'FIRST MRS. FRASER' THIRD PRODUCTION OF UNIVERSITY PLAYERS

Clara Christensen Takes
Lead in Comedy First Shown Monday.

Before a fairly large audience, the University Players Monday night presented their third production of the year, a three act comedy "The First Mrs. Fraser" by Sir John Ervine. The play will continue to run throughout the week. Clara Christensen, taking the lead as the first Mrs. Fraser, gave a remarkably fine performance. Opposite her played Harlan Easton in the part of James Fraser, giving a good interpretation of the role.

Other characters were played by Mae Posy as the partner of Fraser in his second matrimonial venture, Herb Yenne as the too-wise son, Ninian Fraser, Zolley Lerner as Murdo Fraser, another son, and Dorothy Zollner as Alice, his wife. Robert Reade plays the part of Philip, the suitor who never gives up, and Dorothy Keppner is Mabel. The plot turns upon Fraser's divorcing his first wife to wed one who is younger and more attractive, and this second wife's subsequent attempt to divorce him. The situation furnishes opportunity for exceptionally amusing lines, especially when Fraser is subjected to the somewhat satirical comments of his two sons and his daughter-in-law.

Miss H. Alice Howell directed the play. The scenic effects were the work of Dwight Kirsch and Richard Page.

The cast:
James Fraser.....Harlan Easton
Mrs. Fraser No. 1.....Clara Christensen
Mrs. Fraser No. 2.....Mae Posy
Ninian Fraser.....Herbert Yenne
Alice Fraser.....Dorothy Zollner
Murdo Fraser.....W. Zolley Lerner
Philip Logan.....Robert Reade
Mabel Keppner.....Dorothy Keppner

SPENCER OUTLINES PLANS FOR ANNUAL

Editor Urges Students to Have Pictures Taken
Before Deadline.

At a meeting of the 1933 Cornhusker editorial staff Monday afternoon, R. W. Spencer, editor, pointed out the plans for the next few days. "With the reopening of the picture sections by the photographers," he said, "an extra amount of work will be placed on every staff member, so that all of the pictures will be in before the deadline, which will be announced sometime in the future."

The editor urged that the students who have not had their pictures for the new year book cooperate with the staff by making appointments with either Hauck's or Townsend's at once. The Cornhusker, he stated, is anxious to have every student in the University represented in the book. He also warned that when the sections are closed the deadline will be set by the Cornhusker and will be final.

PRE-MED STUDENTS TAKE STATE BOARD EXAM WEDNESDAY

Semester examinations will be given in Omaha to forty pre-medical students of the University of Nebraska Wednesday. These examinations, required by the State Basic Science Board of Medicine, will be conducted by Dr. T. J. Thompson and Dr. John Latta.

Subjects in which these examinations will be given are anatomy, bacteriology, chemistry, hygiene, pathology, and physiology.

MEN MAY AGAIN TAKE SPECIAL HOME EC WORK

Course in Home Problems
Offered Three Years
Again Presented.

"Man's Problems in the Home," a home economics course designed especially for men will again be presented this semester, according to Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the home economics department. "The course has proved very successful during the three years it has been offered," says Miss Fedde, "and deals with problems of the home from the man's standpoint."

Miss Fedde believes that men should think about the problems of the home and be familiar with them in order that they may have better understanding, keener appreciation, and greater enjoyment in the home.

Miss Fedde points out that 98 percent of college men marry as compared with 85 percent of college women and she believes that men will appreciate their wives' efforts to a greater extent if they know something of the difficulties confronting the homemaker.

Various staff members present the phases of the course which is open to junior and senior men in the university.

WILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Alumni Clubs to Celebrate
University Founding on February 15.

The alumni clubs of the university are preparing to observe the sixty-third anniversary of the founding of the university on Feb. 15. The alumni office is securing speakers for the clubs within the state and is sending motion pictures of the university to the others.

The pictures were taken by Ray Ramsey, alumni secretary, and include some campus scenes in color, pictures of the Alumni Roundup and Ivy Day, and films of the older members of the faculty. Mr. Ramsey also has pictures of the football games of the 1930, 1931, and 1932 seasons.

BULLOCK TALKS TO GUIDANCE GROUP ON .WOMEN IN BUSINESS

At a meeting of the vocational guidance group Monday afternoon Prof. T. T. Bullock of the college of business administration addressed the members on the advantages for women in the field of business administration. His subject was "Business Administration As a Vocation for Women." Gertrude Clarke, chairman of the vocational guidance committee, presided at the meeting.

LAST RITES ARE HELD FOR PROF. FOSSLER MONDAY AFTERNOON

Classes Dismissed During Services in Tribute to Faculty Member.

University classes were dismissed Monday afternoon and all offices closed at 3 o'clock in tribute to Prof. Laurence Fossler for whom funeral services were held at the All Souls Unitarian church of which he was a member.

Arthur L. Weatherly, minister of the church, read some of Professor Fossler's favorite selections, including two of Goethe's poems, "The God-Like," and "Song of Lynceus." Dean C. H. Oldfather, of the college of arts and sciences, read a few paragraphs from Plato's "Phaedo," and from Ecclesiasticus. Several organ selections were included in the simple ceremony preceding the burial in Wyuka cemetery.

City libraries were closed from 2 until 6 o'clock in respect to Professor Fossler.

SING SING INMATES INCLUDE MEN FROM SEVERAL COLLEGES

Redbook Writer Declares
Crimes Are Different
From Average.

All of the best known colleges are represented in Sing Sing prison according to an article appearing in the February issue of the Redbook. It was written by Anthony N. Peterson, Protestant chaplain of the institution.

However the majority of crimes for which college men are jailed are different from those in the case of non-college men, declares the chaplain. College prisoners commit larceny three times as frequently as others; forgery is their most popular crime, and very rare is the prisoner who has worked his way thru college.

"Alumni of the best-known colleges and universities (including my own) share prison tasks with men whose mentality is that of a little child. The son of one of the leading educators in America has served two terms in Sing Sing, and I should not be surprised to see him here again," says Peterson in his article.

Included among the inmates the chaplain describes are experts in history, literature, journalism, philosophy, science, religion and law. He cites two possible reasons for the fact that the college men are so well represented. They are the depression and excessive drinking.

"The depression hits earliest and hardest the men holding white-collar jobs, and these are usually college men. It is rarely that a college man comes here without a history of alcoholism, which usually began during his undergraduate days," according to the article.

FRANKFORTER TALKS ABOUT EXPLOSIVES

Professor Lectures Before
American Legion on Monday Night.

The members of the American Legion Monday night heard a lecture on explosives given at Chemistry hall by Prof. C. J. Frankforter.

The manufacture and use of many kinds of explosives, both military and industrial, was described by Professor Frankforter. He illustrated his talk with a three reel motion picture prepared by the federal bureau of mines.

MORTAR BOARDS SAY ANOTHER LEAP YEAR PARTY; DATE FEB. 24

Honorary Makes Committee
Appointments for the Second Affair.

Whether 1933 is leap year or no, there is going to be a leap year party on February 24, when Mortar Board society continues the practice begun last year, and girls take the lead for an evening.

"The same general plan used last year, with girls dating boys and footing all the bills in genuine leap year fashion will be employed again this year," Gertrude Clarke, Mortar Board in charge of publicity revealed Monday.

"By our continuance of the policy this year we hope to institute a real tradition," she declared.

Committees on arrangements have already been appointed and include Jane Axtell, general chairman, Jane Robertson, tickets; Margaret Chevront, receipts; Dolores Deadman and Gertrude Clarke, publicity; Alice Quigle and Dolores Deadman, decorations; Gertrude Clarke, orchestra.

The only plans ready for release Monday were that tickets would be handled thru Tassels and the members of Alpha Lambda Delta.

A. I. E. E. MEET WEDNESDAY

Engineering Society to Elect
New Officers and Show
Experiment.

The regular meeting of the A. I. E. E., engineering society, will be held Wednesday evening at 7:15 in E. E. building. Officers for the coming fiscal year will be elected at that time, it has been announced.

Following the business meeting, a demonstration will be conducted by A. L. Coffin and J. B. Cecil, showing a unique method for starting and operating induction motors. This method, it is said, makes possible the handling of large, expensive machinery by inexperienced persons.

All persons interested are invited to attend the meeting.

Research Indicates That Parents of Cornhuskers Have Many Occupations

Doctors, lawyers, farmers, stockmen, merchants, ranchers, laborers, ministers, these and all other occupations that you may find in Nebraska form the occupations of parents of University of Nebraska students.

As in past years, the agricultural class of farmers, ranchers and stockmen would make the largest single group if parents of all students were grouped according to their occupations, according to university officials, who have recently completed a study of university students' parents occupations. This year the parents of 698 men and 402 women are engaged in agricultural activities.

Business men and merchants, the parents of 452 men and 321 women, form the second largest classification, the same as last year. Parents in the professional class, with a total of 437 men and 263 women students, remains the third largest classification. Within the professional classification doctors are the largest single group, comprising the parents of 251 students. Last year 279 students said

SWAP SHOP IS Y PLAN TO HELP STUDENTS IN SALE OF USED BOOKS

Store Will Open Jan. 20;
Has Been Successful on
Other Campuses.

Inaugurating an idea which has proved successful on many other campuses, the Y. W. C. A. will open a bookstore on January 20 in order to facilitate the selling of used textbooks. It is to be called "Ye Swap Shop" and will be located on the first floor of the Temple building, at the right of the counter.

Students may bring their used books to the store, for which they will be issued a receipt. If the books are sold the Y. W. will get a twenty percent commission on the sale. The store will be open and at the end of that time those who have turned in books may call and receive their money and unsold books.

The Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring the store in a belief that it will be a service to the campus, in that it will enable students to realize more money from the sale of their books than they otherwise would. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Ruth Bernstein, Ruth Cherny and Jean Alden.

MOLZER IS SOLOIST AT SUNDAY CONCERT

Professor Gives Violin
Selections Before Big Audience.

Prof. August Molzer of the school of music was a violin soloist at the sixty-ninth in a series of vesper concerts at the Lincoln high school auditorium Sunday afternoon. Approximately 1,000 persons attended the concert in which the Lincoln high school Girls Glee club and the Lincoln high school A Cappella choir took part.

Professor Molzer played, accompanied by Jean Ellsworth, "Hymn to Spring," by Kocien; "Viennese Song," by Gartner-Kreizler; "Waltz," by Weber-Burmester; "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak-Mozler; and "Minuet in Olden Style," by Hochstein. He concluded with a presentation of "Valse Bluette," by Drigo-Auer.

Program of Museum Depicts Foreigners

Depicting the people of Bohemia, the Balkans, Scandinavia and Poland, four reels of film were shown Sunday afternoon in Morrill hall's downstairs auditorium. The Nebraska State museum presented the program, with one showing at 2:30 for children and another at 4:15 for adults.
