

PROF. LANTZ DIRECTS SUMMER RECREATION

Varied Social and Athletic Program Included in Activities.

A comprehensive program of activities, which included University parties in the coliseum, horseshoe, golf and baseball tournaments, was presented for the summer session students. Most of the students participated in these activities, which were under the direction of Prof. E. W. Lantz.

A girls baseball team, comprised of university students, played teams representing various Lincoln firms. As a climax for the men's sports, an all-men's steak-try was held at Pioneer park with the winners in the various contests receiving prizes.

Another point of interest concerning the summer session was the collection of data, by John K. Selsick, for the football season and the sending around to the different schools in the state and to the larger schools outside of the state, a total of 20,000 posters advertising our football schedule. In addition Selsick completed the organization of the plans for the silent cheering section this year. Cards were printed designating the seat numbers and the various colors which the students are to display at the given times.

FRATERNITY MEN FORM GOVERNING ALUMNI COUNCIL

center around correlation of fraternity incomes with expenses, but in the future additional work may be taken by the council, the proposed executive committees empowered, by the resolution passed Thursday, to "make an intensive study of fraternity problems and to propose which might be generally applicable to all fraternities."

That immediate action of some kind was very necessary was not denied at any time during the discussions. At the inception of the movement, the letter calling the informal meeting declared that "unless something is done to stabilize the fraternities' financial situation, it won't be long until we will have more of them passing out of the picture."

Similar realization of the seriousness of the problem was voiced in Thursday night's resolution, which said that "a continuation of present financial difficulties might conceivably result in a situation so serious as to actually cause the dissolution of many of the fraternities."

Copies of the resolution, together with a request for immediate action in the election of representatives, are now being sent to all fraternities.

The complete resolution: Whereas, the present economic conditions have produced a financial situation among the fraternities represented at the University of Nebraska, which has resulted in a great detriment to their welfare, and it is understood said conditions prevail the entire country, and Whereas, a continuation of present financial difficulties may conceivably result in a situation so serious as to actually cause the dissolution of many of the fraternities, and

Whereas, at a meeting of the representatives of the various fraternities it was deemed to be for the best interest and welfare of all the fraternities to provide a program under which general economies and greater efficiency of operation of all fraternities might be obtained,

Now, therefore, be it Resolved in order to promote the general welfare of said fraternities: First—That an alumni council be established immediately, said council to be composed of an alumni member of each and every resident fraternity represented on the campus of the University of Nebraska. Said member to be chosen by the members of the active chapter of each fraternity. Said member to serve for a period of two years, or until his successor is appointed.

Second—That there be appointed by the faculty advisers of the interfraternity council an executive committee of seven, said committee to be chosen from the members of the alumni council. Said members to serve for a period of two years or until their successors are appointed. It shall be the duty of said executive committee at the earliest possible moment to make an intensive study of fraternity problems and to propose policies, rules and regulations which might be generally applicable to all fraternities. Following approval of such policies, rules and regulations by a majority vote of the alumni council they shall be in force and effect and observed by all fraternities.

Third—That the members of the alumni council be notified to select their representatives. Among problems to be dealt with by the organization the two preliminary discussions have indicated, will be "stabilization of costs" and "economic management of fraternities." Specific measures may include such projects as co-operative, centralized auditing, co-operative buying, schooling of houses managers, stewards and cooks thru the aid of university facilities, and setting up minimum rate schedules.

Plan University Party.

Arrangements for the first All-University party have been completed, the affair having been scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 16. Six more parties have been arranged for the year, four in the Coliseum and two at the Student Activities building on the Ag campus.

Last year was the first year of existence for the Interclub council. There were about twenty-five members, who were representatives of clubs with a total membership of about 250. Since the organization is largely political only men belong.

STUDENT APPROVAL OF TAX PLAN INSURES ADDITIONAL WORK BY STUDENT COUNCIL.

The Assessor and the student athletic ticket it must secure the inclusion of these items in the plan at a price not more than the price estimated last spring. The total tax per year for the four items according to these estimated prices would be $9.00, or $4.50 per semester. The student legislators will try, according to Gepson, to secure the approval of those in charge of these various activities for scaling down this tax somewhat.

In any case the council will only seek to have the plan put into effect one year from now. During that time prices may vary and the council does not wish to bind the various organizations participating in the tax plan to any definite prices, for it contemplates the probabilities of changes in the tax each year if it should be adopted.

Further plans must be made sought, according to council officials. When the student vote on the plan was taken last spring the council was uncertain as to which student activity projects should be included under the tax plan. The vote by the student body will be the council's guide in drawing up a definite tax plan.

The prices of the various items to be included in the plan will also have to be checked carefully. The prices as listed on the ballot last spring were understood to be indefinite, but the council pledged itself not to include any item if the tax plan, even though favored by the students unless the price of such item would be the same or less than the price appearing on the ballot.

Should the council decide to include in the tax plan only the four items which received a majority of the total votes cast, namely the Daily Nebraskan, the Cornhusker, also with regard to the system for collecting the tax, in other institutions where the tax system operates the student tax is paid at registration time as part of the registration fee.

Exemptions are made in other schools in certain cases with a faculty committee granting or withholding exemption from the tax after a hearing of those students requesting exemption. The Student Council last year drew up a tentative system for taking care of students who should not be required to pay the tax.

PROGRAM FOR SEASON FORMULATED BY BARBS

Interclub and Barb Councils To Organize Clubs of Unaffiliated Men.

As the new school year swings into action the officers of the Barb and Interclub councils are proceeding to organize the unaffiliated students both socially and politically. In the near future the clubs will be formed and their representatives organized into an Interclub council to serve during the 1933-1934 school year.

Officers of both the Interclub and Barb councils elected last spring, Harry West, Syracuse, is president of the Interclub group; Burton Marvin, Lincoln, vice president; Marjorie Smith, Lincoln, secretary; and Wilbur Erickson, Newman Grove, treasurer. West and Smith are seniors, while Marvin and Erickson are juniors.

Since the drawing up of the new constitution for both organizations last spring the Barb council, a committee of the Interclub group, is to have charge of Barb social events, and the chairman is automatically vice president of the major council, Burton Marvin, of Lincoln, is chairman of the Barb

Lucky Breaks

The Republican National Convention of 1920 found Chicago gripped in a terrific heat wave. After eight long days and nights of scorching, the delegates were worn out and aching to get home. Although it had been agreed that Lenroot was to be nominated for Vice-President, when somebody moved the name of Calvin Coolidge, the whole convention was tired to fight, shouted "Aye." Subsequently through the death of Harding, Coolidge became President. A heat wave was his LUCKY BREAK.
