HAEIN WILL SPEAK AT ALL-UNIVERSITY MEETING MARCH 14

Lecturer to Talk About Scientific Displays at Exposition.

Mr. John Haein, nationally famous lecturer, will address the fourth all-university convocation to be held at the Temple theater, March 14, at 11 o'clock, according to J. O. Hertzler, chairman of the committee on convocations.

Mr. Haein, who is the official representative of the committee in charge of Chicago's second international exposition, will use as the subject of his talk, the scientific displays which may be seen at the exposition.

The speaker is brought to the students and faculty of the university highly recommended. For many years he was connected with the Roger Babson Institute, Wellesley Hills, Mass., where he was engaged in vocational guidance service in business. In this work Mr. Haein gained invaluable knowledge in dealing with students and their problems.

Immediately after leaving the institute, Mr. Haein was engaged by the board of lecturers of the Chicago exposition.

In his talk, Mr. Haein will emphasize the social and natural sciences on display at the Chicago show, with the aspects that will interest the student and faculty members given especial attention.

'MISS LAMOUR IS SENSATION,' SAYS PROM COMMITTEE

Featured Singer With Kay Orchestra Is Beauty Contest Winner.

Dorothy Lamour, slim, youthful, French-Irish brunette, who will be featured by Herbie Kay and his orchestra when they play for the Junior-Senior Prom at the Coliseum Friday evening, has created a sensation in orchestra circles wherever she has been heard and seen, according to Bob Pilling and Jean Alden, committee members in charge of publicity.

In fact, a New Orleans newspaper characterized Miss Lamour as the "biggest nine day sensation since the president visited here."

Nebraska men are cautioned against losing their hearts to the attractive beauty Friday night, although according to Miss Lamour's own version, she has as yet no glamorous past, is not yet married, engaged or in love, as has been rumored.

A native of Alabama, she later made New Orleans her home, attended high school there, and was for a time, a student at Tulane university. Entering a beauty contest, she became "Miss New Orleans," and later competed in the Galveston world beauty contest in which she was runnerup.

Miss Lamour joined Herbie Kay's orchestra as a featured entertainer shortly thereafter, and has since appeared with him. At the present time, she has been offered several movie contracts, which she has so far refused.

Lincoln Artists Guild Will Convene March 9

The Lincoln Artists Guild will meet Thursday, March 9, at 8:00 o'clock in room 204 of Morrill hall. The feature of the evening will be a lecture by Dwight Kirsch, chairman of the fine arts department, on "Indian Design and Pottery of the Southwest." Miss Blanch Garten will preside.

Salesmen Requested to Meet This Afternoon

All ticket salesmen for the Junior-Senior prom are asked to meet in room 107, U Hall, at 5 o'clock, by Lloyd Loomis and Lucille Reilly, committee tickets. It is very important that all salesmen be present at that time.

GROUP HEARS MRS. FLEMING

Head Women Voters League Tells of Bills Before Legislature.

Mrs. William Fleming, president of the League of Women Voters, spoke at a meeting of the "Know Your Legislature" staff of the Y. W. C. A. held Tuesday at 11 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. Mrs. Fleming discussed various bills that have been passed by the Nebraska legislature and explained the technicalities of passing a bill. Lucille Hitchcock, chairman of this staff, presided at the meeting.

YEARBOOK EXTENDS FINAL SALES DRIVE

Closing of Banks Causes Extension of Closing Date.

"The deadline of the final sales drive for the 1933 Cornhusker has been extended one week to Wednesday, March 15," Charles Skade, business manager, stated Tuesday afternoon.

"The national bank holiday has made the financial status of some students so uncertain," he stated, "that many desiring to purchase books at the last minute will be unable to do so until after the banks have reopened. For that reason, we are granting the sales extension."

Skade stated that only the existing emergency prevented the conclusion of the drive Wednesday, and that next Wednesday's deadline is absolute and final. The contract for printing the exact number of copies sold will be sent in Thursday, and no further books will be available.

Skade added that checks would be accepted for Cornhuskers during the holiday. The yearbook sells at a cash price of $4.50, or it may be purchased in installments of $2 down, $1 April 1st, and the balance of $1.75 upon delivery of the book.

Members of the business staff stated that it was impossible to determine what effect the bank holiday had on Cornhusker sales, as sales at the booth in Social Science have been up to average, and many Tassels have reported good sales.

Pre-Meds Will Hold Banquet Wednesday

There will be a banquet of the Pre-Medical society Wednesday evening at 6:00, in the Grand hotel. Following the meal Dr. Latta will address the gathering. All pre-medical students are invited to attend. The cost of the tickets is one dollar.

Professor Arndt Disagrees With Press on Present 'Bank Holiday'

Expressing his disagreement with some of the statements of the press concerning the present "bankers' holiday," and declaring them to be misleading, Prof. Karl M. Arndt of the economics department stated in an interview Tuesday afternoon that the present bank moratorium is principally a matter of giving the country a breathing spell and that several drastic measures will probably be placed in operation.

"One of the principal points brought out by the newspapers," Arndt said, "is that it is idle to speculate whether or not the country has gone off the gold standard. I think the way in which they speculate certainly is idle—at least their speculations are beside the point." He declared that their supposed proofs that we are on the gold standard because we still have more gold than any other country is really no proof. Although we lead in the world in automobiles we are not on the auto standard.

RUSSELL L. DURGIN TALKS AT STUDENT FORUM TODAY NOON

Y.M. Worker to Tell About American Interests in Far Eastern Crisis.

"American Interests in the Far Eastern Crisis" will be the subject of a talk by Russell L. Durgin, fourteen years a Y. M. C. A. worker in Japan, before students and faculty at the second luncheon meeting sponsored by the Student Forum committee in the Temple cafeteria at noon today. Tickets are on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office and will be available at the door for 35 cents.

Mr. Durgin was sent to Japan about 1919. Following brief service at Yokohama during an emergency he spent four years in Manchuria. Following the great earthquake of 1923 he was summoned to Tokyo to help direct reconstruction operations. During the past seven years he has been in Tokyo, organizing associations and building up the Y. M. C. A. in Japan. He was a special member of the committee.

DR. BLAKE APPOINTED TO SUMMER FACULTY

University Instructor Will Teach Zoology at Wyoming.

Dr. Irving H. Blake has recently accepted an appointment to the faculty of the Wyoming Summer Camp in the Medicine Bow National Forest, where he will instruct classes in elementary zoology with particular emphasis upon the ecological side of the subject.

This appointment has grown out of the advances made by two or three institutions in Colorado and from the University of Wyoming who have been seeking co-operation of the University of Nebraska to give zoology courses similar to the elementary and advanced botany courses which Dr. R. J. Pool, chairman of the department of botany has conducted at Camp Olympus in Estes Park, Colorado.

Very little progress was made to offer such a course of study to Nebraska zoology students until last summer when Dr. Otis Wade of the zoology department accepted an appointment and conducted classes at the Wyoming Summer Camp. Dr. Blake and Dr. Wade will instruct the classes this summer offering both elementary and advanced courses. Dr. Blake is also prepared to conduct advanced work in ecology.

"We are still on the gold standard," according to some statements, "because we have the full gold reserves required by law, back of our money. The mere maintenance of adequate gold reserve does not establish our gold standard," Arndt stated, "nor is the country on the gold standard so long as people can obtain gold coin. Even in cases in which the public has no gold coin the gold standard may exist. The true test of the gold standard is whether free trade in gold is permitted."

Regardless of all other considerations a country is off the gold standard as soon as it places an embargo on gold exports. The chief thing is whether it permits free trade in gold.

Contradicting some reports that clearing house certificates have not been used since 1907, he stated that they were last issued in the United States in 1914 shortly after the opening of the World War.

"Many people are convinced that

ZOOLOGIST TO SHOW SLIDES

Pictures Illustrate Doctor Wade's Experiences in Summer Camp.

Slides showing the experiences of Dr. Otis Wade, zoology department, at the Wyoming summer camp in Medicine Bow national forest, where he conducted classes last year in elementary and advanced zoology, will be shown at the meeting of Phi Sigma, honorary biological society, in Bessey hall 118 Wednesday evening, March 8, at 7:15 o'clock. The public and anyone interested in the subject are invited to attend.

COLONEL OURY WILL INSPECT COMPANIES

Results of First Inspection To Be Announced April 3.

The companies of the cadet regiment will be inspected by the university commandant, Colonel W. H. Oury, Cadet Colonel Howard Mixson, and the Cadet Adjutant of the regiment Charles Husbands. The inspection will begin March 20.

The companies will be inspected once on squad and platoon drill and once on company drill. Each company will be given the same movements before the inspecting officers. Attendance and the leadership of the commissioned and non-commissioned officers will be considered in the rating.

The company placing first in the competition will receive one percent on its score in the final competition of the year. The second and third places will be awarded one-half and one-fourth of one percent respectively on their final competition ratings.

The purpose of the inspection is to place the companies on their standings in outdoor work. The results of the first inspection will be announced on April 3 and standings on the second inspection on April 17.

ANNE BUNTING HEADS GIRLS' PEP SOCIETY

IOWA STATE GETS 'LOAN'

Aviation Instruments Valued At $1,200 Given to College.

AMES, Ia.—Aviation instruments valued at more than $1,200 have recently been "permanently loaned" to Iowa State college's mechanical engineering department by the field service section of the army air corps at Wright field, Dayton, O. The collection, to be used for instructional purposes in aviation courses, includes tachometers, altimeters, a compass, pressure gages, and air speed indicators.

The mechanical engineering department has also recently received as a gift from the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft company, thru the courtesy of the United Air Lines, a 9-cylinder radial airplane engine of 525 horsepower.

COMMITTEE PLANS NEW CEREMONY TO PRESENT PROM GIRL

Both Juniors and Seniors Will Take Part in Presentation.

A ceremony much more impressive than that of past years and one that will be truly representative of the junior and senior classes will be witnessed when the 1933 Prom girl is presented at the Junior-Senior prom in the coliseum Friday night, according to John Gepson and Ruth Cherny, committee in charge.

Promptly at 11 o'clock, the time of presentation, all juniors and seniors present will form two lines about twelve feet apart and facing each other, beginning at the steps at the south end of the hall and extending to the throne on the north. The Prom girl will appear on the steps where she will be met by the junior and senior class presidents who will escort her between the lines to the throne.

At the conclusion of the presentation ceremony, the orchestra will play a number dedicated especially to juniors and seniors.

The committee asks that all juniors and seniors, and others whose escorts are either juniors or seniors, co-operate in forming the

FINE SPECIMEN OF LION IS EXHIBITED AT MORRILL HALL

Mount Is Considered as One of Most Perfect in United States.

A large and beautifully mounted specimen of the king of the jungle and his mate has been recently received by the Nebraska State Museum and is now imposingly "in" for visitors in the north corridor of the basement floor of Morrill Hall.

Considered by museum authorities in the east to be one of the most beautiful and perfect mounts in the United States, the two great cats are valued at fifteen thousand dollars.

They are creamy yellow in color, without visible scars or flaws; and stand gracefully on a realistic stone slab set in jungle underbrush, their ears cocked, their eyes searching the paths before them, as though suddenly arrested by some alien noise.

A part of the Adam Brede collection, the mount was sent to the museum from the James L. Clark Studios in New York. Adam Brede was a Hastings man whose several expeditions to South Africa for wild animal specimens won for him world wide recognition.

He bequeathed his entire collection to the Nebraska Museum, and it is being brought here in sections as quickly as finances will permit. The beautiful giraffe of unusual longitude and the largest fossil elephant in the world, both of which are on exhibition in Morrill Hall, are the other most recent acquisitions from the Brede collection.

COMMISSION GROUP TO HEAR TALK ON PERIOD FURNITURE

Miss Mildred Overholser will talk on "Period Furniture" at a meeting of the Home Development staff, Wednesday, March 8, at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall. This commission group is led by Dorothy Cather. All girls interested are invited to attend. "This meeting will prove very interesting to those interested in home furnishings," declares Dorothy Cather.

Student Council Will Meet This Afternoon

The Student Council will hold its regular meeting at 5 o'clock this afternoon in U hall 106. All committees are asked to be ready to give reports and present plans for completion of their work before the first of May.

Student Council President.
