CONFERENCE CATCHES

BY BURT MARVIN.

IRWIN RYAN.

Still pinch-hitting for Burt "Mumps" Marvin is the duty of this personage. Full instructions are given to me on this score, as he wishes it announced that he does no longer write his column and that all suits for libel are to be gently guided over in this direction.

Walt Henrion seems to be a great help to Coach Browne in basketball. He is somewhat of an assistant and helps the squad go through their plays and formations. Others functions of his are to referee and participate in scrimmages and to help individual players who are having difficulty.

Warren DeBus has been the admiration of many youthful high school girls lately as he has been carrying on personally conducted tours through the coliseum and showing them the swimming pool and such sights around the university. Various high schools throughout the state have been continually pouring into Lincoln on their "Senior Sneak" days.

Paul V. Keen, University of Oklahoma Intramural athletic director, has inaugurated touch football on the intramural program at Oklahoma and the sport has proved very successful and popular. Numerous other schools throughout the nation have considered it and it has been met with approval by many of them. Recently Mr. Keen wrote an article on touch football which appeared in the April Number of "The Coach," a monthly magazine distributed to every coach in the nation.

The Nebraska track squad looks like a cinch, in my opinion, to capture the Big Six outdoor cinders title. True, in the indoor meet we tied with Oklahoma 33 to 33 for the title, but there were three events in which the schools did not compete which should net the Schulte team at least 15 points more. The said events are the discus, the javelin throw and the 220 yard low hurdles.

In the triangular meet held at Manhattan last Saturday between Nebraska, Kansas and Kansas Aggies, first, second and third places were taken by Nebraska men, in the discus throw, each with a heave of over 130 feet. Sauer won first place with a throw of 139 feet 10 inches, while Skewes took second and Hokuf placed third. Then in the javelin throw, Nebraska received both first and second. Hokuf winning with a toss of 193 feet 2 inches, breaking the old record of 180 feet 8 1-2 inches, and Chambers received second place. Heye Lambertus took the 220 yard low hurdles event for another first place thus further brightening Nebraska's prospect for the outdoor cinder title.

By the way, the next Cornhusker meet will be here at the Nebraska Stadium Friday, May 12, and everyone should come. You will see a good exhibition and I am sure you will like to see Heye Lambertus' flawless style as he takes the low hurdles. Some compare his running with that of Bill Carr and his matchless rhythm in the longer races. Cy Sherman says, "It is a positive joy to watch Lambertus glide over the low sticks."

wick. These are open to all deserving students of the university. Junior Prize.

they think should be included in such a plan.

If the general plan is approved by the students, the Student council will formulate a definite recommendation to the Board of Regents, including those items which get the approval of the preponderant majority of students in the vote.

The following items will be listed on the ballot: Athletic ticket, Daily Nebraskan Cornhusker, Awgwan, Prairie Schooner, Student council fee, and convocations fee.

Not all of these, Allaway indicated, will be included in the final plan. "It is thought wise, however," he said, "to expand the list for the ballot so that the student body may select the items they want included in such a plan."
