KLUB SAYS FOUR TO BE PRINCIPALS IN KOSMET COURT

King, Queen, Prince and Prime Minister Will Reign in Revue.

Four campus personalities will take leading roles in King Kosmet's court at the Thanksgiving Morning Revue, it was announced yesterday by members of the Klub. Principal characters are Art Griswold, Willa McHenry, Laurence Ely and Ray Ramsay.

Griswold, a member of Alpha Tau Omega and senior in the law college, will play the part of King Kosmet and preside at the court. His royal consort will be Willa McHenry, Kappa Alpha Theta, last year's Nebraska Sweetheart.

Two new characters in the roles of Prince Kosmet and Prime Minister will be enacted by Ely and Ramsay. Ely, a member of Kappa Sigma and football center, will be Prince Kosmet, and Ramsay, secretary of the alumni association, will be the Prime Minister as well as master of ceremonies.

The climax of the court scene will be the presentation of the newly-elected Nebraska Sweetheart, choice of the men students. Miss McHenry's successor will be presented at the hour in an elaborate ceremony, the character of which will be kept secret until the revue, which starts at 8:30 a. m., Thursday morning, Nov. 24, at the Stuart theater.

PUBLISH HUSKER DEBATE

Nebraska - Arkansas Contest Dec. 14 to Appear in Forensic Annual.

The debate between the Nebraska and Arkansas teams which will take place Dec. 14 at Fayetteville, Ark., will be published in the 1933 issue of the University Debater's Annual. It has not been decided whether the debate will be on the Oregon question style or of the customary type. The annual is a debater's handbook on a certain debate question containing recommended references and a bibliography.

Art Club Party Finds Faculty in New Role

The faculty of the drawing and painting departments of the School of Fine Arts donned smocks and aprons Thursday evening for purposes other than the decoration of canvas. They were cooks and waiters for a night, serving members of the Art club who gathered at the home of Prof. Dwight Kirsch. The faculty members who assisted in the serving were Misses Moore, Mundy, Wittie, Faulkner and Bucklin, Mesdames Kelley, Williams and Kirsch and Messrs. Page, Williams and Kirsch.

SALES OPEN MONDAY FOR 1933 EDITION OF STUDENT DIRECTORY

Managers Print 1,600 Copies For Distribution at Main Buildings.

Sales of the 1933 edition of the Student Directory will start tomorrow morning in the principal buildings on the campus and in the three bookstores, Jim Crabill, business manager of the publication, announced yesterday.

One thousand six hundred copies of the directory, which this year consists of 212 pages and cover, were printed for distribution. The book is slightly smaller than last year's, which consisted of 230 pages and cover.

The price of the directory has been set at fifty cents, the same as in past years, Crabill stated. The sales campaign will continue on the campus until the beginning of Thanksgiving vacation.

The directory lists students alphabetically and by home towns and states in addition to containing fraternity and sorority chapter lists. It also contains a list of the members of faculty.

The complete staff of the publication includes: Dick Moran, editor; Jim Crabill, business manager; Bernard Jennings, advertising manager; Tom Naughtin and Stanley Brown, assistant business managers; and Frank Jenkins, Jack Potter, and Frank Crabill, associate editors.

FLANSBURG INJURED IN ATTEMPTING DIVE

Student Suffers a Brain Concussion; Not of Critical Nature.

Charles Flansburg, sophomore in the University of Nebraska and member of Alpha Tau Omega, suffered a concussion of the brain late Friday afternoon when he fell on the tiling at the university swimming pool after attempting to jump from the end of the diving board.

Flansburg, according to Coach Rudy Vogeler, is one of the year's most promising candidates for the varsity swimming team. He had been practicing diving and had been testing the spring in the board just before jumping. Flansburg's injuries are not of a critical nature but he will be kept in the Lincoln General hospital several days. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Flansburg.

MILITARY BALL TO BE THEME OF AWGWAN ON STANDS MONDAY

Blind Date Chart, Cartoons And Humor Sketches Among Contents.

Type, character, height and the phone numbers will be given as information concerning girls in the 'Blind Date' chart which will appear in the Military ball issue of the Awgwan which will go on sale Monday. The chart will consist of two pages of girls names, information concerning them and 'directions for youths' which explains the use of the chart.

"They'll Miss the Military Ball," a group of cartoons portraying the typical youths that will not get to attend the fete will also be one of the features of the issue. The cartoons were drawn by Norman Hansen and Marjorie Quivey.

A story "His First Military Ball" by Neil McFarland, which tells of the actions of a typical freshman attending the Military ball for the first time, will also be in this issue of the magazine.

Leavitt Dearborn, Delta Upsilon, has been announced as associate editor of the magazine by H. Francis Cunningham, editor.

CORNHUSKER STAFF ADVANCES DEADLINE

Dec. 3 New Late Date for Annual Pictures Say Photographers.

"Due to the fact that the harvest of the photography business in Lincoln comes between Thanksgiving and Christmas it will be impossible for either studio to take pictures for the Cornhusker after 6 o'clock, Dec. 3," A. C. Townsend of Townsend's studio said yesterday. This statement was affirmed by Hauck studio.

Ralph Spencer pointed out that this leaves no alternative for the Cornhusker and that the deadline for pictures must be changed from Dec. 21, as was previously announced to Dec. 3.

The Cornhusker editor urged that the students who have not yet had their pictures taken try to do so in the remaining two weeks.

Pictures taken for the junior and senior sections may be used in another section for an additional charge of twenty-five cents this year, making a total cost of $3.75 for two sections. Photos to be used only in the Greek sections are $1.50 this year, Spencer stated.

SORORITIES START EXCHANGE DINNERS UNDER PANHELLENIC

Nebraska Greeks Adopt Custom Practiced in Other Schools.

Sororities revived a tradition of several years' standing last week in the exchange dinners held under the sponsorship of the Panhellenic Council. Recommended at the last national Panhellenic congress held in St. Louis, the practice has been found to be successful in stimulating intersorority friendship and association.

On guest night each week every sorority will be hostess to one member coming as representative from another sorority. Each sorority is weekly assigned a guest house and it is hoped that in this way every girl in every group will have had an opportunity to visit at least one house during the year.

Mrs. J. F. Thompson, Panhellenic chairman, is hopeful that the scheme will be a "get-acquainted" medium among sorority groups. She states that it has served a valuable purpose in other schools, and should make for greater friendliness on this campus.

Ramsay's Plane Forced Down at Clay Center

Ray Ramsay, secretary of the Nebraska Alumni association, who with Boyd Krewson started by air Friday afternoon to Norman, Oklahoma, was forced down by motor trouble near Clay Center, Kas. The plane was not damaged. They flew back Saturday in another plane. Ramsay and Krewson were planning to take pictures of the Sooner-Husker game.

Masterson Boots Field Goal In Third Quarter to Provide Margin.

NORMAN, Okla.—The University of Nebraska won its second consecutive Big Six championship here Saturday, but it was forced to the limit in barely nosing out a 5 to 0 victory over a desperate Oklahoma team.

With every thrust repelled by the stalwart Oklahoma defense, the Huskers after bogging down on the Sooner 8-yard line late in the third quarter following a march of seventy-one yards, resorted to a placekick. Bernie Masterson dropped back to boot the ball squarely between the uprights to give the Cornhuskers three points. Jack Miller's twenty-nine yard sweep around end featured the march.

The Sooners staged a vicious comeback with Dick Simms in the leading role. Upon receiving Sauer's punt and carrying it back five yards to his own 47-yard line, Simms was given the ball on nine straight plays. His brilliant work placed the pigskin on the Nebraska 1-yard line, where the Husker line stiffened. Dunlap's field goal on the fourth down was low and wide, and there ended the Oklahoma bid for a tie.

SELECT QUARTET SOLOISTS

Director Names Miss. Lyons, Miss Dean, Mr. Hedley and Mr. Nelson.

They are Mr. Hedley, Chicago, tenor; Miss Velma Lyons, Kansas City, soprano; Miss Kathryn Dean, Lincoln, contralto; and Mr. Carl Nelson, Wahoo, bass. Oratorio practices are held every Monday from 7:30 to 8:30. The Lincoln Symphony orchestra will play the accompaniment.

Museum Receives Two Pieces Burial Pottery

The Nebraska State museum has just received from Miss Minnie M. Clausen of Tecumseh, two unusual pieces of burial pottery from Bolivia. One of the vessels is for holding water and closely resembles a teapot. The other piece is bori for food. During that period in that country it was customary to place food and drink in the graves of the dead. The pieces are of the Pre-Inca civilization. The ware is called "Jauco" and is found only in that region. Miss Clausen has spent three years in the Peruvian and Bolivian territory.
