Professor Robbins had been connected with the University of Nebraska law college, either as adviser, instructor, or professor since its organization.

He was instrumental in bringing about its existence when he started teaching a voluntary law class at his office in 1888, which was followed in two years by a similar class under the supervision of another Lincoln lawyer and in 1891 taken over by the university.

Beginning his undergraduate work at Hedding college, Ill., he received his M. A. degree there in 1883, continuing graduate studies at Northwestern from which he received his L. L. B. in 1885. He came to Lincoln a year later where he has been a resident for forty-seven years.

Professor Robbins had been responsible for many changes and improvements which have been made in the law college since its beginning. He was one of the early members of Phi Delta Phi. He contributed to many magazines, and was the author of a number of manuscripts. In 1931 he was given an emeritus rating.

The executive committee of the University of Nebraska regents, in session Saturday when word of Professor Robbins' death was received, adopted a resolution expressing their appreciation of his services to the university.

Stag Picnic Arranged for Monday Afternoon at Pioneers Park.

Tickets will be on sale today and Friday in the lower corridor of Teachers college for the all men's steak fry to be held at Pioneer's park Monday afternoon and evening. As the last major event on the summer recreational program, the student executive committee is anticipating a large attendance at the "stag party."

Starting at 4 o'clock a series of games and sports of all kinds has been arranged by a committee under the leadership of Mr. Gatley. A large open fire grate for cooking the meat is being purchased by the student committee from profits of the summer session parties. A complete menu has been arranged by the committee in charge of food, headed by Arthur Jones. In the evening a campfire program has been arranged by another committee whose chairman is O. H. Bimson.

Students who desire transportation to the park are requested to call Millard Bell, chairman of the transportation committee at B1831.

The committee urges all students who plan to attend to note that tickets will be on sale at the Teachers college only on Thursday and Friday. It will be impossible to sell tickets up to the last minute on Monday as the committee must know how many are going to attend in order to avoid any waste in purchasing the food supplies. Tickets are 35 cents.

STUDENT JOB STATUS REVEALED IN SURVEY

41 Percent of Registrants
Have No Positions for Next Year.

A survey of the number of students in attendance at the summer session who have positions of one kind or another for the coming year reveals that 41 percent of these students will be unemployed next year. Fifty-nine percent do have jobs lined up for the coming year, or did have when the survey was made at the time of registration. The information was released Wednesday by Prof. R. D. Moritz, director of the summer session.

Last summer, a similar survey indicated that 61 percent of the registered students were planning to be employed while only 39 percent were unemployed, showing a slightly darker state of affairs in the unemployment condition so far as this summer's students are concerned. The Graduate college students, as would be expected, show the smallest percentage of unemployment, while registrants in the Teachers college have the lowest percentage of unemployed among the undergraduates. The compiled figures follow:

Teachers:	Number enrolled, 764; employed, 516; unemployed, 248.
Graduate:	Number enrolled, 523; employed, 393; unemployed, 130.
Arts and Sciences:	Number enrolled, 310; employed, 80; unemployed, 230.

Chancellor Burnett Describes the Budget for the New Fiscal Period

By Chancellor E. A. Burnett.

(From the Nebraska Alumnus).
The University of Nebraska budget for 1933-34 which was approved by the regents on June 17 is the final proof of the effect of legislative retrenchment upon the university. The new budget is $666,342.68 smaller than the budget for the year just closing. A similar and perhaps even greater saving will have to be effected for the second year of the biennium. This reduction is caused by reduced appropriations from tax money, reduction in federal funds, and loss of income from student fees. The total budget amounts to $2,642,286.81, not including the budget for agricultural extension work which cannot be determined until the amount of federal funds available for such purpose is known.

Outstanding points in this bud-

D. degrees and 74 candidates for master's degrees are going through the last stages of completing work and taking examinations. One hundred thirty-five students are candidates for degrees from the undergraduate colleges.

While cancellations of graduate college examinations make impossible an absolutely accurate estimate of the number which will finally take the graduate degrees, (Continued on Page 2.)

WEATHER KIOSKS TO BE AUCTIONED OFF

Weather Bureau Orders
Dismantling of Old
Structures.

Stripped of its instruments, the old weather kiosk in front of old U hall is waiting to be knocked down to the lowest bidder and carried away from the spot where it has long been a campus institution. The campus kiosk together with a similar structure at 10th and O were to have been sold Monday, but none of the bids offered were large enough to cover costs of removing the kiosks and repairing the sidewalks. Another auction is planned later on.

Thomas A. Blair, meteorologist, announced that the kiosks are being removed in all cities in the country at the direction of the United States weather bureau because the cost of maintaining the instruments is considered too large in view of the slight service the public demonstration of temperature and barometer readings performs. The instruments do not record very accurately either, Mr. Blair explained, and reports of weather forecasts and other meteorological information as carried in the press serve the public more accurately and in a less costly manner.
