The Summer Session Newspaper.

THIS morning the Nebraskan begins its fourth year as the newspaper of the University of Nebraska summer session. As Director Mortiz says in his statement which appears on page one, the Nebraskan will be both a news conveyor and a university bulletin. In it will appear both that campus news of interest to summer students and those official announcements which the summer session administration wishes published to the students.

As a newspaper the Nebraskan will attempt to present itself as a bright, newsy sheet, which will record and publish the events which will make this summer session of interest to those enrolled. As a bulletin it is at the service of the faculty and administration of the summer session.

The summer Nebraskan will be your paper. It will, in a way, be your paper even more than the Daily Nebraskan is the paper of the students during the regular school year, for its readers will not be limited to paid subscribers.

There are, of course, no paid subscribers to the summer Nebraskan. The Nebraskan will be published twice weekly, on Tuesday and Friday mornings, and will be distributed free from boxes in Social Sciences, Teachers college and Andrews hall. Your copy will be there. We, and the summer session administration joins us in this request, ask only that you read it. It will be our duty to make it worth reading.

In matters of policy the Summer Nebraskan will attempt to point out what it believes is for the best interests of the school as a whole and of the students in particular. We shall welcome criticism, adverse or commendatory, and suggestions for improvement of our paper or of anything connected with the summer session. We shall publish such communications of general interest sent in for that purpose.

With this introduction we bid you welcome and, with Mr. Mortiz, commend your faith in education in continuing your training at this time.

We anticipate a pleasant summer and suggest that you drop in at the Nebraskan office at any time. We want to get acquainted!

MUSIC OFFERED FOR SECONDARY STUDENTS

High School Boys, Girls to Enroll for One Month Course Here.

Some seventy-five high school boys and girls from all parts of the state will be music students at the University of Nebraska for four weeks during the summer to attend the All-State orchestra, band and chorus course being offered for the first time.

William W. Norton of Flint, Mich., and George Howerton of Chicago will have general charge of the course, being assisted by the regular faculty of the school of music.

Nonresident boys and girls will be housed in separate dormitories under trained supervisors who will look after the recreation, entertainment and health of their charges. The Delta Tau Delta house, for boys, and the Kappa Delta house, for girls, have been rented to house out of town students attending the course.

A $30 fee for the four weeks session includes all expenses—board, room, health, recreation, registration, two vocal or instrumental lessons a week, daily orchestral and choral rehearsals and supervision of all social activities. One unit of high school credit will be given for those attending.

Although enrollment does not close until Monday, registrations from the following towns had come in Thursday: Falls City, York, Sidney, Wymore, Creston, Ia., Blue Rapids, DuBois, Silver Creek, Butte, David City, Exeter, Grant, Ainsley, Fullerton and Oxford, in addition to Lincoln.

Mr. Norton, now executive and music organizer for the Flint, Mich., community music association, was a student at Nebraska in 1898. He was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity here, sang in the chorus directed by the late Carrie Belle Raymond, taught violin lessons at College View and directed a twenty-eight piece orchestra at Plymouth church.

He is president of the North Central Music Supervisors conference and a member of the staff of Columbia teachers college. During the winter months he conducts the Flint symphony orchestra, choral union, industrial male chorus and opera.

While here he will have charge of the All-State high school orchestra, giving two rehearsals a day, and will conduct an adult orchestra Tuesday and Thursday evenings. He will also offer classes in music supervision and instrumental problems.

At the close of the four weeks high school music course here, he will go to Interlochen, Mich., for the national music camp, assisting Joseph Maddy there. He will return to Flint in the fall.

George Howerton of Chicago, Mr. Norton's co-director for the high school music course, is an authority on conducting and experienced in methods and musical materials for choral work in public schools. He will also teach a course in choral problems.
