

CONFERENCE MEET TO BE HELD THIS COMING WEEK END

Cunningham Is Expected to Break Mile and Half Mile Records.

Several records are in danger this coming Friday and Saturday at the Lincoln Memorial stadium as the fight for the title in the Big Six track and field meet takes place.

Glenn Cunningham, outstanding Kansas distance ace, is expected to lower both the mile and the half mile standing while Heye Lambertus of the Husker squad may slice a little off the low hurdle mark.

Coach Schulte bases his main hopes in the well balanced team of the Cornhuskers. Formerly the Husker squad tied with Oklahoma for the Big Six indoor title with a score of 33 to 33.

Up to date the Schulte squad has been hindered by favorable weather conditions for training while both the southern teams have had much better luck in their training activities.

The Big Six marks up to date are:

- 100 yards—9 4-10 seconds by Hubert Meier, Iowa State, '31. 220 yards—20 7-10 seconds by Roland Locke, Nebraska, '26. 440 yards—48 6-10 seconds by Russell Dills, Missouri, '30. 880 yards—1 minute 53 5-10 seconds by Glenn Cunningham, Kansas, '32. SIX ENGINEERS GO BEFORE COURT AND THROWN INTO TANK

Failure to Do Work on Displays Is Cause Of Forced Bath.

Never cross an engineer! Six of those worthy men who make electricity band to their will, conduct "believe it or not" experiments, and draw intricate diagrams which only themselves can understand will probably make sure that future engineers will not shirk their duty of working to make certain the success of their pride and joy—Engineer's Week.

These students because of their negligence were unexpectedly summoned before a kangaroo court held Monday morning and after hearing sentence duly pronounced were unceremoniously dipped into the cold waters of a horse tank. But the ignominy of the whole affair appeared when the austers and sedate judge was ducked himself after his most humane decision.

The ones "christened" were chosen from a list of students who failed to give their all to Engineer's Week. In each case the verdict was that the victim be tanked. W. H. Congdon, Mason Butcher, Frank Odda, Carl Erb, Marlo Smith, and the judge, Rudolph Basta were the culprits bathed. The large horse tank procured from a downtown store was placed in front of the A. M. building and the court was conducted by students from the Civil Engineering department.

With the exception of one man, the only misdemeanor charged was failure to work on displays but in the case of Marlo Smith the decision included what the Engineers believe is another cause for complaint. The legal sounding decision as handed down in court in Smith's case read as follows: Marlo Smith shall be tanked for infraction of the code of ethics of the American Society of Civil Engineers which states, "It shall be unprofessional to advertise in self-laudatory language or in other manner derogatory to the dignity of the profession."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB GIVES BANQUET

Fifth Annual Affair Was Held at Cornhusker Friday, May 12.

The fifth annual banquet of the Physical Education club in honor of the seniors of the department was held recently in the Lancaster room of the Hotel Cornhusker.

The table appointments were in black and silver tones and spring garden flowers.

Nolabelle O'Connor, junior major, acted as toastmistress. Class toasts were given by Beth Taylor, Jean Brownlee, Jean Alden and Dorothy Charleson. Miss Mable Lee, director of the department of physical education for women, responded to the speeches with a toast to all classes.

The main speaker was Miss Ruth Diamond, director of physical education for women at the University of Omaha.

A short entertainment was given. Lucille Ambrose gave a piano solo. Georgia Kilgore and Alpha Gamma offered an interpretative dance.

Miss Mirima Wagner, instructor in the department, explained the physical education society. Grace Morgan, president, announced the names of the new members who are Lois Foley, Jean Fromlee, Irvel Williams and Georgia Kilgore.

PHOTOS OF GOLDEN WEST GIRLS APPEAR IN HUMOR EXCHANGE

Five Nebraska Women Are Portrayed in May Issue Of Owl.

"Cawn fed, well bred, nuff sed—Nebraska—Girls of the Golden West—That is what the Owl, the humor publication of the Temple university, Philadelphia, Penn., thinks of the coeds attending Nebraska. In the May issue of the Owl, five Nebraska university girls were portrayed. Two center pages of the magazine are devoted to the pictures of the girls.

Pictures of Pat Miller, this year's "Nebraska Sweetheart," Delta Gamma, Lucille Hitchcock, president of Alpha Omicron Pi and a member of Mortar Board, Florence Dixon, Chi Omega, Frances Jane McEvoy, Alpha Phi, and Jane Steel, Pi Beta Phi were elected as representative of Nebraska beauty.

"With this issue the Wise Old Bird takes a deep bow and gratefully acknowledges the Nebraska "Awwgan" as co-conspirator in presenting these cawn fed beauties as the first of a monthly supplement featuring America's Betty Coeds," says the Owl, "if you're one of those old meanies who believe beauty is only skin deep a quick look at the "pasts" of this month's bevy should convince you that beauty can also be a mark for brains."

The staff of the Owl unanimously agreed that the pictures added very greatly to the attractiveness of the magazine, according to a letter H. Francis Cunningham, editor of the Awwgan, received from George L. Waller, Jr., editor of the Owl. "I wish to state that we were very pleased to publish such undeniably attractive photos," he writes.

"This, the most complimentary exchange the Awwgan has ever received, pleases me very much," stated Cunningham.

CONFERENCE CATCHES

BY BURT MARVIN.

The boring monotony of scrutinizing the same old phrases and expressions will soon be broken by the event of the returning of Mr. "Mumps" Marvin who will no longer be "Mumps" this Tuesday. Thus the following day, Wednesday, his presentation of sports and of Conference Catches will be ready for your approval.

Bob Morris surely proved his worth by winning the mile run in Saturday's event in the record time of 4:32.5 seconds. Bob has been consistently breaking records and fast times throughout the state all year long. He is a very conscientious trainer and diligent performer. He is also an expert swimmer, and this has done much toward building up his endurance.

The Corncob pledges at the University of Nebraska don't realize just how lucky they really are. At the University of Oklahoma the Ruf Neks, Oklahoma pep body, made all their pledges, of whom there are fifty, go through a 15 minute ordeal before the first Sooner-Oklahoma Aggie baseball game. Each pledge had to bring a safety razor, not a straight edge, a shaving brush, shaving soap and a small bucket and pass in turn before the cold water drinking fountain at the baseball field, filling the buckets. Following this they were required to remove a three weeks growth of beard with the given equipment mentioned above. I wonder if their dates that night thought a cross-cut saw hit them?

Coach Schulte thinks that this Don Roberts of Trenton, who won the 100 in his group in 10.3 and made the best time of the meet in the 220, is one of the fastest high school sprinters ever to run on the Nebraska track. You may wonder about such a statement because his time has been beaten by many. However Coach Schulte says that this is due to his slow start. He is always behind at the start and doesn't get out of his holes quickly at all.

Petz surely demonstrated his ability of remaining a top notch hurdler in the Minnesota track meet by defeating Scheifley, who placed first in the high hurdles at the Drake relays, in the time of 14.8 seconds. Petz ran unattached as he has had three years of competition. This is a remarkable performance considering the fact that he has not been running in competition as has Captain Scheifley.

Gymnastics is becoming much more popular here at the university of late. Many of the athletes are taking to it and enjoy it greatly. Some have formed a gymnastic club and have elected officers and this has tended to create further interest in the sport. In my opinion gymnastics is a very beautiful and thrilling sport to watch, as much grace and co-ordination is required for its performance. It is primarily a sport of skill and thus fits in with the modern trend of all sports.

500 STUDENTS AT COLUMBIA GO ON ONE DAY STRIKE

Dropping of Instructor Causes Uprising Monday.

More than 500 students of the Columbia university ignored their classes and spent the day on a strike which later turned into a riot Monday because of the dropping of Donald Henderson, an instructor who has taken part in numerous radical activities. The riot turned into a free for all fight which was promptly checked by police.

Diego Rivers, the Mexican artist whose work at Rockefeller Center was recently halted by the Rockefeller's, was speaking when someone attempted to bind a black gag around the head of the statue of Alma Mater. Fighting broke out among the hundreds of students and outsiders assembled on the campus and police charged the throng. One man was arrested who was described by police as an unemployed individual.

After groups of students went through classrooms to urge students to join, several classes were dismissed. Sometime during the day a black draped coffin was deposited at the base of the alma mater statue, red letters proclaiming "Here lies academic freedom."

Among speakers to address the striking students was Alfred Bingham, Yale graduate, editor of the "Common Sense" and son of U. S. Senator Bingham of Connecticut. He told them that students over the country were becoming politically conscious, that they could remain between "old world stupidity" and "new thought."

HUSKERS WIN TENNIS MATCH FROM KAGGIES

Final Home Match With Iowa to Be Played On May 22.

After losing a shutout to the Iowa State tennis squad the Husker tennis squad turned around and administered the same kind of medicine by scoring a shutout victory at the expense of the Kansas Aggies. The match was played here in Lincoln at the many courts.

The Nebraska squad trounced the Wildcats by a 6 to 0 score without losing a set. Altogether, of the twelve sets played, Nebraska only lost eighteen games.
