coaches construct winning teams. Dana Bible has bunched two conference champions since George Henry registered for the course in varsity football. He seems likely to construct an even mightier array this fall.
Full length pictures of George Sauer, Bernie Masterson and Lawrence Ely are prominent in the issue.
Paradoxically the magazine ends with a warning. "The Huskers are on the spot this year, and rumor hath it that the long reign is ending."

B TEAM TO MEET WESLEYAN FRIDAY IN COYOTE BOWL

Miller and Fisher, Backs, On the Sidelines With Injuries.

The University of Nebraska "B" squad limbered up with a brief workout in Memorial Stadium in anticipation of the game with Wesleyan university, to be staged tonight on the Wesleyan field at 8 p. m.

Coaches Bob Young and Lawrence Ely were more than pleased with the workouts of the week, and with the material at hand.

"Wesleyan is going to find the 'B' team anything but easy. Although several of our stars were shifted to the varsity, the 'B' is still a strong, tough outfit," commented Ely.

The "B" team is intact with the exception of Johnny Miller, quarterback, and Fisher, halfback, who will be unable to participate because of injuries.

"We may get to use Heidt and Mead from the varsity squad," Young stated, "if we do, Mead will start at fullback and Heidt probably will get the call at one of the tackle positions."

Wesleyan will be handicapped by the absence of Capt. Russell Trott, quarterback, and Emden Sommerhalder, fullback, who are on the sidelines with injuries. Trott is the more seriously injured of the two, suffering a broken bone in his hand.

Having lost one game already to Wayne Normal, the Wesleyan team will be out for its initial victory of the season. The "B" team has played no regularly scheduled games, but has scrimmaged against the varsity on numerous occasions, and has made a creditable showing against the highly tutored Husker varsity.

Tentative lineups are as follows:
Neb. "B" — Wesleyan
Toman or Dean — Morehouse
Finken or DeBrown — Johnson
Armstrong — Johnson
Hulse — French
Cassman — Meiner
Kerksede — Wright
Fowler — Marrow
Chase — Shuman
Beaver — Trott
Muller — Weyand
Cockburn — Sommerhalder
Official: Referee, R. C. Russell, Nebraska; umpire, Brigham Young, Hastings; headlinesman, Don Elliott, Nebraska.

In order to give the readers of this column, if any, outside views on the coming Scarlet and Cream-Longhorn battle which is to take place tomorrow afternoon I have taken extracts from the John Bentley's column, "I May Be Wrong," and Cy Sherman's "Brass Tacks." Undoubtedly they have scrutinized before but repetition will not hurt to much.

John Bentley's article concerning the Texas game is given as follows:

"Harold McGlasson, a one time quarterback for Nebraska U., was in Texas last year and he saw the team that plays Nebraska Saturday. That is, he saw part of the Longhorn eleven that will be here, Coach Littlefield losing some of his star players.
"Texas had the best backfield in the nation last fall and I believe that the Longhorn backs, stationed behind the Texas Christine line, would have beaten any team in America," McGlasson stated.

Texas Christian won the Southwest title, beating Texas U., for the crown. The game was won in the line, according to McGlasson, the T. C. U. forwards refusing to let the Texas backfield get started. Which isn't a bad idea with as slippery a set of backs as the Longhorns possessed.
Two of those lads are back again, Fagan at quarter and Bohn Hilliard at halfback.

"Husker punters better keep that ball away from Hilliard when they kick it," McGlasson warned.
Cy Sherman stated:

"Here's a word of warning, to wit: Football at Texas U. is the real article. Do you doubt it? Well, thumb the record book for 1932 and there get your answer.

The Texans of '32 literally swarmed all over the Big Six Tiggers of Missouri U., piling up ten touchdowns and plastering the score sheet with a total of sixty-five points. No other Missouri team in history ever was so badly thrashed or humiliated.

A few weeks later, the same Missouri crew held the Cornhuskers to three touchdowns, the Tiggers, meantime, scoring once on Nebraska by dint of a successful forward flip.

Additional proof of the quality of Texas U. football is not needed; that score of last year at Missouri's expense tells the story completely.

And it may tell it again next Saturday, unless the Cornhuskers figure some way to suppress young Mr. Hilliard, who, according to every account, is a modern edition of Red Cagle or Red Grange.

Take my word for it, the Huskers are no cinch against the Longhorns. In fact, the affair of Saturday could easily have a sour result, putting Nebraska supporters to the supreme test—meaning, can they take it?

here. The Longhorns will work out at several points along the way before arriving at Lincoln at the Burlington station this afternoon at 5:30, from whence they will proceed to the Lincoln hotel after being officially welcomed by the Nebraska student body.

Littlefield is bringing with him an aggregation of twenty-eight men, including five ends, five tackles, five guards, two centers and eleven backs, a very formidable crew. He has two complete outfits of backfield material with one extra substitute. If the Longhorns kick off, Littlefield will start Buster Baebel, 170, sophomore, quarter; Jay Arnold, sophomore, 200, left half; Jim Hadlock, 170, sophomore, right half; Ray Lawrence, 190, sophomore, fullback. If the Steers receive, Bohn Hilliard, 165, junior, will start instead of Hadlock; Melvin Prebisch, 190, sophomore, will replace Lawrence and Ronald Fagan, 170, senior, will take Baebel's position.
A light workout Friday afternoon will probably be on the Longhorn schedule as they will most likely wish to limber up after the long journey and to familiarize themselves with the playing field.

In regard to the Husker workout yesterday there was no scrimmaging as the squad is trying to get into fit condition. The Freshmen jostled them quite severely in the Wednesday fray.

The drill consisted mainly of pass offense and defense in which the Freshmen hurled pass after pass in endeavoring to break down the Varsity defense, in their dummy scrimmage.

However, the Varsity took their turn at the helm later and their aerial attack cut the air in a desperate attempt to cover ground. Yearling attempts to ground the ball were futile while the Huskers assumed the offense, as the first string completed pass after pass.

However, on the defense the Varsity looked poor at times as the Francis to Hale combination clicked in spite of efforts to the contrary.

The probable lineups for tomorrow's game:

Huskers	.....	Longhorns
Bruce Kilbourne	.....	Charles Coates
Thompson	.....	Arthur Neubauer
Franklin Steier	.....	Joe Smart
Bill Smith	.....	Bill Smith
Warren Debus	.....	Rex Phillips
Plum	.....	Fred Heasler
John Roby	.....	Jack Gray
Bernie Masterson	.....	Ronald Fagan
Hub Boswell	.....	Jay Arnold
Jack Miller	.....	Bohn Hilliard
George Sauer	.....	Melvin Prebisch

parade in front of the Temple and march to the stadium along the following route: East on R st. to 16th, north on 16th to U, and west on U to the east stands of the stadium.

At the stadium, the newly-chosen cheerleaders will lead the crowds in a yell for the team, and then members of the Nebraska varsity will be introduced. Coach D. X. Bible and Coach Henry F. Schulte will give short pep talks, and the parade will then move downtown.

Tentative plans for the events downtown, involving the Texas team and coach, include a march to the hotel where the visitors are staying, a short pep demonstration in their behalf, and a speech by the Texas coach following an introduction of the Texas varsity squad.

Loomis Asks Full Attendance.
Lloyd Loomis, member of the Innocents society in charge of arrangements for rallies, in an appeal for the support of the entire student body at the rally, issued the following statement: "The biggest thing we can do for the team is to show them that we are behind them and fighting for them 100 percent. And the way to do this is to turn out full strength for the rally tonight and support the team. They're going to need everything we can give them for the game Saturday, and I know every student in school is willing to cooperate."

Saturday morning members of the Innocents society will entertain the Texas team with a brief tour of the city and the two campuses.

a column, "Campus Annals." The column which is edited by several students, gives the "low down" on universities' social "high lights" according to Miss Lamme.

The cover which was drawn by Willis Stork, will appear in four colors. Miss Lamme, however, stated the design would be kept a secret until the magazine is placed on sale.

"There will be many original jokes, poems in this issue, she stated.

Block Subscriptions Sold.
"Members of campus organizations should discuss whether they wish to take block subscriptions to the magazine or not, at their next meeting," stated Owen Johnson, who is in charge of block subscription sales, "so that they will be able to definitely know when they are contacted."

"No block subscriptions will be sold after the first issue of the publication next week," he stated.

By buying a bloc subscription, members of the various organizations will be able to realize a savings of one half, of what they would pay to buy individual subscriptions.
Organizations which have bought full blocks of twenty-five are as follows: Beta Theta Pi, Phi Kappa Psi Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Pi Beta Pi. Alpha Chi Omega has subscribed to two blocks.

SMASH RECORDS IN TICKET DRIVE

DeBrown, Elaine Woodruff, Leona Pollard, and May Reimers.
Dean Thompson Attends Meeting.
Dean of Student Affairs T. J. Thompson, Hub Boswell, stellar backfield man, and John Gepson, president of the student council and member of Innocents, were in attendance at the fourth pep really making this ticket drive a success. The Tassels are displaying those sterling qualities of determination and perseverance which are the heritage of all Nebraskans from their forefathers. It is the spirit which makes this university the greatest in this section. I believe the training and associations luncheon of the week held Thursday noon.

In commenting on the Tassels' work, Dean Thompson said, "In developed in campus organizations such as the Tassels are invaluable to the individual later in life, and are the reasons that Nebraska graduates rang among the most successful anywhere. The Tassels are doing a great work and the administration is backing them to the limit."

Innocents Support Drive.

Gepson stated that the Innocents offered their wholehearted support to the campaign and were ready to render any possible assistance in the drive. Boswell adhered to precedent set by Sauer, O'Brien, and Masterson, and made no comments.

FRESHMEN STAGE UPRISING

Upperclassmen Relieved of Paddles After Scuffle On Football Field.

MANHATTAN, Kas. Oct. 5.—Their enthusiasm fired by the first pep meeting of the year Friday night, Kansas State college freshmen staged an uprising against the traditional authority of upper classmen between halves of the K. S. T. C.-Kansas State football game last Saturday.

After a few private scuffles between freshmen and members of the Wampus Cats, pep organization, over the padding question, the purple-capped freshmen swarmed on the field, took away all paddles in sight, and retired to the stadium amidst cheers.
