student Council.

FINISH DESTRUCTION R STREET BUILDINGS

Brings to Close Campus
Improvement Project
For This Fall.

Destruction of two buildings on R street east of Social Science ends for the year the campus improvement project inaugurated this fall, according to L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent. It is expected, however, that the work of razing other frame buildings on the campus will be resumed eventually.

Present plans call for replacement of the present student infirmary, although definite announcement awaits the action of the Board of Regents and the subsequent approval of the legislature.

Lumber from the razed buildings has been sold to R. E. Allen, Lincoln contractor and will be removed in a short time.

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN BARB PETITION FOR CLOSED NIGHT DATE

Other Organizations Have Arranged Parties for December 10.

The petition to close the night of Dec. 10 for a Christmas party sponsored by the Barb council was rejected by the Student council Wednesday afternoon. In rejecting the petition, the council passed a rule requiring any organization desiring such action to submit the request at least two months prior to the date which was to be closed.

Discussion of the request presented by the Barb council revealed the fact that several organizations had already scheduled parties for the night of Dec. 10, and that closing the night would subject them to embarrassment in cancelling arrangements. A recommendation was made that the Barb council confer with a committee of the Student council in an effort to arrange for sponsoring of an all university party under the auspices of the Barb council later in the year, at which time the Student council might decree a closed night without conflicting with previously completed plans.

The council voted to include in its budget request to the faculty committee on student affairs, an appropriation of $35.00 for use by the Student Forum commission in securing an outstanding speaker for the first Forum meeting. Reginald Porter, Student council member of the commission reported that the commission felt it was necessary to have some money available in order to bring to the campus a speaker capable of attracting student attendance.

The council voted to exclude from the budget an appropriation for sending a delegate to the annual convention of the National Student Federation of America.

CORNHUSKER EDITOR REAFFIRMS DEADLINE

Spencer Explains Studios
Have Refused Photos
After Dec. 21.

Reaffirming yesterday's announcement that the deadline for Cornhusker pictures has been definitely set for Wednesday, Dec. 21, Ralph Spencer, editor, stressed the fact that there is not as much time left as might be thought. Actually there are only thirty days left when pictures may be taken.

Some objections have resulted from the deadline, foremost among them being that it is too early this year. The editor explained that there was no alternative and that he was forced to set Dec. 21 as the deadline because the photographers have refused to take pictures for the junior, senior, fraternity and sorority sections of the 1933 yearbook after that date.

He stated that the cost of pictures is much less than in former years, with junior and senior pictures costing only $3.50 and those for the sorority and fraternity sections costing $1.50.

Because of the fact that this year the officers of the various houses will be recognized as such in the junior and senior sections, Spencer requested that those who have already had their pictures taken, visit the Cornhusker office and list their positions.

Corn Cobs Requested
To Meet Friday at 4
All Corn Cobs are requested to meet in uniform at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Temple for the Oklahoma game rally.

THETA NU INITIATES FOUR Pre-Med Honorary Inducts Members After Banquet Wednesday Night.

Four new members were initiated into Theta Nu, honorary pre-medical fraternity, following the second pre-med banquet of the year, which was held in the Grand Hotel Wednesday evening. The new members are William Day, F. K. Mostafi, James Shafer, and Don Bucholz.

Dr. Lathrop of Wahoo gave a speech following the banquet on the subject, "The Practice of Medicine in the Small Town." Dr. Lathrop was introduced by Esbern Holmes.

HAY RACK PARADE PLANNED AS SEND OFF FOR HUSKERS

Corn Cobs Will Pull Team
To Station as Squad
Leaves for Norman.

A hay rack parade will feature the send-off rally for the Oklahoma game to be held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Bill Devereaux, chairman of the Innocents pep committee, announced Wednesday. The band with the Corn Cobs, Tassels and student body will gather at the Temple to take the team to the Missouri Pacific station where it will entrain for Norman.

With the Corn Cobs pulling the team in a hayrack the parade will go to 16th and O and then thru the business district to the station. There the rally proper will be held with Mr. Curtis of the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company giving the pep talk.

Curtis was chosen by Coach Bible because of his very effective way of speaking. The coach stated that he believed Mr. Curtis would have a greater effect on the team and crowd than if one of the players spoke.

NEBRASKA-IN-CHINA STAFF PLAN SUPPER

Y.W.C.A. Group Sponsors
Sunday Meeting at Smith Hall.

The Nebraska-in-China staff of the Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a chicken supper to be held next Sunday evening from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. Both men and women are invited, and all fraternities and sororities have been called. One member of each organization has been delegated to take charge of reservations.

Tickets are twenty-five cents and will be sold at a booth in Social Sciences Friday. They may also be procured at Ellen Smith hall, or from the following members of the staff: Jean Alden, Dorothy Cathers, Elaine Fontein, Phyllis Sidner, Elizabeth Rowan, and Delores Barnhardt.

The money that is raised at the dinner will be used to aid in the support of Miss Leila Hinkley, Y. W. C. A. secretary in Peking, China. The campus Y. W. C. A. each year raises some money to send to Miss Hinkley in support of the work in China.

SENNING DISCUSSES POLITICAL TRENDS BEFORE Y.M. GROUP

Points Out the Differences Between Americans
And Europeans.

Speaking before the Y. M. C. A. freshman council group Wednesday night, Prof. J. P. Senning of the Political Science department emphasized the great difference in the amount of interest taken in government by the American and European youth.

Professor Senning stated that government and politics have become something of a tradition in Europe. A great majority of the European youth consider it a great

PANHELLENIC AWARDS SCHOLARSHIP PRIZES TO WOMEN STUDENTS

Ruth Gregory, Donna Davis,
Katherine Oury Have Highest Marks.

Announcement of Pan-Hellenic scholarship awards was made at a special convocation held in the Temple auditorium Wednesday afternoon. They are: Miss Ruth Gregory, Bancroft, junior award; Miss Donna Davis, Omaha, sophomore award; and Miss Katherine Oury, Lincoln, freshman award.

Each of the winners led her respective class during the school year of 1931-1932. The averages were: Miss Gregory, 94.25 percent; Miss Davis, 95.98 percent; and Miss Oury, 94.41. These represented weighted averages, depending on the number of hours for which the candidates for the honors enrolled. All three of the women are enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

A specially designed gold pin was given to each of the scholarship winners, which were designed by Prof. E. H. Barbour. According to Mrs. J. F. Thompson, chairman of the Pan-Hellenic council, this award has been made annually for the past seventeen years.

Miss Elizabeth Barber, president of the student Pan-Hellenic council made announcement of the awards. A musical program was presented by Genevieve Trenchard, violinist, accompanied at the piano by Frances Morley of the faculty.

AG COLLEGE TO HONOR STUDENTS FOR GRADES

Holders of High Averages
Will Be Announced at Convocation.

Agricultural college honor convocation will be held Monday, Nov. 21 at 1 o'clock in the Student Activities building. Freshmen in agricultural college who had the highest averages for last year will be announced. The one with the highest average will be presented with a gold medal by Alpha Zeta, men's student organization.

Freshmen girls with high averages will also be honored. The girl with the highest average is to be given a loving cup presented annually by Omicron Nu, home economics honorary society. Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics and professional sorority, will announce new honorary members.

H. P. Davis, of the dairy husbandry department, is to speak on scholarship. Classes will be dismissed on the agricultural campus so that all students may attend.

INGLIS WILL LEAD FORUM

Fireside Meeting Thursday
To Open Series of Talks
On Religion.

Rev. Ervine Inglis, of Vine Congregational church, will lead the Fireside Forum meeting Thursday evening. His topic will be "How Does One Gain a Deeper Religious Experience." At the close of his talk he will lead an open forum discussion. The meeting is open to all men and will begin at 7:30 in the Y room at the Temple.

Some of the topics that will be taken up at future meetings as announced by John Johnson, Y. M. C. A. cabinet member in charge follow: "How Does a Deeper Religious Experience Manifest Itself in Personal Relationships," "How Does Religious Experience Express Itself in Regard to Social Issues." The speakers are to be announced later.
