

HUSKERS TO MEET IOWA STATE FIVE TONIGHT AT AMES

Game Is Next to Last of Season for Scarlet Quintet.

Tonight the Husker cage five is invading the Iowa State floor at Ames to meet the Cyclones in the second meeting of the two teams in the present Big Six season. In a previous contest the Huskers took the measure of the Iowans by a 25 to 16 score, in winning one of the two victories they have garnered in conference competition thus far this winter.

The game at Ames is to be the next to the last of the season for the Browne five, Oklahoma being scheduled to come here to Lincoln this next Saturday evening in the final tilt of the season.

Nebraska has defeated Iowa State and Kansas State during the season, and the Cyclones have defeated Oklahoma and Missouri for their two wins. Since the Amesmen have turned back these two leaders anything may be expected of them in a conference game. Last Friday night they set back the Tigers 32 to 31 and then Saturday evening the Tigers journeyed on to Lincoln and defeated the Huskers 39 to 31, so the Iowa State quint should be ranked as a slight favorite to win tonight.

Coach Browne will probably start Bud Parsons and Paul Mason at forwards, Walt Henrion at center and George Sauer and Steve Hokut at guards.

Probable starting lineups: Nebraska — Iowa St. Parsons Anderson Mason Thomson Henrion Wegner Sauer Hood Hokut Dills

WALKER SPEAKS TO ADVERTISING CLUB

Says Prospects in Field Of Country Journalism Are Bright.

The prospects in the field of country journalism are extremely bright, in the opinion of Gayle C. Walker, director of the school of journalism, as given in an address before the members of the Lincoln Advertising club yesterday noon.

In his talk, "Don't Overlook the Country Press," Professor Walker summarized the results of studies made on both the editorial and business side of the country press, and pointed out the fact that the community newspaper field offered wonderful opportunities.

He stated that the weekly newspaper is reaching numerical stability, showing that in Nebraska, in 1917, there existed about 500 newspapers, while today there are over four hundred, a figure that has remained fairly constant.

Weekly newspapers are fairly prosperous, according to Mr. Walker. A study made last spring indicated that the net loss in a weekly newspaper in all the display advertising between 1929 and 1931 was about 8 percent. This is a much smaller decrease than in any other type of publication.

ORCHESIS TO INITIATE NEW MEMBERS MAR. 1

Dancing Club Will Take In Girls for Junior and Senior Groups.

Orchesis, interpretative dancing club, plans to initiate twenty-three girls Wednesday, March 1, at 7:30 o'clock in the dancing studio of the women's gymnasium.

Girls who will become members of senior Orchesis are Alpha Catania, Genevieve Doiling, Elizabeth Costelloe, Georgia Kilgore, Sebua La Rue, Grace Morgan, Virginia Moomaw, Madeline Raymond, Adela Tombrink, Alice Beekman, Louise Perry, Dorothy Davis, Josephine Davis, Helen Ledford, Doris Vrisko, Tyler O'Connor, Corina Veal, and Joan Crawford.

New Junior Orchesis members will be Katie Fern Clarke, Gertrude Latna, Mary Reimers, Grace Craddock and Nannette Hedgecock.

Miss Edith Vail, instructor in charge of Orchesis, plans to start work immediately on the spring recital to be given May 18 in the Coliseum. After new members are initiated, plans will be discussed for the general theme to be used in arranging the spring recital.

B'S DEFEAT M'COOK FIVE

Jones Takes High Honors Of Evening With 12 Points.

M'COOK.—The Nebraska "B" quintet defeated McCook by a 38 to 31 count here last Saturday in a fast contest. Jones, of McCook was high point man of the evening with 12 points to his credit. Kalle, of McCook, and Bauer, of Nebraska "B," were not far behind, each being accredited with 8 points.

The summary:

McCook	fg	ft	ft	Neb.	fg	ft	ft
Jones	5	2	3	Walker	2	2	0
Hassler	1	1	2	Lour	2	1	0
Reynolds	1	4	0	Bauer	4	0	1
Kalle	4	0	1	Barley	2	1	1
Stennett	1	0	2	Lee	0	0	0
Clay	0	0	3	Smiles	4	0	1
				Schell	1	2	4
				Levenson	1	0	3
				Dalling	0	0	0
Totals	12	7	11	Totals	16	6	10

LAMBERTUS EQUALS RECORD IN HURDLES

Freshmen Show Up Well in Initial Color Meet Of Season.

Featured by a special exhibition race which saw Heye Lambertus tie the accepted world record in the 60 yard low hurdles, the initial dual color meet of the season was staged Saturday afternoon on the Husker indoor track.

The affair was the first of several which will be run off during the spring and are for the purpose of allowing Coach Schulte to become better acquainted with prospective freshmen talent. By the slender margin of a single point, the "Whites" nosed out ahead of the "Reds," 38-37.

Lambertus Shows Speed.

While Lambertus was flashing to three firsts in the Husker varsity tryouts for the Kansas Aggie engagement here this week, freshman Jim Taylor from Hastings was showing his heels to frosh competitors in both the high and low stick events and the 440. The Gothenburg speed demon streaked over the low barriers in the remarkable early season time of 6.8 seconds. His time eclipsed the Big Six record for this distance by two-tenths of a second.

While Taylor was making his presence known, Carl Nichols was engaging in a vaulting duel with the veteran Husker letterman, Dean, the latter having been ineligible during the early part of the year. Both cleared 12 feet 9 inches.

Taylor Wins Quarter.

Outside of Nichols' pole vaulting, probably the other sensation of the mix was the 53.4 time which was hung up by Taylor in the quarter mile. His time was one-tenth of a second better than that of Roberts, who finished first in the varsity tryout for that event.

Although the meet was primarily for the freshmen, several varsity men were on hand and a few trials for this week's meet were held. Ray Toman went over the high jump at 6 feet 1 inch to give further notice that he will be very much in evidence this spring, while Jim Storey was checking in with good time for the half mile and mile runs. He was clocked at 4:35.8 in the mile and turned in a 2:03.8 half mile. Summaries for dual color meet.

50 yard dash: Won by Jacobsen (R); second, Homes (W); third, Shaw (R). Time 5.6.

50 yard high hurdles: Won by Taylor (W); second, House (W); third, Meier (R). Time 7.

60 yard low hurdles: Won by Taylor (W); second, Honsel (W); third, Jacobsen (R). Time 7.7.

440 yard dash: Won by Taylor (W); second, Chamberlin (W); third, Knutman (R). Time 54.4.

Broad jump: Won by Humpal (R) (21 feet 8 inches); second, Fischer (W); third, Ondner (R).

Shot put: Won by Nepsud (R) (42 feet 1 inch); second, Beatty (R); third, Wilson (R).

High jump: Tie for first, second, and third between D. Martin (R), Kallek (W), and Beatty (R). 3 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Pole vault: Won by Nichols (R) (12 feet 9 inches); tie for second, third, and fourth between Cosgrove (W), Bjerkina (R), and Schwank (W); fifth, Wilson.

CONFERENCE CATCHES

BY BURT MARVIN.

Optimism is certainly rife around here as the track season is in its early stages. March 11 is the Big Six indoor track meet at Missouri, when the Huskers are to defend their conference championship. And then later in the year comes the outdoor meet when again the Nebraska squad will be defending the laurels it won in copping the Big Six first place. Yes, Coach Schulte's men have a big order, and especially since the other schools will be out with the main purpose in mind of licking the Husker entries in all possible events.

GRINNELL MERMEN DEFEAT NEBRASKA

Pioneers Make It Four Straight With Win Over Huskers.

Heye Lambertus is the man who is expected to lead the cindermen to the hoped-for repetition next week. The Gothenburg flash clips off world record time in the hurdle events, as evidenced by the fact that he tied the world's record for the 60-yard low hurdles Saturday with the time of 6.8. This is the second time that this junior has equaled this mark. At Minnesota he demonstrated for the fans just how the high hurdles should be run as well as the lows. He also won the 50-yard dash in fast time. In the dash events he is considered by many to be the fastest Nebraska has had since the days of Roland Locke, the world's 220 yard record holder.

The Nebraska indoor pole vault record almost went for a ride Saturday afternoon when Carl Nichols, freshman from Ogallala, just missed 12 feet 11 after having cleared 12 feet 9. By clearing the bar at the latter height the state high school record holder proved himself to be the best of the Husker men in that event, although he was followed closely by Orlin Dean, varsity performer, who topped 12 feet 6. It looks like the pole vaulting question is solved at least for a few years.

It seems that Missouri won its first away-from-home Big Six victory of the season when it beat Nebraska 39 to 31 Saturday night. Which fact makes Husker fans all the sadder about basketball. It seems mighty possible that it won't be much longer till quite an inferiority complex is built up when it comes to basketball in these parts. But Coach Browne states that there are a number of freshmen players who will make some of the varsity performers step plenty to retain their positions next year. That is one means of getting the fellows to work.

Walt Henrion should be given a medal or something for the workmanlike manner in which he handles his position on the team. If one watches the game closely he can see that this expert floorman really knows his basketball. He's absorbed all of the plays, and if they don't work right it certainly isn't his fault. And one often wonders why those plays don't work often, for at times they appear plenty classy.

In practice those various maneuvers usually look plenty nice, and pre-game predictions give Nebraska an equal chance. Then comes the game, and nobody recognizes the plays except on rare occasions when they click for points. We see other teams run off some classy arrangements, and Nebraskans being human a person is inclined to believe that Husker teams are capable of some good ball. Is it nervousness, some kind of complex, the wrong attitude or what? Your guess is as good as mine. Nebraska has never been a very good basketball school, but the last two years have shown a decided slump from any previous standing.

SWIM MEET IS NOT HELD

Small Number of Swimmers Causes Change in Plans.

Due to the fact that very few participants appeared at the scheduled hour the swimming meet planned for last Saturday by W. A. A. was not held. Charlotte Goodale and Viola Vale, tanksterettes in charge of the meet, have decided that a recreational swim will be held instead. Miss Elizabeth Orr, faculty member in charge of arrangements, announces that the candidates for next week's water frolic will be called and reminded of the occasion.

GRINNELL MERMEN DEFEAT NEBRASKA

Pioneers Make It Four Straight With Win Over Huskers.

In defeating the Husker tankmen Saturday Grinnell took its fourth consecutive victory by a score of 49 to 35. The Grinnell mermen captured first in all but two events, which were the 100 yard free style, won by Nebraska, represented by Masterson, and in the 300 yard medley relay, won by Nebraska.

Clark Elbert of Des Moines, excelled for the Grinnell tanksters, taking two first places and one second. However Malbrough was a close second with two victories. Masterson, Minor and Easterday shone for Nebraska.

DANCE IS ADDED TO AG SHOW PROGRAM

Final Rehearsal Is Set For Thursday Night.

An after-the-program dance will be a novel addition to the Coll-agri-fun show at the Ag student activities building Friday evening, March 3, it was announced yesterday.

Judges for the Coll-agri-fun skits, it was announced by Co-chairman Vera Mae Bang, are to be Miss Alice Howell and Mr. Zolley Lerner of the university dramatics department, and Miss Frances McChesney, instructor in dramatic art at Lincoln high school.

In final preparation for the show, the committee has called rehearsals for Wednesday and Thursday nights this week. The skits will be gone over carefully for final cuts and alterations.

Thursday night will be final dress rehearsal. Chairman Mark Hackman announced that every act will be expected to be there in complete costume and setting.

Lancaster to Speak on Nebraska Legislature

Friday at 2:30 o'clock in Faculty hall Prof. L. W. Lancaster of the department of political science, will speak to the civics group of the Lincoln Woman's club on the topic "How the Nebraska Legislature Looks at the County."

KANSAS TAKES OVER LEAD IN CONFERENCE

Jayhawkers Meet Sooners Friday in Deciding Game.

BIG SIX STANDINGS.

Kansas	9	7	2	277
Oklahoma	8	6	2	250
Missouri	9	5	4	288
Kansas State	9	4	5	314
Nebraska	8	2	6	250
Iowa State	9	2	7	222

By defeating Kansas State 23 to 25 Saturday night at Manhattan the Kansas Jays got the Big Six lead for their own at least until Friday night when the Oklahoma Sooners invade the Kansas court for what will be the conference championship game.

Lanky Bill Johnson again proved to be the Lawrence ace when he and his mates ran up against the Wildcats. The elongated Jay center accounted for 18 points, to put himself further above other point makers in the conference. Harrington and Wells did the remainder of the scoring, the former making 10 points and the latter 5.

Missouri, altho it is out of the title picture, kept itself above the .500 mark in the standings, by trimming the much trimmed Huskers 39 to 31 after having lost to Iowa State at Ames Friday night, 32 to 31.

When Oklahoma invades the Kansas floor Friday night the Jays will be favorites to defeat the Sooners and thus cop the title for the third year in succession. The Norman team licked the Jays earlier in the season at Norman by a 25 to 23 score, but the McDermott team is famed for winning home games and losing those on the road, so that win doesn't mean much in this week's dope. Kansas also has been steadily on the upgrade, and with Harrington, Wells, and Captain Johnson going at a fast clip fans are looking for a Kansas win.

The Sooners come to the Husker court on the next night to play Nebraska for the second time in two weeks. At Norman the Oklahomans won 39 to 35 in a close tilt, so the Huskers are expected to play in a close battle against the Normanites.

Men who wear suits on the U. S. C. campus are labelled as "capitalists" in the local argot.

Hotel
D'Hamburger
SHOT-GUN SERVICE
1141 Q St. 1718 O St.

Now that Spring is on its way The Advertisers of The Daily Nebraskan will be offering new Spring Apparel at the lowest prices in history WATCH THE ADS!

Buy at Your Own Price Watches, Diamonds, Jewelry, Silver Harris - Sartor Jewelry Co. AUCTION 1323 O St.

We specialize in cleaning Silk Dresses to look refreshed! It takes experts to clean SILK. Our men know the formulas for removing every kind of spot. SURPRISINGLY LOW PRICES! Varsity CLEANERS Roy Wythers, Joe Tucker 211 No. 14th B3357