BARBOUR SPEAKS TO ENGINEERS' MEETING

Club Holds Annual Ladies' Night at Chamber of Commerce.

An illustrated address on "Fossils of the Great Plains" was given by Prof. E. H. Barbour of the ge-ology department Monday evening at the annual ladies night dinner of the Lincoln Engineers club at the chamber of commerce.

Tales of the "over specialization of the cat" and the Sioux county hills wherein lie between 5,000 and 6,000 camel skeletons made up the theme of his speech.

"Over specialization killed the cat," Dr. Barbour said. Beginning life in Nebraska and vicinity, he said, one kind of cat was provided with enough teeth both for protection and hunting, but gradually the number diminished until only two great saber teeth remained, forcing the cat to confine his hunting activities to certain types of less able beasts. The cat disappeared with the death of these other beasts, he stated.

Stereoptician slides were used to explain the evolution of present day types of animals. Contrary to common opinion, the elephant began as a small animal while the pig at first was larger, he said. He described a prehistoric hog which measured seven feet in height and eleven and a half feet in length.

Nebraska was termed as fertile field for skeleton hunters and the work of the university in this field

MANY ARE EXPECTED TO ATTEND RELAYS

Eleventh Annual Kansas Affair to Be Held April 22.

LAWRENCE, Kas.-Indications that the field of athletes in the eleventh annual Kansas relays will be little if any reduced over past years despite unsettled conditions in athletic departments of colleges and universities were strong as preliminary cards of intention to enter teams continued to come to Dr. F. C. Allen, director of athletics at the University of Kansas and manager of the Kansas relays which will be held here April 22.

With the date of the Kansas carnival still a month away response to the announcement of the Kansas relays program of eleven relays races and nine special individual events has been instant and the preliminary reports of intention to enter teams continue to come into the University of Kansas athletic office daily.

Among the first university class institutions saying they intend to have athletes in the Kansas relays are Kansas State college, Texas, Drake university, Kansas, Loyola University of Chicago, Oklahoma A. & M., Iowa, Oklahoma, Grinnell college, Illinois.

Those of the college class institutions already reporting they hoped to have teams here April 22 included Pittsburgh (Kansas) Teachers, Wichita university. Washburn college, Emporia (Kansas) Teachers, McKendree college of Lebanon, Ill., Baker university, McPherson college, Yankton college of Yankton, S. D., Kearney (Nebraska) Teachers, College of Emporia, Iowa Wesleyan, Simpson college of Indianola, Ia.; Marysville (Missouri) Teachers, Carleton college of Northfield, Minn.; and Oklahmoa Baptist university of Shawnee, Okl.

That the field for the Missouri Valley A. A. U. decathlon to be held in connection with the Kansas relays may include all three mem-bers of the United States decathlon delegation in the last Olympics was indicated with an inquiry from Wilson "Buster" Charles, Haskell Indian star, from Albu-querque, N. M., saying he hoped be on hand for the event. James Bausch, Kansas City Athletic club star and holder of the world decathlon record made in winning the Olympic event, is understood to be planning to enter the event here; and Clyde Coffman, University of Kansas student who fin-ished seventh in the Olympic decathlon, has announced that he will compete in the event at the Kansas relays, Some half dozen other entries appear to be certain for the decathlon in view of the advance inquiry about the event. Five events of the decathlon will be held Friday afternoon, April 21. and the final five events on Saturday morning, April 22.

Harvard university will have liquor served with their meals for the first time. The superintendent of the dining hall said that he saw no reason why beer and wines should not be served if the liquor laws at present were changed.

JANE STEEL NAMED GIRL-OF-THE-MONTH

Spring Issue of Awgwan Is Placed on Sale Wednesday.

Jane Steel, Pi Beta Phi, was presented as the Awgwan girl-ofthe-month, in the spring issue of the Awgwan which was placed on sale Wednesday morning. The pictures of six girls: Mildred Huff, Alpha Delta Theta; Ruth Sears, Pi Beta Phi; Jeanette Clark, Alpha Chi Omega; Florence Dixon, Chi Omega; Clara Day, Alpha Xi Delta, and Lucille Hitchcock, Alpha Omicron Pi appeared on the pha Omicron Pi appeared on the beauty panel. The girls were again chosen irrespective of affiliation or class, but by the individual beauty of their pictures.

The concluding installment of Neil McFarland's series about two freshmen in love, is featured as Chuck and Phyllis come to the parting of the ways in "Spring Breakup."

"It Was a Lovely Day" a story by Leavitt Dearborn appears in this issue. It is a story concerned with the trials and tribulations of Benjamin E. degerton Hamilton, and Percy Hedgeworth, two college students who, tired of dating steady, decide to go on a picnic with new girls. Complications ap-pear only when the "new dates" turn out to be the possessors of their fraternity pins. The cover, designed by Norman Hansen portrays a slightly overdeveloped student who is complacently enjoying an attack of "Spring fever" on the campus green.

A series of ten letters describing the entire course of a spring romance appear in "Once in a Blue Moon," a story by Lucile Hunter. Gore again brings to light all the untold secrets of campus do-ings, mis-doings, and romances.

Katherine Howard's fashion page is another feature in the magazine. In this issue, Miss Howard writes and illustrates spring clothing.

Methods of having good times via spring methods are portrayed in the two pages of cartoons drawn by Morris Gordon.
