BURNETT URGES DEVELOPMENT OF VARIOUS PROGRAMS

One Thousand Freshmen Are Addressed by Chancellor Thursday Morning.

CONDRA TENDERS OATH Innocents and Mortar Boards Preside at Annual Frosh Initiation Ceremony.

Urging new students to quickly acquire systematic habits of study in order to assure scholastic safety, Chancellor E. A. Burnett issued the official welcome to new students of the university at the traditional freshmen initiation ceremonies in the coliseum yesterday morning. More than 1,000 students were present.

Speakers on the program emphasized the desirability of participation in extra-curricular activities but urged all new students to place particular stress upon the pursuit of studies as their vocation and participation in campus activities as their avocation.

Chancellor Speaks. "The university is proud to welcome you new students into its family," the chancellor said. "We look to you for outstanding achievement, not only as students in school but as future citizens of whom we can justly be proud."

Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, issued all freshmen women an invitation to attend the tea in Ellen Smith hall yesterday afternoon and also to a series of teas to be sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. later in the school year. She briefly discussed the scope and aspect of women's activities.

Activities are Valuable. "I urge all of you freshmen women to devote some of your time in college to participation in extra-curricular activities. You will form many valuable and enjoyable contacts and so enrich your life, but be sure that your selection of activities is a sane and judicious one," Miss Heppner said.

Other speakers on the program were Head Football Coach Dana X. Bible, who spoke on school spirit; Head Track Coach Henry F. Schulte, who discussed the attitude of the student toward his work; Dean of Student Affairs, T. J. Thompson, Willis Norde, president of Mortar Boards, and Bryon Boulding, president of the Innocents society, who presided at the meeting.

CORNHUSKER DEADLINE FOR FILING IS FRIDAY

Applicants Must Have Names In by Five O'clock This Afternoon.

In anticipation of a last minute rush of applicants for positions on the 1934 Cornhusker staff, Business Manager Robert Thiel has urged that students who expect to file their applications do so at once. The deadline for filing will be reached this afternoon at five o'clock.

Thiel indicated that the number of applications already filed is not sufficient from which to choose the members of his new staff and that more applications were desired. Candidates for positions on the editorial staff may also file until five o'clock this afternoon. Woodruff Magee, editor of the annual, urged that more students file their applications today.

It is evident that many students are overlooking a good activity in not seeking positions on the Cornhusker staff, either in the editorial or business departments. Thiel pointed out. In the organization of the staff positions will be awarded to the more active people, he said. There are twenty positions open on the business staff. Circulation managers, advertising managers and business assistant will be chosen from among the applicants.

As Visual Identification for Position

Freshmen, have you wondered why your picture was taken at the time of your registration? For five years the "snapping" of unprepared freshmen, with almost invariably unflattering results, has been part of the lengthy routine of matriculation. After considerable time has elapsed the uninitiated are asked to call for the finished product in the basement of the administration building, and attach it to the back of their identification card. It has been observed however, that few people have been seen to look at a picture on the back of an identification card. Their purpose, according to Miss Florence McGahey, registrar and university publisher, is to provide the office and the local merchants with some more definite and exact means of identifying university students.

New Board Member

MR. L. E. GUNDERSON

L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary of the university, took over his duties Wednesday as corporation secretary of the Board of Regents, to replace J. Stuart Dales, who retired from the board after fifty-eight years of service to the university.

GUNDERSON WILL TAKE OVER WORK OF JAMES DALES

Regents' Secretary Resigns After 58 Years Of Service.

Wednesday evening marked a definite turning point in the history of the University when James S. Dales, for fifty-eight years connected with the official life of the school and associated with it since it opened its doors to students in September, 1871, turned over his duties as corporation secretary of the board of regents to L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary of the board of regents, who will also serve as acting corporation secretary.

About two years ago Mr. Dales had announced his intention of retiring on Jan. 1, 1933. When that time came along, the regents prevailed upon him to continue his duties until the end of the school year, Aug. 31, which he did. The Wednesday evening meeting of the regents was the first meeting since the early summer months. No successor had been appointed prior to that time.

Dales Nebraska Alumnus.

Mr. Dales was the first student to enter the University of Nebraska with advanced standing, one of the first two to secure a degree from the school, and the first to secure an advanced degree. On the first day the old University hall was opened to students, Sept. 7, 1871, Mr. Dales enrolled as a junior, the only one in the school. He was one of the twenty men that received degrees at the commencement exercises of 1873 and in 1876 he was the first to receive an advanced degree at Nebraska.

In 1875 he became associated with the staff of the University as secretary of the board of regents, then having charge of most of the business affairs of the small school. In 1913 he was made a member of the university senate and given the rank of dean. In 1924 he was made corporation secretary of the board of regents.

Gunderson is Secretary. Mr. Gunderson, who will serve as acting secretary of the board of regents in addition to his other duties, has served as finance secretary since 1921, joining the university staff the previous year. The board in accepting his request for retirement passed the following resolution:

Whereas, for fifty-eight years Judge J. S. Dales has been connected with the University of Nebraska and has for the past several years served as corporation secretary of the board of regents, and whereas, Judge Dales now retires as corporation secretary of the board, Be it resolved that the board of regents hereby expresses to Judge Dales its thanks and appreciation for his many years of faithful and valued service to the university and the state of Nebraska.

Duplicate pictures are pasted on the back of each student's personal card, on file at the main office. After four years have elapsed another picture appears on the cards, that taken of seniors for The Cornhusker. Thus the faculty and the registrar are possessed of a fairly accurate and convenient means of visual identification of students when asked for recommendations or comments.

Heads of the credit departments of Lincoln's leading department stores all replied, when asked, that they had never at any time taken advantage of the existence of a freshman's identification card picture.

The photos may be easily detached from identification cards, and upperclassmen have no pictures on their cards. The university photographer. (Continued on Page 4.)

PLAYERS TICKET DRIVE SMASHES FORMER RECORDS

Campaign Total for Third Day Exceeds Record Of Last Year.

THELMA STERKEL LEADS

Tassels Extend Time Limit For Purchase of Seats Until Monday.

Smashing sales records surpassing the third day of last year's campaign placed the University Players ticket drive for this year within close proximity of the scores made last season. Because of the success of the drive conducted by the Tassels under the direction of Thelma Sterkel, campaign manager, the sale of reserved seats will continue thru until Monday evening. The Tassels expect to exceed last year's sales by a large margin.

All members of the organization who sell twenty tickets or over are entitled to accompany the pep club on the out of town football game which is to be made early in the season. Twelve girls are already assured of the trip. They are Thelma Sterkel, Florence Buxman, Gwen Thompson, Anne Bunting, Roma De Brown, Ruby Schwemby, Margaret Medlar, Laura McAllister, Irene Maurer, Mary Reimers, Gretchen Schrag and Emily Spangard. Thelma Sterkel encourages other members by stating "The rest of the Tassels have a chance to sell twenty tickets by this extension of the sales period until Monday evening."

Maxine Packwood Leads. Maxine Packwood's team again rated high place in sales records. Laura McAllister is second, Valentine Klotz, third, Florence Buxman, fourth and Ruby Schwemby, fifth. These girls each act as captain of a team composed of Tassels organized to promote the drive.

Thelma Sterkel still leads with the highest individual sales. Gretchen Schrag runs a close second. It was announced at last night's meeting that prizes would be offered for the girl selling the most University Players tickets.

The reserved seats for the University Players this year are $2 with an additional charge for parking seats. Reservations can be made by seeing any Tassel. The drive will end Monday evening with a pep meeting of Tassel members at the Temple building. At this time all tickets and money are to be checked in and scores recorded.

30 WILL REPORT TO NEWSWRITING CLASS

Members of Paid Staff To Supervise Reporters' Work at Session.

About thirty students will attend the Saturday morning newswriting practice classes to be started by the Daily Nebraskan this evening, Saturday, according to a statement made yesterday by Bruce Nicoll, managing editor of the publication. Members of the paid staff of the Nebraskan will supervise the sessions.

Emphasis will be placed on the technique of writing news stories in addition to discovering the sources of news on the campus. Nicoll stated. Students will be given practice in writing various types of news and feature stories from material on hand.

Students who have already done reportorial work for the Nebraskan so far this semester and those interested in working on the editorial side of the publication will be urged to attend. Attendance will not be compulsory, but an reporter will be made to get all reporters to attend.

Students who attend the sessions will be given preference in the assignment of beats and in making recommendations to the student publications board for staff positions on the Daily Nebraskan. Nicoll declared.

AG INSTRUCTOR WILL SPEAK TO INSTITUTE

Prof. W. H. Brokaw, director of the university agricultural extension division and professor of agricultural extension work, will discuss the operation of the agricultural adjustment program before the Lincoln chapter of the American Interprofessional institute on Saturday noon at the Lincoln hotel.

SWAP SHOP STILL OPEN

Exchange Operates Between Hours of 10 and 1:30 Each Day. The Swap Book Shop, located in the Temple, will be open from Monday, Sept. 25th to Friday, between 10:30 and 1:30 each day. Students who left their books to be sold will receive their money after Wednesday. Current texts are still available. (Continued on Page 4.)

DEBATE MATERIAL READY

Periodicals and Magazines Can Be Secured at Loan Desk.

Clara L. Craig, reference librarian, reports that debate material is now being placed on reserve and that students who are interested in debating may begin their work. Although it is impossible to buy any new books this year she stated there apparently was ample information. Periodicals and magazines will not be on reserve but can be secured at the loan desk.

ANNOUNCE BLUE PRINT STAFF AIDS AT SMOKER

Publications Chiefs Choose Freshman to Assist For Semester.

MEN PICKED AT SMOKER

Twenty-five freshmen engineers attended the smoker held Wednesday night at the Chi Phi house by the Blue Print student engineering publication, and applied for positions on the Blue Print staff.

Following a discussion concerning the college and the publication led by Dean O. J. Ferguson and Wm. Johnston, manager of the magazine, the applicants signified what department they wished to enter.

The freshmen who will work on the editorial staff are P. J. Jensen, Arnold Steeking, Robert Pray, Paul Minkten and Merle Moeller. Those chosen for the business staff are Richard Kimball, Dave Rankin, Gay Hull, Jack Imler, J. E. Chmela and Charles Long.

In addition there was a discussion of the first issue of the publication. The Blue Print appeared on the campus yesterday morning. Of the several feature articles in the issue, articles written by Chancellor E. A. Burnett, Dean T. J. Thompson, Dean O. J. Ferguson, J. P. Colbert and others, give the new student a clear and concise idea of what engineering departments place at their disposal.

AG COLLEGE FACULTY WELCOMES STUDENTS

Reception Tickets Available At Home Ec Building And Ag Hall.

PLAN FOR FIVE HUNDRED

Continuing the tradition of other years, the ag college faculty Saturday night will receive and entertain all the ag college students at the Activities building, Don B. Wheelan, E. E. Lewis, and Grace M. Morton, reception committee members, announce that everything is ready for the annual merry-making Saturday night.

Guests of honor in the receiving line, according to Lewis, are to be Chancellor and Mrs. Burnett, Dean and Mrs. Burr, Dean Thompson, Dean Amanda Heppner, Miss Florence McGahey, Coach Dana X. Bible, and Coach Henry Schulte. All members of the ag faculty will be present to welcome the students and direct activities of the evening.

The earlier part of the evening will be given to welcoming new students to the college, the committee stated, and then games and dancing will take the stage. Two orchestras have been employed for the evening. One will play for the dancing upstairs and the other will be stationed downstairs where there will be games and special entertainment for those who do not care to dance.

NEBRASKAN'S CONTEST MEETING CALLED TODAY

"Rag" to Award Premiums To Winning Students In Campaign.

PLAN TO BE EXPLAINED

As a prelude to the Daily Nebraskan's subscription drive to be formally inaugurated on the campus Sunday, a meeting of all students wishing to participate in selling subscriptions for the "Rag" will be held in the Nebraska office this afternoon, according to Bernard Jennings, business manager. "Details of the prize subscription contest to be conducted by the Nebraskan will be discussed at the meeting," declared Jennings, and instructions to those desiring to enter the contest will be given at that time.

The contest, according to Jennings, will have as first prize to the student selling the most subscriptions, a student athletic ticket. As second prize a copy of the 1934 Cornhusker, Nebraska yearbook, will be awarded. For third, fourth and fifth prizes, a year's subscription to the Awgwan will be awarded. To all students entering the contest and selling ten or more subscriptions (Continued on Page 4.)

REGENTS MEETING RESULTS IN MANY FACULTY CHANGES

Chairmanship of Secondary Education Department Goes to Koch.

ON STAFF SINCE 1926

Brownell, Replaced at Own Request, Will Continue Active Teaching.

Dr. H. C. Koch, professor of secondary education in the teachers college at the University of Nebraska, was made chairman of the department of secondary education at a meeting of the board of regents Wednesday evening. Since 1921 the chairmanship of this department has been held by Prof. H. Brownell, who will continue active teaching but will not assume the duties of department chairman. Several other changes in the university faculty were announced following the Wednesday evening meeting.

George Schmidt, who received his B. Sc. degree from the college of agriculture this year, who was named foreman of the agricultural experiment had been superintendent of the Alliance farm since 1930.

Social Case Worker Named. Miss Esther H. Powell was named instructor in social case work in place of Catherine Dunn who had held that position since 1930. Miss Powell, who spent the last year in graduate work at the University of Chicago, has had a great deal of social work in the past, including service as psychiatric social worker for the United States veterans bureau at Boston and the Brooklyn Red Cross Home Service. From 1929 to 1932 she was supervisor of the child guidance clinic at Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Ada S. Westover was named assistant to the dean of women, taking over the duties formerly assumed by Miss Janet Winter and Miss Ida Gund. Mrs. Westover received her A. B. degree from the University of Nebraska in 1921 and her Master's degree from New York university this year. While attending the University of Nebraska Mrs. Westover was very active in campus affairs, being among other activities a member of Black Masque, predecessor of Bortar Board, May queen in 1921, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Grant Pianist Leave. Miss Hazel Gertrude Kinsella, professor of piano in the university school of music, was granted (Continued on Page 4.)

FIVE NEW YELL KINGS TO BE SELECTED SOON

Deadline for Filings for Tryouts Is Set for Saturday Noon.

Applicants for the five open positions on the university cheer leading squad will try out Wednesday afternoon at 3 p. m. at the coliseum, according to word received yesterday from Otto Kotouc, member of the Innocents society, senior men's honorary, in charge of the selection of cheerleaders this year.

Five applications have been made so far for the jobs. With the deadline for filings set for Saturday noon a last minute rush is expected to swell the total number of applicants considerably, declared Kotouc. Applications should be made to either Kotouc or Robert Pilling.

Tentative plans received a temporary set back yesterday when it was learned that one of the two returning veterans will be unable to return to his position this year, he being Jack Minor. New yell leader will be under the direction of Ed Fisher.

"Tryouts for the positions will be held in the coliseum," stated Kotouc. "The five new members of the staff will be prepared for the opening football game with Texas, on Oct. 7."

INTRAMURAL HEADS WILL MEET MONDAY

Jean Brownlee, vice president of W. A. A. announces a meeting of intramural representatives Monday, Sept. 25, at noon, in the W. A. A. club room. At this time she will explain the work of the representatives in each house and will briefly outline this year's program.

ALICE GEDDES SETS DATE FOR MASS MEET

Annual W. A. A. mass meeting for women students is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 28, according to an announcement made by Alice Geddes, president of the organization. At this meeting the plaque will be awarded to the sorority holding honors in last year's contests.

Nebraskan Reporters May Appear For Work. All students interested in doing reportorial work for the Daily Nebraskan should report to the office of the publication any afternoon after 3 o'clock. THE MANAGING EDITORS. (Continued on Page 4.)

Retires from Board

J. Stuart Dales, corporation secretary to the Board of Regents and officially connected with the university for fifty-eight years, retired Wednesday from that position. His place will be taken by L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary of the university.

QUARTERLY LAW BULLETIN TO BE PUBLISHED AGAIN

Charles Nutting, Assistant Professor of Law, Will Direct Publication.

Activities in the University of Nebraska college of law will again be represented this year in the Law College Bulletin, which will be published quarterly by a student staff under the direction of Charles B. Nutting, who is serving his first semester as assistant professor of law. As faculty sponsor, he replaces Lester B. Orfield.

The editorial board is headed by J. Karr Taylor as editor-in-chief, with Cecil F. Adam as notes editor, and Ralph A. Rodgers as case editor. In addition to these three editors, other seniors on the board are Lester R. Stiner, Clarence P. Cooper, Albert F. Wall and John William Wehn. Junior members are Donald J. Shirley, Wilbur T. Johnson, William M. Whitman, Homer G. Wiltse and Robert H. Rathburn.

Contents of the bulletin deal primarily with Nebraska law with current decisions being discussed by competent barristers. In each number the leading article is written by a practicing attorney or a member of the faculty. The cases and decisions discussed are of particular interest to law college students.

The bulletin is the official organ of the Nebraska Bar association and contains a special section each issue devoted to this organization. Robert W. DeVoe, prominent Lincoln attorney, is editor of this section. One issue of the bulletin will be concerned with the conversion of the bar association, which will be held during the Christmas vacation.

Tax exemption in Nebraska will be one of the general themes to be discussed this year and will include explanations of recent decisions. Issues of the bulletin will be published in November, February, May and July.

PATTERSON TO LECTURE

Series Will Start Sunday At First Baptist Church.

Dr. Charles H. Patterson of the philosophy department of the university will begin his series of talks on the "Philosophy of Religion" at the university class of the First Baptist church, 14th and K streets, Sunday, Sept. 24. The class meets from noon till 12:50 and all young people who are interested in such questions as "The Nature of Religion," "The Values of Religion," and other related topics are cordially invited to come on the first Sunday and follow his course through the semester.

Dateless Year Looms Ahead for Coeds While Men, Broke or Badly Bent, Seek Ways to Relieve Depleted Bank Rolls

Various campus "cakes" reveal that they feel somewhat disgruntled about the whole affair.

Sororities, to, are willing to admit that all their pledges can't have dates quite as often as they would like to have them. Active are not immune to this non-dating either, it is reported.

One freshman on the campus seemed to be somewhat undecided about the affair. He couldn't tell whether he was having lots of dates yet or not, because he said that he had always heard about how much dating university men always did. His fraternity, he said, saw to it that he had at least two dates a week end if he could afford them, but he too was a little skeptical about how long the family roll would last if such continued. Fraternities, however, are not insisting upon any dating at all, if the man feels that he cannot afford it.

Some talk is already drifting about concerning the reviving of some of the old methods of "inexpensive dating." Such will have to be the order of the day, unless conditions improve. (Continued on Page 4.)

LOCAL CHURCHES TO WELCOME ALL STUDENTS TODAY

Lincoln Pastors Emphasize Idea of Hospitality At Receptions.

CLOSED NIGHT TONIGHT

School Religious Welfare Council Sponsors Event Yearly.

Tonight, with all other university functions set aside, the curtain will go up for the long planned University Church night. As a welcome to new and returning students, Lincoln churches have planned reception parties for the annual church night occasion. To emphasize the idea of hospitality church members will invite students to their homes on Sunday, especially the idea of hospitality.

"We are emphasizing this year, especially the idea of hospitality," said Rev. Dean R. Leland, president of the religious welfare council of the university and university Presbyterian pastor. The religious welfare council includes representatives of the university faculty, university pastors, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. secretaries, and a student representative from each denomination. Besides Rev. Mr. Leland other officers of the group are Prof. Lulu Runge, vice president, and Miss Adella Tombrink, secretary.

Programs Are Planned. All churches taking part in the university church night have planned elaborate receptions and interesting programs. Approximately twenty-five churches will participate. The programs of the churches participating are: The Baptist students of the university will be welcomed with a party at the First Baptist church, 14th and K sts. at 8:15 p. m. The early part of the evening will be spent in playing games with Mr. Raymond Forsay in charge. The program, which will be introduced by Mr. H. W. Noble, will consist of a welcome talk by Prof. A. R. Congdon, vocal solo by Dr. R. E. Sturdevant, reading by Miss Roma Harrington, vocal duet by Miss Ruth Randall and Dr. Sturdevant. Miss Grace (Continued on Page 4.)

BARB COUNCIL HEAD NAMES COMMITTEES

Chairman Picks Four Groups To Make Arrangements For Parties.

Committees for the ensuing year were named at the Barb council meeting Wednesday afternoon by Burton Marvin, chairman. A summary of last Saturday's all university party expenditures and receipts was made, and plans for the dance scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 30 were discussed.

It was also announced that there are three vacancies to be filled, following the resignations of Bob Harrison and Marjorie Dean, who didn't return to school this fall, and that of Marlo Smith, who resigned because of lack of time for participation in the council activities.

Members of the orchestra committee for the coming parties are Wilbur Erickson, chairman; Marshall Cook, Helen Stull and Howard Roberts.

The chaperon committee is to be composed of Margaret Media, chairman; Bonnie Spanggaard, and Lois Turner.

Vernon Filley was chosen to head the group in charge of decorations, and others on the committee are Edmund Anderson, James Marvin, and Marjorie Filley.

The chairman of the publicity committee is Harry West, with Vernon Filley, Irwin Ryan, and Evelyn Diamond named as the other members.
