HUNT BEGINS SERIES OF TALKS AT VESPERS

Speaks of Married Life And of Some of Its Pitfalls.

"Mutuality of adjustment is one of the most important things in marriage," said Rev. Mr. Hunt, pastor of the First Christian church, in a talk before Vespers Tuesday afternoon.

"If you have been a business and professional woman for so long that your habits are set, the difficulty of adjustment is increased," he continued.

Marriage is delayed now, he said, because educational standards are higher—more education is required, and an education costs money. Then there is great expense to maintaining even a modest home—standards of living have come up faster than the opportunity for earning.

"Be sure that there are common interests; differences just increase the problems. There should also be mutual respect and common culture. The chances of a marriage being happy are meager, if it crossed the lines of culture, of race or of religion.

Preceding Rev. Hunt's talk, Jane Robertson, president of the Y. W. C. A. introduced the candidate for offices in the organization during the coming year.

PACIFIST OUTLINES PROGRAM TO FORUM

A three point program towards the furthering of world peace was outlined by Kirby Page, widely known speaker on international affairs, at the luncheon of the student forum in the Temple cafeteria Wednesday, Jan. 25. Abandonment of the policy for armed intervention; building up agencies of peace; and giving agencies already built up, power of enforcement were the three main topics stressed in his talk presented to over one hundred students and faculty members.

One of the suggested remedies submitted by Page for armed intervention was the plan which was favored by William Jennings Bryan who said that instead of intervening with arms the president of the United States should issue a proclamation that any citizen of the United States entering barred zones during time of war would do so at his own risk.

"Some say we entered the great war to protect our national honor," Page asserted, "but every nation engaging in international conflict acts dishonorably at one time or other, which thereby defeats the theory. Protection of life, property, or honor by war therefore is obviously a dastardly failure."
